On Riggs avenue is located the popular confectionery store of S. C. Sloan. Mr. Sloan told the reporter that he has always found more relief from St. Jacobs Oil than anything else. Mr. Sloan is subject to neuralgia of the stomach. He has been so troubled for years, and will probably be subject to it all his life. Sometimes he wakes at night with a horrible knowing at his vitals. Immediately he applies St. Jacobs Oil. One application always gives relief. It is the only thing that will do it. Mr. Sloan always stated that he has seen the Great German Remedy do wonders in a case of sprain. One of his men once sprained his ankle and arm by falling off a horse. He was in a very bad plight. The ankle became very much swollen and the pain was very great. The man was treated with St. Jacobs Oil and was at work in four days. His cure was wonderful.

Anecdote of Thackeray.

Mr. F. S. Chanfran is accredited with the following anecdote, told in a New Orleans paper:—"Once," said Mr. Chanfran, "when travelling in the South, I noticed in our car a tall, stout gentleman in a big coat. He was alone. His manner was so gentle and unassuming that I was both charmed and amazed to learn that it was Thackeray. We'd a prompter in our company, Jack Huntley—poor old Jack!—who was an Englishman. When he found out it was Thackery, he shuffled up the aisle until he stood just behind the novelist, who was smoking. Huntley took off his hat and gazed with a world of pride down upon the quiet face, and then with that charming English pronunciation, blustered out, 'Thackeray, yer honor, Hi am an Englishman.' When the man began to speak Thackeray had half turned his face, but not his gaze, upward toward Huntley, but at the sound of the familiar Cockney voice, the note of manly respect and reverence in that 'Yer honor, Hi am an Henglishmon,' his whole face was illuminated. He grasped Huntley's hand, and there he sat and chatted with our rough old prompter for over half an hour. It was a very gracious act."

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Revival Meetings.

The Rev. Mr. Harrison, the "Boy Preacher," has been holding revival meetings in Decatur, Ill., for eleven weeks. The attendance is large. The total number of converts to date is claimed as 1,020, with 1,000 more on the anxious seat. Persons seeking religion come one hundred miles, and parents from neighboring towns come with their children and stay until they are converted.

How to Deal with Dog Bites.

An absurd superstition prevails that the bites of all dogs should be either cut out or cauterized and the poor animals destroyed. It is not necessary to adopt either of these serious courses, provided the dog is healthy. In fact, they are simply ridiculous, and are calculated to produce groundless fear in the person bitten. Of course, in severe cases erysipelas may supervene, but with ordinary care, the wound being cleansed by a disinfecting lotion, no serious consequences will follow. In all cases, however, a doctor should be consulted.—London Lancet.

Vitality of Seeds.

The Revue Scientifique records some important experiments which have been made to show the effects of various conditions upon the vitality of seeds. It appears that farmers had been in the habit of keeping seeds hermetically sealed. The experiments showed that but forty-five per cent. of the peas and two per cent of the beans kept in confined air germinated when planted. On the other hand, of peas and beans exposed freely to the air, ninety per cent. of the former and ninety-eight per cent. of the latter proved fruitful. The experiments were made for the benefit of farmers and covered a period of about three years.

Dangerous Coal Oil.

There have been a great number of explosions of late throughout Winnipeg of coal oil lamps, and in a number of instances these accidents have been attended with serious results. A number of lamps have recently exploded in the C. P. R. waiting room, and two, if not three of the recent fire alarms, were owing to the same cause. An inferior quality of oil is being imported of late, and it might be well for the Collector of Inland Revenue to take the matter under his cognizance, and see that the evil, if it does exist, is remedied. The complaint is not confined to any limited number of persons or localities, but is general over the city.

Oldest and Youngest.

Mr. Gladstone at seventy-three is the oldest of the British Ministers, and Sir Charles W. Dilke at thirty-nine the youngest; Mr. Henley at eighty-nine is the oldest Privy Councillor, and Prince Leopold at twenty-nine the youngest; Mr. Bass at ninety-three is the oldest M. P., and Mr. Kenny, of Ennis, at twenty-two the youngest; Vice-Chancellor Bacon at eighty-four is the oldest, and Judge Bowen at forty-six is the youngest of the judges; the Bishop of Chichester at eighty is the oldest, and Sodor and Mann the youngest of the bishops; Sir Moses Montefiore at ninety-eight is the oldest, and Sir Thomas Neave at eight the youngest of British baronets.

U. S Senatorial Degeneracy.

The United States Senate is not what it used to be—one of the most intellectual and talent-gifted bodies in the world. The Senate was, in every sense of the word, an assembly of brains when such men as Webster, Clay, Chase, Summer, Calhoun, Everett, Hyne, Cass, Wright, and others of equal weight and brilliant attainments filled the legislative halls and deliberated on public questions. A period of decay has set in and the Senate of to-day has lost much in intellectual force and character. It is now an assembly of money; the seats of the men who used to stir the nation by the eloquence of their speeches are held and bought by dumb or ungrammatical millionaries.—Montreal Post.

A Relic of Lively Days Doomed.

The famous old war ship at Sacketts Harbor is to be sold. The building of it was commenced soon after the victory of New Orleans and it was named in honor of that event in the winter of 1814-15. In sixty days from the time the timber stood in the woods the ship was advanced to its present state. On receipt of the news of peace the work was stopped. During the construction of the vessel hundreds of choppers and numerous teams and teamsters were at work, while the ship carpenters brought from the sea board by Eckford swarmed the sides of the growing hull. In another thirty days the ship would have been finished. In its disappearance Sacketts Harbor will lose a curiosity which has attracted sight-seers during sixty-eight years.—Kingston Whig.

The Channel Tunnel.

The probable cost of the Channel tunnel has always been a very obscure question, and Sir Edward Watkin has hitherto been very silent about it. Recently he felt himself in a position to give some figures on this particularly important point. He is making a tunnel, somewhere or other, through one of the hardest stratified rocks he knew. This cost £26 a yard, and that means roughly £65,000 a mile. The Channel tunnel would be about 24 miles. Instead, however, of taking the cost at £65,000 a mile, let them assume that it would be £100,000 a mile, and that would represent a cost of £2,400,000 for the tunnel under the sea. That is his estimate of the cost of the actual tunnel. Next, he believed the estimate of £[illegible],000 for the tunnel to connect the Chatham and Dover and the South-Eastern Railways would not be exceeded. The entire cost of the work, therefore, came to only £3,000,000. With an original outlay of this modest kind Sir Edward was no doubt justified in describing the project as likely to be one of the most profitable ever undertaken—if profitableness were the only thing to be considered. But then in this modest estimate nothing is included for the cost of fortifications at the English end of the tunnel, every penny of which should fall upon those who have made them necessary.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtue of this nature medicine gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A Cure for Sea-Sickness at Last.

In our report of the proceedings of the New York Academy of Sciences mention is made of a paper read by the Rev. Mr. Thwing describing a new and peculiar method of curing sea-sickness, which the author has tried with success in several instances. He approaches the sufferer unawares from behind, places his hand upon the patient's head, and speaks in an assuring tone of voice. This puts the passenger into a trance, his sickness is ended, he is supremely happy. The doctor then pronounces the words "all right," which instantly restores the sick man to sense and health, enabling him thereafter to enjoy full meals of victuals without let or hindrance. The paper was listened to with profound interest by the members present, was discussed, and will be duly published in the printed proceedings of the Academy. If we were owners of a popular steamship line, our first business would be to negotiate with the author to take the chaplaincy of out best boat. One thousand dollars a trip would be nothing for the services of such a man. We have heretofore heard of advantages claimed to arise from preaching and the laying on of hands; but this, we believe, is the first example of the practical application of the system to sea-sick passengers on board of Atlantic steamers.—Scientific American.

The English Lacrosse Tour.

With the exception of some minor details the arrangements for the trip of the Canadian Lacrosse teams to England have been completed. The party will consist of some eighteen players on the white team, and about fifteen on the Indian team, besides as many subscribers as can be accommodated. Two Indian teams have applied to be taken, the Six Nations team from St. Regis, and the Iroquois team from Caughnawaga. No decision has been yet come to, but it is probable that the Caughnawaga men will be chosen. The party outside of the teams will be managed much the same way as the American excursion parties. The party will leave about the third of May and remain on the other side for about two months. It has been decided to take passage by the Dominion Line, but the promoters of the scheme have no intention of chartering the Sarnia or any other steamer. Lacrosse men on the other side have been energetically at work preparing for their visitors, and already a number of engagements have been made for matches, and it is expected that the team will have to play over twice as many matches as the English team of 1876. The team will be chosen in the course of a couple of weeks. In connection with this trip, the promoters of it state that they will bring the country prominently more before the attention of the British public. They announce that besides the matches they will bring the country before the attention of their hosts by other means, among other things arrangements are being made for lectures in various parts of the country on Canada. Among the many distinguished personages who have announced their willingness of becoming patrons of the teams are the Prince of Wales, Prince Alfred, Sir Garnet Wolseley, Lord Dufferin and the Duke of Connaught.—Montreal Star.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the

WEST RIDING

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

Gentlemen,—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor having seen fit to dissolve the Legislature of this Province and to issue writs for the election of a new Legislature on the shortest possible notice, I beg respectfully to solicit your votes to return me as your representative in the Assembly about to be elected.

In doing so I beg to state:—

That I am opposed to the policy of the Mowat Government whereby we are being kept out of our just territorial rights, and that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure for the Province the boundaries assigned to it at Confederation.

I am opposed to all ex post facto legislation and I am convinced that it is contrary to sound policy as well as justice that any man's property should be taken from him without full and adequate compensation, to be ascertained by an independent and fairly constituted tribunal.

I believe there is now on the Statute Book of this Province all or nearly all the legislation required to protect the public interests and to provide for the acquisition of non-floatable streams and improvements which may have been made thereon upon terms at once just to the lumbermen and to the owners thereof.

I am opposed to the unnecessary centralization of patronage where it can be used to influence the electorate, believing that such centralization is dangerous to the freedom of the people and calculated to produce the same evils in Canada as it has already produced in the neighboring States.

I am opposed to any Government using the power vested in them for the time being by the people to prevent a free expression of public opinion upon any subject, and especially upon a subject with which they as a Government have nothing to do, as was done by the Mowat Government and their officials in the last Dominion election in regard to the tariff policy adopted by the people.

I am opposed to the reckless and unnecessary extravagance of the Mowat Government whereby the capital of the Province is being rapidly dissipated and its ordinary expenditure increased to a point which cannot be maintained without a resort to direct taxation in one form or another.

With a view to bringing the ordinary expenditure within the ordinary income of the Province, without curtailing those expenditures which have a direct bearing upon local taxation, I shall advocate a substantial reduction in the number of the representatives of the Assembly, greater economy in the departments and generally such reforms as may be calculated to reduce those expenditures from which the people are deriving no direct advantage, believing that they are entitled to and desire the cheapest Government that suffices to regulate their affairs.

I am opposed to making the liquor traffic the shuttlecock of any political party, and will advocate and support every measure calculated to place the issue of licenses and the enforcement of the laws relating thereto in the hands of those least likely to be influenced by political considerations.

I am in favor of such a readjustment of the franchise as will give to all classes of the community that voice in the government of the country to which they are entitled and of which certain classes are now unjustly deprived by the present Government, notwithstanding that they have had ample opportunities of remedying this injustice.

The educational department under a political head not having proved a success, I shall favor a return to the non-political position which the department occupied when under the able management of the late Dr. Ryerson.

I believe that too much attention and too much money has been spent on what is called higher education and upon educational theorizing to the neglect of the three R's; that the cost of maintaining public schools—especially in the outlying districts—has been unnecessarily increased thereby, and that the people are not deriving the advantages which they should do from the large amounts annually expended nominally for educational purposes, but in too many instances to little practical advantage.

There are, no doubt, several other questions to which allusion might be made, but this address is already too long, and as my views on the public questions of the day are already pretty well known to most of you, and especially as I hope to have the opportunity, between this and polling day, of discussing the issues of the campaign with my opponent in your presence, I shall conclude by expressing the hope that my long and active connection with the public affairs of the Town and County of Peterborough, my practical knowledge of its agricultural and manufacturing interests and the manner in which I have hitherto discharged the public duties with which I have from time to time been entrusted have been such as to secure for me the hearty and active support of not only those who agree with me, but also of those electors who believe it to be the duty of a representative to try and impress his views upon his party leaders and not simply to vote as directed by them.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN CARNEGIE.

Peterborough, February 5th, 1883.

With every bottle of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops, a sample bottle is given free of charge. If, after using the trial bottle, you are not satisfied with its effect, you can return the large bottle to your dealer, who will refund the money. THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California R.R. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1883.

The Cells.

One tramp occupied the police cells last night—the seventh time he has lodged in them.

Personal.

The Toronto Globe of the 12th says that on Saturday last, the 12th anniversary of his wedding day, his fellow-employees in the Crown Lands Department presented Major Leigh with a handsome silver breast-pin and pair of sleeve-buttons. The Major made a suitable reply.

The Weather Probabilities.

To-day the weather is moderate and cloudy. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North western Telegraph Company are as follows:—Moderate to fresh south easterly to north easterly wind; fair, milder weather, followed by snow or rain to-night.

The Winter Races.

A meeting was held on Tuesday evening in the Oriental Hotel to make arrangements for trotting races on the Little Lake course, and was attended by a number of those who take an interest in sports. The meeting was successful, and a number of subscriptions were promised. The races will probably take place on the first week in March. The course is now open, and those who wish to try the mettle of their steeds or practice them on the ice can do so.

Elocution.

Prof. Leon Florestan's private recitations in the Oddfellows' Hall on Tuesday evening were attended by a select audience. The first selection recited was from Racine's French drama "Phedre," and the professor was more at home in his native language than while reading the English selections. He gave himself up to the spirit of the words he was reading, and the intensity of the feeling exhibited was striking, and in the part when Phedre confessed to the King it was affecting. But in the selections from the "Lady of Lyons" and "Othello" the professor's French accent, training and mode of thinking placed him at a disadvantage, which had its effect upon the audience. Nor was the scene selected from "Othello" a happy one, as the dramas of Shakespeare contain many passages better suited for such a purpose. The recitations were given very dramatically.

CHICAGO FRAUDS.

One of the Supposed Partners Visits Peterborough—Arrested in Toronto.

A few days ago we reproduced an account of the transactions of a firm in Chicago, Flemming & Merriam, who had carried on extensive operations and swindled a large number of persons in Belleville, Toronto, Kingston, and other places on both sides of the line. About $3,000 is said to have been sent to this firm from Belleville for investment, and those who thus lost their money were very indignant. After the collapse of the scheme one of the partners was traced to Canada, and on Monday a telegram was received in Belleville from Peterborough stating that he was in this town. Four of the victims came here on Monday night, and got out a warrant for the arrest of John Flemming on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences.

John Flemming was here on Saturday, but on Monday he left for Toronto, where he registered as Johnston. A telegram was sent to Toronto for his apprehension, and he was accordingly arrested. He had $1,085 in his possession when arrested. On Tuesday evening Constable Pidgeon, accompanied by Mr. J. E. Smith, of Belleville, went to Toronto for the purpose of bringing him back to this town.

Constable Pidgeon and his prisoner are expected to arrive here to night. Constable C. H. Hyde, of Belleville, armed with two warrants issued by Mr. Holden, Police Magistrate of that town, awaits their arrival, and it is expected that Flemming will be handed over to the Belleville authorities.

It is reported that several Peterborough gentlemen were "bit" by these frauds, but the rumor has not been authenticated. There may be no truth in it, and if there is the victims have not made it known.

Serenade.

On Tuesday night the Fire Brigade Band honored Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jameson, who were recently united in matrimony, with a serenade.

The Market.

There was very little change in the prices on the grain market to-day. Spring wheat was being bought at from 97c. to $1.00, and fall wheat at from 95c. to 96c.

Railway Notes.

The morning trains to and from Lakefield will be discontinued until further orders are given, except on Saturdays, when they will be run as usual.

Mr. H. J. Beemer arrived from Montreal to-day, and is registered at the Oriental.

The Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's thermometer registered 6° below zero last night. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a. m., 16° above zero; at noon, 24° above zero, and at 3 p. m., 20° above.

Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

Mrs. Harvie, the Foreign Secretary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, will address a meeting in aid of the St. Paul's Church Auxiliary to-morrow, Feb. 15th, at 3 p. m., in the School Room of St. Paul's Church. A cordial invitation to be present is extended to all ladies interested in mission work.

Curling Notes.

The playing in the 4th draw for the medal presented by the President and Vice-President of the Curling Club has been completed, and resulted as follows:—

WINNERS.	LOSERS.
T. P. Attrell,	E. Philp,
A. McNeil,	Hon. R. Hamilton,
—Stewart,	M. Hamilton,

The fifth draw has been made, as follows:—T. P. Attrell vs. A. McNeil; —Stewart (Bye).

Dramatic.

The members of the Battery, who have had the Military drama "The French Spy" under rehearsal for some time, have fixed upon Thursday, the 22nd of February, as the date on which they will produce it in the Opera House. They have taken a great deal of trouble, and gone to considerable expense in getting the play up in good style, in procuring suitable costumes, etc., and as their members comprise some good amateur dramatic talent, we have no doubt that they will be successful in their venture.

St. Valentine's Day.

This is the festival of St. Valentine. Perhaps that is an unnecessary statement, especially to the juvenile community, who have been waiting for the day to come and have even anticipated its approach by purchasing and sending valentines. Since the introduction of Christmas cards the number of valentines manufactured have greatly decreased, yet three New York firms are said to have manufactured for this year's market no less than 2,800,000, one Philadelphia house 2,000,000, and two Brooklyn houses 1,750,000. Christmas cards are offerings of friendship, containing friendly greetings, but the mottoes on the valentines are generally more sentimental—that is, except those which are only an execrable picture with an even worse verse and are sent in a spirit of cruel sport. This day has not been forgotten in Peterborough this year, as a glance at the shop windows will show, and it has not been forgotten by those who delight in sending these missives, as many valentines have disappeared from the windows during the past few days.

The Strength Required for Flying.

The reason men do not fly is not merely because they lack wings, but also because they are not strong enough. There is no bird of flight which weighs as much as even a very light man, but there are many birds which are far stronger than men. The limit of weight beyond which the air cannot be utilized for bird flight is somewhere about thirty pounds. Nature does not produce heavier birds, and doubtless for the reason that the air is not the proper home for animals weighing more. "The conditions under which species are developed," says the London Engineer, "are such that everything goes as far as it can go in size and speed." The roc of Eastern story it pronounces a "mechanically impossible creature." The albatross is the largest bird in existence, and one of the heaviest. There are heavier birds with limited powers of flying, but the maximum weight of any natural flying machine which can fly well does not exceed 30 pounds, according to the Engineer, and the weight of the albatross seldom, if ever, exceeds 28 pounds, or one-sixth that of a powerful man. But the albatross can keep its wings, 12 feet long from tip to tip, in motion for a whole day, while the strongest man would be exhausted, if he had to keep beating the air with them, in half an hour, and utterly he would need far heavier wings to be kept in motion. After a mathematical calculation, the Engineer comes to the conclusion that the albatross possesses as much muscular energy as a man, and far more endurance with which to propel the 28 pounds of its body. "We have in the bird," it adds, "a machine burning concentrated fuel in a large grate at a tremendous rate, and developing a very large power in a small space. There is no engine in existence, certainly no steam engine and boiler combined, which, weight for weight, gives out anything like the mechanical power exhibited by the albatross." The conclusion arrived at is that man will have to give up the hope of competing with the birds in flying.

Horrible Sufferings.

On Thursday evening last a young man, whose name could not be ascertained, left the city of Burlington about 5 o'clock in the evening with the intention of crossing Lake Champlain on foot, to Port Kent, in the State of New York. The distance was about ten miles. During the day a thaw had set in and the glass surface of the lake was in some places covered with water to about the depth of an inch. The young man relates that when about half way across he noticed that the light shoes he wore were wearing out. He never thought, however, of turning back for an instant. He walked on several miles further till the soles were completely used up and exposed his feet to the cold, which now was becoming more intense every moment. By this time, though nearly frozen, he took off his coat and tore it into two pieces, and wrapped them around his feet. He still had over three miles to walk, to reach the shore. When at last, after seeing a light some distance ahead of him, he knew he had reached his destination. With a great effort, though nearly frozen to death, he slowly neared the shore. After reaching it he managed to crawl on his hands to the house in which he saw a light. On reaching the house in question he fainted. He was immediately attended to and a doctor was summoned with all possible speed. On examination it was found his legs were frozen to the knees rendering amputation necessary, which was accordingly done. One arm was also so badly frozen that amputation was performed. The unfortunate young man, who is well known in the vicinity in which he lives, and is an honest and sober person, and it is thought he will scarcely recover.—Montreal Star.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Diseases. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE GRAND JUNCTION BONUS.

As there seems to be considerable interest taken in the subject of the irregular Grand Junction Bonus for by-law $75,000, we have traced Mr. Biezard's record as a councillor in this matter:—

On December 14th, 1870, a motion was made for the third reading of the by-law.

An amendment was offered to lay the by-law over as it had been found to be illegal and grave doubts existed as to whether an Act could be obtained to legalize it, owing to the majority of the municipalities having given an adverse vote on it and for other reasons.

The amendment was carried and the original motion lost, but Mr. Biezard voted for the third reading of the illegal by-law.

On January 27th, 1871, the third reading was again moved.

The Warden ruled the motion out of order, but an appeal from his ruling was taken and was carried.

Mr. Biezard voted for the third reading being in order.

On the same date the motion for the third reading was put, but was defeated by the Warden's casting vote.

Mr. Biezard voted in favour of saddling this county with the bonus of $75,000.

The following month the Act legalizing the irregular by-law was passed by the Ontario Legislature.

On June 21st, 1871, Mr. Biezard seconded a motion to amend the report on the Warden's address by omitting the recommendation to take steps to get the legalizing Act disallowed by the Dominion Government.

Mr. Biezard again voted for leaving us saddled with this bonus.

On June 23rd, 1871, a memorial to the Governor-General praying for the disallowance of the legalizing act was passed.

Mr. Biezard voted twice against sending a deputation with the memorial to obtain relief from this burden.

On Jan. 24th, 1872, a memorial to the Legislative Assembly was passed asking for the repeal of the legalizing clause.

Mr. Biezard voted in the minority against petitioning for relief from this burden.

On January 25th, 1872, the Warden, the County Clerk and Mr. James Stratton were appointed a committee to assist Mr. Fairbairn, M. P. P., to obtain a repeal of the obnoxious clause.

Mr. Biezard voted against this, seconding a motion to substitute the names of Mr. Coughlin, a leading supporter of the bonus, and Dr. Clegg, so as to weaken the efforts to obtain relief.

On June 22nd, 1872, a motion was proposed to give formal notice to the Grand Junction that as the company had failed to carry out the terms of the Bylaw and for other reasons the County would resist any attempt to compel it to issue debentures.

Mr. Biezard voted against this effort to protect the interests of the County and in favor of our paying $75,000 under an invalid By-law, the terms of which had not been observed.

So much for Mr. Biezard's public record on the Grand Junction Railway bonus question. It will be seen that he made every possible effort to maintain this invalid By-Law, and to hinder the County in resisting the payment of $75,000.

Lee, of the pilot boat Schaffer. The two negroes he knows were drowned, but he hopes that Lee and Myatt were saved.

FLOODS IN CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15.—Last night the city had no connection with the outside world save by a country road over the hills and telegraph wires. The houses in the flooded districts are getting to be very unsafe, and must be constantly watched. The sewers are bursting. Coal oil advanced from fifty to a hundred per cent. yesterday, and produce advanced in a like way. Even staple groceries were put up by some dealers. Ten thousand dollars for relief of the sufferers was raised by private subscription. Outside gifts are coming in rapidly from all quarters. The decreasing water supply is causing great uneasiness. Large consumers of coal as a rule have been obliged to stop work, because of their inability to get fuel. John Hayden and a woman and child are supposed to be among the victims of the falling depot. It is estimated that 90,000 workmen will be out of employment to-day, as it is expected that all the factories will shut down to avoid the danger of the water famine. The damage here is estimated at from five to six million dollars.

Dominion Emigration.

"A Canadian" writing to the Times in London at date 21st January, makes an admirable point in a very amusing way, as follows:—

SIR,—The emigration returns cabled from Philadelphia, published in the Times of Saturday, show 83,071 persons as having emigrated from Canada to the United States.

Among this number must be counted three Princesses Louise and three Marquises of Lorne. This paradox in statistics may be thus explained:—The Princess and the Marquis visited Manitoba, took a short cut across the intervening portion of the United States, which they entered from Detroit on the Canadian frontier. There they were registered as two emigrants from Canada. Next, when they emerged from Manitoba, to proceed by the Pacific Railway towards British Columbia, they would be registered as two emigrants from Manitoba. And now, on their return from British Columbia through the United States, they are again duly registered as two emigrants from that part of the Dominion."

The way in which American statistics of immigration are prepared has long been familiar to us on this side. Henceforth they will be known pretty accurately to the British public. —Mail.

Richard Wagner.

Richard Wagner, the eminent composer, died at Venice on February, 11th. Born at Leipsic, May 22nd, 18 , he received his education at Dresden and in the University of Leipsic. At an early age he began to write for the lyrical stage, and was appointed musical director of the Royal Theatre at Dresden, where several of his operas, particularly "Rienzi," "Der Fliegende," and "Lohengrin," were produced. Professing liberal principles he became involved in the political troubles of Saxony in 1848, and being compelled to flee, took refuge in Zurich. In 1855 he accepted the invitation of the London Philharmonic Society to undertake the direction of their concerts for that season. He had contributed to the musical literature of the day, and his esthetic opinions as well as the merits have become the subjects of controversy, one party representing him as a musical reformer of great and original genius, and the other as a visonary in his notions and extravagant and unintelligible in his music. Wagner, who was a poet and a critic, has written his own librettos, and has defended his private theories by his pen on several occasions. His pamphlet, "Judaism in Music" (1850), gave rise to an animated controversy. One of his supporters, Herr Nolis, of Munich, wrote two books in his defence. The majority, however, were on the other side, and pamphlets on "Wagner and Judaism," "Wagner, the Musical Savior (of the Future)," "Wagner, the Jew Devourer," were an index to the general feeling. In 1869 Wagner published some reflections on Devrient's book about Mendelssohn, and in 1870 "La Conduite del' Orchestre." On May 22nd, 1872, he laid at Bayreuth, a small town of Central Germany, the foundation stone of a theatre, in which his works were performed before a select audience of sympathising friends in 1876.

Another Philanthropist Gone.

Mr. Wm. E. Dodge, one of New York's principal merchants and philanthropists whose death has already been announced, died from the effects of a cold contracted eight days previously, while presiding at a meeting held at Cooper Union, to protest against a reduction of the tariff. He leaves a widow and seven sons and property estimated at $15,000,000. Although principally known to the public through the charity that his success in business enabled him to dispense, Mr. Dodge was connected with the organizations of many of the great business enterprises that has so enhanced the commercial importance of New York, and was prominent in nearly every important business undertaking. Three times in succession he was elected President of the New York Chamber of Commerce and is the only man who has held that office for so long a period.

Mr. Dodge at the time of his death was Vice-President of the New York Union Theological Seminary and a member of the boards of the American Bible Society, the American Tract Society and the Syrian and Liberian Protestant colleges. He was greatly interested in the education and welfare of the colored and Indian people. His principal life interest, however, was in his temperance work, to which he devoted more than fifty years of his life. He was President of the American National Temperance Society, the Temperance Christian Home for Men and the Ladies' Temperance Home.

An Improvement on the Tobacco Stamp.

Shortly after the service commenced in a west end church last night, a young lady, accompanied by her escort, entered. The obliging usher found a seat for them in one of the front pews, and all went well until the man with the plate came along. Then the lady's escort became fidgetty. He dived first into one pocket and then into another, evidently in search of something he could not find, and all the blood in his body seemed to have entered his face. By this time the collection man was within two pews of him. He lifted his overcoat, which hung on the seat in front, and took out his pocket-book. There were two three-cent stamps in it, one of which he tore off, and as the plate came round placed it on it. The collector looked surprised, not knowing whether to take it as an insult or a contribution. An audible titter ran through the adjoining pews as the plate passed on, and the fair youth replaced his pocket-book in his overcoat.—Mail.

Venturesome.

Dr. Hope, who was rescued near Atlantic, Ga., the other day, standing on the narrow ledge of a precipitous bluff 300 feet high, with water and falls 100 feet below him, climbed up the precipice to that point when he could go neither backward nor forward, up nor down. He therefore dropped a note, which was luckily found near the fall, which read:—"Get ropes 300 feet long; am O. K.; Sam Hope." Five men worked themselves over very difficult spots to within fifty feet of him and then, with ropes, lowered him on to the foot of the bluff. Hope is a venturesome man, and is always having some thrilling adventure. Several years ago he ascended in a balloon in Atlantic which rose to a height of 1,000 feet and then collapsed, and in the presence of the entire city came sinking down. Fortunately the falling balloon was so impeded as to save him.

Electric Motors in Mines.

A novel application of the electral transmission of power has been made at the Trafalgar Collieries, Forest of Dean, England. A pump in the underground workings is driven by an electric motor, the current, generated by a dynamo machine at the surface, being led down the shaft and along the workings a distance of 500 yards. The drainage water of the deep workings is raised by the electric pump 115 feet vertically and forced through 500 yards of piping to the bottom of the shaft, whence it is raised by steam pumps to the surface of the ground. The working of the electric pump is said to be very satisfactory.

DISHONEST JOURNALISM.

In its present issue the Examiner rather surpasses its own bad record by the scurrilous abuse and flagrant dishonesty, which has already made its own party regard it as the heaviest weight they have to carry.

For instance it follows Mr. Bertram, who has an equal contempt for the truth, in blaming Mr. Carnegie in regard to the Dower Act of 1882, though both these critics know that they were deliberately concealing the fact that the Act contained clause exempting pending actions from its operation, a very different thing from the River and Streams Bill which was expressly framed to interfere with a pending suit and to over ride the law courts.

Thus it holds Mr. Carnegie responsible for objectionable articles in the Mail, though the REVIEW repudiated them, while at the same time they would also hold Mr. Carnegie personally responsible for writings in the REVIEW which he did not pen, and in some instances did not even see till published. Then they twist the meanings of the passages they misquote in order to show an apparent inconsistency.

It is all personal abuse, unfounded charges and falsifications of facts without one word of argument. By such a course the Examiner is aiding our cause and damaging that of its party most materially.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

On Monday Mr. C. H. Tupper, member for Pictou, and son of the Minister of Railways and Canals moved the address in reply to the speech from the Throne in an able manner showing that he inherits the abilities of his father.

Mr. Wood, who defeated Sir Albert Smith in Westmoreland, N. B. seconded the address and also made a most favourable impression upon the House.

Mr. Blake complimented the mover and seconder of the address on their speeches, but said he must put a few shadows in their bright pictures, a few clouds in their blue sky. He accordingly dealt with the position of affairs and the Government platform from his own stand point.

Sir John Macdonald replied, commencing with a little good humoured raillery as to the opposition leaders' gloomy views, prophesying that there would be shadows enough if the opposition regained power. He told an anecdote of an old sailor who on returning to the English coast with its drizzle put on his pea-coat and sou-wester and said "This is something like weather! None of your infernal blue skies for me." He then dwelt upon some of the chief points of the Governments programme, which had been criticised by Mr. Blake.

Mr. Mitchell then spoke urging a redistribution of the seats in New Brunswick.

Mr. Tasse, who spoke in French, complimented the mover and seconder of the address.

The address was then read clause by clause and passed.

Sir L. Tilley gave notice that he would be ready with his budget speech on Friday.

In the Senate the address was moved by the Hon. Mr. Robitaille in French.

The Hon. John O'Donahoe seconded the address, and ably showed the gratifying results of the Conservative policy.

A greater number of speakers took part in the debate than in the Commons, but the address was passed without amendment.

On Tuesday Mr. McCarthy introduced two bills, one to amend the law as to criminal proceedings, and the other to appoint a Court of Railway Commissioners.

THE Examiner admits that Mr. Carnegie voted against the legalization of the Grand Junction Railway bonus by-law, but accuses him of not doing so till the third reading. Our contemporary, with its usual disregard of truth, omits to mention that the objectionable clause was not inserted in the bill till after the second reading. We fail to see how Mr. Carnegie could vote against a provision before it was in existence.

On Friday last, the 9th instant, two rinks of the Peterborough Curling Club came to Lakefield and played a friendly game with two rinks of the Lakefield Club. The Lakefield curlers were badly beaten, but this was expected as the Lakefield Club has only been recently organized. At the conclusion of the game the visitors were entertained with a sumptuous supper at Pearse's Hotel. A remarkably pleasant time was spent, speech and song being the order of the evening. LETTER FROM O'GRADY.

APSLEY, Feb. 14, 1883.

DEAR REVIEW,—I cum out of me hole on Candlemas day to try and find out if we were to have a long or short winter, faith I felt proud to find I'd flesh enough on me to cast a shadow. The long end is to come yet, sez I, and was about to den up again, when I spied a Coon out running about as lively as ye plaize. Sez I that's quare, considering the saison and the severity of the weather. Sez I to myself, there must be a hen on, and I'll take a stroll and see. I did'nt go far when I found the World standing on its end, as a general Election was soon to come off and the Peterboro' Registrarship to be disposed of. There was

The Merchant and the Baker,
The Blacksmith and the Tailor,
The Cobbler and the Banker,
The Fiddler and the Hatter,
The Grocer and the Butcher,
The Tinker and the Jailer.

And all fighting like cats and dogs for who'll be Registrar. Barney thinks he'll get it, but he won't. For he hurt me dignity one day on the Streets of Peterborough. What do ye think? He says, "Good-day Dan." Sez I, 'twod'nt pucker yer mouth much sais I to have said Mr. And I'll hold a wager he don't be Register, for I've tould Mowit not to give it to him, but to let some good dacent Reformer like John Ludgate have it—a man that has spent money in the County and would be a credit to the office—and I know Mowit won't go back on me and it'll tache Barney how to accost a neighbor. So Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Campbell are on the stump for West Peterborough. Mr. Carnegie is the boy that'll tell Pardee to hould on wid his Confiscation job and lave him nothing to hould on to. In East Peterborough things look lively. Mr. Reed is a pretty tough reed and it will give the Otonabee Blizard a hard job to shake. Blizard is the man that promised to do some big drawing for us, but he backed up on his Whiffletrees and voted for the "free grant bills" that we petitioned him to vote against and voted against the bills that we wanted him to vote for. Faith Mowit need'nt take out a patent for such a voting machine for its impossible to improve on it. 'Tis a curious coincidence that the vote in the House on nearly every measure stood, Grits, 49; Conservatives, 25. Another quare thing is that 49 was the precise number of the gallant steed that bore the gallant Captain T. O. Bridgewater among the "Gallant six hundred" to victory every time. Now, if 49 of the Light Brigade was true to his rider, so was 49 of the Mowit Brigade. If he waded through dirt and mire to plaise his master, so did 49 Mowit Brigade. If he liked to see his master riding rough-shod over other parties, so did 49 Mowit brigade. If he had a good time at the country's expense, so had 49 Mowit brigade. If he went for free corn, so did Blizard, faithful private in the Mowit brigade. Oh, ye little flies upon the wheel of your Boundry Award, your Streams Bill, your Centralization, and your treatment of the Free Grant Settlers, ye have started the wheel to your own distruction. By the end of this month, or beginning of March, it will have completed its revolution. Then, without the least attraction uv gravity, you'll roll off like flies from a dead horse, ye ticklers of humanity's proboscis, yes may buzz but can't bite. Now, lovers of fast laws, equal rights and liberty of conscience is the time to give Mowit a back seat, bounce Pardee, cultivate Fraser and straighten Crooks.

Your old friend,
DANIEL O'GRADY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PRESENTATION.—On Thursday evening last a very pleasant affair took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. McKee. His daughter, Miss Annie McKee, having been away from home for some time, returned home last week, and on the above evening a party, consisting of the members of the North Smith Presbyterian Choir and a few of their friends "surprised" her, and presented her with a handsome photograph album and an address, in recognition of her very valuable services as leader of the choir previous to her departure from home. The following is a copy of the address which was read by Mr. Burrow, the presentation being made by Miss Jennie Preston.

"WELCOME HOME."

An address presented to Miss Annie McKee by the members of North Smith Presbyterian Church Choir and a few of their friends, on the occasion of her return home after an absence of several months, February, 1883.

DEAR MISS MCKEE,—We the members of the North Smith Presbyterian Church Choir, and a few of our friends, have met here this evening that we might express to you our pleasure in having you with us again. During your absence we have missed your voice in the regular service of the Sanctuary and also in our weekly meetings for practice, and not less, your genial society, as we have met together from time to time.

We trust that while you have been away you have enjoyed both temporal and spiritual prosperity, and we hope it may be long ere you leave us again.

We desire you to accept this album as a slight evidence of our appreciation of your very valuable services in connection with our choir. Praying that God may long spare you to use your voice in singing His praises, and that you may ever enjoy the consciousness of His loving approval, we extend to you a hearty "Welcome Home."

Signed on behalf of the members of the choir and their friends by

J. HERBERT BURROW, Organist,
JENNIE PRESTON,
M. E. SANDERSON,

Smith, February 8th, 1883.

Miss McKee accepted the album and address with a brief expression of her gratitude.

After spending a very pleasant evening, during which a sumptuous repast was partaken of, the party separated, well satisfied with the evening's pleasure.

Authors' Opinions of Authors.

Pitt told Wilberforce, respecting Bishop Butler's great work, "You may prove anything by analogy." Sidney Smith says the book is "the most noble and surprising defence of revealed religion ever made." Fielding was "the [illegible]" [illegible] Dr. Johnson. Johnson himself was dubbed "Ursa Major" by Lord Auchinleck. "He was nothing of the bear but the skin," said Goldsmith. "Johnson was an odious and mean character" according to Horace Walpole; Mr. Thomas Carlyle praised him as "a mass of [illegible] manhood." "Sir, I don't think Gray a first-rate poet," quoth Johnson. "I have been reading Gray's works, and I think him the only poet since Shakespeare entitled to the character of the sublime," wrote Cowper. "The first of solemn coxcombs," says Warton of Goldsmith. "An inspired idiot," says Horace Walpole; while Bishop Percy speaks of his "elegant and enchanting style." Curran tells us that Edmund Burke's mind was like an over-decorated chapel filled with gauds and shows of badly assorted ornaments." Sir James Mackintosh held he was "the greatest philosopher in practice the world ever saw." "There could not," said Pearson "be a better exercise for a schoolboy than to turn a page of Gibbon's "Decline and Fall" into English." "The luminous page of Gibbon," said Sheridan, though he afterwards declared he meant "voluminous."

How He Got The Ticket.

There are many rumors in regard to the way in which Mr. Gamble, of Gananoque, became possessed of the ticket 86,542, which won $5,000. A gentleman from that village states that the ticket was held by another person. Gamble anxiously desired to secure it, but the holder was loathe to part with it. After a great deal of talk the holder and Mr. Gamble decided to toss up and see who should have it. Gamble won, paid for the ticket, and consequently secured the prize. It is said Mr. Gamble dreamt that 86,542 would be the winning number. He has left for London. On Friday night he had a lively splurge in Gananoque. Champagne flowed freely. It is asserted that Mr. Gamble will make the original holder of the ticket a valuable present.—Whig.

A BOY'S VALENTINE.

I might begin, "The rose is red"
(Though that is not so very new),
Or this the boys all think is good:
"If you love me as I love you."

But—seems to me—a valentine
Is nicer when you do not say
The same old things that everyone
Keeps saying in the same old way.

And I asked Jane the other night
What grown-up people write about,
She would not answer me at first,
But laughed till I began to pout,
That stopped her, for she saw I meant
The question (and she will not tease),
"Why—love," she said, "and shining eyes,
A kiss, soft hair—just what they please."
It can't be hard, if that is all,
So I'll begin by saying this:

"To my dear lady beautiful,
I send a valentine and kiss,
The valentine because she has
The loveliest hair and prettiest eyes;
The kiss, because I love her more
Than any one beneath the skies;
Because she is the kindest, best,
The sweetest lady ever known,
And every year, I'll say the same,
The very same, to her alone!"

There! Now it's finished. Who will do?
I've thought of one and then another.
Who is there like it? Why, of course,
I'll send it right away to mother!

IS THE AGE OF MIRACLES PAST?

In the article on "the Apostolic Miracles," by Dr. Dawson, published in the Sunday School Times, the author touches upon the above question in the following words:

A very interesting aspect of the miracles recorded in the Acts arises from the historical position of the book. It covers a period of about thirty years, from the ascension of Christ to the imprisonment of St. Paul at Rome, and from the great revival at Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost to the diffusion of the gospel over the greater part of the Roman world. In the beginning of the book, we have the kindling of the flame in one spot. As it proceeds, we have the spread of the fire along diverging lines to the boundary of the known world. This has an instructive correspondence with the miraculous work recorded. The story of the early chapters of the Acts may be described as a tissue of miracles, and stands altogether on a high level of spiritual and supernatural power. In these days miracles seem to have been almost an hourly occurrence. As we advance in the history, miracles become more rare, and though they still occur, they appear to be of much less frequent occurrence, relatively to the extent of the church, and the narrative comes to resemble more closely that of an ordinary missionary journey. Thus from the high spiritual elevation of the earlier history we descend gradually to a lower plane, while, at the same time, the church widens and extends itself. It is the history of the early church was like the course of some river, which, flowing deep and strong through a narrow gorge, gradually expands into a wide and shallow estuary, losing in depth and rapidity what it gains in width. This is in accordance with God's ordinary operations in nature, where all emanations diminish in a rapid ratio as they recede from their centres. Whether the analogy points to any common law of the natural and spiritual or not, the fact remains, that the history of the acts forms a connection link between the pentecostal age and that of the ordinary church, between the age of miracles and that of the ordinary operation of the means of grace, between the Jerusalem church and the time of the Gentiles. Thus it shows how, in the evolution of God's plan, the miraculous powers needed in the earlier days of the Church gradually fell into disuse or were withdrawn, and were succeeded by the ordinary operation of the Word and Spirit, and by the ministrations of uninspired men, not endowed with miraculous gifts. The history thus teaches us what was God's plan in this matter, and leads us to be less surprised and disappointed at the apparent failure of miraculous powers, which we, however, altogether subordinate to the greater miracle of the conversion of men by the gospel of Christ. * *

We should be careful not to teach children that miracles imply any contravention or violation of God's natural laws. The Bible gives no warrant for such a statement, and it is derogatory to God's wisdom and power, and inconsistent with what we know of nature. God's power and knowledge being infinite, while ours are infinitesimally small, the field of possible miracle is boundless without the infringement of any of God's laws, material, spiritual, or moral, provided that Divine power be employed, and it is this which makes the difference between true miracles and the paltry imitations of man.

Threatened with Ruin.

Antiquarians and admirers of fine architecture are greatly grieved at the ruin which threatens the central tower of Peterborough Cathedral. This church is one of the noblest specimens of Norman architecture in England, and was built in the early part of the twelfth century. Architects have always thought that grand central tower at the intersection of the nave and eastern transept would not last, and their forebodings have proved only too true. In order to avoid a similar disaster to that at Chichester, where the spire fell one day bodily into the cloisters, the Dean and Chapter of Peterborough have ordered that the lantern tower, as it is called, be pulled down, and the public are excluded from the church while two huge steam cranes are at work destroying this magnificent relic of the past. Peterborough Cathedral contained the grave of Henry VIII. and his first wife, Queen Katharine of Aragon. It was also the temporary resting place of the remains of Mary Queen of Scots until their removal to Westminster by order of James I. During the Cromwellian wars Peterborough suffered severely. The doors were broken open, the painted windows smashed, the organ and monuments, including those of the two dead queens, destroyed, and the re-redos broken to atoms. There is an old story that one of the soldiers who had taken aim with his musket to shatter the statues of the four Evangelists was struck blind by the recoil of his own piece.

FORESTRY REPORT.

We take the following from the report of the delegates appointed by the Ontario Commissioner of Agriculture to represent the Province at the meetings of the American Forestry Congress at Cincinnati and Montreal:—

The delegates, in view of the information obtained at the several meetings of the American Forestry Congress, beg leave to make the following recommendations:

I. That such of the public lands as are more suitable for the growing of timber than for agricultural purpose, be retained by Government as a part of the public domain.

II. That within this timbered tract scattered portions be leased to persons suitable to act as forest police, to protect the timber lands from trespass, guard against fires, remove fallen timber, and act under instructions.

III. That no trees shall be cut, whether pine, spruce, hemlock, or hardwood, on any of the public timber lands under fourteen inches in diameter at the stump.

IV. That no cattle, sheep, or swine be allowed to roam at large in any of the public woodlands.

V. That the lighting of fires in or near any woods from May to October, inclusive, be prohibited, under severe penalties.

VI. That a general stock law be enacted, prohibiting cattle, sheep, and swine from running at large in any part of the Province, unless the municipal council of any municipality shall pass a by-law authorizing their running at large within that municipality.

VII. That encouragement be given to farmers to plant timber lots of not less than ten acres on each farm of one hundred acres, and maintain the same as a timber lot, from which cattle must be carefully excluded. Such encouragement may be given by exempting the timber lots from taxation so long as the same are maintained and properly cared for.

VIII. That encouragement be given to farmers to plant and maintain shade trees along the public highways and the boundary lines of farms, by granting out of the Provincial treasury, a sum of ten or twelve cents for each tree so planted and maintained in a healthy and growing condition for a period of five years, provided the municipal council of the municipality in which they are growing shall have granted a like sum.

IX. That hereafter it be a condition in all sales or grants to settlers that not less than twenty-five acres in every hundred shall be forever kept as woodland, under penalty of forfeiture of the whole, and that the covenant be made to run with the land.

X. That scientific and practical instruction in forestry be given to the students of the Agricultural College.

XI. That a competent conservator of forests be employed, with a sufficient staff, and clothed with adequate powers to use to the proper execution of all laws relating to the cutting of timber, lighting of trees, running at large of animals, etc., etc., within the timber lands of the Province.

XII. That as soon as practicable the management of the public forests be assumed by the Government, and all timber be cut and sold, trees planted, pruned, and cared for, and all matters relating thereto be conducted under the supervision of a chief forester.

XIII. That the grounds of the several public institutions be utilized as far as practicable as experimental stations, by planting thereon timber trees that promise to be of practical value, and testing their adaption to these several localities.

XIV. That Government cause accurate maps to be made of each County, shewing the area that has been cleared off, that has been destroyed by fire, and that is yet covered with timber, and indicating as far as practicable the quality of the standing timber.

XV. That a forest of acclimation be established at the Agricultural College, Guelph, in which shall be planted such forest trees of other countries as may probably become acclimated in this country, and prove to be valuable for economical or ornamental purposes.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

Breathe Through The Nose.

Dr. Ward, Physician to the Metropolitan Throat Hospital, in an article on singers' throat troubles, in the Musical Critic, treats of the various kinds of catarrhal trouble experienced by public singers, and repeats the well known fact that the nose is the only channel through which air should pass during ordinary acts of breathing, the mouth being intended only as an accessory breathing agent when, on certain occasions—as, for instance, running—the lungs demand a rapid supply of air. The air in passing through the nostrils, is warmed and sifted of its harmful ingredients, and thus prepared for its reception into the delicate structures below. If it passes directly into the mouth without the above preparation, it will frequently cause irritation and inflammation of the mucous membrane lining of the mouth and throat by being, in the first place, too cold, and in the second place by containing irritating particles of dust and other matter.

GOOD ADVICE.—If our readers will accept professional advice, they will always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand for use in emergencies, such as Burns, Scalds, Wounds, Lameness, Croup, Chilblains, Rheumatism and all varieties of aches, pains and inflammations. It will ever be found reliable.

MR. THOMAS W. RACE, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

WITH every bottle of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops, a sample bottle is given free of charge. If, after using the trial bottle, you are not satisfied with its effect, you can return the large bottle to your dealer, who will refund the money. Thousands can testify to its prompt action in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis etc. If you suffer, try them. Price 50 cents. Sold by all Druggists.

FITS "A Leading London Physician establishes an Office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS." From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE
PACIFIC NORTHWEST!
Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean. NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA. The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States. No failure of crops has ever occurred. Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market. An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry. The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws. Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending Feb. 14th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $4,123.84; freight, $7,065.67; total, $11,189.51, as compared with $14,469.49 for the corresponding week of 1882, being a decrease of $3,279.98; and the aggregate traffic to date is $79,486.13, being an increase of $3,833.36 over 1882.

Found Dead.

Joseph Nailer was found dead this morning in the house of Jas. Whitehill, on Brown street, Ashburnham, where he was staying. It appears that Nailer had been drinking heavily, and went to the house at about eleven o'clock on Wednesday night, and in going into his bedroom he fell, and was found, when the family arose this morning, lying partly in the room and life extinct. From the appearance of the body it is thought that he choked while vomiting and expired. Dr. Fife, coroner, was notified and visited the house, but did not think it necessary to hold an inquest.

The Weather Probabilities.

Another change has taken place in the weather—not a very agreeable one either. The morning opened with a dull, heavy fog hanging over the town, and rain, or sleet, has been falling all day. This state of things according to "probs," is to continue for another twenty-four hours at least. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 42 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North western Telegraph Company are as follows:—Lakes fresh to strong south eastern to north easterly winds; cloudy to fair mild weather with snow in northern, and rain or snow in southern Ontario.

J. FLEMMING ARRESTED.

THE PARTNER IN THE "FUND W." FIRM BROUGHT TO PETERBOROUGH.

Lodged in Gaol and Brought Before the Police Magistrate—Threatening to Prosecute those who caused his Arrest.

Constable Pidgeon arrived on the 10 o'clock train on Wednesday night with John Flemming, who had been arrested in Toronto at the instance of some Belleville gentlemen who had lost money sent to the firm of Flemming & Merriam, Chicago, to be invested for them. A large number of the curious were assembled at the station to see the man who, formerly a resident of Peterborough, had created such a stir in the western world. On the arrival of the train, the prisoner was conveyed in a hack to the Police Magistrate's office, when he had a private consultation with Mr. G. Edmison, who has been retained as his legal adviser. Mr. Edmison applied to the Magistrate to have bail accepted for Flemming's appearance at the Police Court this morning. He offered to leave the cash (something over $1,000) and some papers belonging to the prisoner then in possession of the constable as security for his appearance. The Magistrate declined to accept the bail, and the prisoner was taken to the gaol.

The warrant upon which Flemming was arrested was issued on an information laid by J. E. Smith, of Belleville, who charged that Flemming had obtained from him on the 19th of January $250 with intent to defraud. Other informations have been laid, two of them, by citizens of Millbrook, who "invested" $100 and $60 respectively in "Fund W."

Mr. Edmison on Wednesday night stated that, since he had learned the facts of the case, he would certainly advise Flemming to stand the trial, and, indeed, he had no desire to escape. Not only that, but he would advise him to prosecute the parties who first caused him to be arrested.

FLEMMING'S PARTNER.

A rumor has been current that Flemming's partner, Merriam, was also a Canadian and that he was from this locality. We are informed, however, we believe on good authority, that Merriam was an alias adopted by a man in Chicago, who was the chief manager of the business of the firm.

Flemming was at one time in business in Peterborough, having kept a grocery and fruit

STORE ON GEORGE STREET.

It is, however, twenty-seven or twenty-eight years since he left here, and since then he has lived in Detroit, New York and Chicago. His father was one of the earliest settlers in this county, and the family was raised in the township of Smith, where the prisoner lived until he came into the town.

In conversation with a gentleman in Peterborough last Friday—which was the day he came here—Flemming said that he HAD MADE $600,000

in his business in Chicago, which, he stated, he had sold out to another party. This might be regarded as an extension of the facts, although the general opinion is that he did not leave Chicago with any paltry sum. He told another gentleman that he had $661,000 in a satchel which he carried, and showed large rolls of bills, some of which were seen to be $1,000 bills, and the pile certainly contained a very large amount.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Flemming was brought before the Police Magistrate this forenoon. He recognized Chief Johnston and other old residents whom he met there, and said jokingly to the Chief, "I used to give the constable more trouble than most of boys with my pranks when I was here."

Mr. Titus and Mr. H. Blair (the latter of whom has laid a complaint against Flemming for obtaining $700 from him under false pretences), appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Edmison and Mr. O'Meara for the prisoner.

Mr. Titus, on behalf of the prosecution, asked for an adjournment until one o'clock, as he wished to have witnesses present whom he expected from Belleville.

After further discussion by the legal gentlemen, the case was adjourned until one o'clock

In the afternoon, at the opening of the court, Mr. Edmison applied to the Magistrate to have the money taken from the prisoner returned to him, but the Magistrate refused to do so. The money had been taken from the prisoner by the Toronto officer and handed over to Constable Pidgeon.

Mr. Edmison then asked to have the case stand over until Friday morning, to which the prosecution consented, and the prisoner was accordingly remanded until then.

Mr. Edmison said that he wished it to be distinctly understood that the parties who caused Flemming to be arrested would be responsible for the act and for the money being withheld from him.

Application was again made to have bail accepted, and the amount having been fixed at $3,000, Mr. Edmison said that he had advised his client not to give bail.

POLICE COURT.

TRANSIENT TRADER.

Thursday, Feb. 15—W. Crosley was charged by Thomas Beavis, who was acting as a town official, with peddling tea without license, contrary to the by-law. The charge was dismissed without costs, the Magistrate holding that, as the defendant did not carry the tea with him, but took orders for it and then filled the orders, he was only acting as a commercial traveller in a small way, and did not violate the law.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent decoy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. [illegible], and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

TERRIBLE RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

A Collision on the Grand Trunk—Two Passengers Killed.

HAMILTON, Ont. Feb. 15.—A terrible collision occurred on the Grand Trunk Railway, Great Western division, this evening. The Pacific express, which is due here at 2.40, was two hours late leaving here about five o'clock. It is reached a point about two miles east of Dundas and three miles west of this city when it came into collision with the day express going east. The Pacific express was drawn by two locomotives to help it up the heavy grade between this city and Capetown, and these, with the engine on the day express, were smashed to splinters. The engineer on the pilot of the Pacific express, Edward Mason, a resident of this city, was killed instantly. Fireman Stephens, of the day express, was severely if not fatally injured. Two passengers were killed, and several injured. The despatcher at London gave orders for the day express to pass the Pacific express at Hamilton, and this order not being fulfilled resulted with the above fatal effect. Traffic was blocked completely. A gang of men with an auxiliary train was sent up from here and will have the line clear before morning. The miraculous escape of the majority of the passengers is marvellous, and every coach was well filled, the two trains comprising some twenty cars. Superintendent Still is doing all in his power to accommodate the detained travellers and relieve the sufferers.

CAMPBELLFORD.

PIGEON SHOOTING.—Mr. Cockburn, of Campbellford, defeated Stroud, of Hamilton, in the return match at Hamilton.

CANCER.—The Herald says that the late Mrs. Connolly, of Seymour township, who died at her home last week, has been a great sufferer from cancer for eleven years. This disease was the cause of her death.

FUNDS FROM THE LOTTERY. It has been found upon reference to the figures given in the list of successful ticket-holders of the London gift enterprise or lottery, that about $45 came down to enrich the pockets of some individuals in Campbellford. There were many tickets purchased here, several of which returned to the investors $5.

HASTINGS.

FIRE.—The Star says that a small dwelling house, situated on the outskirts of the village, owned by Mr. Richard Johnson, and occupied by one of his farm hands, was destroyed by fire on Saturday last; insured for $100.00. The cause is unknown, and the loss but trifling. No doubt friend Richard will erect a building which will be an ornament to the place, as it is a beautiful location.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—An attempt at highway robbery, or perhaps something worse, was made on Mr. Thomas Cardwell, of Asphodel, last Friday night. Mr. C. had driven to Peterborough in the morning and on his return just after dark, a few miles from town, he overtook a man whom he told to "jump in and have a ride." The stranger accepted the offer, saying to Mr. Cardwell as he settled himself in the cutter, "I will drive, as you may be cold," striking Mr. Cardwell a blow on the head at the same time. Mr. C., though partly stunned, grappled with the stranger and threw him out of the cutter, and striking the horse a smart blow with the whip, drove off.

TRIALS IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.—The examinations of the prisoners charged with conspiracy to murder was resumed to-day. Patrick Cahill identified the prisoner Thomas Caffery as one of four men on a car driving rapidly out of Phœnix park on the evening of May 6th. This completes the quartette who were on the car. Several other witnesses gave testimony corroborating Kavanagh's, and the case was adjourned till Saturday.

THE CONGO TERRITORY.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Portuguese squadron will shortly proceed to the west coast of Africa to take possession of the Molembo and Cabrinda territories, near the Congo river.

THE PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Parliament assembled to-day and was opened with the usual ceremonies. The Speech from the Throne says that England is friendly with the foreign powers and that the improvement in the social condition of Ireland continues.

BRADLAUGH AGAIN.

LONDON, Feb. 15—There was a great popular demonstration to-day at Charing Cross in favor of the claims of Mr. Bradlaugh to a seat in the House of Commons. Delegates from the London workmen's clubs, and others representing 400 provincial towns, were present. The authorities had arranged to quell any disorder. Mr. Bradlaugh in his speech announced that if nothing were mentioned in the House of Commons by four p.m. about the bill allowing members to make affirmation who desire to do so instead of taking the usual parliamentary oath, he should then take his seat in the House. There is a large crowd outside Westminster Palace yard, the gates of which are well guarded. Mr. Bradlaugh is in his usual seat in the House of Commons.

FRENCH AFFAIRS.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—The general opinion in political circles is that a dissolution of the Chamber of Deputies will soon occur. The Chamber of Deputies to-day considered the expulsion bill. M. Proust (Republican) moved that M. Barbey's proposal with a modification, placing the princes under half pay instead of depriving them of military rank, be accepted. The bill thus modified was adopted by 342 to 182. M. Treppell protested in the name of Alsace Lorraine against the expulsion of the heirs of those who had added those provinces to France. Gen. Thibaudin promised that after the bill was adopted by the Senate—if the Senate so acted upon the measure—he would explain the course the Government proposed to follow regarding the princes.

PROTECTING EUROPEANS.

PANAMA, Feb. 6.—The U. S. steamer Essex, two English vessels, and a French man-of-war have been ordered from the coast of Peru to Cuayaquill, Equador, to protect the foreign residents there. The Dictator, Veintimillas, is concentrating his forces, and threatens, if defeated, to plunder and burn the city.

EUGENIE AND PLON-PLON.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The interview between the ex-Empress Eugenie and Prince Jerome Napoleon has cleared up their private misunderstanding, and led to the formal recognition of the latter as head of the Bonaparte family. The ex-Empress assured the Prince of her best wishes for any constitutional action he may take towards bringing about a plebiscite. She disclaims participation in any unlawful or clandestine enterprise agains the Republic. The Prince states that if the popular vote should pronounce for the Republic, he should bow to it. but the Republic has never yet polled a clear majority of registered electors, and it is therefore governing merely by virtue of popular apathy. If the Prince is banished, he will come to London. He has no intention of abdicating his position in favour of his son. The latter was not privy to the issue of the manifesto, but there is no antagonism between him and his father.

AMERICAN.

FORCIBLE ARGUMENTS.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—Yesterday during the trial of a woman here on a charge of defaming a priest the lawyers, McBride and Lodge (the latter a partner of Governor Johnson), had an altercation. McBride give Lodge the lie, and Lodge hurled a heavy leather bookcase at McBride, cutting a deep gash in his hand which bled freely. The blood sympathised with McBride, who was the priest's attorney, and only the appearance of the police saved Lodge from rough usage. The judge adjourned the court, continuing the case until Friday, when both attorneys will be made to answer for their conduct.

WEDDING EXTRAORDINARY.

WILTON, Conn., Feb. 15.—The funeral of Wm. Gregory, Secretary of the Fairfield Agricultural Society, was held here yesterday. At the same hour and in the same room his daughter was married to George Pike. The same minister performed both ceremonies, and the marriage was solemnized in accordance with the request of the deceased.

Best Absorbment of Ammonia.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman writes that paper: "The weight of ammonia per cubic foot is about half that of air, hence its great tendency to pass upwards as soon as found in or near the surface of the earth. The best agent to absorb this gas in carbon of charcoal, hence the purifying effect when placed over decaying matter. Fine garden-soil, or road-dust, is also one of the best articles, as many have no doubt observed, by applying a few shovelfuls to an offensive out-house. I have seen the effect in the first minute after applying. Carbon having this peculiar absorbent power, without producing any chemical change, it will be seen how important it is that a full supply of it should be in the soil to hold the ammonia. In a fermenting pile of manure there is always more or less ammoniacal gas passing off, and for any one desiring to save this there is nothing better or cheaper than earth from a ditch or bank, or any other convenient pile. A thin layer occasionally spread over the manure will effectually secure the escaping gas. Many have, no doubt, often seen the advice of the use of plaster of sulphate of lime, which fixes the alkaline gas by its displacing the lime and forming sulphate of ammonia. It is strange that this error should be made, and by those who know better. Between lime and sulphuric acid there is a powerful affinity, and it is no easy matter to break this union, especially by a feeble base like ammonia. If the advice was given to unfix the ammonia from a sulphate, no quicker mode could be suggested than adding lime to sulphate of ammonia. The lime would soon have the sulphuric acid, and form sulphate of lime and the ammonia would pass off never to be caught by another portion of sulphate of lime."

NIAGARA FALLS.

ALBANY, N.Y., Feb. 15.—The Assembly Committee on Ways and Means gave a hearing on the Niagara Falls State Park Bill. Howard Potter, President of the Association for the preservation of the scenery around Niagara Falls, favored the bill. Sheldon Murray, owner of a pulp mill at Niagara Falls, opposed the bill. He favored submitting the question to the people. Ex-Lieut.-Governor Dorschiemer favored the bill, referring in glowing language to the grandeur of the Falls and their elevating influence upon the residents of the entire world. Bishop Doane, of Albany, also favored the bill.

THE TOY PISTOL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Louise Staunard, aged twelve, died last evening, having lived 71 hours with a bullet from a toy pistol in the brain. She was accidently shot by a playmate.

PECULIAR REVENGE.

SALISBURG, N. Y. Feb. 16.—The colored people here are much excited over the fact that Hugh Leonard (colored) has thrown up a live snake, eighteen inches long. It is said that a discarded sweet heart gave him a cake to eat which it is supposed contained snake eggs. Leonard says there are more snakes to come out.

STILL RISING.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—The Mississippi rose here over four feet in twenty-four hours. The big ice gorge at St. Charles on the Missouri gave away yesterday and swept all the small gorges before it. No damage was done.

A TOWN UNDER WATER.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—An appeal to the legislature from New Albany, which is now entirely surrounded with water, asks for an appropriation of $10,000, and says it will take from $15,000 to $20,000 to relieve the absolute destitution now upon people there. Owing to continued demands for relief from northern parts of the state, another bill of appropriation for $100,000 will be introduced into the House. The House urges Congress to come to the relief of the flooded sufferers. Tell City, below Levenworth, is reported to be under water, and its 4,000 inhabitants have been driven to the hills. It is feared that the court house in Lawrenceburg, where many people took refuge, will be undermined, and the calamity cause great loss of life.

THE OHIO FLOODS.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 16.—From Pitsburgh to Cairo there is hardly a town or city not wholly or partly submerged. Mill Creek valley has been flooded for thirty miles; beginning with the upper suburbs of Cincinnati and ending with Lawrenceburg, twenty-five miles below. The damage, destitution and distress is unparalleled in American history. In Patriot and Vevey the river is five or six miles wide. At all other points it extends from Ohio to Kentucky hills. The average width is from one to two miles. It is estimated that 50,000 people are homeless or imprisoned by the flood. The government steamer starts to-day up the river with relief for the cases of distress along the shore away from the towns and villages. Most of the large packing houses in Mill Creek valley are submerged. One packer has three million pounds of meat under water, and ten to fifteen million pounds of dry and salted meats in the same condition. On Wednesday night the rise left hundreds of shop girls and women and school children in the city without money for a meal and a night's lodgings. In many cases telegraph offices on that night did the heaviest business that they have done since Garfield's death, mostly in personal messages from detained travellers or in despatches countermanding orders for goods. Provisions are going up at a fearful rate. A dozen eggs has been sold in places for 75 cents. Meats advanced 20 per cent, and supplies of flour are scarce and high.

FLOODS IN KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 16.—The body of a drowned woman and the corpse of a child tightly clasped in the mother's arms have been found. Two men floating by on the roof of a shed was rescued. By actual count over three hundred squares and two thousand persons have been submerged. Five thousand working men have been driven from the shops and 15,000 people are homeless. The total loss is estimated at three million. The authorities decline all affairs of assistance from outside cities.

IT made me feel like a "Band of Music," was the rather forcible expression of an individual who was praising "Pectoria," the great remedy for Coughs and Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis. It is safe, pleasant and effectual. If you suffer, try it. For sale by all druggists and general dealers at 25 cents a bottle.

TREASURER GILFILLAN has received a letter from the cashier of a bank at New York, saying: "I have seen to-day a new five cent nickel so perfectly gold washed as to deceive ignorant persons and pass easily among them for a new five dollar gold piece." The letter has been referred to the Secretary of the Treasury.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1883.

MR. CARNEGIE'S SLANDERERS.

To the Electors of West Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—Those of you who read the Examiner will see that Mr. Carnegie is held personally responsible for every word that appears in the REVIEW whether reports or editorials, and most unfair attempts are made thereby to convict him of some slight inconsistency.

The Examiner well knows that it is speaking falsely; that I am at least equally responsible with my partner and co-editor and do even more editorial work upon the REVIEW, especially when as at present other engagement occupy much of Mr. Carnegie's time and even take him to a distance.

But the most dastardly of these attacks is the resuscitation of the vile slander that Mr. Carnegie insulted Irishmen last summer by a report referring to the emigrants. The publisher of this attack on Mr. Carnegie knows it to be a wilful and malignant falsehood, for I have already explained over my own signature that Mr. Carnegie, being absent, did not even see the report in question till after its publication.

As to the strictures which are quoted from the Irish Canadian, they were called forth not by the perusal of the report but by that of a false account of it in a letter published in the Examiner, but which I believe to be a forgery (as I have already stated without contradiction) for I cannot conceive that any resident of Ennismore, any "man from Galway," any Irishman in short, would pen such a cowardly and unfounded slander, or would bring into question the purity of Irishwomen, as was done by this pretended Irishman. If there was any ground for criticism of our report it was simply that the misery these immigrants had left was too vividly depicted in order to contrast it more strongly with the comfort and ease that they would happily find in their adopted land.

If, however, there was any error of judgment is certainly was not Mr. Carnegie's, but that of the reporter and of myself, who was then in editorial charge of the REVIEW.

E. J. TOKER,
Editor and Publisher REVIEW.

February, 15th, 1883.

AN INTELLECTUAL TOM THUMB.

A SHORT time ago the Examiner expressed an inclination to instruct us in the ethics of journalism, yet our contemporary still persists in violating an elementary and salutary journalistic rule, that of respecting the anonymity of journalists and dealing with the journal itself, not with the individuals who write or are assumed to write what appears in its columns. The Examiner will not adhere to this usual etiquette, but instead of criticising THE REVIEW, continually vents its spleen upon one of its proprietors and editors, attacking him either openly by name or by still more offensive insinuations.

Now we have hitherto made it our constant rule to avoid this practice. We have dealt, when we have had occasion to do so, with the Examiner as an entity, not making any personal allusion to the proprietor or to any of the succession of editors or writers whom he has engaged to do the work of which he is himself incapable. It would, in fact, be absurd to attribute the articles that appear in the Examiner to the pen of Mr. J. R. Stratton, for it is well known that, even such as they are, he has not the ability to write them. It is notorious indeed that he cannot make even an after-dinner speech for himself, but is obliged to have it written for him by one of his staff, and that he is in the habit of delivering an oration on such occasions that was the work of one of his editors, who has since left both his employ and the Province. Neither must it be supposed, as might be imagined from the similarity of name, that the Examiner editorials are written by Mr. Charles Stratton, who is better known on the boards and to the public as General Tom Thumb. Such a supposition would be unfair to that distinguished member of the Stratton family, for in his case it is not the brains that are dwarfed, however inferior he may be in stature and bodily vigor to his less mentally gifted namesake of the Examiner. Nature has its compensations, and one member of a family may be dwarfed corporeally while another is dwarfed intellectually.

We hear occasionally other rumours as to the authorship of some of the articles in the Examiner. In fact there are men who assert that they have personal knowledge of the identity of the writer of many editorials in the Examiner and indeed of its real editor and controller. We have no inclination, however, to busy ourselves with such researches, and we still hope that we may persuade the nominal proprietor of the Examiner that it will be more advisable henceforth to adhere to the received etiquette of journalism and to respect the anonymity of the proprietors and staff of both journals.

Of course, if our contemporary persists in ignoring professional etiquette it wilfully places itself without the pale, and must be prepared for reprisals as affording the readiest method of dealing with an outlaw.

THE LIQUOR LICENSE FRAUD.

MR. HARDY'S falsifications of the liquor license statistics are gladly seized upon and repeated by our local contemporary, as such a fraud is just suited to its tastes and calibre.

It is falsely asserted that the amount paid to the town of Peterborough in 1881-2 was $1,373.16, while under the old law there would only have been payable $1,143.00, making a gain to the town under the Crooks Act of $230.16. This is simply a deliberate falsehood, the truth being that THE TOWN HAS LOST $632.84 instead of gaining $230.16. The whole amount paid in the town for licenses and fines was $4,515, of which, under the old law, $409 would have been payable to the Province and the remainder, $4,106, would have been payable to the town; but only $3,473.16 was really paid to the town, making, as we have said, a loss to the municipality of $632.84. This loss is fraudulently represented as a gain of $230.16 by the dishonest device of ignoring the real amounts paid for licenses, and assuming that only a smaller sum, namely, the lowest statutory fee, would have been exacted now, if the old law had remained in force, although the municipalities under it had the same power of raising the licenses as now, and there is no reason for supposing that they would not have exercised it in the same manner.

The figures for the rest of the county are cooked and falsified after the same fashion by Mr. Hardy and his local imitators, the loss to the county, apart from the town, being really $791.25.

The truth is that the Mowat administration fleeces the municipalities of the revenue derived from this source, and then misapplies our own money to reward its political officials, and to secure their services as partisan agents to influence th[illegible]ectorate, the majority of which is opposed [illegible]em, while these officials neglect their duty of enforcing the law, as the department itself admits.

We may remind our readers that the proposal of Mr. Meredith and his supporters is to restore this fund to the municipalities in which it accrues, and to substitute for partisan electioneering agents, officers who will strictly enforce the law, which it is not intended to relax in any way.

Surely it will not be hard for either temperance men or economists to decide which programme to support.

THE VACANT REGISTRY OFFICE.

STILL the prize of the Registrarship of the County of Peterborough is being dangled before the eyes of the numerous applicants with the corrupt object of influencing the votes not only of themselves but of their friends. One set of electors is approached with the promise that if the County goes Reform Mr. So-and-so shall get the office, another set is canvassed with a similar understanding in favour of Mr. Such-a-one, and again a third set is lured with the prospect of benefitting the man of their choice.

Of course nothing can be more flagrantly dishonest and corrupt than all this. If it were possible that our information, upon which we believe that we can implicitly rely, that the office is promised to an East Riding gentleman, should prove mistaken, there is at all events no necessity for this delay in making the appointment, and no possible reason for it except to make corrupt use of the prospective patronage.

If at a loss to choose between the shoals of mere political aspirants, Mr. Mowat has a very easy course before him. He has in the office itself a gentleman, who is well qualified to perform its duties, obviously better qualified that any new incumbent could be. The very fact of Mr. Grundy being left in charge of the office as acting Registrar for two and probably three months, is evidence that should be undeniable that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues think him sufficiently well qualified for the position to fill it permanently. We believe that the legal profession and others who have had official business to transact with him would also without exception testify to his fitness for the position. Is it possible that Mr. Mowat is about after all to reward seven years of good service as deputy registrar and three months as acting registrar by installing Mr. Grundy perminently in the office, for which he has such substantial claims? We must admit that we fear Mr. Mowat has no such good reason for delay. Whatever his final decision may be it is too obvious that he is criminally accessory to the gross corruption that is now being practised by means of this vacancy, and that he is dishonestly keeping it open for the very purpose of allowing this debauching of electors.

Importance of Small Industries.

Speaking in Congress the other day of the need of encouraging certain relatively small industries, Senator Miller referred to the city of New York, the greatest manufacturing city in America—he might have said in the world—and "yet she has not a cotton mill, a blast furnace, or a rolling mill within her borders. Her manufactories are small," he said, "but they employ more than a quarter of a million people."

It is worthy of notice in this connection that while recent patents have much to do with the means and methods of the great staple industries, such as steel and iron production, iron milling, cotton and woolen manufacture, and the like, the smaller yet in the aggregate immensely important industries are almost wholly based upon and due to the development of recently patented inventions.—Scientific American.

Gold in an Apple Tree.

Simon Shrimpton, a farmer living near Farmersville, Ohio, cut down an old apple tree in his yard. When splitting it he found embedded in the trunk a small can, which contained forty-eight bright twenty-dollar gold pieces. How the box got there is a mystery, as it was embedded to a depth of eight inches in wood.

THE BEAUTIFUL LAND OF NOD.

BY ELLA WHEELER.

Come, cuddle your head on my shoulder dear,
Your head like the golden rod;
And we will go sailing away from here
To the beautiful Land of Nod.
Away from life's hurry and flurry and worry,
Away from earth's shadows and gloom,
We will sail off together, to a world of fair weather,
Where roses are always in bloom.

Come, shut your eyes and fold your hands,
Your hands like the leaf of a rose;
And we will go sailing to those fair lands
That never an atlas shows.
On the north and the west they are bounded by rest,
On the south and the east by dreams,
'Tis the country ideal where nothing is real,
But everything only seems.

Come, drop down the curtain of your dear eyes,
Your eyes like the bright blue bell;
And we will sail out under star-lit skies
To the land where the fairies dwell.
From the river of sleep our barge shall sweep,
Till it reaches that mystical Isle
Which no man hath seen, yet where all have been,
And there we will pause awhile.

I will croon you a song as we drift along
To that shore that is blessed of God;
Then oh! for that fair land,
We're off for that rare land,
That beautiful Land of Nod.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BENEFIT CONCERT.

A concert will be given in the P. C. A. Hall on Tuesday evening next, the 20th instant, to provide the means of presenting Miss Clarin with an acknowledgement of the high favor in which she is held as the organist of the Methodist church in Lakefield. An excellent programme is published, and no doubt the concert will be a great success.

TRENT VALLEY SURVEY.

The party now engaged in taking the levels and soundings for the canal have reached the head of Clear Lake and have taken up quarters at "The Hermitage," kindly placed at their disposal by Mr. Fuller. The party were furnished with considerable amusement last week by a plunge taken into the depths below by the heavy weight of the sounding party, who, while managing so far to escape a dip, has been loud in his sympathies for those who were more unfortunate. Charley has become wonderfully quiet since the event.

FORESTERS' ENTERTAINMENT.

The members of Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F., have decided to hold their anniversary social on the 22nd inst., next Thursday, in the Union Hall. The members of Clementi Masonic Lodge have kindly granted the use of their hall, which will place plenty of room at the disposal of the committee. Songs, recitations, music and games will be provided, which, with an oyster supper, will afford enjoyment to all. The entertainment is only intended for the families of Foresters.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

A special meeting of the Lakefield School Board was held in the Council Room, Lakefield, on Wednesday evening last, the 14th instant, for the purpose of selecting a head teacher, etc.

Members present, Mr. G. J. Galvin, Chairman of the Board in the chair, and Messrs. Wilson, Sanders, Gordon and Drs. Armour and Caldwell. The minutes of the former meetings were read and confirmed.

Moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Dr. Armour,—That the following accounts be paid, viz:—

Jas. R. Stratton, printing	$1.25
Isaac Watson, fixing pump, etc	2.85

—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Sanders, seconded by Dr. Armour,—That Mr. August be and he is hereby engaged as Head Master of the Lakefield Public School for the balance of 1883, at a salary of $450 per annum.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Sanders, seconded by Mr. Wilson,—That Mr. Clement the Secretary of the Board be paid the sum of $10 salary, and the sum $3, for acting as Returning Officer. Total $13.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Gordon,—That this Board do adjourn.—Carried.

OYSTER SUPPER.

Mr. George Berube, proprietor of the Midland Hotel, gave an oyster supper on Monday evening last, to the Lakefield village Council. All the members were present, and also a few others. The spread was magnificent, and a very pleasant time was spent. A general and very interesting discussion took place on the necessity of a town hall, market, &c., for the village; Lakefield's future prospects from a business point of view, and as a manufacturing and lumbering centre, &c. &c. The social was brought to close with a the toast mine host and hostess responded to by several of the guests, with complementary remarks of Mr. Berube and his estimable wife as citizens and neighbours.

Hints on Picture Hanging.

The following hints may be useful:—Landscapes, marines and figure pieces may be hung on the same wall; flower pieces and "still lifes" go well together. Due regard should be paid, however, to the general tone of pictures hung together. If want of space forbids the arrangement suggested above, care should be taken not to place pictures near each other that will have a poor or bad effect, as, for instance, a strong black and yellow interior near a delicate gray morning landscape, as the black and yellow will weaken the pale coloring of the landscape. In flower pieces the brilliant coloring will weaken neighboring landscapes. Water colors should be hung together. "Black and whites," whether oils, water colors, or engraving, may be hung together. A large "upright" should hang on the "eye line;" small pictures rather low and on either side of an oblong. Background:—A warm olive color will harmonize with the crimson of your hangings, and form a good background for the oil paintings. Oil paintings are injured by being shut away from light, the coloring darkening and growing dull. Water colors are not thus injured; they are, if good paints are used, very durable.

A blizzard story from the North-West: A man went for a bucket of water, and spilled a little while returning to the house. He put one foot on the wet spot, and before he could take another step he was frozen to the ground. He had to leave his boot behind and hop to the house.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtue of this nature medicine gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Don't Sign Papers.

People who thoughtlessly sign documents often put their property in peril, and many men have been ruined by indorsing for a friend. How often have good-natured men's fortunes been diminished by obligations incurred carelessly as without thought of consequences. During the rebellion the steamer Jessie was seized because it was supposed she was a blockade runner. The case was delayed in the courts for eighteen years, a fact which is very discreditable to our lawyer rulers. In the meantime all the parties defending the ownership of the vessel had disappeared. The only responsible person that could be found was a young girl of seventeen, whose father was on one of the bonds. An obligation of seventy thousand dollars has been rolled up, which this young woman will be forced to pay unless the law somehow interposes to save her. She will be ruined financially, as that sum is greater than her inheritance. Here is a case in which a person is punished who is entirely innocent of any offence. But the moral of this instance is: Don't put your name on bonds or notes, for it may injure not only yourself, but your innocent children.

"Twenty-four years' experience," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. To the Free and Independent Electors of the

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

Gentlemen,—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor having seen fit to dissolve the Legislature of this Province and to issue writs for the election of a new Legislature on the shortest possible notice, I beg respectfully to solicit your votes to return me as your representative in the Assembly about to be elected.

In doing so I beg to state:—

That I am opposed to the policy of the Mowat Government whereby we are being kept out of our just territorial rights, and that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure for the Province the boundaries assigned to it at Confederation.

I am opposed to all ex post facto legislation and I am convinced that it is contrary to sound policy as well as justice that any man's property should be taken from him without full and adequate compensation, to be ascertained by an independent and fairly constituted tribunal.

I believe there is now on the Statute Book of this Province all or nearly all the legislation required to protect the public interests and to provide for the acquisition of non-floatable streams and improvements which may have been made thereon upon terms at once just to the lumbermen and to the owners thereof.

I am opposed to the unnecessary centralization of patronage where it can be used to influence the electorate, believing that such centralization is dangerous to the freedom of the people and calculated to produce the same evils in Canada as it has already produced in the neighboring States.

I am opposed to any Government using the power vested in them for the time being by the people to prevent a free expression of public opinion upon any subject, and especially upon a subject with which they as a Government have nothing to do, as was done by the Mowat Government and their officials in the last Dominion election in regard to the tariff policy adopted by the people.

I am opposed to the reckless and unnecessary extravagance of the Mowat Government whereby the capital of the Province is being rapidly dissipated and its ordinary expenditure increased to a point which cannot be maintained without a resort to direct taxation in one form or another.

With a view to bringing the ordinary expenditure within the ordinary income of the Province, without curtailing those expenditures which have a direct bearing upon local taxation, I shall advocate a substantial reduction in the number of the representatives of the Assembly, greater economy in the departments and generally such reforms as may be calculated to reduce those expenditures from which the people are deriving no direct advantage, believing that they are entitled to and desire the cheapest Government that suffices to regulate their affairs.

I am opposed to making the liquor traffic the shuttlecock of any political party, and will advocate and support every measure calculated to place the issue of licenses and the enforcement of the laws relating thereto in the hands of those least likely to be influenced by political considerations.

I am in favor of such a readjustment of the franchise as will give to all classes of the community that voice in the government of the country to which they are entitled and of which certain classes are now unjustly deprived by the present Government, notwithstanding that they have had ample opportunities of remedying this injustice.

The educational department under a political head not having proved a success, I shall favor a return to the non-political position which the department occupied when under the able management of the late Dr. Ryerson.

I believe that too much attention and too much money has been spent on what is called higher education and upon educational theorizing to the neglect of the three R's; that the cost of maintaining public schools—especially in the outlying districts—has been unnecessarily increased thereby, and that the people are not deriving the advantages which they should do from the large amounts annually expended nominally for educational purposes, but in too many instances to little practical advantage.

There are, no doubt, several other questions to which allusion might be made, but this address is already too long, and as my views on the public questions of the day are already pretty well known to most of you, and especially as I hope to have the opportunity, between this and polling day, of discussing the issues of the campaign with my opponent in your presence, I shall conclude by expressing the hope that my long and active connection with the public affairs of the Town and County of Peterborough, my practical knowledge of its agricultural and manufacturing interests and the manner in which I have hitherto discharged the public duties with which I have from time to time been entrusted have been such as to secure for me the hearty and active support of not only those who agree with me, but also of those electors who believe it to be the duty of a representative to try and impress his views upon his party leaders and not simply to vote as directed by them.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN CARNEGIE.

Peterborough, February 5th, 1883.

FITS A leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS. From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1883.

Railway Notes.

Mr. A. Drysdale, of Chicago, northern passenger agent of the Chicago and Alton railway, was in town yesterday.

The Cells.

One tramp occupied the police cells last night. There was a blank at the Police Court this morning.

Mr. Carnegie's Committees.

A meeting of Mr. Carnegie's General Committee will be held this (Friday) evening in Hill's Music Hall, at 7.30 o'clock. A large attendance is requested.

Journalistic.

The Hastings Star has been enlarged to an eight page sheet, and otherwise improved. The Star is a good village paper, and we are pleased to see this evidence of its prosperity, which it undoubtedly deserves. In the hands ot the Messrs. Howard it is sure to succeed.

Personal.

Mr. R. S. Davidson left on Thursday evening for a trip for the benefit of his health. He went by Chicago and Omaha, and intends to visit Southern California. He will be absent four months, when we hope to see him return restored to good health.

The Winter Races.

The arrangements for the winter races on the Little Lake course are being energetically pushed. At a meeting on Thursday night it was decided to have six races, three on each day. The matter is in good hands and all the preliminaries will, no doubt, be soon satisfactorily perfected.

Dramatic.

The members of the Battery will produce the military drama, "The French Spy," in the Opera House on Thursday night, 22nd February. The drama was originally produced in Paris in 1830, and performed with distinguished eclat in all the principal theatres in England, Ireland, Scotland, America and France. This drama has actually been performed by Mademoiselle Celeste more than one thousand nights, and after an absence of four years from London, was nightly received at the Adelphi with the utmost enthusiasm. The members of the Battery have been to considerable expense in securing costumes, &c., and will present the drama with all its accompaniments in good style.

THE END OF THE FARCE.

FLEMMING DISCHARGED FROM CUSTODY AND AGAIN AT LIBERTY.

Brought Before the Magistrate—Three Cases Withdrawn and one Dismissed—Compromise with the Complainants.

After the Police Court had adjourned on Thursday afternoon, and the prisoner Flemming had been taken back to gaol, Mr. Dumble, the magistrate, received a telegram from Cobourg stating that his father was dangerously ill. Flemming was then brought into Court again at about five o'clock, the prosecution consenting.

There were four charges in this court against him. One was laid by Hugh Blair, Belleville, the amount being $700, one by J. E. Smith, Belleville, $250, one by L. Glover, Millbrook, $100, and the fourth by A. Hammill, Millbrook, $80. Blair, Glover and Hammill withdrew the charges they had laid against the prisoner and paid the cost of the court, a compromise having been affected between them and Flemming.

Smith made an application to have the prisoner sent to Belleville. He was placed in the witness stand, and this evidence was the the affect that he had paid money to a man in Belleville who he believed was acting as an agent for Flemming & Merriam, and had received certificates therefore with the name of that firm signed to them. He had not received returns for this money according to agreement.

The Magistrate refused to remand the prisoner to Belleville until the costs incurred by the court here had been paid. This Smith refused to do, and finally the case was dismissed with costs, and the court adjourned at about 9.30 p.m.

Thus Flemming was a free man, and, he said with a smile, "the farce was ended." He then went to his hotel, and afterwards drove off with his friends.

What arrangements were made between Flemming and those who withdrew their cases is, of course, not known, but this much is certain, a compromise was affected, and they did not part with him in an unfriendly spirit. Flemming offered Smith, before the case was discharged, $300 to settle it, which would be $50 over the amount he claimed in the complaint laid in the court. This offer Smith refused to accept.

After the court was over Smith was asked why he did not accept Flemming's offer and settle with him as some of the other parties had evidently done. His reply was that others of his party, who were not present, expected him to look after their interests, and that he would not consent to withdraw the case until they were all paid, for he could not return to Belleville with his own money and tell them that their claims were not paid and that he had consented to let Flemming go. This looks like a very chivalrous act on his part, whether it was a wise one or not.

County Constable Hyde, of Belleville, was present when Flemming was discharged. This constable had a warrant for Flemming's arrest, issued by a court in Belleville, and it was understood that the warrant was still in his possession, but he made no attempt to execute the warrant.

Further information leads to the impression that all the cases which were brought against Flemming in this court were settled to the satisfaction of both parties.

A Little Mixed.

The Toronto World got a little mixed on the peculiar wording of the association press despatch about the Flemming case, and announces that the prisoner's father is ill in Cobourg. The fact is that Mr. Dumble's father is very ill, and Mr. Dumble went to Cobourg this afternoon.

A County Directory.

Mr. J. H. St. John is making preparations for compiling a directory for the county and town of Peterborough, which will include maps of the town and the villages in the county, and if he meets with sufficient encouragement he will complete the work at as early a date as possible. The prospectus will be issued, when the pualic will be in a position to judge of the work.

The Weather Probabilities.

Rain has been falling all day, and there are no signs of its abating. The snow is melting rapidly. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North western Telegraph Company, are as follows;—Continued cloudy weather mild with rain in southern and snow in Northern Ontario. Strong winds or moderate gales from the Southeast and south, the thaw will continue throughout Southern Ontario.

Legal.

The following Peterborough cases appear in the report of the proceedings on Feb. 15th, of the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice, at the sittings of the Divisional Court, before Boyd, C., Proudfoot, J., Ferguson, J.:—

Sawers, plaintiff's solicitor. Geo. T. Blackstock, counsel. Dennistoun & Hall, defendant's solicitors. S. H. Black, Q.C., counsel.

HILL'S MUSIC HALL,

AID OF MACHINERY TO LABOR.

Labor is a natural burden upon humanity; yet it is the key which unlocks the storehouse of wealth, convenience and luxury. By the use of invented and applied machinery muscular work is greatly relieved, and results cheaply and extensively obtained. In all this, however, intelligent skill is not supplanted; but rather there is a wider field created for the same, and more and more does it come into demand as the facilities for production multiply. Man, of course, may exist as our forefathers did, living in a rude and limited way on the necessaries of life, and even these secured only at the expense of oppressive toil; but as improvements are made, and varied and enlarged benefits flow therefrom, he rises in the scale of being, and the sphere of life is extended. The easy supply of wants in any direction only begets efforts in others; and as matters thus progress, instead of the demand for useful industry being diminished, there is more and more inducement to laborers to employ themselves with the exercise of every faculty.

It is a mistaken view, therefore, to imagine that there is the least tendency in the use of machinery to supersede the necessity of workmen, and take from them all opportunity to labor. Their skilful hands, discerning eyes, and intelligent brains are surely destined to find an ever widening field. Of course, the worker must not remain stationary, content to live and die an antiquated fossil, while all the world about him is changing and progressing. What he once did painfully and slowly with the hands alone he must now more abundantly accomplish through the agency of labor-saving devices and tools. Society has need of more production, and will only be satisfied with still more and more. With its prosperity and progress the laborer shares; and to-day he has more of the comforts and luxuries of life than were enjoyed by kings a hundred years ago. The prejudice against improvement, and the jealousy against capital and associations in their efforts to manage and direct production into more efficient and beneficial channels should disappear. As changes occur, old ruts should be promptly abandoned. By adapting himself to circumstances as they are thrust upon him, there is not a man who cannot succeed and find a market for his labor far beyond his ability to supply.—Dubuque Trade Journal.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

After representations were made to the Porte the yacht was allowed to pass.

THE EXPULSION BILLS.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—In the Senate to-day the Minister of Justice introduced the bill proposed by M. Barbey rendering the princes liable to expulsion by decree of the President of the Republic. The new bill sanctioned arbitrary steps, and the committee recommended its rejection. The debate was adjourned.

This is the second recent occasion when German ships have taken peremptory action to redress grievances.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

DUBLIN, Feb. 16.—Smith, an employee of the Board of Works, was arrested to-day in connection with the conspiracy to murder officials. Harrington, secretary of the Organizing Committee of the National League, convicted at Mullingar for using intimidating language at a public meeting and sentenced to 2 months' imprisonment, was arrested at the National League rooms to-day to undergo the sentence. The arrest of Smith is regarded as important. It is stated that Smith, who worked in the Castle yard, kept the Vigilance Committee posted when they were hatching their plot to blow up part of the Castle. A diving-bell and heavier dredgers than have heretofore been employed will be used in Ring's End Basin in search for the knives of the assassins now undergoing examination.

DIED IN HIS TRACKS.

DETROIT, Feb. 16.—On Monday afternoon a man was found on the ice about four miles from Menominee lying on his face and frozen stiff. He was comfortably dressed, but evidently got lost, and in his bewilderment and exhaustion fell in his tracks. He had $3,850 in money on his person, but no papers of any kind. He was forty-five years of age and has the appearance of a foreigner. The judge took all the evidence in the case he could gain and then had him buried.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Thirty-five thousand dollars in eagles, coined at the New Orleans Mint in November last, are slightly below the proper fineness. About twenty thousand of these coins were circulated before the error was discovered. The loss by the mistake is about 25 cents on each hundred dollars. The error was caused by the use of faulty metal, and will result in the discharge of the assayer.

A MUNICIPAL RING.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The World says it is rumored that there is a ring in the departments of taxes and assessments which has been fleecing property owners.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 16.—The express train on the Cleveland & Columbus road, which left here this morning, was detailed near Galion. The locomotive remained on the track. The baggage and express cars, smoker, two coaches and a parlour car were detached. It is supposed the track slipped in consequence of the late rains. Robert Cudell, draughtsman of the C. C. C. & I. Road, Rev. D. I. Fouts, of Shelby, and an unidentified man were killed, and Conductor Daykin badly hurt. E. E. Poppleton, attorney of the railway, was injured in the head and arm. News Agent Hammer had his arm broken.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—A special from Joliet says a mine at Braidwood, twenty miles south of there, has caved in and imprisoned seventy-five men. A subsequent despatch says that forty-five miners are dead. A later despatch says that President Sweet, of the Diamond Mines, Braidwood, has information that 300 men were in the various shafts when the ground caved in under the weight of the water. Sixty-two were in the shaft which caught the bulk of the falling debris, and was instantly flooded. Every one of the miners was drowned or smothered inside of five minutes. The bodies will be buried beneath many tons of earth. The miners not in the unfortunate shaft all escaped. Digging and pumping is now going on vigorously, but it will be many hours ere the bodies are reached. The mine was supposed to be well protected.

SOCIAL SCANDAL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—There is excitement in high social circles over the suit of Helen Havemeyer against Thomas Havemeyer for a limited divorce on the ground of abandonment and cruelty. Plaintiff claims that she was married to defendant seven years ago, and alleges that the defendant is worth two millions. Defendant and his father deny that the former is worth this amount, and also deny that defendant is married to plaintiff.

BRADSTREETS WEEKLY REPORT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Despatches to Bradstreet's from leading trade centres reveal that the severe floods in the west have had a depressing effect upon trade over a far wider extent of country than that flooded. In consequence, general trade is dull. Advices also indicate an advancing interest rate. Iron is quiet or dull; 20,000 tons of pig have only been contracted for. Contracts will probably be delayed until after March. Petroleum is higher, firmer and advancing. Ground in well No. 3 having proved of no importance its manipulation during the week has disturbed prices greatly. Ocean freights are easier owing to less demand and more tonnage. Bradstreets reports 221 failures in United States during the pastweek, 35 less than in the preceding week, and 49 more than in the corresponding week in 1882, and 76 more than in the same week in 1881. Canada and the Provinces had 35 an increase of one.

LOTTERY SCHEMES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Tribune's Washington despatch says that it is stated that Money's report, which will be considered by the House Post Office committee, maintains that the present law to prevent the use of the mails to promote lottery schemes is sufficient if properly enforced, and that the Post Office Department is censurable for non-action in the premises.

A FIGHT FOR A WIFE.

ROMANCE AND TRAGEDY.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17.—In 1845 Paulina Hewlet married Chas. Gavin at Detroit. Gavin was afterwards sentenced to Auburn, N. Y., for three years for grand larceny. It is said that his wife acquired low associations. Gavin subsequently served a term in the penitentiary for counterfeiting. In 1858 he disappeared. Mrs. Gavin married Wm. Waddingham, supposing that her first husband was dead. Waddingham soon left her, alleging that her reputation was unsatisfactory. Mrs. Waddingham went to Poultney, Vermont, and for over twenty years received one hundred dollars per month from her husband, who is worth $45,000. Recently he discovered that his wife's first husband was living. He procured depositions from Poultney damaging to her. Waddingham then instituted a suit for divorce. Mrs. Waddingham denied all the allegations, and asserted that it was her cousin, not herself, who married Gavin. On Monday she went with her attorney to the office here and was confronted with Gavin. The woman became pale, and threw up her hands, crying, "Charles, Charles, Charles!" and fainted. Gavin said, "That's her." When the woman recovered, she whispered, "I thought he was dead." The woman then departed and left the city. That night Gavin came to St. Louis from Shreveport. He said that Waddingham's advertisement for him met his eye. Waddingham's lawyer afterwards took Gavin to Detroit to be identified by the latter's mother, aged 85. The aged woman recognized her long missing son, screamed his name and dropped dead.

WASHOUT.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Feb. 17.—There was a washout this morning on the R. and P. road at Gainesville and the bents of the bridges are gone near Salamanca on the Great Valley creek. There are washouts on the B., N. Y. & P. road at Arcade and other points, and all the trains have been laid up on sidings. No trains were wrecked. The Genesee river is rising. It rained all night here and at intervals this morning.

THE COLLIERY DISASTER.

BRAIDWOOD, Ill., Feb. 17.—Many victims of the Diamond coal mine disaster have left families. The number lost is now stated to be seventy. The shaft in which the accident occurred has been working eight years. It is situated at Diamond, a little village two miles north west of Braidwood. The country there is about as level as a floor, with perhaps a slight inclination toward the mines. The sudden thaw and heavy rain transformed the prairie into a lake and for miles about Diamond the water stands from six inches to three feet deep. With scarcely any warning there suddenly appeared an opening from the surface into the mine. The water quickly poured into the mine, drowning all unable to get out before the rising water caught them. From the main galleries narrow spurs or gangways are dug out in various directions. These spurs rise and fall with a ledge of coal, sometimes rising within twelve or fifteen feet of the surface. It was so at the point the break occurred. The galleries are low and narrow, and only by painfully slow crawling could the miners escape. The water rose noiselessly, and the first warning to many must have been a chilling sensation of water trickling along the hatchway in which they lay on their back at work. A break occurred once before at about the same place. There is not the remotest possibility of reaching any of the imprisoned men alive.

A STRAIGHTFORWARD COURSE.

THE Globe and following its example the local "Reform" organ and orators endeavour in very insulting terms to fasten a charge of inconsistency upon Mr. Meredith and his supporters in regard to the Boundry question. They place side by side, resolutions which he supported in different years and state that these resolutions are essentially contradictory, which is not the case.; but their most flagrant dishonesty is the suppression of the fact that in the meantime the Dominion Parliament, which had the jurisdiction as to adopting the award, refused to ratify it.

This very important fact of course materially altered the position of affairs, and called for a corresponding charge on the part of the Province of Ontario. While the matter was still under consideration by the other side and the Dominion had not yet come to a decision, Mr. Meredith may well have thought fit to strengthen the hands of the Government of the day by acting in unison with them, leaving to them the responsibility of accepting a not altogether satisfactory compromise. Such a course is often pursued by the opposition in the mother country in the event of war, diplomatic complications or other emergancies, but is never considered to bind the opposition leaders to refrain from subsequent criticism or from independant action if the circumstances are changed.

When, however, the Dominion by its Parliament, its only legitimate mouth-piece in regard to this matter, had refused to ratify the award, as they had a perfect right to do, the situation was completely altered. There was no longer anything to be gained by a combined adhesion to a reward thus rejected by the other party to the despute, and the Conservative opposition of Ontario had their freedom of action restored to them, and were at liberty to act as the new position of affairs rendered advisable. There could be no reason for hesitation. The obviously best course to adopt was to urge an appeal to the Privy Council, the highest court of the realm, a course which throughout was in reality the wisest, as being likely to give us fuller justice in securing our rightful territory, and that with an indefeasible title.

If Mr. Meredith committed any error in judgment, it was that being an honest and honorable man, he rashly concluded that he had to deal with honest and honorable opponents, instead of men only reward his chivalrous support by slander and vilification and an unfair attempt to make political capital to his disadvantage.

BLEU DOMINATION.

MR. BLAKE in the House of Commons showed conclusively the utter falsity of one of the favorite election cries of his Ontario allies, that of "Quebec Dominion."

He actually complained that Sir John Macdonald is forming his Cabinet had taken in six Ontario members and only four Quebec members, besides filling the chairs of both Houses from Ontario, thus, as he said, giving to this Province eight out of the sixteen highest positions in the gift of his Government.

Could there be a better instance of the desire of these so-called "Reformers to stir up and foster sectional jealousies? Could there be more forcible evidence of the baselessness of the charge that Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues are completely in the hands of the Quebec Bleus and that consequently Ontario has to submit to "French Domination?"

EDITORIAL NOTES.

AND now we have Mr. Gordon Brown suing the Globe for $5,000. With his brother, the late Hon. Geo. Brown, Mr. Gordon Brown made the Globe what it is with all its faults, a newspaper that is a credit to Canada—they have assiduously served and almost made their party, and now the reward of the services of Mr. Brown is that he has to sue the Globe for "wrongful dismissal."

* * *

TEMPERANCE men are solicited with false statements to vote for supporters of the Mowat administration. The temperance men, however, are not reminded that under the Mowat administration, Provincial Ministers and high officials charged to the people of Ontario their drinks at the bar during a pleasure trip to Chicago, besides their bills amounting to hundreds of dollars for liquors on the same occasion.

* * *

WE find the following paragraph in the Globe of Friday:—

> "The Quebec Bleus control Sir John. Sir John controls Meredith. Meredith wishes to control Ontario. Had we not enough of that sort of thing in ante-Confederation?"

On Wednesday in the House of Commons Mr. Blake censured the government for unduly favouring this Province and wronging Quebec, by giving Ontario eight out of the sixteen great political prizes, namely, six portfolios and two speakerships, and leaving Quebec with only four Cabinet ministers. Was it worth while to dismiss Mr. Brown to secure such unity as this between Mr. Blake and the Globe?

* * *

WE are told, not very truthfully, by the Globe that:—

> "It is only the Tories at Ottawa who oppose the ratification of the Award. The Liberal members of the Commons are ready to vote for it at any time."

But if it were true what does it prove? Only that the Parliament of Canada, for which Mr. Mackenzie and the law alike reserved the decision, refuse by a majority of two to one to ratify the award, preferring a just and final settlement by the highest Court of the realm. Nor is this a decision forced upon us by the other Provinces, for a large majority of the Ontario members in the Commons, who have just been elected to represent us, take the same sensible view of the case.

A FALSE CHARGE REFUTED.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Though I have retired from active politics, I cannot, in justice to humanity and with any regard for truth and morality, permit the item in reference to the "Irish Emigrants" in the Examiner and its unjust charge against Mr. Carnegie to go unanswered.

I have the strongest reason for knowing that Mr. Carnegie had no opportunity of seeing the report in question until it was in print. He was in no way responsible for it, and it is must unfair that this unfounded charge should now be raked up to his prejudice.

Without solicitation, and in the absence of Mr. Carnegie, I write this in the interests of truth and justice.

Yours truly,
J. O'SULLIVAN.

DEATH IN THE CAN.

Startling Results of Eating Canned Lobsters—Half a Family at Death's Door.

(From the Montreal Witness of the 15th instant.)

Mr. Henri Latourelle, foreman nailer, living at 105 Fulford street, went down town to his place of business this morning, leaving his family in apparently their usual state of health. Shortly after his wife's sister, residing with him, rushed into a neighbor's house and requested the lady to return with her, as Mrs. Latourelle and two of the children were terribly ill and she did not know what to do. Entering the house, the three persons mentioned were found lying upon the floor, scarcely able to move and apparently dying. Henrienne, a girl of about seven, had gone to school, but returned home vomiting blood along the way. The other child, Laura, between three and four, seemed to be the most seriously affected of all. The neighbors assisted in placing the sufferers in bed, and one hurried off for Dr. Duckett, who was quickly on hand and pronounced the cases to be due to lead poisoning from a lobster can. The sufferers and some of the rest of the family had partaken at breakfast of lobsters remaining of a can that was opened yesterday. Eating canned food that has been exposed to the air for but a few hours has caused many similar cases of poisoning—notably a case of wholesale poisoning in Prince Edward Island from bobster a year or two ago, and one in Moncton, N. B., from corned beef last summer.

Dr. Duckett and the ladies assisting him worked had for about three hours and were rewarded by the mother and elder child being brought out of danger and the younger child showing decided improvement although still in a critical state. When our reporter called at one o'clock the little ones face was ice cold and its half open eyes fixed, and there was only the slightest breathing movement to indicate a spark of life. In a few moments, however, the little sufferer stirred, gave a moan and spoke to her father, and in answer to a question said she recognized the reporter, who was previously acquainted with the family. This child had partaken more freely of the food in question for her years than the others and the shock to her was accordingly more severe, but at last accounts even she was expected to recover.

This case will no doubt make people cautious in the use of canned foods, and although ill results are exceedingly rare in proportion to the consumption of such diet, yet there is ample reason to warn consumers against the practice of eating either meats or fruits that have stood in their cans for any time after opening, as all the reported cases of poisoning we can recall have been due to this cause.

A CANADIAN'S FALL.

He Tumbles Off the Brooklyn Bridge and Lives.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—George Pfar, a Canadian, from Brockville, Ont., fell off the Brooklyn bridge yesterday and alighted on the roof of a house. A tinsmith on a neighboring roof who saw him fall thought he had come from the sky. The man whirled around in the air, during his descent struck a telegraph wire and bounded off to the top of a two-story building. The distance fallen was sixty feet, the height of a five-story building. Blood gushed from the man's mouth and nose. The bones of his ankle were broken and the ends protruded through the skin. His head was bruised and his right arm broken. He was employed on the bridge as a riveter and lost his footing while walking on a six-inch plank with a load on his shoulder. Six weeks ago he fell through the centre span of the bridge over the East river, but saved himself by grasping a girder. He was taken to the Chambers street hospital. The doctors reported that he had been badly shocked but would live.

Brown vs. The Globe.

The Toronto World, a Reform journal, says:

> "The New York World of Wednesday has a despatch from Toronto giving some particulars of the $5,000 suit instituted against the Globe printing company by Gordon Brown for wrongful dismissal. On inquiring yesterday it was learned that the writ was served on Tuesday. The Globe people were anxious to hush it up, and asked for time; this was granted, but they did not do anything, and so the writ was served. Coming just before the election this looks rather bad for the Government and its organ."

HOW TO FIRE STEAM BOILERS.

Young engineers, if not some more experienced ones, will find some useful hints on a very important subject in the following article from the Milling World:

"By the application of a little skill and care, very unusal results may not unfrequently be attained by ingenious mechanics. This is especially the case with firing steam generators when the fuel used is salt or saw mill offal. Careless firemen fill the coal haphazard, as long as any can be got into the fire box, causing great volumes of dense, black, unconsumed smoke to issue from the stack, giving evidence to all who see it, and know anything about what is going on, that a large percentage of the fuel is being thrown broadcast into the air, not only wasting the money of the owner, and the labor of the fireman, but contaminating the atmosphere for the use and and enjoyment of the public.

Nothing would seem to be to be more plain than that it is the duty of the fireman, for his own sake, if not for that of his employers, to use as little fuel and labor as possible, to do his duty a little better than any one else. To effect this, only a little care, combined with such knowledge and skill as may easily be acquired by any fireman, is necessary. In burning coal, the grates should be much nearer the bottom of the boilers than in burning saw mill offal, the fire should be much more spread out, and kept shallower, and in feeding coal the lumps should be broken up to hickory nut size, and only a small quantity thrown on at once and well spread on, so that the flames may attack it on every side and thoroughly consume all the carbon and bitumen of which ordinary coal is composed. It is of vital importance that all the air needed to thoroughly burn the fuel up should be applied under the grate as directly as possible, and as hot as it can be made. Not a little of the waste in fuel is caused by too much air passing through the furnace in various ways, all of which consume heat in unnecessary quantity. The furnace walls should be as near airtight as possible, and no useless air should be allowed access except through the proper spaces, otherwise the draught is injured and much of the fuel is wasted.

The back ends of the grate bars ought to be several inches lower than the front, that the air going up to consume the fuel may not meet with so short a curve. It is also best, in many cases, to leave the ashes banked up in the back of the ash pit and at the sides, that the air currents may be concentrated into a steady stream, carefully avoiding all eddies. The best method for each separate furnace can only be ascertained by trial and experimental tests, which the fireman must make for himself, and which he will be sure to do if he wishes to excel in his business.

A fire room should always be kept closed up tight, be kept as hot as possible, and free from cold air currents and blasts. It is very poor economy to spend labor and fuel to make steam only to condense and lose it before it is used. The boilers ought to be completely covered with an air and heat tight casing. Formerly it was supposed that the boiler would be injured if the flames had access to the steam space in the upper part above the water, but this long ago been proved to be a great mistake. Where the boilers are fired inside, mineral wool covered over the exterior flagged with wood or metal is excellent as long as it is kept dry. A boiler thus covered can be touched by the hand without any unusual or uncomfortable heat being experienced. Even in warm climates, boilers ought always to be well protected under weather proof sheds or buildings covering up perfectly tight all the rear parts, even using a bulkhead or partition just at the front, outside of which the fireman may stand if the heat is too much for him. It must stand to reason that a boiler room cannot be made too hot, or kept so, for economy and efficiency. How to do so cheapest and easiest, is the problem which both employer and operator should unite in striving to attain.

Not long ago the writer saw a portable saw at a fair, that burned only 2½ lb. of coal per horse power an hour. The coal was broken up chestnut size, screened and washed, and fed into the furnace a pound at a time, being carefully spread over the bed of glowing fuel in the fire box. No smoke could be seen issing from the stack, and the object, that of entirely consumming the fuel, seemed to be attained. But this is not practicable in ordinary use, though it may be approximated more nearly than it is, in almost every case.

The use of steam in very minute jets in front of the fire box inside may be made to contribute largely toward heating up furnaces and consuming smoke, when intelligently and skillfully used. But when applied in excess it dampens down a fire and does much more harm than good.

Water, it is well known, is composed of two highly combustible gases, oxygen and hydrogen. When steam is injected into a very hot fire, the water of which it is composed is decomposed, or separated into these gases, which add greatly to the heat of the furnace.

These suggestions are made largely for the attention of firemen and engineers, who can readily see what a margin for improvement is before them."—Scientific American.

Physician and Druggist.

A curious case has been raised in the New York Court of Common Pleas by Judge Daly. E. J. Hogan is a physician who, previous to 1879, owned a drug store. In June, 1869, he sold this store to H. Ward, and one of the conditions of the purchase was that Hogan should send all his patients to Ward, to have their prescriptions dispensed. Ward asserted that this part of the contract was never fulfilled, and laimed $5,000 damages. Hogan demurred to the complaint, alleging that the contract, if such it was, was incapable of fulfilment, and further that it was immoral. The Judge decided that the contract was not an unlawful one, and though he recognized that it was impossible to compel patients to take their prescriptions to any particular store, said the complaint was maintained if it could be shown that defendant had neglected to recommend his patients to the plaintiff's store. He therefore disallowed the demurrer, with costs against the defendant. We hope to hear the conclusion of this trial. The good doctor's objection to the contract on moral grounds is charming.—Chemist and Druggist.

UNCLEAN! UNCLEAN!!

A few days ago a stranger came ashore at Lewes, Del., from a foreign vessel. He was well dressed and his manner was courteous. Save a slight limp in his gait and an unnatural tinge in his countenance, there was nothing outwardly to indicate the presence of a peculiar malady. Upon reaching the shore he sought out a private and rather secluded boarding-place, and there he remained, keeping aloof entirely from the people around him. From significant hints dropped by several of the crew who brought him ashore, it was whispered about that the stranger was a leper, who, for the safety of his comrades on shipboard, had been put on shore to shift for himself. The stranger made no attempt at denial, but on the contrary, seemed as anxious to avoid the approach of neighbours as they to avoid him. Extravagant stories that went about caused such agitation that a special meeting of the town council was decided upon to consider means to rid the community of the dangerous patient. To-day he was found and questioned by a press reporter. He admitted that the suspicions of the people were well founded. He was, He gave his name as James Atwold. and said he be frankly, but sorrowfully admitted, a leper. was an Englishman by birth, but up to last summer he had been for ten years a resident of Havana, where the disease germs, which were latent in his system, developed themselves. His impression was that he contracted the infection at [illegible], where he and others of the crew with whom he was associated, were forced to work side by side with a gang of natives, a number of whom were known to be diseased. Sometimes the colours his skin had assumed would blend until his flesh actually appeared to him almost as variegated as a garden in June. The horror of his position became at times almost unbearable, and he contemplated suicide. He studied his case, and having learned that exposure to cold weather was the only means by which its ravages could be mitigated, he determined to go to Canada and enter the hospital at Toronto. It was with this object in view that he obtained a berth on the English ship Formosa. The captain, however, suspected the nature of his ailment, and told him he must leave the ship at Wilmington, N. C. At his request, however, the captain permitted him to land at Lewes instead, from which point he intended to go to Canada. Mr. Atwold, during his interview, displayed to the reporter the peculiarities of the disease as developed in his case. Mere rubbing of his hand created fine bran like dust across the palm. Lines were streaked brightly so that in the rays of the sun they shone like a network of silver. This peculiarity in his flesh had communicated to the crowfeet lines on his temples, and they, like his palms, perceptibly glittered. He left Lewes in obedience to the demand of the Town Council, and is now probably on his way to Canada.

DOMESTIC AND USEFUL.

HAM OMELET.—For breakfast on a cold morning, in addition to coffee, hoe-cake and fried potatoes, make a plain omelet, and just before it is ready to take from the fire scatter over half of it some finely chopped ham, which you have already cooked and which is hot, then double the outer half of the omelet over it, put on a hot platter and send to the table. For this you may use nice pieces of ham which you had left from the day before.

ROAST BEEF FLAVORING.—To flavor a roast of beef deliciously, to make it tender, and to give variety, which is essential in that family where beef is the staple meat eaten, nothing more is required than a large lemon; cut it in two pieces, squeeze all the juice upon the roast then after peeling the lemon, roll it up in the roast. When the lemon is used no water is needed. The roast should be a fat one, to insure good gravy, and the lemon acid will remove the oily taste sometimes objected to.

APPLE PUDDING.—Place in the bottom of a buttered pudding-dish a layer of pared apples cut in quarters; pour over these a few spoonfuls of water; then a layer of fine bread crumbs; and so alternate until the dish is full, finishing with a layer of crumbs; moisten the whole with a little water. Cover it with a plate and place it in the oven; bake an hour and a half; just before taking out, remove the plate, and let the top brown. Serve with this sauce: One cup of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of molasses, two-thirds of a pint of boiling water. Flavor to your taste with nutmeg or lemon.

CONDIMENTS.—None of the usual condiments of our tables, the contents of the castor, really contain any available nourishment. They are to the system, what the whip and spur are to the horse, affording no real strength, but increasing the rate of speed at a sacrifice of vital power. If they are able to irritate and blister the outer surface—like mustard—they cannot be harmless to the delicate coats of the stomach but must affect them in a similar manner and to the same extent, though the stomach is so insensible that the effects are not immediately perceptible. All of these are called "appetizers," goading the appetite—or an artificial desire for food—to demand what is not really needed. The true appetite is an index of the real wants of the body, and needs no excitants, as we shall be likely to take enough without them.

The Iron Duke.

The present Duke of Wellington has a very large and interesting collection of letters and manuscripts belonging to the late Duke, his father. Among them is a characteristic correspondence between the Duke and the Lady "Jersey," "Queen Sarah." It is as follows:—"My dear Arthur—The Emperor Alexander is coming to see me to-morrow. How shall I receive him?" Across this little note is written in the Duke's handwriting: "My dear Sarah—Receive him as you do all your other visitors." Again comes a note:—"My dear Arthur—The Emperor Alexander comes as a lover." Across again is the answer:—"My dear Sarah—Receive him as you do all your other lovers."

THE London World has the following:—The dying words of Commander Rawson to Sir. SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great Germane Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtue of this nature medicine gum. "TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustation" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. A Curious Speech.

A Congressman not long since astonished his hearers by making a speech about half way through and then began repeating it backward by jerks. The explanation is that two of his colleagues helped him deliver it. One on the right held the sheets and handed them to him one after another; when he had read a page he handed it to his colleague on the left; after a time the colleague on his left handed it behind his back to the colleague on the right, who handed them on to the speaker. In this manner he began to deliver his speech backward, and being interested in hearing the sound of his own voice, did not notice it.

From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address

Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1883.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather to-day is colder and windy. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh to strong winds from the south and northwest; clearing, followed by cold weather, with light snow. Sunday will be fine and cold.

Important to Englishmen.

An effort is being made to organize a lodge of the Sons of England Benevolent Association, in this town. This society has in existence about twelve years, and has wet with great success wherever established. It admits within its ranks, Englishmen and their descendants, between the ages of 18 and 60 years of age. Further information will be given through the columns of this paper in a few days.

The Raymond California Trips.

A splendid opportunity is offered to see the wonders of Colordo, New Mexico, Arizona and the Pacific coast, by joining one of the Raymond California parties which are to pass through Canada and the West from Boston, during the month of April. These tours extend nearly two months, the return tickets being good for a much longer period. All needed expenses of transportation, hotel accommodation, transfers, etc., are covered by the excursion tickets, and all the arrangements are first-class. Send to W. Raymond, 240 Washington st., Boston, for a descriptive progamme of 80 pages. See advertisement in another column.

Railway Accident.

We regret to learn that Mr. John Millar, of whom mention was made in this paper a few days ago, and who left here last Tuesday evening, was one of the passengers on the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway on the afternoon of the 14th when the train left the track. Mr. Millar, who was on his way to West Point, Nebraska, had his hands injured, to what extent is not known. Mr. John Peal, of Lindsay, who was on his way to St. Paul, Minn., while attempting to jump from the train, was fatally injured. A lady from Waterloo, Ont., who jumped from the train with Peal, was hurt in the head. Full particulars are given in another column.

POLICE COURT.

VAGRANCY.

SATURDAY, Feb. 17.—John O'Brien appeared in the court charged with being a vagrant, not the first time he has appeared on that charge. He was sent back to gaol for six months.

DRUNK.

John Burns was charged with having been drunk. He said that he had been working all night and that he supposed he took too much. He was allowed to go.

The Temperature.

The thermometer of Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a. m. 38° above zero; at noon, 31° above, and at 3 p. m. 24° above.

Fancy Skating.

The Hastings Star says that a skating carnival will be held in the Warkworth Rink on Monday next, 19th inst., at which Mr. E. J. Hartley, of Peterborough, will give an exhibition of fancy skating.

Still in Gaol.

W. H. Meharry, who was sentenced to the Central Prison for the attack on Samuel Milligan some time ago is still in the County gaol here, an affidavit having been forwarded to Toronto that Meharry's presence was required at a Division Court suit on the 23rd.

Examinations.

Among those who passed the second class professional examinations at the Normal School, Ottawa, were Mr. E. Stuart Wood, of Peterborough, and Mr. J. P. McCeCarthy, of Norwood. Mr. W. M. Wood passed the same examination at the Toronto Normal School.

Canada's New Post-Card.

At no distand date, Canada is to have a double post-card so arranged as to afford the sender the means of accompanying his communication with a blank reply card, stamped, and only to be detached to be ready for use. They will cost two cents each, and will, no doubt, be found to be very convenient.

A Warrant from Montreal.

On Friday officer Fahey, of the Dominion Detective Agency, of Montreal, arrived in town with a warrant for the arrest of John Flemming, who was set at liberty here the evening before. He left town, however, the same evening. Some of the Belleville men who had claims against Flemming are still in town.

Social.

A very pleasant social entertainment was held in the Methodist Parsonage on Friday evening. Although the weather was unfavorable, there was a fair attendance. The mental entertainment consisted of the following programme:—Reading, Miss Sanderson; instrumental duet, Mrs. Davis and Miss Cox; vocal trio, Messrs. R. Shaw, H. Cox and E. Witcher; instrumental duet, Messrs. Heathfield and Snider; vocal duet, Messrs. Davis, and Shaw; reading, Miss Ellsworth; vocal solo; Mrs. T. Bradburn; and vocal solos by Messrs. Ed. Witcher, H. C. Cox, and R. Show. The programme was well rendered and was a good entertainment.

Dramatic.

The members of the Battery will produce the military drama, "The French Spy," in the Opera House on Thursday night, 22nd February. The drama was originally produced in Paris in 1830, and performed with distinguished eclat in all the principal theatres in England, Ireland, Scotland, America and France. This drama has actually been performed by Mademoiselle Celeste more than one thousand nights, and after an absence of four years from London, was nightly received at the Adelphi with the utmost enthusiasm. The members of the Battery have been to considerable expense in securing costumes, &c., and will presemt the drama with all its accompaniments in good style.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restuarant and Oyster Parlour.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

A Fatal Smash-Up on the Grand Trunk Railway.

DETROIT, Feb. 15.—A terrible smash-up occurred on the Chicago and Grand Trunk railroad two miles east of Flint yesterday afternoon. The west-bound express train, composed of three passenger cars, one mail and express car, one Pullman, and an engine, being five hours late, was running at the rate of about forty miles an hour, when a rail broke and all the cars left the track, except the baggage car and the locomotive. The train ran about sixty rods, tearing up the track, and before it could be stopped one car was thrown down an embankment, one side of another car was thrown across the track and badly wrecked. The Pullman car, which kept right side up, was not very badly damaged. Hulda Seaman, an aged lady from St. Vincent, Grey county, Ont., on her way to Nebraska, was instantly killed. Thomas Peal, of Lindsay, Ont., on his way to St. Paul, Minn., undertook to jump from the train and was fatally injured. John Miller, of Peterboro', Ont., was slightly injured. Mrs. Miller, of St. Albans, Vermont, had her nose broken and was otherwise injured. B. M. Curtis, Bloomington, Ill., injured his leg. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hill, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Seaman, in whose company she was, were slightly injured. They were on their way home to Nebraska with their mother from a visit. Wm. Mains, of Waterloo, Ont., jumped from the car with Peal and was slightly injured in the head. Several others were slightly hurt, but the most remarkable fact is that more were not killed, as all the cars were quite full. The wounded are quartered at the Thayer House, Flint, where everything possible is being done by the railroad company and the citizens to make them comfortable.

LINDSAY.

GOOD CATTLE.—The Warder says that Mr. M. O'Hollaran has purchased from Mr. Jas. Rennie, of Brock, six head of fat cattle, for which he pays $600. This is the heaviest price paid for some time in this district, and speaks well for Mr. Rennie as a successful stock raiser. The cattle are for the Easter display.

A Female Engineer.

SANDWICH, Feb. 15.—On Monday night a girl 17 years old, dressed in boys' clothes, was picked up on a Sandwich street by an officer. She was so drunk as to be unable to take care of herself. While being searched at the lock-up her sex was suspected, and she subsequently admitted to the magistrate that she had worn male attire for the past five years. She said she followed sailing in summer, and went by the name of Frank Chambers, but she positively refused to give information concerning her antecedents. Her general appearance is prepossessing, and there is nothing to indicate that she had subjected herself to dissipation. She was given 21 days at Sandwich Gaol, where she registered as an engineer, which she claimed was her profession.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a pescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

A FALSE CHARGE REFUTED.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Though I have retired from active politics, I cannot, in justice to humanity and with any regard for truth and morality, permit the item in reference to the "Irish Emigrants" in the Examiner and its unjust charge against Mr. Carnegie to go unanswered.

I have the strongest reason for knowing that Mr. Carnegie had no opportunity of seeing the report in question until it was in print. He was in no way responsible for it, and it is most unfair that this unfounded charge should now be raked up to his prejudice.

Without solicitation, and in the absence of Mr. Carnegie, I write this in the interests of truth and justice.

Yours truly,
J. O'SULLIVAN.
Peterborough, Jan. 17th, 1883.

PORT HOPE.

ACCIDENT.—The Guide says that at about ten o'clock on Saturday forenoon a man named William Henderson, working in the ship-yard as whip-sawer, fell off the top of a log some ten feet to the frozen ground, striking on his head and shoulder. His head was badly cut and the shoulder dislocated. He was put under the influence of chloroform, and the surgeons succeeded in reducing the dislocation and dressed the wounds of the injured man. We are glad to say the patient is progressing favorably.

BOBCAYGEON.

CANAL.—The Independent says that preparations are apparently being made for repairing the canal. This is good, for the repairs are much needed. A larger work will have to be considered very soon, for the dam is getting into such a patched up condition, that a new one is rapidly becoming an actual necessity. When the new one has to be built, it will prabably be found that the site for the Rokeby end can be advantageously moved lower down the stream. It would be a shorter distance to dam, and a sounder bottom.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr. Goulais, of the Rockland, having already received a number of communications from intending visitors next summer, is contemplating building an additional wing of seventy-five feet facing the canal. It would give twelve bed-rooms above and a billiard and other rooms below. The summer business next season promises to far exceed last year. The American Canoe Association hold their annual meeting at Stoney Lake, and this will no doubt bring a number of people to this village.

FRASERVILLE.

CHURCH WORK.—I am pleased to be able to write you some words of encouragement about this field of labor. On Christmas we had a tea in Fraserville church. There was an excellent programme consisting of choice music and addresses. Principal parts of interest was an address by Rev. Mr. Jeffery, who greatly delighted his audience with his eloquence, and a net proceeds for the evening of about $100. A social was also given on the 14th Feb., which was a grand success. A first-class programme was well carried out, which displayed an extra amount of literary and musical talent. Admission only 15 cents; proceeds of evening, $26.35. But better still, since Christmas (with the above amount) we have succeeded in getting by reliable subscriptions the entire amount of $609, with interest. So that we are now able to breathe more freely under the consciousness of being freed from an embarrassing church debt, for which we feel thankful to a kind Providence. At the old frame church at Beneford (which is scarcely habitable in winter) we have decided to build a new white brick next spring. Got a subscription of $1,200. Our new church at Baillieboro, in course of erection, we hope to have open in May. May we receive the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

COLLISION AT SEA.

RICHMOND, VA., Feb. 19., The New York Steamship Guayandotte, of the old Dominion Line, collided with the United States monitor Ajax near the City Point. The Guayandotte was seriously damaged, but was able to proceed on her voyage to New York. It is not known whether the Ajax was injured.

DISEASE AND STARVATION.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19.—Capt. Braden, member of the Indiana Legislative Relief Committee, reports that in the Court House at Lawrenceburg there are three hundred and twenty-one souls in the last stage of starvation, misery, filth, disease and sickness. These, with a few exceptions, sleep on the bare floor, and are poorly fed and scantily clothed. The atmosphere there became so thick that it stifled and sickened him in two minutes. Already several deaths have occurred, and now there are twenty-five critical cases of pheumonia and scarlet fever. Five women have given premature births. The Ohio and Maine rivers unite at Lawrenceburg and form a terrific whirlpool of destruction that has uprooted and torn away hundreds of houses, and in every street the current is from five to twenty-five feet deep and running eight to ten miles to the hour. In every house regarded at at all safe the people are huddled together in scores. Out in Ohio he saw in an hour fully one hundred whole houses go flying by, rolling, turning and piling like autumn leaves. In Mountain Brook, if an ordinary wind storm should come up, he would not give much for the whole town, and if the people are not soon removed nine-tenths of them will be lost. It is proposed to create a new sanitary board here and issue a million dollars in bonds to get money to clean the streets after the flood. 25,000 people in Cincinnati will be in want for perhaps fifty days.

HOMELESS AND DESTITUTE.

NEW YORK, Neb. 19.—The greatest suffering by the Ohio floods seems to be now centered at New Albany, Ind. The Presistent Relief Committee of that city reports that the distress is most deplorable. 1,350 families are homeless and 12,000 are persons fed by public charity. Many farmers in that section are reduced from competence to absolute poverty with nothing left to put in crops and no seed. It is reported that the worst is yet to come at Louisville and outside aid may yet be needed.

A NOBLE TRADESMAN.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 19.—Stainslaus Kulinski, who has been a jeweller and watchmaker in Charleston for several years, claims that he is a son of a Russian nobleman of high rank. He left Russia in 1848 against the laws of the country. He has prepared a petition asking the Czar to grant him a right in the Russian Courts for his ancestral estates amounting to several millions of roubles. Kulinski has been naturalized. A petition has been sent to the President with the request that it be forforwarded to the American Minister in Russia and by him presented to the Czar.

DROWNED HIMSELF.

CHATANOOGA, Feb. 19.—T. J. C. Wall, assistant with U. S. Grant, jr., and Gen. Gordon in the Belmont coal miners, and who has been superintendent for several years, committed suicide on Thursday by drowning. It is supposed that losses by speculation was the cause.

WHOLE TOWNS SUBMERGED.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19.—A. Young, formerly consul at Santiago, Cuba, came from Higgins Point in a skiff. Young reports that Augusta, Ky., is two-thirds under water. Utopia, Ohio, is all under water. Rural, Ohio, is all under water and the houses upset or moved from their foundations. Poteville, Ky., Chila, in Ohio, Bradford, Ky., and Neville, Ohio, are under water. Moscow and Point Pleasant, Ohio, and California and New Richmond, Ohio, are all under water, with a strong current in New Richmond, uprooting the houses. In Columbia the current is so strong that houses are twisted and turned in an indescribable manner. The scene is pitiable in the extreme.

IT made me feel like a "Band of Music," was the rather forcible expression of an individual who was praising "Pectoria," the great remedy for Coughs and Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis. It is safe, pleasant and effectual. If you suffer, try it. For sale by all druggists and general dealers at 25 cents a bottle.

It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. THE TRIALS IN DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, Feb. 17.—The hearing of the prisoners charged with conspiracy for the murder of Forster was resumed. James Crrey, member of the corporation, and one of the prisoners, deposed that he was introduced, at Angel Hotel, to P. J. Sheridan, who was disguised as a priest, under the name of Father Murphy. Sheridan said he was watching Forster, then Chief Secretary for Ireland, and extending the society of Invincibles throughout the country. He promised to send the witness weapons from London.

NEW FRENCH CABINET.

PARIS, Eeb. 17.—It is officially announced that M. Ferry has been entrusted with the formation of a new Ministry. It is stated that M. A FIRE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—A building was burned on Wards Island last night. The fire threatened the emigrant hospital, in which were two hundred and fifty sick women and children. The patients were much alarmed, but were all removed safely. Damage $15,000.

LACK OF EVIDENCE.

COLUMBUS, Ohio. Feb. 17.—The committee investigating the alleged blackmail of member of the Legislature by a correspondent has reported lack evidence.

THE OHIO FLOODS.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 17.—The river is sixty-two feet five inches high. It rained nearly all night, but is much colder this morning.

TRAIN THROUGH A BRIDGE.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Feb. 17.—An engine and freight train on the G. V. C. railway this morning went through a bridge into Allen's creek, near Scottsville. The fireman, Charles Hanna, was killed, and Henry Fuller, engineer, had an arm broken and foot crushed. The body of the fireman was recovered. The bents of the bridge were washed out by ice and water. The bridge on the R. W. & O. railway over Eighteen Mile creek was carried away by the freshet this morning.

Purchase of a Sheep-Horse.

A philadelpha man bought a "sheep horse" of another man, who declared that he had captured it with a lasso in Dakota. He told him also that the sheep-horse would produce four crops of wool a year, which sold for $5 a pound, and was used in the manufacture of camels'-hair shawls. It also performed tricks. He offered to sell it for $600, and the man paid $15, agreeing to pay $585 at the end of sixty days. But, after the glue which held the wool dried up and the wool fell off, the purchaser sued the seller for his money.

A Faith Cure.

The village of Quincy, Ill., is much excited over the supposed instantaneous spiritual cure of Miss Jennie Campbell, a young lady who for months has been declining with consumption, and for several weeks kept her bed, and death was looked for by the family any moment. On Saturday morning she had faith and was healed. She arose from her bed, walked into the room where her mother was, which greatly affrighted her. She then dressed herself and walked to a neighbor's forty rods distant, and though very bad walking in the snow, she stayed there a while, and returned home on foot. On Sunday she attended church and remained to Sabbath school, played on the organ, and sang in stronger voice than when in good health.

A Long Sleep.

It is reported of Lord Brougham that when he returned home after his brilliant and exhausting defence of Queen Caroline he went at once to bed with orders not to be disturbed, however long he might sleep—orders which his household obeyed, though with astonishment deepening into something like terror as the young lawyer's nap prolonged itself for nearly eight-and-forty hours. His physician afterwards declared that this sleep had saved him from brain fever, and though probably only the marvellously recuperative powers of youth enabled him to take nature's remedy in one such mighty dose, his extraordinary capacity of work up to extreme old age may not improbably have been due to a constitution endowed with such means for repairing at night the waste of the day.

The Afghan Piper.

Afghan courage is undeniable, but it belongs to the fervid class. In a headlong charge—for resistance to the death when that issue has been resolved beforehand—no people on earth excel the pathans. But an accident will strangely disconcert their minds; they seldom fight a lost battle. The history of their wars is as full of panic defeats as of heroic victories. The piper of Jalalabad represents a type among them. At a certain hour every evening he used to climb a hill at the very limit of musket-range, blow his pibroch, dance his jig of defiance, and withdraw. An admiring retinue attended him, heedless of the shots which occasionally told. At length an English marksman killed the piper, whose renown will be preserved for generations in the name he gave that hill. After his death not one of the hundreds who had seemed indifferent to peril challenged our fire.

Excited Thousands

All over the land are going into ecstasy over Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their unlooked for recovery by the timely use of this great life saving remedy, causes them to go nearly wild in its praise. It is guaranteed to positively cure Severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. FORGERS AT WORK.

SOME time ago the Guelph Herald said :—"Mr. Meredith is all that is desired for Premier." The Globe repeated the paragraph with the insertion of a "not," making it read: "Mr. Meredith is not all that is desired for Premier," and instanced it as a condemnation of the Conservative leader by a Conservative journal. The Guelph Herald called upon the Globe to retract this dishonest falsification. Such independent papers as the Toronto Telegram and World joined in urging a withdrawal of this forgery, but the Globe never retracted, and its imitators circulated this falsified passage far and wide.

Now, after an interval of six months, the Globe again repeats this dirty trick of ascribing to the Herald words it never used and which were forged for it by the Globe.

What can the electors think of a cause which requires such dirty tricks from its supporters?

THE NOMINATION SPEECHES.

OUR readers should bear in mind that the nominations of candidates for the representation of both ridings of Peterborough in the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, will take place at noon to-morrow, Tuesday, February 20th. The old system of open nomination by a proposer and seconder is still in force for the Provincial elections, not by signed papers as in the case of the House of Commons. It is only reasonable that the speeches on such an occasion of the aspirants to the honour of representing a constituency should be considered of great importance, and the intelligent electors who can spare the time, even at some personal inconvenience, should not fail to avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing the candidates express their views upon the great questions of the day, so that they may judge which supports the policy that is most to commended and so be enabled to exercise their franchise with that calm deliberation and regard to the best interests of themselves and their country, which befits the citizens of a community like ours who have by their chosen representatives a share in the framing of their own laws.

Attend the nomination, hear the candidates, weigh well their words, and cast your ballots as your judgment dictates.

THE TEMPERANCE PLATFORM.

As the true position of Mr. Meredith and his supporters in regard to the great question of temperance and the liquor laws is impregnable while that of Mr. Mowat and his supporters is vitiated by being prostituted to party exigencies, our opponents are driven to the desperate expedient of falsifying our record and inventing all sorts of slanders as to our intentions. With utter disregard for truth it is persistently asserted that the Conservatives wish to repeal the restrictive provisions of the Crooks Act, to remove the limitations on the sale of liquor, to do away with the limitation of the number of taverns and to place the control of the licenses in the hands of the municipal councils, though this is the very opposite of the truth as set forth publicly in the most authoritative manner by our party. The Globe which is foremost in this system of falsehood and slander has the characteristic effrontery to suggest that its friends should insist upon the Conservative candidates and speakers giving a precise and categorical answer to the question: "What is Mr. Meredith's policy with regard to the license laws." The question is easy to answer and the Globe could not do a greater service to our cause than by causing it to be asked.

The policy of Mr. Meredith and of the Conservatives of Ontario as a body, according to their most solemn pledges and authoritative statements is as follows:—

I. That they will maintain the present restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors without any relaxation.

II. That they will maintain intact the present limitations of the number of liquor licenses.

III. That they will not give the control of the liquor licenses to the municipal councils.

IV. That they will free the granting and control of liquor licenses from any connection with party politics.

V. That they will entrust the enforcement of the liquor laws to officers appointed to carry them out without favor or partisan considerations.

VI. That they will restore to the local municipalities the license fees, now carried to Toronto.

What true temperance man is there who will not vote for this programme in preference to the Mowat system of partisan officials, irregularities connived at, illicit groggeries unrepressed, and officers admitted by the Department to leave the liquor laws unenforced?

THE BRITISH ARMY.

The official report of the British army for 1881 has been issued, with abstracts for the previous years from 1861 onwards. It shows that at the close of the year the total effective strength of the Regular Army of all ranks was 188,978. The average during the year was 188,796, consisting of 17,069 cavalry, 35,367 artillery, 5,510 engineers, and 109,792 infantry.

During the year 1881 the increase by recruiting was 26,268, of whom 24,563 joined for the short-service term, and only 1,605 for the long-service term. The number discharged during the year was 14,269; the number that deserted was 4,412 (of whom, however, 1,653 rejoined voluntarily or otherwise); and the number who went into the army reserve was 6,108. Of the total effective strength, 124,467 non-commissioned officers and men were natives of England; 13,729 natives of Scotland; 36,955 natives of Ireland; and 4,312 natives of India or the colonies; 240 were foreigners, and there remained 2,049 "not reported" as to nationality.

To the effective strength of the Regular Army there falls to be added the numbers enrolled in the various branches of the Reserve and Auxiliary forces. The effective strength of the Regular Army of "all arms" at January 1, 1882, is given at 189,133; the Army Reserve at January 1, 1882, stood thus—First-class reserve, 24,085 (being 85 men beyond the maximum establishment strength); second-class reserve, 10,551, making a total reserve force of 34,636. Among the auxiliary forces there comes first the Militia, of which the total number enrolled at January 1, 1882, was 112,953, of whom 74,805 were in English regiments, 12,288 in Scotch regiments, and 25,860 in Irish regiments. The next branch is the Yeomanry Cavalry, of whom at a date of inspection in 1881, 10,617 were enrolled, the full maximum establishment of that rather antiquated force being 14,458. Last of all we have the Volunteers. The return for 1881 gives an enrollment of 208,308 citizen soldiers, the maximum establishment being 245,429. Of the total, 200,162 were returned efficient, and 8,146 as non-efficient.

These figures indicate a vast amount of fighting material and a large annual expense to the country. Britain has always had reason to be proud of its army, and the reasons for congratulation to-day are as strong and manifest as at any former period in the history of the land. Without her army Britain would have occupied a poor place among the nations. With such an army at her command she can still congratulate herself upon her security. It may be hoped, however, that even in Britain the martial spirit will gradually die out, and that at no distant day the sound of war will cease.—Exchange.

Danish Arctic Expedition.

Two of the most important scientific expeditions which attempted to get into the Siberian seas last year, says Nature, were those in the Dijmphna, with Lieutenant Hovgaard, bent on reaching the North Pole, and the Dutch meteorological expedition in the Varna, bound for Port Dickson. These two vessels succeeded in forcing the ice in the Waigatz straits in September last, and perhaps the Dijmphna would then have got through the Kara sea, had she not, by mistaking certain signals, been led to leave the "lead" in which she was, and gone to the assistance of the steamer Louise, beset by the ice. She was caught in the pack and frozen in on September 17. The last report from these vessels is dated September 22. The statements which have appeared in the Russian press relating to the discovery by Samovedes of a wreck supposed to have been that of the Dijmphna, south of Waigatz island, have been proved to refer to an old Russian whaler, stranded there some years ago. In the last message received from Lieutenant Hovgaard he expressed the opinion that the ice in the Kara Sea would break up during the periodical storms in September and October, and enable him to reach Port Dickson, where he intended to winter. If to this is added the statements made by Mr. Leigh Smith and Sir Henry Gore Booth, as to open water north and east of Novaya Zemlya during the summer, it is not improbable that the Dijmphna got free in October and safely reached Port Dickson, or perhaps even Port Aktinia on the Taimur island. Should this be the case, we may look forward to reassuring news from the gallant Danish explorer early in February.

EUREKA!

READ AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

As a general rule we do not pin our faith to specific remedies; but there is no excuse for skepticism in well developed and authenticated facts. Since its introduction to the American public, the great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, has advanced with more rapid strides in the estimation of the public than any thing of a similar character ever brought into notice by the aid of extensive advertising. We write this for the benefit of those who may be afflicted with the divers ailments for which the oil is announced as a specific remedy, and we are induced to do this in consequence of the proof of its curative power brought to our notice; proof voluntarily and gratefully brought by people who have tested its merits and are anxious to acknowledge the great benefit derived. In the enumeration of such people it is necessary to be specific, and to this end we have obtained their permission to give their names and addresses, in order that the afflicted may have the advantage of a personal interview or postal correspondence, and in evidence that what we write is a candid statement and not a mere puffing advertisement, Mr. Frank Letcher, No. 432½ West Fifth street, assures us that for a series of years he was prostrated with rheumatism until life became emphatically a burden. He had exhausted the advertised remedies, and had lost all faith in the efficacy of any thing to afford relief when a friend, who had tested the virtue of the oil, made him a present of a bottle, and, to Frank's wonder and delight, the first application afforded sensible relief; while before the bottle was exhausted the pains and aches had disappeared. He is a new man, and a walking advertisement of the infallibility of St. Jocobs Oil. Aloyus Reidy, on the corner of Eastern avenue and Lewis street, was afflicted for three years in a similar manner, and is now hale and hearty, although he still continues the use of the oil.

C. O'Callahan, of 171 Sycamore street, is another grateful witness to the infallible power of the remedy, which, he says, has made a new man of him.

Thomas Lewis, of 62 Butler street, was for seven years afflicted with that dreadful malady, Sciatica, and being induced to try St. Jacobs Oil, found almost immediate relief therefrom, and is now perfectly cured. He is prepared to substantiate this statement under oath.

John Miller, of 54 West Fifth street, was cured of a complicated case of rheumatism of ten years' standing, and George Hoffinger, who lives on the corner of Torrence and Columbia avenues, adds his testimony to its efficacy, and has assured us that his pains were relieved as if by magic.

The above statements are by well known and respectable citizens of Cincinnati, and with all who know them will carry conviction upon the face. Hence it is we deem it a matter of duty to suffering humanity to give them all the publicity in our power.

Garfield's Tomb.

Armed sentries patrol before the tomb of General Garfield day and night, relieved at intervals with the usual formalities of military discipline. "Whenever the officers of the guard are changed," says the Cincinnati Commercial, "they open the coffin, identify the corpse, and exchange receipts for it. Thus have we put the body of the slain President into a daily morgue and a continuous post-mortem examination, violating all the sanctity of the grave, and forcing the soldiers into this repulsive duty in the name of honouring and guarding the remains. The tomb is violated to protect it from violation."

DEFYING DANGER.

How Soldiers Jest in the Imminent Deadly Breach.

In the midst of danger soldiers are sometimes prone to jest and laugh, and even play practical jokes on each other, as the following anecdotes will show:—During the trench-work before Sebastopol there was a certain man in the regiment who disliked being on duty in the trenches, and who always got into what he considered the safest corner of the trench, and remained there as long as he could. The bugler of his company, a malicious urchin, soon found this out, and was constantly in the habit of playing tricks to frighten his cautious comrade. He would peep over the parapet and call out, "A shot!" and then turn around to see his friend roll himself together like a ball. At other times he would call out, "A shell!" of which he knew the man had mortal dread; and when he saw him throw himself flat on the ground, he would take a piece of earth or a stone and throw it close to his recumbent friend's head, and then run up and comfort him by showing him a bit of an old shell which he picked up for the purpose, remarking, at the same time, "That was a near thing, man." All the men knew and enjoyed the joke, and sometimes roared with laughter, but it was well for the urchin that his friend never found him out.

This same man was really wounded afterward, and while I was removing the bullet from beneath the skin of his back the same "urchin" was standing by, and the moment I had extracted the bullet—a small spherical one—the boy held out to his friend a six-pound cannon ball, saying, "See what the doctor has cut out o' ye!" This occurred while my back was turned; but on hearing the remark I look around, and saw the boy holding out the shot, and the bystanders convulsed with laughter, quite regardless of the heavy fire going on around us.

Bret Harte.

Francis Bret Harte was born in Albany, N. Y., in 1839. From his parents he inherited English, German and Hebrew blood. His father, a man of some culture and ability, was a professor in the Albany Female College. Some years after his birth his father died, and in 1854 the family moved to California. Living in the rude mining settlements of the interior, and mingling with the rough characters that peopled them, the boy absorbed from actual experience many of the incidents which afterwards grew under his magic touch into the new familiar idyls of the [illegible] diggings, the lawless flat, and the imperial bar. The first three years of his life in California he had all the mixed fortunes of a pioneer, and tried his hand at many means of livelihood. For a time he was a compositor in a newspaper office at Eureka; then he mined for himself, without largely increasing his fortune. As a school teacher he was able to indulge more liberally the literary taste awakened by his work as a printer. These latter experiences afterwards grew, with all their natural colour and textures, into the delicate study entitled "M'liss." A year's work as express messenger gave him the clear-cut pictures of Yuba Bill and other knights of the stage. In 1857 Mr. Harte came to San Francisco, taking his place as a compositor in the office of the Golded Era. A few Bohemian sketches written as copy brought him under the favourable notice of the editor, and he was at once translated from the case to the desk. These were busy days, and much of the matter ground out in that time of probation is as pregnant with genius and bright with wit as any that he has seen fit to retain in his complete edition. It was in 1863 that his first sketch appeared in the East. Jessie Benton Fremont, in those days one of the most cultivated women in California, took a great interest in the young author, and it was on her recommendation that the Atlantic published the "Legend of Monte Diablo"—a piece of work that shows what Bret Harte might have accomplished as a reporter if his tastes had not carried him into fiction.—The Overland Monthly.

A New Process.

NIAGARA, Oct. 16.—A test of the new process known as the Markell of converting iron into steel was made here this afternoon in the presence of experts from Hamilton, Guelph, Belleville and Toronto. The old Ontario Car Works have been purchased by the proposed Markell Steel Company, of which Mr. William Bell, of Guelph, is provisional President. The test was made in a retort of peculiar construction. Edge tools, files, safe plate iron, railroad iron, hammers and horse shoes (all made of common iron) to the extent of nearly a ton were put into the retort the night previous, and were taken out to-day in presence of the experts. The files were broken in different parts, and revealed beautiful fracture of fine steel. Some of the gentlemen present said it was fine enough for the manufacture of razors or surgical instruments. The more bulky portions of the iron, the railroad iron for instance, was steeled through for a quarter of an inch. A cold chisel or a file could not make the slightest impression on its surface. Mr. Markell says he thinks he has discovered the secret of making steel equal to the finest crucible steel at one-half the cost. The secret of the process consists in the skilful application of certain chemicals, the gases of which are forced into the retort from a derrick outside the works. The depth to which a piece of iron is to be steeled can be determined at pleasure. Length of time and volume of chemical gases regulate that part of it.

Lotteries.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, A. F. and A. M., has issued the following edict:—"Whereas the holding of lotteries, gift enterprises, games of chance, etc., are clearly against the laws of the country and the principles of Free Masonry, and calculated to bring dishonour upon our ancient and honourable Order, this is therefore to give notice that such practices are hereby forbidden on behalf of any Lodge or individual member under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, A. F. and A. M., and any lodge or individual member being found guilty of the practices herein enumerated in the name of the above order after the reception of this edict will render itself or himself liable to suspension. Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtue of this nature medicine gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustation" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. Some Figures.

Nineveh was 14 miles long, 8 miles wide, and 46 miles round, with a wall 100 feet high, and thick enough for three chariots abreast. Babylon was 50 miles within the walls, which were 75 feet thick and 100 feet high, with 100 brazen gates. The Temple of Diana, at Ephesus, was 420 feet to the support of the roof; it was 100 years in the building. The largest of the pyramids was 481 feet in height, and 853 on the sides; the base covers 11 acres, and the stones are about 60 feet in length, and the layers are 208; it employed 330,000 men in building. The Labyrinth in Egypt contained 300 chambers, and 12 halls. Thebes, in Egypt, presents ruins 27 miles round, and 100 gates. Carthage was 29 miles round. Athens was 25 miles round, and contained 350,000 citizens and 400,000 slaves. The Temple of Delphos was so rich in donations that it was plunderd of £10,000,000, and Nero carried away from it 200 statues. The walls of Rome were 13 miles round.

A Good Retort.

One day when Napoleon III., who was a bit of a wag, was busily writing in his private room at the Tuileries, Prince Jerome, familiarly known as "Plon-Plon," was shown in. "Well, Prince, what is it?" said Napoleon, knowing very well before he asked the question, exactly what it would be. "Is it more money?" Plon-Plon said that it was; that the exigencies of his situation, etc., weighed heavily upon him, and that he found himself compelled to ask for funds. Napoleon indicated that he had given all he possibly could, and that there was nothing to be had from him, at least for a long time to come. Plon-Plon became enraged. "You have no generosity. This is not Napoleonic. You have nothing of your uncle about you." "Oh, yes, I have," retorted Napoleon. "I have his family."—Paris Correspondent Philadelphia Press.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the

WEST RIDING

OF THE

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor having seen fit to dissolve the Legislature of this Province and to issue writs for the election of a new Legislature on the shortest possible notice, I beg respectfully to solicit your votes to return me as your representative in the Assembly about to be elected.

In doing so I beg to state:—

That I am opposed to the policy of the Mowat Government whereby we are being kept out of our just territorial rights, and that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure for the Province the boundaries assigned to it at Confederation.

I am opposed to all ex post facto legislation and I am convinced that it is contrary to sound policy as well as justice that any man's property should be taken from him without full and adequate compensation, to be ascertained by an independent and fairly constituted tribunal.

I believe there is now on the Statute Book of this Province all or nearly all the legislation required to protect the public interests and to provide for the acquisition of non-floatable streams and improvements which may have been made thereon upon terms at once just to the lumberman and to the owners thereof.

I am opposed to the unnecessary centralization of patronage where it can be used to influence the electorate, believing that such centralization is dangerous to the freedom of the people and calculated to produce the same evils in Canada as it has already produced in the neighboring States.

I am opposed to any Government using the power vested in them for the time being by the people to prevent a free expression of public opinion upon any subject, and especially upon a subject with which they as a Government have nothing to do, as was done by the Mowat Government and their officials in the last Dominion election in regard to the tariff policy adopted by the people.

I am opposed to the reckless and unnecessary extravagance of the Mowat Government whereby the capital of the Province is being rapidly dissipated and its ordinary expenditure increased to a point which cannot be maintained without a resort to direct taxation in one form or another.

With a view to bringing the ordinary expenditure within the ordinary income of the Province, without curtailing those expenditures which have a direct bearing upon local taxation, I shall advocate a substantial reduction in the number of the representatives of the Assembly, greater economy in the departments and generally such reforms as may be calculated to reduce those expenditures from which the people are deriving no direct advantage, believing that they are entitled to and desire the cheapest Government that suffices to regulate their affairs.

I am opposed to making the liquor traffic the shuttlecock of any political party, and will advocate and support every measure calculated to place the issue of licenses and the enforcement of the laws relating thereto in the hands of those least likely to be influenced by political considerations.

I am in favor of such a readjustment of the franchise as will give to all classes of the community that voice in the government of the country to which they are entitled and of which certain classes are now unjustly deprived by the present Government, notwithstanding that they have had ample opportunities of remedying this injustice.

The educational department under a political head not having proved a success, I shall favor a return to the non-political position which the department occupied when under the able management of the late Dr. Ryerson.

I believe that too much attention and too much money has been spent on what is called higher education and upon educational theorizing to the neglect of the three R's; that the cost of maintaining public schools—especially in the outlying districts—has been unnecessarily increased thereby, and that the people are not deriving the advantages which they should do from the large amounts annually expended nominally for educational purposes, but in too many instances to little practical advantage.

There are, no doubt, several other questions to which allusion might be made, but this address is already too long, and as my views on the public questions of the day are already pretty well known to most of you, and especially as I hope to have the opportunity, between this and polling day, of discussing the issues of the campaign with my opponent in your presence, I shall conclude by expressing the hope that my long and active connection with the public affairs of the Town and County of Peterborough, my practical knowledge of its agricultural and manufacturing interests and the manner in which I have hitherto discharged the public duties with which I have from time to time been entrusted have been such as to secure for me the hearty and active support of not only those who agree with me, but also of those electors who believe it to be the duty of a representative to try and impress his views upon his party leaders and not simply to vote as directed by them.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN CARNEGIE.

Peterborough, February 5th, 1883.

WITH every bottle of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops, a sample bottle is given free of charge. If, after using the trial bottle, you are not satisfied with its effect, you can return the large bottle to your dealer, who will refund the money. HOPE.—There is yet hope so long as you appeal to nature to repair an outraged stomach. For indigestion use the Fountain of Health, the great herbal tonic. Price 25 cents.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1883.

The Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's thermometer registered 4° below zero last night. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a. m., 16° above zero; at noon 22° above, and at 3 p. m., 28° above.

The Candidates Speeches.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the nomination in the Court House to-morrow, when the respective candidates for West Peterborough will address the electors in public meeting.

Low Water.

Mr. Kerr, who has charge of the bridge at the locks, says that the water is four or five feet lower now than it was this time last year. He says that in the twelve years that he has been at this post he had not seen the water so low at this season of the year.

Railway Notes.

The Port Hope Guide says that there is a most beautiful Fob chain on exhibition in A. W. Pringle's window, with a monkey wrench charm and a handsomely engraved gold medal attached. It is intended to be presented to Mr. Haggis, late Mechanical Superintendent of the Midland Railway.

A Cold Bath.

A little boy, who was attentively watching the men who were cutting the ice out of the stream at McDonnell street this morning, slipped and fell into the water. The stream was running swiftly, and he was carried a few yards before he could get out. He was not hurt, but the cold bath must have been exceedingly uncomfortable.

Clearing the Creek.

Street Inspector Johnston has men at work cutting away the ice on the creek around the bridges, etc., so as to prevent the possibility of a flood. A channel has been made from Sherbrook street nearly to Hunter street, and the men are now at work under the bridges which cross the creek near the latter street. Two men are also engaged in cutting away the ice in the stream which crosses McDonnell street at the corner of Downey steet, making a free channel for the water to run into the creek. Trouble has before been experienced at this place, but "a stitch in time saves nine," says the proverb, and these preparations will not only keep the water from backing up now, but will also be of use when a heavier thaw comes.

Personal.

The Rev. Geo. Boville, M. A., of Toronto, occupied the pulpit in the Baptist Church on Sunday, morning and evening, and delivered good discourses.

Police News.

Quietness has reigned since Saturday. One tramp occupied the cells on Saturday night, and they were empty last night. There was a blank at the Police Court this morning.

Counterfeit.

Last week Mr. O. G. Langford, grocer, discovered that a counterfeit fifty cent piece had been passed on him. He had no clue as to whom he got it from, and he destroyed it. It was rather cleverly made, and it would be well for business men to keep a watch for such spurious coins, as this one may not have come here alone.

"That Boy's Sister."

The above is the subject of a lecture to be delivered in the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening by the Rev. Dr. Vincent. Dr. Vincent is remembered here as an able and eloquent lecturer, and this lecture has received the highest praise from the press as an eloquent tribute to motherhood, and being strong, sensible and witty, etc. Let there be a large attendance.

Fortunate and Liberal.

Mr. David Porter, of Ballyduff, the lucky young man who held the ticket in the London lottery which drew the prize of $15,000, was in town on Saturday, visiting his brothers, Charles and Henry Porter, who are employed in Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger's carriage factory. In the evening he entertained the employees in this factory to a supper at Darcy's Hotel, where, after partaking of the refreshments, a pleasant evening was spent. The usual toasts, together with some having special reference to the occasion, with pleasant speeches, etc., filled up the time.

The Weather Probabilities.

This morning opened clear and bright, and "Old Sol" made his appearance at an early hour. In consequence, to-day may be called pleasant, not cold enough to make one feel uncomfortable. We are likely to have a continuance of this weather, as will be seen by the "probs." The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes and Upper St. Lawrence—Fresh to strong south-westerly to westerly winds; cloudy to fair weather, with light snow in some localities; not much change in temperature.

"The French Spy."

"The French Spy, or the Siege of Constantina," is the name of the drama which the members of the Peterborough division of the Durham Field Battery will produce in Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday night. The assistance of the best local talent has been secured, and the drama, which has been produced in Paris, London, and other large cities with success, will on this occasion be presented with due regard to costumes, scenery and stage requisites. The entertainment will conclude with the military farce, entitled "The Rival Sergeants." Admission 25 cts.; reserved seats, 50 cts. Seats can be secured at Menzies' bookstore without extra charge.

Attempted Incendiarism.

At about half-past nine o'clock on Saturday night Mr. J. Gibbs and Mr. Charles Robinson noticed a small blaze in the direction of Toole's factory, which stands near the corner of Bethune and Murray streets. Upon going to the place they discovered the building to be on fire, but it had not been burning long and was easily extinguished. Coal oil had been poured on the building at the north-east corner, and set on fire, by some miscreant, and if it had not been for the timely discovery, the building, in which there is some machinery, would, no doubt, have been destroyed. The factory has not been used for some time. It is to be hoped that the party or parties who have been making these attempts will be found out and brought to justice. There is a reward of $1,000 offered by the Town Council for their conviction.

Impudent Navvies.

On Sunday afternoon, at about 3 o'clock, a party of five navvies went to Mr. Edwards' house, in the western part of the town, and demanded to be driven out to their work. The demand was, of course, refused, and they were ordered off the premises, but instead of obeying they took possession of the drive-house. The telephone was then used, in order to secure police assistance, but the constables were not found, and some of the neighbors having been telephoned to, came to Mr. Edwards' assistance. This posse of volunteered police, after some trouble, forced the navvies to leave the place. It is said that some of them were armed with revolvers. Some arrangements should be made, either by connecting the police station and constable's dwellings with the telephone system, or in some other way, in order to secure persons living on the outskirts of the town from such annoyance.

John Flemming Again Arrested.

The Toronto Word says:—"John Flemming, the hero of the Chicago bucket-shop frauds, and his sister, a muscular-looking female, arrived in the city on Saturday night by the Midland train. They registered at the Albion hotel, where they remained all night. At 10 o'clock on Sunday morning Detective Reid arrested Flemming on a warrant issued at the instance of David Donovan, a Grand Trunk railway baggageman, who charges Flemming with fraud. The case is exactly similar to the one lately preferred by a man in Belleville against Flemming. There are also several other charges against the corpulent and talkative bucket-shop broker, and it is understood they will all be pressed. Flemming's sister, who is a widow, with three or four children, kept house for her brother in Chicago, and is said to be as deeply implicated in the bogus transactions as himself. In fact it is alleged that she was the brains and worker of the concern. Dr. McMichael has been retained to defend the accused."

A Plan for a Fire Escape.

At the monthly meeting of the Windsor Hotel directors Mr. James Shearer submitted a plan for a fire escape for the hotel, when, after examining it carefully and approving of it, they gave orders to have it built and completed with the new wing now building on on Stanley street. At the west end of this wing, between the windows and corridor, balconies will be built, a solid brick tower eight feet six inches in diameter inside of brick reaching up from the ground to a distance of eight feet over the roof. In the centre of this tower will be be erected a five-inch stand-pipe with branch pipes and hose, commanding upper flats, pavilions, towers and doors. The city to allow the Company to connect with high level reservoir, the stand-pipe only to be used in case of fire. Around the stand-pipe will circle a four-feet with iron stair with landings at each floor, having had rails on each side allowing two persons to descend abreast. There will be fire proof automatic slide doors on every flat, which, upon the approach of any person seeking entrance into the tower, open instantly from the person's own weight, and close immediately so soon as the person enters the tower, thus insuring instant safety from smoke or fire on any flat or the roof. There need be no rushing down for fear of fire below, for one can open a door when there is fire against it outside.

There will be iron windows glazed with mica on the outside of the tower distant from the building. The tour will have an iron roof, there will be iron balconies at the end of every corridor and flat, also the roof is to enter the tower. Once in the tower you must descend to the ground, as the doors do not open from the inside, thus preventing smoke and fire from entering the tower, also burglars from entering and robbing the house. The doors at the ends of corridors to the balconies will slide up, giving instant access to the tower from the house on every flat.—Montreal Witness.

An Ex-M. P. P. Assaulted.

It appears that Mr. Ketcham Graham was more seriously injured by the two roughs who assaulted him the other night than was at first reported. He was bruised about the body from kicks received, his nose was badly cut, and his forehead just above one eye was laid open with a slash from the knife which one of the assailants used. The first encounter, which we are told was a desperate one, took place near the kitchen door leading to the drive-house, and when Mr. Graham opened the drive-house door afterwards to see if the two men had departed he was struck in the face with a club and knocked senseless. As soon as he regained consciousness he crawled under a cutter and by this means probably escaped being murdered. The assault took place between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening, and as all the members of the household were absent at a church gathering, Mr. Graham was left entirely in the hands of the desperate characters. He succeeded in getting into the house about 11 o'clock, and when the family returned home they found him lying in front of the stove. He presented a sickening appearance indeed. The supposition is that the two men who attacked Mr. Graham, were there for the purpose of ransacking the house, but on being disturbed, they assaulted Mr. Graham to prevent identification.—Belleville Ontario.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

FRUIT.

The following paragraph which appears in the Guelph Herald shows that falsehood does not help a cause:—

"Yesterday three staunch Reformers called at the Herald office to see the fyle, stating that if the fyle showed that the Globe had misquoted the paragraph relating to Mr. Meredith's qualification for Premier, they would vote for Mr. Sweetnam, although their former votes had always been given on the other side. The gentlemen very carefully inspected the fyle and found that the Globe had been guilty of the lie, and they left the office saying that Mr. Sweetnam could count on their votes. Come in gentlemen and see for yourselves.

POLICE PROTECTION.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—In your edition of Monday, there appeared a local item under the heading of "Impudent Navvies," that reflected unfavorably and unfairly on the police. In the first place, the alleged offence occurred in the Township of North Monaghan, and the local officers had no right to interfere without proper authority, a thing, profiting by past experience, they absolutely refuse to do. As all the officers were at Police Headquarters at the very time the messengers were said to have been looking for them, they might easily have been found, and any person at all familiar with the duties of the force would at once have repaired to the proper place to find them. In writing this letter I do not wish to find fault with any particular person, but do it simply in justice to myself and assistants.

I remain, sir, yours truly,
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
Chief of Police.

DAMAGE BY ICE.

ST. CHARLES, Mo., Feb. 20.—An immense ice gorge rushed down the Missouri river yesterday. The water overflowed the low lands opposite St. Charles and almost submerged the little town of Brotherton. A DESPERATE CONVICT.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 20.—A convict yesterday shot and fatally wounded his wife. He fired five times at the officers without effect and then shot and dangerously wounded himself.

REBELLION IN SING SING.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The Times' Albany despatch says that the Superintendent of Prisons was notified by the Warden of Sing Sing yesterday that forty-two convicts of the laundry department, flung down their irons and swore that they would work no more. They dared the keepers to inflict punishment, declaring that an investigating committee would protect them. The ground of the convicts' refusal to work is that they are unable to perform their alloted tasks. The Superintendent telegraphed to Troy and learned from numerous laundries that girls aged sixteen, daily laundried twenty-nine shirts. The task of each Sing Sing convict in the laundry department is twenty-six shirts. The Superintendent is satisfied that the convicts can do as much work as women and girls. The Superintendent will go to Sing Sing to-day and have forty-two men put on bread and water until they agree to work. No other punishment, however, will be resorted to. It is understood that the Governor endorses the Superintendent's action.

A BATTLE BETWEEN BOYS.

CHARLOTTE, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Many white girls, aged from sixteen to fourteen, returning home from the girls' school, were way laid by colored youths and subjected to gross indignities. The girls reported the fact to their brothers, who were attending the boys' school. The white boys, after school next day, hurried to the rendezvous of the negroes and laid in wait. As girls came they were again attacked by the negroes. The white boys rushed from the ambush and a long battle followed between the whites and colored youths. Sticks and stones were used with terrible effect and the negroes retreated.

THE PRISON REVOLT.

SING SING, Feb. 20.—The convicts who revolted yesterday were in two rooms. The keeper lost all control over them, they were having things their own way when the warder appeared with a guard and ordered the convicts to instantly fall in line or take the consequences, the action of the warder broke spirit of the leaders of the revolt and they surlily obeyed the command. They were marched to their respective cells and locked up for the day. The warden of the prison states that he has had more or less trouble for thirty days. The men have been labouring under excitement and have been impudent. The Principal Keeper, Dixon, says that nearly all discipline has been destroyed in the prison since the investigating committee has been there. He would be surprised at further acts of insubordination.

WESTWARD HO.

The C. P. R. Keeps Marching Along—Montreal to Algoma Mills Direct.

Another most important epoch in the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been reached to-day, and the Company is now forwarding by rail, direct from Montreal, freight and supplies for the building of the road to the Sturgeon River, from whence it is distributed from that point to the various construction parties by teams extending as far west as Algoma Mills. The directors to-day recieved the gratifying intelligence that the first through shipment from here had reached Algoma Mills, the teams, after traversing this vast wilderness, hitherto terra incognita, lying between Sturgeon River and Algoma, reaching the latter place in safety and without any difficulty. This is in fact the first step in opening of the through line and in attaing a direct through communication from the city of Montreal to Algoma Mills, the terminus of the Georgian bay branch. The importance of this announcement will be understood when it is learned that during the present year a through communication between Montreal and Winnipeg will be obtained when the steamers, which are now being built in Scotland, are ready for the service between Algoma Mills and Thunder Bay. The Company has also to-day located the station at the junction of the main line and the Georgian Bay branch, naming the place, Sudbury Junction, which is situated one hundred and twenty-five miles from the Mattawan and ninety-four miles from Algoma Mills, and sixty miles from Sturgeon River.—Montreal Star, Feb. 16.

THE MURDER OF BURKE.

THE FALSE PROPHET CAPTARED.

GERMANY AND THE VATICAN.

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—The Pope in replying to the Emperor announces that he has permitted the bishops without waiting for a complete revision to notify the Government of the selection of new curates. The Pope asked in addition to the revision that measures be taken to mitigate the impediments to the exercise of clerical duties and the training of clergy. This, he says, is indispedsable to the very life of the Church. If an agreement is established thereon a real, durable peace will be easy.

THE ABSENT CONSPIRATORS.

DUBLIN Feb., 19—The French police have been requested to prevent Byrne's escape into Spain. It is thought probable he will return to London and give the authorities an opportunity to arrest him. If not arrested he will assist his wife's defence. She is a consumptive. Brennan, who was thought to be in America, was in London Friday. It is stated that the name of "No. 1" is Oliver Justin McCarthy. It is said that Sheridan was known to Mr. Parnell merely as an active League organizer. His relations with Mr. Parnell were only in this capacity. McCarthy said Byrne held a position in the Land confederation since the time of Butt and Shaw. He was known to all the members of the Irish party as a quiet, respectable man, and it was inconceivable he could have had anything to do with the murders.

TROUBLE IN CUBA.

HAVANA, Feb. 19.—There are indignation and excitement here because the Director-General of the Cuban treasury is endeavouring, upon his own responsibility, to collect taxes now due for the third quarter of the fiscal year, with an enormous increase upon the lawful rates. The tax-payers have refused to pay, and the merchants have entered a protest.

LOSS OF LIFE AT SEA.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 19.—The Lake Champlain steamer Hankow, from New Orleans, has arrived at Liverpool. She lost four men and six boats on the passage.

FREEMAN'S JOURNAL'S REMARKS.

DUBLIN, Feb. 19.—The Freeman's Journal says the mystery of the Phœnix park murders is only half unfolded. We must await the denouement before expressing a verdict. The prospect is that the mystery will be sounded to the very bottom. "Number 1," if he exists, will find his way to the gallows, which is the prayer of every honest man.

COMMITTAL FOR TRIAL.

DUBLIN, Feb. 19.—The prisoners charged with murdering Lord F. Cavendish and Mr. Burke, were brought up to-day to hear the formal reading of the depositions which was necessary before their committal for trial was completed.

STEAMBOAT COLLISION.

LONDON Feb. 19.—The Allen Line steamer Buenos, Ayres sunk another steamer off Lamlash Scotland. Eleven of the crew of the latter steamer were drowned.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

DUBLIN, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Byrne has arrived and was examined at the Castle this morning. She will be charged in court this afternoon with being concerned in a treasonable conspiracy. It is stated that the Government will open at the Castle on Friday and enquire into a conspiracy much wider and of more destructive aim than that of the murder society. It is reported that Mrs. Byrne has made a full confession of all she knows concerning the work of the assassins. Several arrests are expected on the strength of her information.

SOCIALISTS ARRESTED.

MADRID, Feb. 19.—A society of Socialists has been discovered at Xeres. Seven members have been arrested. Documents have been seized proving the connection of the prisoners with the secret societies abroad.

INSTABILITY IN FRANCE,

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Some working men yesterday presented a memorial to the President protesting against the political instability of France which they say injures the interests of labour. They declare that the prime causes of the condition of affairs complained of are the toleration shown to pretenders and over pliancy towards foreign powers.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1883.

A FALSE CRY.

A CAMPAIGN fly-sheet addressed to the farmers of Ontario and signed by Mr. Thos. Blezard, with other farmers who were members of the late House, is being widely circulated. This election dodger would be ludicrous were not the use of false pretenses too serious a matter for laughter.

This dishonest sheet craftily begins by telling some truths, so as to throw the unwary reader of his guard. We are told that Ontario is a very rich agricultural country, that the value of our farm products is great and increasing, that we have skilful farming, a rich soil and a favoring climate, that our farmers are enterprising and are making improvements and that their motto is "Onward." This is all very true so far, and is a very proper subject for rejoicing.

But immediately afterwards the cloven foot appears. This prosperous position, this rapid development and progress is most untruthfully attributed to the liberal treatment received from the Government of Mr. Mowat. As to the richness of our soil, the favorableness of our climate, and the enterprise of our farmers, we really must decline to argue the point whether we have to thank Mr. Mowat for them; those who think they have are welcome to vote for him. So far we are not even aware that Mr. Mowat chose for our farmers their very excellent watchword, "Onward."

And even as to our skilful farming, is that to be attributed fairly to Mr. Mowat? We are told in this fly-sheet that it is partly owing to the aid given to the Agricultural and Horticultural Societies. Well, these societies were aided just as much by Mr. Sandfield Macdonald and will be aided just as much by Mr. Meredith, so we can see no reason for much praise to Mr. Mowat.

Then there is the important cheese industry. This was fostered and firmly established by the encouragement given by the Macdonald Administration, so it cannot be credited to Mr. Mowat.

The drainage of land is the next point, but draining was practiced long before Mr. Mowat was wheedled off the Bench and will be continued long after he has retired.

Then there is the Agricultural College; this was founded under Mr. Sandfield Macdonald, while Mr. Mowat is responsible for its removal to a less suitable and less convenient site.

Next we are told of the Agricultural Commission. Well this was useful as we always owned, but the knowledge of what our farmers have been doing does not make skilful or prosperous farmers.

As to the future establishment of public creameries, some of the leading authorities, notably The Farmers' Advocate think they are not the right means to attain the desired end, and meanwhile, as we predicted, constituencies are being bribed with the hope of getting one of these institutions, the chief object of promising them at this juncture.

Not a word is said of the greatest boon that has been offered to the to the farmers by recent legislation that is the National Policy, which has given them a good home market, the most profitable of all, and has increased the value of every thing they sell. Why, the increased prices for their butter, eggs, poultry and other small products would alone be a most substantial addition to their profits. Mr. Mowat's record is that he did his utmost to thwart the will of the people in this respect, and misused his official position to do so.

We think too highly of the intelligence of our farmers to believe that they can have the wool drawn over their eyes by such a production as this campaign sheet of Mr. Blezard and his friends.

THE TEMPERANCE PLATFORM.

The policy of Mr. Meredith and of the Conservatives of Ontario as a body, according to their most solemn pledges and authoritative statements is as follows:—

I. That they will maintain the present restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors without any relaxation.

II. That they will maintain intact the present limitations of the number of liquor licenses.

III. That they will not give the control of the liquor licenses to the municipal councils.

IV. That they will free the granting and control of liquor licenses from any connection with party politics.

V. That they will entrust the enforcement of the liquor laws to officers appointed to carry them out without favor or partizan considerations.

VI. That they will restore to the local municipalities the license fees, now carried to Toronto.

What true temperance man is there who will not vote for this programme in preference to the Mowat system of partisan officials, irregularities connived at, illicit groggeries unrepressed, and officers admitted by the Department to leave the liquor laws unenforced?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE official reports show that under the National Policy tariff, imports from the United Kingdom increased in value in three years by nearly twenty millions of dollars, while the imports from the United States increased during the same period by only $4,549,833. And yet the free trade advocates persistently accuse these who support the National Policy of aiming a blow at our connection with the British Empire.

⁂

The Rev. A. J. Bray has taken a civil action for libel against the proprietors of the Globe, The alleged libel is contained in a paragraph of the Montreal correspondence appearing on Thursday. A criminal action will also be laid against the Montreal correspondent who wrote the libel. The question arises out of the infamous slanders of the Globe as to the immigrants girls arriving at Montreal being led away into a life of shame a charge in keeping with the same paper's, vile attacks upon the morality of our factory girls.

PARTY BEFORE TEMPERANCE.

The Montreal Witness which is well known as a strong temperance advocate, and also as an admirer of Mr. Mowat says:—

"In probably two-thirds of all the counties in the province every member appointed to the license board is a member of the Reform party, and a large proportion of them are very active men in the party ranks. So far as we can learn every License Inspector appointed is a Reformer, and in a large number of cases the appointments seem to have been made more with a view of rewarding men for past party service than with that of special adaptation of the men for the work. It would have been much better for the success of the Crooks Act and much more to the credit of the Mowat Government had the appointments been otherwise made."

English Emigration.

Mr. Rogers, Government school inspector at Mallow, notes among the most powerful influence inducing parents to send their children to school in that district the letters from relatives and friends who have emigrated, and found some amount of education indispensable to success. "It so happens (he observes) that there is hardly an individual anywhere through the country who has not friends in the Far West. Letters are regularly received from these and eagerly read, and the point which of all others the writers enforce with endless iteration is that young people from Ireland," who emigrate to Canada or America must be able "to read, write or cipher" in order to place themselves on a level with your populations.—London Evening Standard.

A Golden Calf.

The Hamilton Spectator says that up in Oxford there is an irrepressible Grit who talks right out in meeting. His treasonable utterances are thus reported in the Woodstock Times:

Even in gritty old Oxford it is not all plain sailing for Premier Mowat. At the Embro meeting on Monday evening, one of the leading Grits, ex-Warden John Youngs, took the platform and denounced the iniquitous administration of Mr. Mowat's Government. He twitted the electors of Oxford upon importing a candidate who they never saw but once in three or four years, and likened Mr. Mowat to the golden calf set up for Grits in Oxford to worship.

Springless Truss.

See Prof. Hotchkin's Springless Truss and Supporter. Advertisement in another column of this paper. Go and see him. He defies the hernia he cannot hold.

Political Officials.

The London Advertiser says that there is nothing in the law to prevent a license inspector from taking part in political contests. That is just what we complain of. The law should be so amended as to prevent such interference with the independence of hotel keepers. The Advertiser's confession displays great callousness.—Tornoto Evening Canadian.

ON SIR GARNET WOLSELEY.

The following acrostic poem has been awarded a prize of two guineas by the proprietors of an Australian weekly journal:

Strong in conviction, and in judgement clear;
In act determined, and in speech sincere;
Reckless in nothing—prudent without fear.

Gifted with intellect, yet all the more
A gallant soldier to the very core.
Resolved that when stern duty points the way,
Not has the craven heart to disobey.
Esteemed alike by all, both low and great,
The British soldier's friend and advocate.

Well hath he earned his laurels and his rise
On fields of danger and of enterprise.
Long may he live to serve his country's cause,
Secure success and win deserved applause!
England hath need of leaders such as he—
Le[illegible] sympathy.
Even ye who hate of war the very name,
Yield him the homage that is due to Fame.

THE BLACK DAMP.

Coal Mine Accident in Nova Scotia—Three Miners Lose their Lives.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 18.—A serious accident occurred in a coal slope near Maccan, Cumberland county, yesterday, resulting in the death of three workmen. It appears eight men were descending the slope to commence their day's work, when all were suddenly overcome by a rush of "black damp." Those in the rear of the party observed their companions ahead to fall to the ground insensible, and turned to rush back to the open air. Hardly had they started to return when they began to feel the effects of the poisonous gases, and the next moment they fell to the ground, all of them but one unconscious. Alex. Dow, by a great effort retaining his senses, managed to reach the opening and gave warning of the danger those below were in. A large crowd soon collected, and volunteers quickly made their way below to the rescue. Five of the seven men were got out alive, but the remaining two, Patton and Wilson, and one of the rescuers named Burrowes, perished. The bodies of the three latter were brought to the surface, but the efforts to revive them proved useless. The slope in which the accident happened belongs to Col. William Bennett, of Amherst, who disposed of his adjacent coal mining property to the Steel Company of Canada about a year ago, but retained this. Had the number of rescuers at hand yesterday been small, the loss of life would probably have been much larger, as many of those who ventured in to the rescue of the men in danger fell themselves from the effect of the poisoned air and had to be dragged out by others. The distance from the opening of the slope to the place where the men fell was about 800 feet, and the risk in attempting to save them was very great.

HANDWRITING.

The Illegibilities of the Penmanship of Famous Men.

Sometimes half a dozen engravers are engaged in rendering an artist's drawing of a single subject, which, when finished, presents to the unpractised eye one uniform style. Nevertheless, a practised eye can discover where each individual engraver's work leaves off and where that of every one of the rest begins. In handwriting, as in other arts, and in literature, "the style is the man." For all that, the evidence of handwriting, as of style generally, is not to be relied on when men's lives and liberty are at stake. Still less can character be judged from handwriting. Brave men may perpetrate a timid scrawl, generous and high-minded men may write a mean hand, and cowards produce a bold and flowing script. Porson, the great Greek scholar, among the untidiest of students, wrote neatly and elegantly. Cromwell's writing, though large, is shaky. Shakespeare's signature is particularly clear. Napoleon Bonaparte wrote illegibly, it is said, purposely, to hide his bad spelling. The handwriting of the tortuous-minded Charles I. is as clear and striking as that of Thomas Carlyle is crabbed and indistinct. On the other hand, Queen Elizabeth's writing is magnificent. Edgar Allan Poe wrote beautifully, and with scarcely an erasure; whereas the manuscripts of Charles Dickens, to be seen in the Forster collection at South Kensington, are ragged and full of alterations. Many men write large or small, in characters boldly or weakly formed, according to their humor of the moment. Again, handwriting depends for its style on the school in which it is applied. The manuscript of Byron, of Thomas Campbell, and of Thackery, may be called the literary hand. It is uniform in color, small, and fairly legible, but without a superabundant curve or flourish. The great mass of "copy" which passes through the hands of a modern printer is more or less of the same character. A commercial hand, as it is called, is something quite different. Given an envelope addressed by a city clerk, and one from the hand of a university professor, and it is well nigh certain that the former will be more distinguished for elegance and clearness than the latter. Again, the writing of the rustic and uncultured class is so much alike as to defy differentiation. All this goes to prove that the evidence of experts must be taken with the proverbial grain of salt.

Tit for Tat.

"One day," said this gentleman, "before harvest, I met a fashionably dressed person with a large handful of ears of wheat, taken from my fields. I saluted him respectfully, and expressed my admiration of the beauty of the wheat. 'Yes,' said he, 'it is truly a fine sample, and does the farmer great credit who grew it.' I acknowledged the compliment, and asked him from which of my fields he took it. After he had pointed it out, he assured me he always liked to take a good sample home, as it interested the ladies. Upon this, noticing with admiration the style of his coat, I asked him to allow me to look at the skirt. He readily did so, and I quietly took out my penknife and cut a large piece from the tail. The gentleman bounced and swore; but I told him I always took samples of cloth, as I found they greatly interested my wife. I added, that he had no more right to take my wheat than I to take his coat, and that I wished the public to bear this truth in mind." This was experience bought with a vengeance.—Chambers' Journal.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtue of this nature medicine gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustation" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. A Man Who Makes Monstrosities.

"There is a fellow named Patterson, in New York," said a showman to a reporter of the Philadelphia Times, "that can turn out more artificial freaks of nature than would fill every side-show and circus in the country; but a freak isn't of much force if it isn't real. Patterson can make anything, from a stuffed mermaid or a section of a sea serpent to a five-horned ox or a winged mule. Speaking about Patterson and mules reminds me that along just after the war he got an order from one of the Lipmans in Cincinnati to make ten zebras out of mules. Lipman sent on the mules and Patterson proceeded to stencil them in black and cream coloured stripes. Patterson finished the job in six weeks and got $500. The artificial zebras were sent on and advertised as a feature in the street prrades of the circus. Everything was lovely for eight or ten days, and then a rain storm washed the stripes all out and made the brutes look so frightful that they had to be sent back to Cincinnati. Patterson can take an ordinary cow and transform her into a beast with four horns, two of which are apparently growing out of her eyes. The truth is the horns are glued over her eyes. The horns are taken off at night but the cow generally becomes blind after a short time. He can set glass in the middle of a bull's forehead or in his hips so naturally that almost any one would be deceived."

Napoleon's Weird Sister.

One day while Prince Louis Napoleon was President of the French Republic, an elderly sewing woman—one Angelique Beltoise—homely, unlettered, silent and solitary in her habits, and with apparently no thought beyond her daily drudgery, presented herself before her employers, her face glowing as if it had been transfigured. During the night she said she had been visited by a being radiant with light and beauty, which had imperiously bid her rise and write certain verses from dictation. "I obeyed, and here they are," she said, showing four pages of paper, on which, in a hand infinitely superior to her own scrawl, yet resembling it, were written verses—not up to Hugo's standard, perhaps, but far beyond her capacity or education. Her friends endeavoured to ridicule or sooth her out of her belief, but in vain, and she insisted in selling what few possessions she had in order to have her verses copied and richly bound. After having presented herself at the Elysee several times, being refused admission, she sent the volume to the Prince-President through the mail. "When Louis has read it," she said, "he will send for me." Sure enough, after some time a messenger came desiring her attendance at the Elysee. Thither she went and was received by M. Macquard, who questioned her, and taking her for a crazy woman, declined to let her see the Prince, but offered her money. This she declined, only professing her anxiety to be informed that the verses had really reached Louis Napoleon. This assurance being given, she said with satisfaction:—"Very well. Then he knows his future—I can die." Nor did she long survive the event. The verses contained a prediction that Napoleon would become Emperor and marry a foreigner, by whom he would have a son, and added that immense power to which he was to attain would tumble into a catastrophe as great, which he and his son were not long to survive.

No Doctors in Wall Street.

The sad and sudden death of the well-known banker and broker, Mr. H. T. Morgan, on Saturday last, has drawn attention to the difficulty of obtaining medical aid near the Stock Exchange. Probably had it been possible to have called in a doctor, "Old Solitaire," as the late Mr. Morgan was familiarly known, from his habit of always taking his afternoon cocktail alone, would still be alive. There are 1,000 members of the Stock Exchange, each of whose lives is worth $10,000 insurance, which has to be paid by the surviving members of the board. Most of these members are high livers and some are hard drinkers. Then there is a constant rushing to and fro from offices over ice and snow. It would be difficult to find a place where men are more likely to be taken suddenly ill or injured than in the nerve-prostrating neighborhood of Wall street.

Yet there is not a doctor within half a mile of the Stock Exchange, nor a chemist's shop nearer than Pine street. Would it not be advisable to establish a little dispensary in connection with the insurance fund of the Stock Exchange? It may be argued that the board already possesses an able physician in the jovial little Dr. Sheldon, but he is always busy with stocks and other speculations during board hours. There is a New Jersey doctor who speculates in Wall street, but the "boys" have an objection to him, because he is also the owner of a cemetery, and thus has a straddle on his patients. The eminent consulting physician who used to charm Wall street with his occasional presence, no longer comes there since he paid $22,000 for a shave. So that now the broker or speculator who is taken suddenly ill has either to send to the New York police station for an ambulance or try and brace up on brandy and soda.—Rigolo in Sun.

From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho,

Offers the best field for emigrants, viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Temperature.

In yesterday's issue we credited the Rev. V. Clementi's thermometer with having registered 4° below zero on Sunday night; it should have read on Saturday night.

The Winter Races.

The horse races on the Little Lake course will take place on Wednesday and Thursday, 7th and 8th of March. On the first day there will be three races, a green race for a purse of $50; a county race for a purse of $65, and a farmer's race for a purse of $30. On the second day there will also be three races, as follows:—Colt race, purse of $30; a named race, $25, and a Dominion race, $150. Thus there will be six races and $340 in prizes for the fastest animals. The entrance fee will be ten per cent. of the purses, four to enter and three to start, and the entrances will close at 8 p. m. on the day previous to the race. All the races will be mile heats. The judges will be Messrs. Chas. Stapleton, John Glendenning and Jas. Campbell. The committee is composed of Messrs. H. LeBrun, James English, H. B. Merrick and D. Lundy, and Mr. J. E. McIntyre is Secretary-Treasurer. Posters are being issued, which will give further particulars.

A Successful Season.

Mr. Orm. Dixon is meeting with great success in his ventriloqual representations throughout the Western States. He filled three engagements for three weeks successfully at the Criterian, Park and Olympic Theatres, Chicago, a very rare thing for a ventriloquist to do. Last week his appearance at the Park Theatre, Detroit, was greeted with full and appreciative audiences, and he received encore after encore each night. The Detroit Free Press, a very critical journal, says of him:—"Orm. Dixon, an excellent ventriloquist, presented many new and capital examples of his skill." This week he is giving his specialties at the Theatre Comique, Cleveland, Ohio, and next week, February 26th, he opens again at the Lyceum Theatre, Chicago, making the fourth week this year in that city. He also has engagements with the Zoo Theatre, Indianapolis, Ind.; Myer's Theatre, Cincinnati, Ohio; and Smith's Opera House, Grand Rapids, Mich. His relatives and friends will be pleased to learn of the success of Mr. Dixon, one of our many successful Peterborough boys.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

MR. JOHN CARNEGIE AND MR. JAMES CAMPBELL NOMINATED.

Addresses by the Candidates and Others—The Nomination Meeting Held in the Court House before a Large Audience.

A few minutes after 12 o'clock, Sheriff Hall, the Returning Officer, took the chair, and read the writ authorizing the holding of the nomination and election.

JAMES CAMPBELL was nominated by Mr. M. Sanderson.

In nominating him Mr. Sanderson said that he had known Mr. Campbell for a number of years and believed he would represent them honestly. He would support the Mowat Government and oppose centralization by the Dominion Government.

MR. PATRICK CROUGH seconded the nomination.

JOHN CARNEGIE was nominated by Mr. Henry Collins.

MR. COLLINS said it was well known that Mr. Carnegie was a fit and proper person to represent the West Riding, and Mr. Campbell was not, as he knew nothing even about the first rudiments of municipal law. Mr. Carnegie had filled important offices in the Town and County with honor to himself, and no one knew better than Mr. Sanderson that Mr. Carnegie was the better qualified to represent this Riding. He charged the Mowat Government with sins of omission and commission. There had been omission of duty in not appointing a Registrar for this County. The Registry Office was now in the hands of a Deputy and this Deputy was not amenable to the County. He had spoken to Mr. Blezard about it. Why was not the Registry Office filled as promptly as the Police Magistrate's office? No one knew what the County would suffer. When Col. Haultain was appointed he went into the office in the middle of the year. The Deputy Registrar refused to make returns for the time which he acted, and the county had no control over him. He believed that the present Deputy was qualified for the position of Registrar, and if he could fill the office why was he not appointed? The Ontario Government refused to give this locality any money towards building a railway, although a deputation had gone from the County Council asking for such assistance. The reason was that they had subsidized five railways above Toronto, and had no money to give us. Then after Mr. Scott had sold the charter of the Toronto and Ottawa railway, they refused a charter to the Ontario and Quebec railway. He criticised the action of the Mowat Government in regard to the Colonization Roads. It was the duty of the Government, and not of the county, to keep up the roads in the back townships, for the Government had received some $125,000 from these townships and had not spent a quarter of that amount on them. It was well known that Mr. Carnegie served in the first Legislature after Confederation, and during that four years the affairs of the Province were better managed than they had ever been since. Mr. Carnegie, while he was there could act for himself and did his own business, and he was still able and willing to do the same. The contrast between the candidates was so great that every person must see which was the best qualified for the position in the Legislature. Mr. Campbell, of course, could watch his leader and vote as his leader did, but Mr. Carnegie would use his own judgment. The mechanics' sons were deprived of the franchise, perhaps because the Government thought they were not sufficiently educated to vote intelligently, and a paragraph in Mr. Campbell's address appeared to state that they were to receive a higher education as an equivalent for not receiving the franchise.

MR. GEO. KEMMINGTON seconded the nomination.

MR. LEWIS DAVIS regretted that there were not more young men present, and he advised them to watch the proceedings of both Houses of Parliament. He referred to the election sixteen years ago when he was assisted by Emmanuel Mann and Thos. Bell, and in which Thos. Mann, Wm. Elliott, and others took part. The Reformers always rode hobbies, and the Reformers had too many hobbies now. One of them was the Boundary Award, and when Mr. Mowat and Mr. Mackenzie appointed the arbitrators they did not make the award binding. They only wanted a hobby to ride at the elections, and they used the Streams Bill in the same way. The License Law was not a rocking horse—the Supreme Court had taken the rockers off it. Mr. R. Hall was the first inspector in Smith, and he did his duty well, as as also did all the inspectors until the Mowat Government took the appointment into their own hands. Now the regulations were not half so well carried out. It was absurd to think that the Government could manage these things better than we could for ourselves, and the townships did not receive as much money as formerly. He criticised the education given in the schools now, as not being practical enough. The reason was that the Minister of Education had raised the standard too high. The school law was of more importance than the disputed territory. The franchise was another hobby. If a farmer's son left home for a while he was deprived of the franchise. He disapproved of class legislation, and thought that farmer and mechanic should be treated alike.

GEO. HILLIARD, was nominated by Mr. C. W. SAWERS, seconded by Mr. T. KELLY.

JOHN BERTRAM was nominated by Dr. FIFE, seconded by Mr. GEO. DUNSFORD.

JOHN O'MEARA was nominated by Mr. JOHN GREEN, seconded by Mr. JAS. KENDRY.

C. W. SAWERS was nominated by Mr. Bennett, seconded by Mr. J. O'Meara.

DR. FIFE was nominated by Mr. A. Weir, seconded by Mr. W. A. Morrow.

The candidates were still speaking when we went to press.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restuarant and Oyster Parlour.

Oh, What A Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For sale by J D. Tully.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.—The constant dropping of water will wear away even the hardest stone. So the constant irritation of a cough will so wear upon the lungs as to induce incurable Consumption. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will cure the worst cough, speedily and effectually.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Mr. Parnell announced in the House of Commons that he would offer an amendment, to the address. He said he would severely criticise the administration of the Crimes Act, jury packing, iniquitous sentences, &c., when the discussion on English affairs finished. [illegible]

The Cells.

The police cells were unoccupied last night and there was a blank at the Police Court this morning.

Personal.

The Rev. John Shaw, says the Ontario, occupied the pulpit in the Bridge Street Church, Belleville, on Sunday morning and attended a meeting of the Ministerial Association next day.

A Hat Stolen.

On Monday night word was sent to the police that a hat had been stolen from the hotel, and they promptly answered the summons and followed in the direction the man who took it had gone. Before they overtook him, however, he had given up the article and had been allowed to go.

Another Disturbance.

On Saturday, four or five men raised a disturbance in Keneally's Hotel in Ashburnham, and they are believed to be the same persons who wished to take possession of Mr. Edwards' place. In this connection we wish to explain, in justice to the police, that Mr. Edwards resides outside of the town. Still we believe it would be an advantage to have the police station connected with the telephone system, as a great many of the business places in town are now connected with it.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint.

For sale by J..D. Tully.

THE cause of death. It is known almost to a certainty that in fatal diseases the individual dies either by the brain, heart or lungs. They free the system from all impurities; cure Billiousness, Dyspepsia, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver or Bowels. In large bottles at 50 cents. Sold by all Druggists.

WALTER LINTON, of Waterloo, writes that Hagyard's Yellow Oil has done great good in his family, his wife being cured of Callouse lumps that other medicines failed to remove, he he also states that a neighbor was promptly relieved of Rheumatism by the same remedy.

WE have a speedy and positive Cure, for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth and Head Ache, in Shiloh's Cattarrh Remedy. A nasal Injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. For sale by J. D. Tully.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE TEMPERANCE PLATFORM.

The policy of Mr. Meredith and of the Conservatives of Ontario as a body, according to their most solemn pledges and authoritative statements is as follows:—

I. That they will maintain the present restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors without any relaxation.

II. That they will maintain intact the present limitations of the number of liquor licenses.

III. That they will not give the control of the liquor licenses to the municipal councils.

IV. That they will free the granting and control of liquor licenses from any connection with party politics.

V. That they will entrust the enforcement of the liquor laws to officers appointed to carry them out without favor or partisan considerations.

VI. That they will restore to the local municipalities the license fees, now carried to Toronto.

What true temperance man is there who will not vote for this programme in preference to the Mowat system of partisan officials, irregnlarities connived at, illicit groggeries unrepressed, and officers admitted by the Department to leave the liquor laws unenforced!

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 21.—James Blone and Wm. Cooff were charged by Constable Pidgeon with having been drunk and disorderly. They admitted the truthfulness of the charge and asked to be allowed to go. They were both fined $2 or twenty days in gaol, and were committed.

SOCIALISM.

MADRID, Feb. 20.—Several Socialist Societies have been discovered at Xeres. A number have been arrested, and documents seized proving the connection of the prisoners with secret societies abroad.

ANOTHER VESSEL SUNK.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The Allan Line steamer Buenos Ayres has sunk another steamer off Lamlosh, Scotland. Eleven of the crew of the latter were drowned.

THE QUEBEC DOCKED.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The steamer Quebec, which arrived at Liverpool yesterday, has been docked.

THE TRIALS IN DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, Feb. 20.—The prisoners charged with murdering Lord F. Cavendish and Mr. Burke were brought up to-day to hear the formal reading of the depositions, which was necessary before the committal for trial is completed. Carey failed to identify Mrs. Byrne as the woman whose arrest is desired, and she has been discharged. It was the sister instead of the wife of Byrne who should have been arrested. The prisoners before removal from the Court to-day shook hands with each other heartily. Mullett, one of the conspiracy prisoners, had been allowed to receive two letters and sign a cheque. One Quinham, and two men named Mahoney, all ex-suspects, belonging to Castle Island, have been arrested on the charge of being members of the Invincibles. The wives and mothers of the prisoners were admitted to the gallery of the Court to-day and warmly greeted the prisoners. It is believed that the disclosures made by informers will enable the police to seize other persons connected with the crime. Joseph Smith, who pointed out Burke to the assassins, was closer to the scene of the Phœnix Park murder than Carey, and can give even more direct evidence at the trial. Orders have been issued for the forfeiture of all copies of the Irish World of the 17th instant, on the ground that it contains an article inciting to violence. It is stated that the Government will open at the Castle on Friday an inquiry into a conspiracy much wider and more destructive than that of the murder society.

THE CZAR'S MANIFESTO.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 20.—The Czar's forthcoming manifesto will offer the peasantry loans for the purchase and improvement of lands. A Nihilist suicided on Sunday because he was selected by a secret society to murder the Czar on his coronation day.

THE SITUATION IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—The workingmen yesterday presented a memorial to the President protesting against the political instability of France, which they say injures the interest of labour. They declare the prime causes of the condition of affairs complaimed of are the toleration shown to pretenders and over-pliancy toward foreign Powers.

SETTLEMENT REJECTED.

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—It is stated that the Prussian representative at the Vatican has been instructed to reply to the Papal Secretary of State that the letter of the Pope to the Emperor William does not afford a staisfactory basis for an arrangement of the question between the Papacy and Prussia.

DEMANDING SATISFACTION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 20.—The Italian Ambassador has demanded the punishment of the persons who insulted the Italian consul at Tripoli, and public satisfaction. The Porte has been informed that an Italian ironclad has gone to Tripoli.

FRANCE AND MADAGASCAR.

MARSEILLES, Feb. 20.—Madagascar advices state that the French flag is flying on the northwest coast. Owing to the fact that the natives are very much irritated, the Prime Minister has begged the foreign residents at Tamatave not to venture into the interior. Warlike preparations are proceeding at Tamatave.

CROWNING THE HAWAIIAN KING.

HONOLULU, Feb. 12.—The coronation of King Kalakana took place to-day. Several thousand witnessed the ceremony. There was no disturbance. The commanders of the American, English, and French war vessels in port co-operated with the Hawaiian authorities in doing honour to the occasion.

AMERICAN.

A FATAL PANIC.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Sixteen chrildren were killed by a panic in the school-house on Fourth-street to-day. The school was connected with the German Catholic Church of the Holy Redeemer, and under the tuition of the Sisters of Charity. Shortly before the hour for the dismissing of the pupils an alarm of fire was raised, and instantly one of the attaches left the building to notify the fire department. On returning he found the stairs a mass of girls aged from four to 12 years. They were piled on one another screaming and moaning piteously. A number of men came to their relief, and the Sisters of Charity above endeavoured to calm them. When the children were finally extricated it was found that sixteen had been crushed to death, and a majority of the others were injured. They were taken to the neigbouring houses and medical aid rendered. The cause of the alarm was a small fire under the staircase on the third floor. The flames were extinguished speedily. The Sisters succeeded in keeping a number of the pupils in the class rooms, or the disaster might have been frightful. The accident caused great excitement in the city.

AN OFFER DECLINED.

BUFFALO, Feb. 20.—Henry F. Gurney, Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Durham, who absconded with $16,000, and was arrested by Dectectives Diehl and Riley last Friday, has not been taken back to Canada as reported. He is now at Niagara Falls, on the American side, with his brother. The Queen's officials were satisfied to secure a restitution of the stolen funds, and although Gurney volunteered to go back they did not accept nor notice the proffer.

THE DIAMOND MINE DISASTER.

BRAIDWOOD, Feb. 20.—It is now known that eighty lives were lost in the Dimond mine, and it is feared that the number may have reached a hundred.

THE "INVINCIBLES."

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette says that even if all the Invincibles were arrested there would remain two hundred other desperadoes pledged to assassinate, on a penalty death for disobedience. Most of them are still at large and some will probably be in London. The precautions taken to preserve the Minister from assassination show that the authorities are well aware that the criminals still cherish projects of murder.

NO OTHER CONSPIRACY.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—A correspondent at Dublin says the statement in regard to another widespread conspiracy, into which inquiry will be opened at the Castle, is untrue.

STEAMER LOST.

HONG KONG, Feb. 21.—The United States steamer Ashuil Ottas has been lost. All her officers were saved, but eleven of her crew were drowned. She was an iron paddle wheel, and carried six guns. 786 tons burthen.

WHY CAREY SPOKE.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—Freeman's Journal says that Carey's statement about the Phœnix Park murder was prompted by an article in Freeman's Journal. It was due to the fact that E. Dwyer Gray, owner of the paper, when chairman of the Municipal Health Committee, charged Carey with conspiracy.

AMERICAN.

MALPRACTICE.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 21.—It is discovered that Kitty O'Toole, who died at the office of Dr. Orton on Sunday, was a victim of malpractice. Orton was frormerly one of the leading practitioners of the North-west. He served a term in prison for passing counterfeit money. He is wealthy, and had been living with Kitty, and made preparations to marry her. He will probably be arrested.

A GANG OF ROBBERS.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Feb. 21.—There is great excitement in Audubon county over the operations of a gang of desperadoes who have been terrorizing and robbing the people. There have been some desperate encounters with the members of the gang. A few of the latter were wounded and several arrested.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 21.—Newport and Jacksonport, on the White river, are partially submerged. There has been no serious damage from the flood yet south of Memphis.

DYING.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—The report of Robt. A. Parker's death was premature. He is dying of consumption.

A RIDICULOUS REPORT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The captain of the steamer Valencia says that the report that his vessel was fired on from the Dutch fort of Curacoa is ridiculous. The fort simply saluted the American Consul, who was a passenger.

TENNESSEE'S DEBT.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 21.—A Caucus of the Democratic members of the Legislature have decided to adopt the contract rate of the interest on the State debt proper, which is five and a half and six per cent.

RAILWAY RUMORS DENIED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The officers of the New York Central Railway deny that Meeker has resigned or is about to resign. The report that the Southern Pacific Railway has bought out the Morgan Steamship Line from New Orleans to New York is officially contradicted.

THE SING SING REVOLT.

SING SING, Feb. 21.—Superintendent Baker arrived last night and held a conference with the Warden. The anticipated outbreak among the molders yesterday did not take place owing to an intimation that the Governor had determined to stop the usual commutation of time service for all who joined the troublers. Besides the convicts who refused to work yesterday, thirty others in different departments who claimed be ill contrary to the diagnosis of the doctor were locked in their cells. A white and a negro convict who were fighting attacked Keeper Mackin, who tried to seperate them. The keeper knocked the convicts down and ordered them into close confinement. The appearance of the guards prevented further violence.

EXPRESS MESSENGER ATTACKED.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Wm. G. Smith, of Union, Broome Co., Express Messenger for the Erie & N. E. Express Co., was attacked by robbers on the Albany & Susquehanna train, near Bainbridge, at midnight and shot twice. The robber escaped, after a fight, without securing any plunder. Smith had over $40,000 with him.

When is a Chinaman Dead?

A recent writer in the China Review exemplifies the difficulties surrounding interpretation from Chinese into English, or vice versa, by mentioning that the simple question, Was he (or she) dead? which occurs so frequently in inquests and other judical proceedings, admits of a positive or negative reply according to whether the European or Chinese ides as to when death occurs be followed. We believe that a man is dead when he has ceased to breathe, and when his blood no longer circulates; the Chinese consider him still alive while a trace of warmth lingers in the body. The two estimates may thus differ by several hours. Hence it was that in inquests in Hong Kong the time of death formed a stumbling-block in almost every Chinese case. The medical evidence would show that the deceased must have been dead when brought to the hospital, while the relatives would swear that he was alive at the gate. Subsequent inquiry showed that the general view among the Chinese was that a person is considered to be dead when the body is cold, and not before. It does not speak very well for the Chinese scholarship of the officials of Hong Kong that it took 40 years to discover this important distinction.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1883.

THE MUNICIPALITIES FLEECED.

We have already touched upon two points connected with the administration by the Mowat Government of the liquors laws, having shown how the law, as the department admits, has not been enforced by the political officials, who are too busy with their electioneering, and also the large sums for licenses that are taken from the municipalities by the centralizing clique in Toronto.

There is, however, a third aspect of the case, still another wrong to the people, which is well worthy of consideration.

The ratepayers, say of the Town of Peterborough for example, are compelled to pay the salary of a Police Magistrate, and are also forced by the necessity of protecting their persons and property to pay constables. As a general thing the law very properly provides that as the Police Magistrate and the constables are paid by salary they shall not receive the costs provided by various statutes, but that these shall go with the fines to the municipalities, thus in some measure re-imbursing them for their expenditure on these official salaries.

This is obviously very fair, but this equitable rule is not observed in liquor cases. In the case of any breach of the liquor laws being adjudicated upon in our police court, the fines and costs are not paid into the Town Treasury to assist in meeting the official salaries and expenses. No they are sent straight away to the central bureau in Toronto.

Then comes into the question another personage, that appointee and protege of our masters in Toronto, the License Inspector, whose salary we also have to pay. The fines and costs sent as we have described to Toronto, might surely be applied to paying the salary and expenses of this official forced upon us from outside. But we have to pay his salary and expenses, for they are deducted from our license fund before the Toronto bureaucrats begin to share our money between us and them, in the proportion that seems good to them.

And to judge how gross is this abuse, it must be remembered that if we have to pay the salaries of the Police Magistrate and the constables, they at least do their duty and so we get a return for our expenditure, but the pet official of the Mowat administration, the License Inspector who is appointed for us by our lords and masters, without our having a word as to the choice, he does not even perform the duties for which we are forced to pay him.

Some of the supporters of this nefarious system actually have the impertinence to say that our town authorities should compel our constables to perform the duties which the inspector we have to pay neglects to perform. Then our expenditure would be still further increased by the raised salaries they would demand, and a still more perfect sinecure would be left for the Inspector whom we also have to pay.

He takes our money and then abuses the influence of the position which the salary we pay enables him to support, by electioneering work in favor of his patrons and opposing the will of the majority of those who have to pay him. This occupies too much of his time to enable him to enforce the laws in favor of temperance, and causes a state of things calling for official circulars admitting the neglect of duty, and censure from the judges for the connivance at illicit liquor dens where even murder is hatched.

Can either temperance men or mere economists support such a system.

PROMISE AND PRACTICE.

On the 4th of June, 1879, the Hamilton Evening Times said:

> There is no danger of direct taxation in Ontario. We have a guaranteed revenue of $2,500,000, while our necessary expenditure is only $600,000. This leaves us a balance to the good every year, of $1,900,000. There is therefore no danger of direct taxation under an economical Government like that of Mr. Mowat.

Instead of the necessary expenditure being restricted to $600,000 in each year, or $1,800,000 for the three years which have since elapsed, the public Accounts show the necessary expenditures—those from the consolidated fund—to have been—

In 1880	$2,050,000
In 1881	2,107,000
In 1882	2,430,000
In three years	$6,587,000

If the Times told the truth in 1879, the Government has squandered $4,787,000 on unnecessary expenditures in three years.

Ministers are condemned out of the mouths of their friends.—Hamilton Spectator.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

MR. JOHN CARNEGIE AND MR. JAMES CAMPBELL NOMINATED.

Addresses by the Candidates and Others—The Nomination Meeting Held in the Court House before a Large Audience.

The following is a continuation of the report of the proceedings at the nomination for the West Riding:—

Mr. CAMPBELL was called on to address the meeting. He said he had never desired to be placed in this position, but when he was nominated he could not refuse. He knew how to manage his own affairs, and he thought that he could consider any measures brought before the House. He was not a politician or a public speaker, and did not profess to be. If elected he would go as the supporter of no Government. He had no favours to ask and no axe to grind. He referred to the agricultural college in eulogistic terms, and also to the school of practical science. He thought the Mowat Government had acted fairly with all, and no one could find fault with them. He referred to the Drainage Act and Creameries Act, approving of their provisions. He referred to the Boundary Award and said that the only way to get our rights, that he knew of, was to support the Mowat Government, and he would do all in his power to support that Government, as far as he thought they acted right. If there were less lawyers in the Legislature it would be better. We were too much governed—governed to death. He claimed that he was a farmer and knew something about farming. There was a number of able gentlemen present to address the meeting on the Boundary Award and Streams Bill, and he, not having much more to say, he would give way to them. He thanked those present for their attention to his remarks.

Mr. CARNEGIE asked Mr. Campbell how the Mowat Government proposed to get those just rights in regard to the Boundary Award?

Although Mr. Campbell had not left the platform, Mr. Bertram rose at his seat to reply. Mr. Carnegie objected to this, and said that he had asked Mr. Campbell, who was the candidate, the question. Mr. Bertram again commenced to reply and was met with cries of "order" &c., and finally, when order was restored,

Mr. BERTRAM said that Mr. Campbell had already stated that the way to get our rights was to support the Mowat Government.

Mr. CAMPBELL said that the only way to get our rights was to agitate and agitate, and if we could not get them that way, we must appeal to the Queen.

Mr. COLLINS rose to reply to a personal reference made by Mr. Campbell, but was called to order, and sat down remarking that he had as good a right to make the explanation as Mr. Bertram had.

Mr. JAS. KENDRY.—I would like to ask Mr. Campbell a question, if he will—

But Mr. Kendry got no further, as he was called to order and sat down.

Mr. CARNEGIE was then called on, and on coming forward said that if anyone wished to ask him a question he hoped they would be allowed the privilege of doing so. It afforded him pleasure to meet Mr. Campbell at this meeting, as although he had held meetings for a week before Mr. Campbell had begun doing so he had not met him at a meeting before. In one part of his address to-day Mr. Campbell said he was not a supporter of the Mowat Government, and from what he said in another part it appeared that he intended to support them through thick and thin. Mr. Campbell did not explain how he meant to further technical education. As to Mechanics' Institutes, to which Mr. Campbell had referred, the speaker said he could claim some credit for the establishment of the Mechanics' Institute in Peterborough. The electors were the jury which would decide this contest, and Mr. Campbell should tell them frankly what his scheme for technical education was. It was the Sandfield Macdonald Government which inaugurated the drainage system. As to the Creameries Act, it might be a good or a bad measure, according to the way in which it was managed. Every effort should be made to improve butter making on the farm itself, but not to take the industry away from it to the detriment of the farm. The Registry office in Peterborough was kept open for one of two reasons, either that the Government thought that among the host of applicants there was none capable of filling the office, or they wished to keep it dangling before the eyes of different applicants to secure their influence in the election. Different gentlemen were working hard in this election with the expectation of getting the appointment. It had been said that the Dominion Government had kept the Collectorship of Customs open for some time, but Mr. Perry was appointed before the elections came on. By keeping this office open the Mowat Government was trying to coerce the electors into supporting them. He had been charged with not voting against the second reading of the Grand Junction Railway Act, but the clause legalizing the bonus by-law was not inserted until after the second reading, and then he moved its rejection. The County Council, in fighting the payment of the bonus since, had reposed confidence in him and received his assistance. He asked Mr. Sanderson if this was not so, but Mr. Sanderson vouchsafed no reply. The speaker then took up the Boundary Award question and showed that the responsibility for not having the matter settled, and for Ontario not having her territory, rested with the Mowat Government, because they would not refer it to the Privy Council and have it settled, as a legal question should be decided, in the highest court. Mr. Campbell said that they would agitate and agitate, and after keeping the Province in hot water, that the Reformers might hold office, they would finally go to the foot of the throne, and what Mr. Campbell said they would do after a long time, Mr. Meredith wished to have done at once. The next question put forward by these gentlemen was that of provincial rights, which they said had been invaded by the disallowance of the Streams Bill. He showed that the power of disallowance had been placed in the Confederation Act, and that the Hon. George Brown and the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie had argued in favour of it; that the Mackenzie Government had disallowed more provincial acts during their short tenure of office than the Conservative Government had, and that the Streams Bill had been disallowed in the interests of justice and private rights. Acts passed years ago for which he had voted had been hunted up in an attempt to prove that he had supported ex post facto legislation, but he showed the vast difference between these measures and the Streams Bill. He condemned the Mowat Government for taking additional power of patronage that they might coerce the electors. When the Sandfield Macdonald Government passed an act for the appointment of School Inspectors they left the appointment of the Inspectors in the hands of the County Council. If these inspectors did not do their duty the Government could call for their dismissal, but the Councils would make the appointment, and the Mowat Government should have followed this precedent in regard to Division Court appointments. That would have kept the patronage free form political influence. At Norwood, when Mr. Burnham charged that an official of the Mowat Government was spending money in the northern townships to influence the electors, Mr. Roxburgh boasted that he had the Mowat Government at his back.

Mr. J. B. McWILLIAMS denied that he had used money for that purpose at the last election and wanted to put up money on it.

Mr. C. W. SAWERS said that Mr. McWilliams had told him that he controlled the votes in the back townships.

Mr. McWILLIAMS said, amid loud cries of order, that this was a deliberate falsehood.

Mr. CARNEGIE said that Mr. Burnham had made the statement to which he referred and Mr. Roxburgh did not deny it. Besides, there were none more active in this contest than Mr. McWilliams and another gentleman who figure largely in the Provincial public accounts. He then criticised the expenditure on colonization roads, and showed that the appropriation was much larger in those years in which an election occurred. An appropriation had been made for the road between Dunsford and Lindsay, to aid Mr. Peck in his election, although there were roads in the Township of Smith that needed an appropriation as much as that road. He showed up the careless way in which vouchers were received and money paid for colonization road work. Referring to the financial position of the Province, he said that the Government were working on the same principle as a man who mortgaged his farm and lived on the money raised. He explained the fallacy of the Government's claim of having a surplus, and said that if this state of things continued the time would come, as the Globe had pointed out, when additional burdens would have to be put upon the municipalities. The expenditure must be reduced, and if elected he would do his utmost to reduce all expenditure that did not directly benefit the people. He exposed a timber limit transaction, by which the province had lost $365,000, and read the history of the corkscrew trip, when the board, washing, bar drinks and theatre tickets of the Lieutenant-Governor, Provincial Treasurer and their party was charged to the Province. He would favor placing within the reach of every man's child a good, plain, practical English education, and when a student wished to go beyond that they should do so at their own expense. He asked no man to vote for him on personal grounds, and would ask no man to support him in the hope of getting a reward in the shape of an office, as his opponents did, but he believed he had friends who would assist him unbought and uncoerced.

Mr. BERTRAM was then called on and retired in favour of Mr. Campbell. He referred to Mr. Carnegie as not having been previously successful in business, and said that when in the House he had voted for a resolution moved by Mr. Blake favouring the discontinuance of the grants to the denominational colleges.

Mr. CARNEGIE asked to explain this, and proved that he had spoken and voted in favour of the grants.

Mr. BERTRAM then referred to technical education, and claimed credit for what he had done in assisting the Mechanics Institute in the town. He defended the Government in the matter of the Registry Office, and claimed that the Government officials had a right to vote and use their influence in elections the same as others. He claimed that the Opposition's attempts in the Legislature to reduce the expenditure were only attempts at cheese-paring. He defended the Mowat Government in the matter of the Streams Bill and Boundary Award, and repeated his former statement that Mr. Carnegie had voted for ex post facto legislation. He excused the carelessness of the Mowat Government in expending money on colonization roads by saying that a member of the Dominion Parliament had expended money in Manitoba in a careless manner. He defended the action of the Mowat Government in charging the expenses of Corkscrew brigade to the Province, and said that in the last session the Opposition, as they had not opposed the provincial expenditure, had approved of it.

Dr. FIFE then mounted a seat and called for three cheers for Mr. Campbell.

Mr. SAWERS—Wait a moment; there were other candidates nominated.

The cheers were again called for by Dr. Fife and were given, and a move was then made for the door.

The Returning Officer said that all the candidates nominated had withdrawn, except Messrs. Campbell and Carnegie.

Cheers were given for the Queen and Mr. Carnegie, and for the Returning Officer, and the audience dispersed.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

MR. GEORGE READ AND MR. THOMAS BLEZARD NOMINATED.

The Electors Addressed by the Two Candidates—Speeches by Others—The Opposition's Incontrovertible Position.

The nomination of candidates for East Peterborough, for the Ontario Legislature, took place at the Town Hall, Norwood, at noon on Tuesday last. There was a large attendance of the representative electors of the Riding, and the utmost good order was maintained by the chairman, Mr. Thomas Rorke. The following are the nominations:—

Mr. THOS. BLEZARD, of Otonabee, was nominated by L. Londrigan, seconded by Mr. Robt. Burgess.

Mr. GEO. READ, of Keene, was nominated by Mr. John Burnham, seconded by Mr. David Ross.

Mr. EDWARD MEEKS, of Toronto, was nominated by Mr. Risborough, seconded by Mr. Robert Stott.

Mr. JOHN BURNHAM, of Ashburnham, was nominated by Mr. Chas. O'Rielly, seconded by Mr. F. Birdsall.

Dr. MASSIE, of Norwood, was nominated by Mr. Blezard, seconded by Mr. Geo. Elliott.

After the nominations, a poll was demanded by Mr. Ross, on behalf of Mr. Read, Messrs. Meeks, Burnham and Massie withdrawing from the contest.

Mr. BLEZARD first addressed the meeting, claiming for a second term the confidence of the electors of East Peterborough, and that he wished to be returned as a supporter of the Mowat Government. As regards the Boundary award, he held that Mr. Mowat only claimed for Ontario its rights, and as Mr. Meredith had so often changed front on this question, and had no following to support him, he thought that Ontario did not want him as a leader. He referred also to the Streams Bill, and a few other topics, looking at all these subjects through the political spectacles furnished him by his political leader. He was loudly cheered by his supporters present.

Mr. READ next addressed the electors, dwelling upon the leading political questions that engaged the attention of the public since the John Sandfield Macdonald administration. He considered that the present Government, through centralization, had enlisted an army of servants who only did the bidding of Government, and that by the course adopted by the Mowat administration had jeopardized the liberties of the country. He approved of the power of appointing municipal officers being placed in the hands of the municipalities interested. He spoke in approval of the position Mr. Meredith had taken on the question of the Boundary Award; and that the Government were using the question as a football, and deferred the settlement of the Award, to agitate and to coerce the electors of the Province of Ontario. Many questions, he considered, were contorted and exaggerated by the supporters of Mr. Mowat, which, the speaker said, was neither legal nor in the interests of the Province. He defended the course of the Opposition on the Streams Bill, in striving for such legislation as will protect private property, and blamed the Government for confiscating private property without proper compensation, and only allowing the miserable pittance of toll as seen fit to be granted by the Mowat Government. Mr. Read referred to many other leading questions now at issue, and fairly, carefully and satisfactorily contradicted many assertions made by Mr. Blezard in his address, and called upon the electors, as a supporter of a good and economical party, to give him their support and vote at the present election.

Mr. Burnham, Dr. Massie and Mr. Meeks also addressed the meeting, all ably discussing, in the hour allotted them, the political questions now before the electors, Mr. Meeks dwelling particularly on the Boundary Award, the License Law, and the Streams Bill, giving uncontrovertable facts and figures for the statements he made in favor of the position taken upon these questions by Mr. Meredith and his colleagues.

The meeting closed about six o'clock, with cheers for the Queen and the respective candidates.

COLONIZATION ROADS.

The following resolution was passed unanimously by the County Council of the county of Renfrew on the 26th day of January, 1883:—

"Moved by Mr. Watson, and seconded by White, and resolved, that whereas general dissatisfaction has been expressed at the manner in which the Government grants for the repairs of roads in the county have been expended; and whereas, we are of opinion that greater economy may be affected to the benefit of the public; be it therefore resolved, that the clerk be instructed to draw up a memorial to the Commissioner of Crown Lands, and that the same be signed by the Warden of this Council, and be forwarded to Thomas Murray, M.P.P., for presentation, and that the said memorial submit that: 1st. Outlays of all grants for roads be made after tenders have been called for for the work to be done, and contracts entered into; 2nd. That all such work should be completed by the first day of July in each year, so that the public may obtain full and immediate benefit therefrom; 3rd. That the custom of sending supplies from Toronto to the several contractors be done away with."

The above resolution speaks for itself, and exposes a crying evil in the northern and eastern districts in process of settlement. Under Mr. Pardee's manipulation the colonization roads became a huge source of political jobbery and favouritism. The contracts are given to partisans in the first place; and even they are not permitted to secure supplies in the nearest and cheapest market. Let us give one out of many examples. Mr. Robert Jaffray, a Toronto grocer, whose name appears as a director of the Globe, figured in the public accounts to the tune of $12,000 in a single year. Much of the supplies paid for lay altogether outside the purveyor's regular business; they were paid for at an extravagant rate, and could have been procured more readily at Lindsay or Peterborough."—The Mail.

TEMPERATE REFORMERS.

On the 31st of July a bill was rendered to the department of Public Works by Messrs. Fulton, Michie & Co., Grocers, Wine and Spirit Merchants, of Toronto, for $130.18. Of that amount—$15.50 was for cigars, $2.28 for cheese, $2.65 for biscuits, $1.90 for tobacco, and the balance of $107.85 was for whiskey, wines and other fermented liquors! Who paid this amount or the entire cost of the jaunt, which footed up the sum total of $546, but the Province? And we again ask, was not Mr. Hardy with the party? and was he not acting Minister of Public Works. Of course we do not question the right of the individuals to a holiday, but we do most emphatically condemn the appropriating of the public monies to defray any such pic nic as that in which Mr. Hardy was the central figure. Having drank nine-tenths of the amount expended upon the Thunder Bay excursion, we think bibulous taste is the only term which can be fittingly applied to the true disciples of old Bacchus. Again, we find that the Province having submitted to be bled most cheerfully, another excursion known as the "Cork Screw Trip" was started; the party, on this occasion, being gotten up by no less a personage than Mr. Treasurer Wood and several other prominent gentlemen, including Lieutenant-Governor Macdonald, this pleasure party cost the Province the snug sum of $5,456. The record of the party from the start to the finish showed the determination of all concerned to earn for themselves the title of champion guzzlers. In Chicago, particularly at the aristocratic Grand Pacific Hotel, was this feature made most prominent,—$26.50 being the amount expended in two days and a half for brandy, by the so-called Temperance brigade. It was only when the public voice demanded an investigation that the Lieutenant-Governor took upon himself the responsibility of the trip and enclosed his cheque for $350 to refund the amount spent in liquor, and the matter was condoned by the Mowat Administration on the receipt of the cheque. Was there ever a more flagrant and dishonest proceeding covered up by a committee in the interest of the Mowat cabal and corruptionists? Does any previous period of our history furnish a like instance?

A Reporter's Palace.

The Philadelphia Ledger reporters have recently been inducted into new quarters in a brown stone building at Sixth and Chestnut streets, which for elegance and thoroughness of appointment excel anything in that city. The fourth floor has been fitted up elegantly. The most striking feature is the apartment of the city editor, Robert M. McWade, who was in Hamilton on the Phipps case last September. This room is separated from the main one by a stained glass partition. Rugs and couches, easy chairs, elegant draperies and a combination desk of a novel pattern make up the furnishings. The assistant city editor, Mr. Charles Spangler, has a similar desk in the same apartment. The reporters are in a large room, and there are eighteen desks of a new design for them. There are easy chairs and rugs for each man. The desks are supplied with all the modern appliances to enable the scribe to carry on his warfare against the wicked and sound the praises of the just, as well as to record the passing events of the day. There is plenty of light and ventilation in the room, and for night service there are the electric lights and gas jets. From the city editor's room there are speaking tubes reaching to every department in the building, telephone and telegraphic wires, so that the chief of the local staff can readily communicate with persons in any part of the city or country.

How to Ascertain a Woman's Age.

Here is an infallible receipt, according to Punch, for "correctly ascertaining the age of a lady":

I first ask the lady accused her own age. I then inquire of her "dearest friends." I next ascertain the difference of the two accounts (which frequently varies from five to forty years), and dividing that difference by two, I add that quotient to the lady's own representation, and the result is a lady's age as near as a lady's age can be ascertained:

Example—Mrs. Wellington Seymour gives herself out to be twenty-eight. Her friends, Mrs. McCabe, Mrs. Alfred Stevens, Madama Bernichon and Miss Jenkins, indignantly declare that they will cut their respective heads off if she is a day younger than forty-six. Now, the difference is 18, and this difference has to be divided by two, which, I believe, will give nine. If that is added to Mrs. Seymour's own statement, the result obtained will be the answer required. Accordingly Mrs. Wellington Seymour's age is thirty-seven—a fact, which upon consulting the family Bible, I find to be perfectly correct—and I hope Mrs. Seymour will some day forgive me for publishing it.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over [illegible] successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. [illegible] John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho,

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

BISCUIT AND CANDIES.

HALL'S WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERY MANUFACTORY.

The New Premises on Simcoe Street—New Machinery and Satisfactory Work—A Visit to the Factory.

Last September Mr. Dunsford's block on the corner of Hunter and Water streets was destroyed, and Hall's biscuit factory, which was in that block, was burned out. The loss on this factory, over the insurance, was considerable, but Mr. G. W. Hall, with commendable enterprise, set about at once to find new premises.

It was found that the brick building on Simcoe street, next to the Central Iron Works, owned by Mr. James Stevenson, was suitable for this business, and Mr. Stevenson had an oven built at the west side of it and the necessary changes made, fitting up convenient and commodious premises, and retaining this industry in the town. The building is situated near the centre of the business portion of the town, and is convenient to the railway for shipping. There are also two entrances to the building, one on each side of it, and plenty of room in the yards.

In these premises Mr. Hall has again established his business, and has set out travellers over the territory which he supplied formerly, intending to still retain the trade of those who before dealt with him. He manufactures and sells wholesale all kinds of biscuit and confectionery, and in addition to that keeps a stock of cigars of all kinds and everything generally carried by a wholesale confectioner.

A visit was paid to the factory this week. In the front part of the building there is a good business office. Next to the office is the room in which the biscuit is packed in the boxes and prepared for shipment.

The bakeshop department in connection with the factory is in the next room entered. This department is superintended by an experienced foreman, Mr. Richard Tanner, formerly with Messrs. Weir, Bryce & Co., of Guelph. It is supplied with a new engine of eight horse power, manufactured by Messrs. Law, McLean & Brayshaw, of the Central Iron Works. This firm also put in the machinery shafting, which works satisfactorily. Here the machinery for manufacturing the biscuit is situated, including a large brake for rolling dough, made at Mr. Wm. Hamilton's foundry. The machinery was running at a lively rate at the time of our visit and during the last week 7,000 pounds of flour was used, which was very good for a beginning.

The room in which the oven and boiler are situated is an addition erected at the west side of the main building. The oven is Rainey's Improved Patent Oven, manufactured at Buffalo. It is a revolving oven, and one revolution is sufficient to bake the soda biscuit.

The ten horse power boiler stands in the same building as the oven, and there is only one entrance from the addition to the main building, and everything has been so carefully arranged that there can scarcely be any danger of a fire from this quarter. The furnace which supplies the heat for the oven is under ground, and the underground room in which it is situated is walled up with stone, which furnishes another safeguard, while it is also convenient and provides the necessary heat.

In the second story the sweet meats are manufactured, and this is a dangerous place to enter for one who has "a sugar tooth," for he would be surrounded by candy of all kinds, colors and moulds, and he might find it difficult to withdraw from such a place. Here the candies are boiled, pulled, weighed and prepared for shipment, and during the last week from 350 to 400 pounds have been turned out per day. This department is supplied with a steam heater for keeping the candy warm while in course of preparation, which is an advantage over a fire heater and is also safer.

In another room in this story it is intended to manufacture all kinds of assorted fancy cream goods, and moulds of numerous designs are being prepared for this department, including moulds of the shape of men, bearded busts and many neat and tasteful designs. The candy department is airy and well ventilated, and admirably adapted for the purpose. Mr. W. Lee, formerly with W. W. Park & Co., Toronto, is in charge of this department, and he thoroughly understands his business.

Another convenient arrangement in the factory is a large hoist, worked by pulleys, for raising articles from the first to the second stories, by the use of which a boy could hoist five hundred pounds.

This factory of Mr. Hall's is the only establishment in which biscuit and candy are manufactured for the wholesale trade on the line between Kingston and Toronto. Mr. Stevenson has had the building arranged in the best manner possible, so that the premises are convenient and suitable, and with the appliances with which the manufactory is furnished and the facilities at his command, Mr. Hall will be enabled to compete successfully with all dealers who may try to trade in the territory in which he does business. The factory has now been running some days, and the biscuit and confectionery which had been made is of a superior quality.

By the fire which caused Mr. Hall such a loss, he also lost the trade of one of the best Christmas seasons for doing business that we have had for some time, but with the advantageous start he has got now, and the energy which he throws into his business, this loss alone will be overcome. We wish him all success in this enterprise, on his own account, and also on account of the benefit the industry will be to town.

THE cause of death. It is known almost to a certainty that in fatal diseases the individual dies either by the brain, heart or lungs. How wise then is the effort to maintain a perfect state of health! Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are a veritable "Health Giver." They free the system from all impurities; cure Billiousness, Dyspepsia, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver or Bowels. In large bottles at 50 cents. Sold by all Druggists.

A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—It would not be amiss if a bar was placed in front of the general delivery box, at the Post Office with "in" and "out" indicated, so that each person could take his turn. This is done in all large Post Offices, and very often the crowd at the Peterborough Office is sufficiently large to render and an arrangement very desirable.

VISITOR.

Peterborough, Feb. 20th, 1883.

Flemming in Toronto.

The Mail says that John Flemming was up again in the Police Court on Tuesday. His counsel asked for a remand for three days, which was granted. The Crown Attorney said there was no need for a remand, as the case was dead. Mr. Rogers, the Barrie Chief of Police, left for home on Tuesday afternoon after receiving an assurance from the Magistrate that if the prisoner was to be given up he would get him. Detective John Fahey, Montreal, and a Belleville officer also want him.

Lecture To-Night.

The well known lecturer, the Rev. Dr. Vincent, will deliver his lecture entitled "That Boy's Sister," in the Methodist church to-night. This is a companion lecture to "That Boy," and to those who had the pleasure of listening to Dr. Vincent on the occasion of his previous visit no advice is necessary; those who had not that pleasure, should be sure to embrace this opportunity of hearing him. Among the opionions given of this lecture are the following:—"A manly defense of woomanhood," "an eloquent tribute to motherhood," "a satire on fashionable follies," "full of laughter and tears," "strong, sensible and witty." Those who attend to-night will not only be entertained, but instructed.

Oh, What A Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For sale by J D. Tully.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to free yourself of every symptom of these distressing complaints, if you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. every bottle has a printed guarantee on it, use accordingly and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. For sale by J. D. Tully.

Not Responsible.

In the Supreme Court at Washington last Monday a decision was rendered in the case of the Michigan Central Railway Company, plaintiff in error, v. Paris Myrick, for use of Commercial National Bank, Chicago. The question raised by the case is whether a railway company in the absence of special contract is responsible to shipper for safety of freight after such freight has been transferred by it to another railway company for transportation to its place of destination. The court holds, first, that in accordance with common law rule the carrier is liable only to the extent of his own route, and for the safe storage and delivery to the next carrier; second, that the ticket or bill of lading given to the shipper by the railroad company in this instance was not a through contract, whereby the Michigan Central Company agreed to transport the freight in controversy to Philadelphia. The judgment of the court below, that the receipt did constitute such through contract, is reversed, and the case, remanded for a new trial.

MR. CARNEGIE'S SLANDERERS.

To the Electors of West Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—Those of you who read the Examiner will see that Mr. Carnegie is held personally responsible for every word that appears in the REVIEW whether reports or editorials, and most unfair attempts are made thereby to convict him of some slight inconsistency.

The Examiner well knows that it is speaking falsely; that I am at least equally responsible with my partner and co-editor and do even more editorial work upon the REVIEW, especially when as at present other engagement occupy much of Mr. Carnegie's time and even take him to a distance.

But the most dastardly of these attacks is the resuscitation of the vile slander that Mr. Carnegie insulted Irishmen last summer by a report referring to the emigrants. The publisher of this attack on Mr. Carnegie knows it to be a wilful and malignant falsehood, for I have already explained over my own signature that Mr. Carnegie, being absent, did not even see the report in question till after its publication.

As to the strictures which are quoted from the Irish Canadian, they were called forth not by the perusal of the report but by that of a false account of it in a letter published in the Examiner, but which I believe to be a forgery (as I have already stated without contradiction) for I cannot conceive that any resident of Ennismore, any "man from Galway," any Irishman in short, would pen such a cowardly and unfounded slander, or would bring into question the purity of Irishwomen, as was done by this pretended Irishman. If there was any ground for criticism of our report it was simply that the misery these immigrants had left was too vividly depicted in order to contrast it more strongly with the comfort and ease that they would happily find in their adopted land.

If, however, there was any error of judgment is certainly was not Mr. Carnegie's, but that of the reporter and of myself, who was then in editorial charge of the REVIEW.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

THIS morning five carloads of plant, steam drills &c., passed through town on their way to Burleigh for use on Mr. Goodwin's contract for the construction of that section of the Trent Valley Canal. This does not look like dropping the canal as has been falsely stated by the Reformers.

Two brothers who were very successful dentists built a large and handsome house, the appearance of which was thought to resemble a molar tooth. It was a common remark, "See what brothers can do when they pull together!"

THE TARIFF BILL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The Tribune's Washington despatch says that the prospects of tariff legislation is still involved in about as much obsurity as ever, despite the passage of the Senate bill. This state of affairs results not so much from uncertainty as to whether the majority of the House would vote for or against the bill, as from the uncertainty whether or not the majority will get the chance to vote upon the bill at all.

A MURDERER SENTENCED

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—St. Phen Mirzan was sent to Albany penitentary for life for murdering Alex. Doham in Alexandria, Egypt, in 1879. He arrived here yesterday on the United States steamer Nepsic. The crime occasioned great interest in depiomatic circles at the time. It was the second murder investigated by the representative of this Government in a country not Christian. Mirzan is fifty one years old. He was born in Smyrna and came to this country twenty-seven years ago. He became an American citizen and after the Civial War went to Egypt. He established a newspaper which the Government suppressed. Mirzan attributed the suppression to Daham, a friend of the Khedive, and therefore shot him.

AT THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Both Houses of Congress are in session to-day, but all the executive departments, district offices and banks are closed and the courts have adjourned.

THE SING SING REVOLT.

SING SING, Feb. 22.—It is stated that Superintendent Baker told the Warden that the Governor urged on him the necessity of using the most vigorous measures to restore and maintain discipline. The revolt, he said, must be suppressed at all hazards. He said the plan agreed upon is to give the convicts a chance to-day to reconsider their determination not to work, and if they still hold out, to remove as many of them as the place will accommodate, to the old female prison, and there confine them in the bare cells without bedding, upon half a pound of bread and a cup of water a day. To ascertain the long-term men and those who lost the commutation for carrying the revolt through to its desperate end, and the short-term men who opposed the plan, yesterday there were fourteen fights between the representatives of the two classes. Several non-revolting convicts were severely injured. Three were carried to the hospital. Wynn and Snider were selected to lead the revolt. Four hundred convicts in the foundries yesterday refused do so. The men stopped work, but Wynn said he had had trouble enough, and Snider said he did not want to risk it. The men, after ten minutes delay, resumed work. Later, three convicts headed by Alfred Miller, attacked Snider and would have killed him had not Texas Jack gone to his rescue. Snider was badly beaten and was in a weak condition last evening. His assailants were all locked in the cells as there are revolvers in the moulding shop. John Callahan and another convict unmercifully beat Richard Elliott. George Philips, a convict, who refused to lead a company of revolters, was knocked down by Chas. Leach, and kicked and trampled on by several others. To-day it is expected that the whole foundry will go out with the rest. Keeper Thies received ugly cuts on the head yesterday, but the manner in which he got them could not be ascertained. He was taken to the hospital, too weak to stand. Warden Brush is confident that he can cope with any ordinary outbreak in the arsenal. There are fifty new Winchester rifles and guards on the walls and they are armed. The Warden says the majority of the convicts wish to maintain order and discipline. In all 244 men are locked up for refusing to work, and of these 232 are employed under the contract system. The Warden expects before the end of the week that the whole prison may be in revolt. It is understood that extra guards will be employed to-day.

A STAMPEDE.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—Since the publication of Carey's disclosure a number of Irish-Americans and farmers' sons in counties Armagh, Monaghan, and Louth bave been secretely leaving for America. The first letter of condolence received by Miss Burke after the murder of her brother was from Carey.

TRIPOLI AND ITALY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 21.—The Porte has instructed the governor of Tripoli personally to apologize to the Italian consul for the insult offered to the latter.

THE DANUBIAN CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Danubian conference has approved of the proposal for a mixed commission to control the Danube form Galatz to the Iron Gates. Austria, Bulgaria, Roumania and Servia will be permanently represented on the commission, the other powers appointing members in rotation. Servia will not be represented on the European commission to have jurisdiction below Galatz.

AMERICAN.

"NUMBER ONE."

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21.—Michael Doyle, brother-in-law of Gen. McAdaris, suspected of being "Number one," says McAdaris has not been connected with any Irish movement since the Fenian fiasco in 1765. Doyle is in constant correspondence with McAdaris. The latter is an invalid, and is constantly travelling with his wife; there is no secrecy in his movements. McAdaris was in Egypt during the whole time covered by the Phœnix Park murder conspiracy and while the plotting was going on against Mr. Forster he was at a mountain resort in France.

AN ANTIQUE STEAMER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The steamer Ashuelot, reported lost, was a laughing stock among naval officers. She was a paddle wheel, thin-plated iron ship, 1,370 tons displacement, and double ender, built in 1863 for the purpose of river navigation during the war, and was used in the blockade. A number of similar vessels were bult at the same time. Two or three were lost and the rest were sold, except the Monocary, now on the Asiatic station, and the Tallipoosa, which has been greatly altered from the original plan.

STEAMER DESTROYED.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 21.—The steamer Morro Castle, of the Clyde line between New York and Charleston, was burned at her pier here early this morning. The fire organised in the after part of the saloon; cause unknown. The officers and the crew were all asleep and barely escaped with their lives. The fire spread so rapidly that the entire ship, including all the upper works, were in flames almost before an alarm could be given. The steamer is a total loss. She was constructed of wood, was 1,680 tons burden, and was to have sailed for New York to-day, and had received over half her cargo. The loss $270,000.

OPIUM SMUGGLING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The surveyor of this port seized, on the steamer City of Tokio, opium valued at $15,000. It was concealed in the water-tank, the only access to which is by the shaft well. It is considered impossible that the opium could have been concealed there without the connivance of some of the officers of the ship. Other seizures are expected.

THE WIGGINS SCARF.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Feb. 21.—Wiggins' prediction of a terrible storm in March has deterred a number of fishermen from making their next trip to the banks. The women are urging the men to stay at home. It is feared that the idleness will become so general that the best time for a good catch will be lost.

STAR ROUTE DIPLOMACY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Ker, the Government counsel, states that the prosecution have received information that the defendants in the Star Route case have said that they "fixed two members of the present jury." Ker is inclined to believe that the story is given out in the hope that it would prevent Rerdell from taking the stand for the Government.

SUPPORT YOUR FRIENDS.

THOSE old Reformers and independent voters who cast their ballots with us last June because they wished to support the National Policy, should not allow themselves to be led astray by the assertion that the Provincial Legislature has nothing do with our tariff. They should, it is true, have nothing to do with it, but it is equally true that they have most improperly had a great deal to do with it. Last June they used all the influence of their position, and employed their army of partisan officials to thwart the will of the people, and if they are allowed to retain the power which they thus abuse they will undoubtedly oppose the National Policy in the same way at the next Dominion election. In fact they are doing this all the time by speeches from the throne, by their utterances and votes in the House and even by dishonestly mutilating public documents. This very session just past they actually voted down a resolution declaring that they ought not to interfere against our present protective tariff.

Besides it is not only the imprudence of entrusting them with power which they thus abuse, there is the certainly that the success of these unpatriotic men would be represented abroad as an indication that Ontario is regretting its adoption of the National Policy, and so incalculable damage may be done. Why, their chief organ the Globe actually called upon capitalists to wait to see how the Provincial electors went before they ventured upon investing their capital on the faith of the National Policy being sustained.

The maintenance of the National Policy is of the utmost importance for our welfare, and no one should be so rash as to place the power to attack it in the hands of its opponents. It is a matter that effects every class of the community. Would the farmers for instance like to lose the good markets which have raised so greatly the prices of their products from the greater purchasing powers of the townspeople, and go back to the old market rates? So with our merchants and manufacturers, do they wish to give up the increased business with which they have been favoured under the National Policy? But for the mechanics and workingmen it is a question of their bread and butter, almost of life and death. Will one of them cast a ballot for those who would take the very bread from the mouths of himself and his children, for those who oppose by every possible means that tariff policy which has given them constant employment and remunerative wages?

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

HERE is the Boundary Question in a nutshell.

Mr. Mowat urges the acceptance of an award that he himself says gives us less than our rightful territory with a title which he does not venture to declare to be valid, that he may make political capital by the agitation.

Mr. Meredith wishes to appeal to the highest court of the realm—to the the fact of the throne—in order to obtain in full our rightful territory with an indisputable title.

SECTIONAL PREJUDICE.

THE selfstyled "Reformers" are now objecting to Mr. Thos. White, M. P., for Cardwell addressing an Ontario audience on politics. Considering that Mr. White represents an Ontario constituency, that for many years he conducted Ontario journals, the Peterborough REVIEW and Hamilton Spectator, and that he is an Ontario property holder, we do not know how he could well have a better right to express his views to Ontario men. Even if he is now residing in another province of our Dominion, we do not see why he should be treated as a foreigner. Such narrow sectional prejudice will certainly be scouted in Peterborough, where Mr. White and his family so long resided.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Mowat Administration has gone to the country with five members of the Cabinet, every one of whom is a lawyer. Well may the Province be harrassed with perpetual changes of the law, till even the judges own themselves puzzled, while practical reform are neglected.

⁂

THE current number of the Examiner contains even more than its usual amount of falsehood, personal abuse and slander, with the customary absence of argument. Its abuse cannot hurt those at whom it is aimed, but must on the contrary recoil upon the party that is cursed with such a disreputable advocate.

THE JUNE MAJORITY.

WE give below the figures of the Dominion election last June, for the polling divisions composing the West Riding of Peterborough, including Lakefield and Harvey then in the East Riding, and Galway then in North Victoria. It will be seen that we had then the substantial majority of 224, so our opponents may well admit, as the more candid men among them do, that the attempt to achieve a victory is hopeless. The result is a foregone conclusion, if only our friends are not too sanguine to work as they ought. Every possible vote should be polled so as to give us a majority that may discourage future attempts to capture the Riding:

WHO MUTILATED THE STATUES.

For months past the officials of the house wing of the capitol have been perlexed about depredations hitherto ascribed to relic hunters, which have been committed upon the statuary in the old hall of the house of representatives, now termed the "statuary hall." A piece of the sword of the Ethan Allen stature, a nose from the figure representing Lincoln and other pieces from like works of art have been missing, and yesterday morning it was discovered that a finger was gone from the John Winthrop statute. An investigation was instituted which disclosed the fact that a little French woman who sells photographs, bric-a-brace and relics, etc., in the corridor near by was to blame for the destruction, although not from mercenary motives or the promptings of a spirit of mischief. She is known to be "peculiar" in her ways. She has a habit of regularly going to the house and senate galleries to remain a few moments as though from a desire to worship the august bodies before her. Another habit is to go at the close of each day, to "statutary hall," and there in the twilight offer up her devotions to the marble figures placed there, first washing and brushing each one to cleanse them from the pollution of a world of sin. The cleansing process is what has done the mischief, and the mystery which has existed for years is explained. She was observed in the twilight of Friday evening paying special attention to the Winthrop statue. The old lady has for a generation or more kept her little photograph stand where it is now located, without license, rent, gas, fuel or any other expense, and is said to have saved much money. A son and daughter are maintained by her at one of the leading colleges. She is said to have obtained her privileges in the capitol originally from Henry Clay when he was speaker of the house. It is probable that her devotional exercises will be curtailed hereafter, as it is estimated that the damage already done will amount to hundreds of dollars. Lot Flannery, the sculptor, has been engaged to replace the lost members upon the different statues. He has hitherto done considerable work of the same kind about the capitol.—Cleveland Herald.

Excited Thousands

All over the land are going into ecstasy over Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their unlooked for recovery by the timely use of this great life saving remedy, causes them to go nearly wild in its praise. An Index of Character.

A Boston preacher says that nothing gives such a complete index to the character of a man as the substance he spreads on the icy sidewalk in front of his house. He who uses sifted ashes is a strict utilitarian, precise and hard in his ideas, without much sentiment, and prone to look to the end to be gained, without much thought of the gracefulness or beauty of the means employed. He who takes ashes, half-burned coal, and incombustible slag out of his grate and pitches the whole promiscuously over his sidewalk, is a man who really cares nothing for the safety of other people's limbs. He who covers slippery places with sawdust, which seems to afford a footing, but does not, is cynical and malevolent. He who strews the glassy pavement with sand so judiciously heated that it sticks to the ice without melting it, is refined and nice in his tastes, sympathetic in his disposition and bulging with philanthropy.

WORTH KNOWING.—A Fact Worth Knowing. The best household remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all throat and chest troubles tending toward Pulmonary Consumption is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, to be procured of any druggist.

Written for THE REVIEW.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING OF PETERBOROUGH.

Who is the man Reformers blame,
And with vile slander mix his name,
And try to take him now to task
For votes he's given in the past?
Why do they blame him? well, I'll try
To give the question a reply:
Because he voted firm and true,
The way he promised he would do.
He, like his party, firm and brave,
Redeem all pledges that they gave;
He said he'd vote both true and strong,
To help our colleges along,
And use all parties just the same,
Without respect to creed or name.
He did it, and now in his case,
They think his actions a disgrace;
Because their creed he did not take,
That promises were made to break,
That its the case, you've just to show
The source of Mowat, Blake & Co.
Of late they've tried so very hard,
To make the Boundary Award
A crutch to help their case along;
Of late it is not very strong,
And all their weakness, now they say,
Was brought around by old John A.,
Who taught the people all to see,
The grand results of the N.P.
And last, not least, the old Streams Bill,
They'd like to force against our will;
Which, as you read, you're sure to find,
Absurdity in every line.
It surely would, their case annoint,
When all the bailiffs' they appoint;
For lawsuits would be sure to grow,
To help along the faithful few.
Now, if we want good times to last,
Just hunt the pirates from the mast;
Vote, speak, and work with all your might,
We're sure to win, we know we're right,
You'll see them tumbling as with ague,
When we shout out, "Long live Carnegie!"

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE PROSPECTS.

News items are scarce, as everyone's attention seems to be given to politics at present. Both sides are working with more than usual energy, but the Conservatives are evidently far more sanguine than their opponents. You may expect even a better majority for Mr. Carnegie from this village than we gave last June to Mr. Burnham.

HASTINGS.

BUILDING.—The Star says that the building operations for the coming summer will, in addition to Brennan's hotel, include a brick dwelling for Mr. J. M. Wilson, and a similiar one for Mr. John McNichol.

OBITUARY.—Mrs. Elizabeth Kenny departed this life at 1 o'clock p.m. on Monday last, at the ripe age of 86 years and 5 months. The deceased was born in Ireland, in the vicinity of Knock, on the 29th September, 1797, when the country was in the throes of a revolution. She was married at an early age (16 years) to a Mr. Clark, emmigrating with her husband to Canada in 1830, settling in the then wilderness of Dummer, being the second or third settler in the township. Mr. Clarke lived but three years after his arrival in Canada. Mrs. Clark subsequently married a Mr. Kenny, a resident of Hastings, in 1839. Mr. Kenny died in 1866, since which time she has resided with her son, Mr. Thos. H. Clark, of this village. The deceased lady enjoyed remarkably good health, considering her advanced age, up to a few days before her death. The funeral took place on Wednesday, when the remains were interred in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Asphodel.

MANUFACTORY.—The village is considering an offer to erect a manufacturing establishment, which is summarized by the Star as follows:—"We propose putting in $20,000, and manufacture goods (a sample of which is enclosed) never before produced in Canada. We would employ 40 or 50 hands—mostly females—at the start, which would no doubt, be doubled in a very short time. If your people will give us the power and land, erect a suitable building, and give the whole rent and taxes free for five years, we would make arrangements to locate in your village."

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE CAMPBELL'S MEETING.—It was advertised by large posters that the Campbells were coming on Friday night last to uphold and praise the Mowat Government. Nobody belonging to the party made an appearance at the School House where the meeting was to be held, not even Mr. Preston from Port Hope, or Mr. Bertram or Mr. J. R. Stratton, of the Examiner, from Peterborough. There were about forty electors present, thirty being Liberal Conservatives and ten followers through thick and thin of Mr. Mowat. All went home about 9 o'clock to hold a meeting of their own, after being fooled. So mote it be.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.—Mr. Geo. Chalmers has got all the lumber to supply for the erection of the workshops and boarding house at Burleigh, for the works of the Trent Valley Canal. Mr. T. D. Croly, of Peterborough, and Mr. H. Wynn, of Lakefield, are the contractors to erect the buildings. Mr. Chalmers has also got the lumber for similar buildings at Buckhorn. Electors, does this look like an election dodge?

GRIT ELECTION DODGES.—A prominent employee of the Local Government, who does any amount of canvassing around, especially in the Back Country, has been very busy of late circulating that this Trent Valley Canal is the biggest humbug out, and only made to serve as an election dodge. He must not think that this sort of talk will have any effect around this section. There is also another young man in the Provincial Government employ in Peterborough making himself very busy at tea meetings and making farm to farm calls around Selwyn district, accompanied by a farmer from the North of Smith, a blind follower of Mr. Mowat. This young man draws a good salary from the public purse and should be taught to mind the business that he gets paid for. He will some day wish he had left elections alone; the Mowat party are not always to be in power.

R. C. CHURCH SERVICES.—His Lordship Bishop Jamot, of the Peterborough diocese, paid an official visit to this place on Thursday last. After Mass was celebrated in the morning he confirmed about twelve children. The Bishop has a very kindly way with him and the little ones, who had to come before him for confirmation, were taken into his confidence at once, and answered his questions very well. His Lordship was also holding services in the Back Country, where he has a large flock.

No Cause for Boasting.

Mr. Timothy Pardee points to the $4,800,000, which he says is the amount of the present surplus, as an evidence of economical management on the part of the Mowat Government, and as showing that they have been living within their income. But this view of the case is neither correct nor honest. As long ago as 1879, the Premier told the people of North Oxford that there was then a surplus of FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS. Since that time there has been no large outlay on capital account. There has been only the ordinary costs of maintenance to meet. The same revenue has come in, however, from the fixed sources, while in addition the woods and forests have been drawn on for millions of dollars. At this rate the surplus, instead of being five millions, as Mowat put it at Woodstock, should have now risen to seven or eight millions at least. Mr. Pardee tells us that they have been saving and economizing all the time. Yet what is the fact? That the surplus, notwithstanding the large special increment from the woods and forests, is less by a quarter of a million than it was in 1879. What does this show? if not a reign of extravagance and retrocession. Instead of keeping within the income, they are spending it, and a great deal more besides. They have been spending every red cent that comes from the fixed sources, and the capital obtained from the public domain besides, as well as eating largely into the surplus as it stood in 1879. This, we think, leaves the Commissioner of Crown Lands little room for boasting.—London Free Press.

Characteristics of an Indian Fighter.

A lank six-footer, wearing long hair and a white felt hat with an enormous brim, appeared on Kearny street yesterday afternoon, just as the matinee was out. His style and appearance was a sort of an imitation of Buffalo Bill, and the manner in which his hand wandered around every once and a while to the waistband of his pants, as if to clutch his trusty gun, made the spectators feel that he was really a bad, bad man. A couple of street Arabs had followed him for some time, when suddenly one of them stopped, and turning to his companion said, "Bill, this ere bloke is a fraud, he is; he ain't no scout nor injun fighter; he is one of them fellows as sells patent soap to clean yer clothes."

"How do yer know that he's a fraud?" asked the other.

"Cos I seed him a wiping his nose with a hankercher, instead of with his fingers, as all real scouts does."

Satisfied with this reason as conclusive proof of the fraud, the two urchins turned away in disgust, while the bystanders who heard the shrewd remark all laughed heartily.—San Francisco Examiner.

Six Hundred Knives Lost.

Passengers on the Peninsula and Oriental Milwa were placed in a strange predicament recently. An Indian knife-cleaner got drunk tied all the table-knives (upwards of 600) round his waist, and jumped overboard. The ship was stopped and turned round, but all efforts to rescue the unfortunate man with the much-needed table-knives were unavailable, and the passengers were compelled to eat with penknives and other substitutes until the vessel reached Alexandria.—Panama Star and Herald.

The Suttee in India.

The Governor-General's agent in Rajputana reports that a case of suttee, or widow burning, recently occurred at Utarna, in Jeypore. The victim was the widow of Sham Singh, chief of the village. The Jeypore authorities have acted promptly in the matter. The principal offenders, who were the sons and brothers of the deceased chief, have been sentenced to imprisonment for seven years, while minor accomplices have received sentences of three years' imprisonment.—St. James Gazette.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustation" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor having seen fit to dissolve the Legislature of this Province and to issue writs for the election of a new Legislature on the shortest possible notice, I beg respectfully to solicit your votes to return me as your representative in the Assembly about to be elected.

In doing so I beg to state:—

That I am opposed to the policy of the Mowat Government whereby we are being kept out of our just territorial rights, and that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure for the Province the boundaries assigned to it at Confederation.

I am opposed to all ex post facto legislation and I am convinced that it is contrary to sound policy as well as justice that any man's property should be taken from him without full and adequate compensation, to be ascertained by an independent and fairly constituted tribunal.

I believe there is now on the Statute Book of this Province all or nearly all the legislation required to protect the public interests and to provide for the acquisition of non-floatable streams and improvements which may have been made thereon upon terms at once just to the lumbermen and to the owners thereof.

I am opposed to the unnecessary centralization of patronage where it can be used to influence the electorate, believing that such centralization is dangerous to the freedom of the people and calculated to produce the same evils in Canada as it has already produced in the neighboring States.

I am opposed to any Government using the power vested in them for the time being by the people to prevent a free expression of public opinion upon any subject, and especially upon a subject with which they as a Government have nothing to do, as was done by the Mowat Government and their officials in the last Dominion election in regard to the tariff policy adopted by the people.

I am opposed to the reckless and unnecessary extravagance of the Mowat Government whereby the capital of the Province is being rapidly dissipated and its ordinary expenditure increased to a point which cannot be maintained without a resort to direct taxation in one form or another.

With a view to bringing the ordinary expenditure within the ordinary income of the Province, without curtailing those expenditures which have a direct bearing upon local taxation, I shall advocate a substantial reduction in the number of the representatives of the Assembly, greater economy in the departments and generally such reforms as may be calculated to reduce those expenditures from which the people are deriving no direct advantage, believing that they are entitled to and desire the cheapest Government that suffices to regulate their affairs.

I am opposed to making the liquor traffic the shuttlecock of any political party, and will advocate and support every measure calculated to place the issue of licenses and the enforcement of the laws relating thereto in the hands of those least likely to be influenced by political considerations.

I am in favor of such a readjustment of the franchise as will give to all classes of the community that voice in the government of the country to which they are entitled and of which certain classes are now unjustly deprived by the present Government, notwithstanding that they have had ample opportunities of remedying this injustice.

The educational department under a political head not having proved a success, I shall favor a return to the non-political position which the department occupied when under the able management of the late Dr. Ryerson.

I believe that too much attention and too much money has been spent on what is called higher education and upon educational theorizing to the neglect of the three R's; that the cost of maintaining public schools—especially in the outlying districts—has been unnecessarily increased thereby, and that the people are not deriving the advantages which they should do from the large amounts annually expended nominally for educational purposes, but in too many instances to little practical advantage.

There are, no doubt, several other questions to which allusion might be made, but this address is already too long, and as my views on the public questions of the day are already pretty well known to most of you, and especially as I hope to have the opportunity, between this and polling day, of discussing the issues of the campaign with my opponent in your presence, I shall conclude by expressing the hope that my long and active connection with the public affairs of the Town and County of Peterborough, my practical knowledge of its agricultural and manufacturing interests and the manner in which I have hitherto discharged the public duties with which I have from time to time been entrusted have been such as to secure for me the hearty and active support of not only those who agree with me, but also of those electors who believe it to be the duty of a representative to try and impress his views upon his party leaders and not simply to vote as directed by them.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN CARNEGIE.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Yelping Under the Lash.

Our intellectual Tom Thumb howls under the lash like a whipped hound. He forgets the proverb that "any stick is good enough to beat a dog." A sensible man is far from being annoyed by the yelping of a cur he has been obliged to chastise, but on the contrary is gratified by this proof that the blow has been effective, and that after its whinings have ceased the whelp may take the needed lesson to heart and observe better manners in future.

The Champion Reciter.

Our intellectual Tom Thumb wants people to believe that he really writes his own editorials, or at least some of them, but this will not be credited by them who know him. Perhaps he will next claim that he makes his own speeches, but that will not do, for there are too many who remember hearing "Brock's Baby" deliver his celebrated recitation "Canada our Home," ably written by the editor but spoiled by the schoolby delivery of the nominal proprietor, who was far from perfect in his lesson. We must in fairness admit that we are told by those who heard the third or fourth repetition of this recitation that he showed considerable improvement by dint ofpractice. We always like to give credit to young aspirants when we can fairly do so.

Bradburn's Opera House.

In Bradburn's Opera House this evening the military drama "The French Spy" will be presented by members of the Battery assisted by the best local talent. The play itself is a good one, costumes especially for the occasion have been made at Messrs. Dolan & Co's, scenery has been prepared especially for to-night, and the parts have been given out with care, so that those who are present to night—and we hope to see a large attendance—may expect to see a good drama well acted. The entertainment will conclude with a laugebie farce, "the Rival Sergeants," and this farce alone is as good as a whole evening's entertainment given by some companys. Attend at the Opera House this evening and encourage home talent and enjoy a good entertainment.

That Boy's Sister.

On Wednesday Dr. Vincent delivered a lecture in the George Street Methodist Church, the subject being "That Boy's Sister," on whom he discoursed as amusingly and at the same time instructively as he did on "That Boy" himself, on the occasion of his previous visit. We wish we had time and space to do even imperfect justice to the lecture. Dr. Vincent began by describing in graphic terms the incalculable influence of woman, as mother, wife, sister, daughter and other relations in life. He claimed for her equality with man, no inferiority, though different in nature. He discussed many points of the wide subject of Woman's place and culture, taking an individual as an example, and following her course in a series of pictures. Thus he described with his effective mixture of grave and gay, pathos and humor, the babe, the child with her doll, the girl of fourteen, the maiden with her lover, the full grown woman, and the wife and mother in her home circle. He dwelt at length on the woman in three important spheres, namely, the kitchen, the nursery and the parlour, giving in respect to each vivid and often intensely humorous description mingled with good advice and valuable suggestions. He thought that both law and social opinion should allow woman to do any work which she could do, and to obtain sufficient pay for good work. But it must be good work, not second rate, and to do this, the women must be as carefully trained for it as men are. "That Boy's Sister" should be as thoroughly grounded in knowledge as "that boy," and not merely receive accomplishments. Some of the occupations which she might fitly and properly undertake were mentioned, and others upon which she could hardly hope or wish to enter were amusingly detailed. It was easy to perceive that there was a line to be drawn, and he had no sympathy with the woman who tried to overstep this line. The most useful woman, the most useful man, in their relations, both to each other and to society were those who remained truly womanly and manly. As to whether women might become orators and public speakers, he could not say no with the examples that ye had, but he hoped they would remain exceptional. As to the suffrage, he believed that nearly every true women could control from one to five votes, but by casting her own ballot she might lose her influence over all but this single vote. In their nurseries, in their parlours they could really mould public opinion. He proceeded to describe several specimens of "That Boy's Sister" in a manner that was highly relished by his audience. In conclusion he related in a very poetic strain a vision of angles considering what woman wes most deserving of a crown and finally awarding it to a loving, wise and tender mother, a true woman strong, pure and patient. He dismissed with the benediction his numerous audience, who had listened to him with close attention and very manifest pleasure and approval.

THE cause of death. It is known almost to a certainty that in fatal diseases the individual dies either by the brain, heart or lungs. How wise then is the effort to maintain a perfect state of health? Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are a veritable "Health Giver." THE TEMPERANCE PLATFORM.

The policy of Mr. Meredith and of the Conservatives of Ontario as a body, according to their most solemn pledges and authoritative statements is as follows:—

I. That they will maintain the present restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors without any relaxation.

II. That they will maintain intact the present limitations of the number of liquor licenses.

III. That they will not give the control of the liquor licenses to the municipal councils.

IV. That they will free the granting and control of liquor licenses from any connection with party politics.

V. That they will entrust the enforcement of the liquor laws to officers appointed to carry them out without favor or partisan considerations.

VI. That they will restore to the local municipalities the license fees, now carried to Toronto.

What true temperance man is there who will not vote for this programme in preference to the Mowat system of partisan officials, irregularities connived at, illicit groggeries unrepressed, and officers admitted by the Department to leave the liquor laws unenforced?

POLICE PROTECTION.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I have read with interest Chief Constable Johnston's letter in the REVIEW. I suppose he is right, and that he would be acting in accordance with his instructions in refusing to cross the boundary road into an adjoining township to arrest a law breaker. But what is the result? The building of two railways brings to our neighborhood large numbers of navvies, many of them lawless characters, especially when they are half drunk. They obtain liquor in town, and if they do not reach the violent stage of drunkenness until after they have passed the boundary road, the Police force cannot cross the line, and these rowdies are at once beyond control. Our Police officers are men who try to do their duty, and I find no fault with them personally. But if we are to be flooded for a year or two with lawless navvies, I think it would be well, if, for a time, our force were increased, and some means devised, as the telephone for instance, by which they could be quickly summoned in case of emergency. I do not speak for the country, although it would not be a great stretch of duty to follow a drunken crowd of roughs a few yards across the boundary, but for the outskirts of the town. The men who took possession of my father's place on Sunday, might equally well have gone into some place within the town limits. They had come from town, and they were all more or less drunk, one of them being so far gone that be could not walk without assistance. They had freshly filled bottles of liquor with them which they had certainly obtained somewhere on Sunday, for they were not the men to leave them full for any length of time, a fact of which we had only too good evidence, and in cases of this sort the line should not be so strictly drawn between town and county. The Police force are all constables for the county as well. The people living just beyond the town are, many of them, town ratepayers whose daily business is in town. The danger comes from the men leaving town, half drunk and carrying liquor with them. Only last evening a farmer told me that a party of drunken navvies had, not long since, made him give them a drive, one of them playfully producing a revolver to emphasize his request. Perhaps there are other ratepayers of the town who would not object to a little more protection while the railways are being built. If so, will they speak out?

Yours, etc.,
E. B. EDWARDS.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, *nor is there anything else in the least de*gree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

A DASH FOR LIBERTY.

Three Prisoners Run Away with a Team and are Recaptured.

On Thursday night a number of men who came in on the nine o'clock train raised a disturbance at the station. After creating quite a noise among themselves, they extending their operations to others, and Harry Drake was struck at and received a cut below the eye, and it is believed that it was inflicted with a knife. The railway employees interfered and strove to make peace, and were turned on by the ruffians. A general fight followed for a few minutes, and Constable Adams appeared and arrested one man. He placed him in Cavanagh's hack, with two of his comrades, and started for the cells. The prisoners kicked and and struck at the constable, and his foot slipping, he fell out of the rig before they got out of the station yard. Soon after turning into Charlotte street the three men threw the driver out, and seizing the reins, made a dash for liberty. They sped along the street at a rapid rate, and made straight for the river. They, not understanding the lay of the streets, crossed the river, and it is wonderful how they and the horses escaped serious injury, as the bank on the east side was almost perpendicular. They were followed across the river by several men, while Constable Adams ran around by the bridge in order to get ahead of them, and Constable Pidgeon and Mr. Cavanagh followed in a rig. The three men, whose names were Wm. Taylor, John Stain and Robert Miller, attempted to drive up the bank at the opposite side of the river, but it was so steep that they cold not accomplish it, and they were overtaken by their pursuers. Taylor and Stain showed fight when overtaken and gave some blows, but they were overcome and held until the arrival of the constables. Miller and Stain went quietly to the sleigh, but Taylor refused to walk and was dragged through the snow and seemed to enjoy that mode of travel. While being conveyed to the cells he gave considerable trouble to his keepers, but the three adventurers were finally safely locked up.

After being put in to the cells, Taylor threatened that he would burn the building before morning. This led to a thorough search of his person, and two bunches of matches were found in a concealed pocket. A fourth man, who belonged to the party, was afterwards arrested.

IN THE COURT.

When the prisoners were brought into Court this morning all their courage of the previous night appeared to have forsaken them.

Wm. Taylor and John Stain, for assaulting Constable Adams while in the discharge of his duty, were sentenced to three months in gaol at hard labour. Robert Miller, for being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5 or thirty days in gaol. The three men, for malicious injury a pleasure sleigh, the property of T. Cavanagh, received an additional three months each in gaol at hard labour.

Matthew Belf, the fourth man who was arrested, was charged with wandering around late at night and with being idle. He was fined $5 or thirty days in gaol, and paid the fine and was set at liberty.

THE POPULAR MAJORITY.

An Ottawa correspondent, commenting upon Mr. Blake's claim that the Ontario representation in the House of Commons is not in exact proportion to the popular vote, furnished the following proof that Mr. Mowat really represents the minority of this Province, and only maintained his position last election by means of his Gerrymandering Act:—

"This claim of Mr. Blake has, however, had the effect of causing an examination to be made of the returns of the last local elections in Ontario, and the result shows that while Mr. Mowat was returned by a majority of 26 in the House, the popular vote was Conservative by a majority of 5,551. The figures have been carefully prepared from the official returns published in the journals of the Ontario House for 1880, and show that in 86 constituencies where contests took place, 127,742 votes were polled for Conservative candidates, and 122,191 for Grit candidates. In one constituency (South Simcoe), having a vote of 4,811, a Conservative was returned by acclamation, and in Cornwall, having a vote of 1,783, a Liberal was returned by acclamation. If, therefore, we add South Simcoe to the total Conservative vote, and deduct Cornwall, we have a majority for the Conservatives of 8,579 in the Province, while Mr. Mowat had a majority of 26 in the House. That such a result could be possible seems astonishing, and shows only too plainly how Mr. Mowat "fixed the constituencies" by his Redistribution Bill. Mr. Blake has several times intimated a disposition toward cumulative voting, and if it continues to be that Mr. Mowat can so gerrymander the constituencies that he shall have 70 per cent. of the House, while he gets only a trifle over 40 per cent. of the votes polled, then it would appear as if the time had nearly come for cumulative voting."

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

THE INFLUENCE OF LAWYERS.

The Chicago Times has been investigating the lawyer question. It figures out that there are 1,453 lawyers in Chicago, and more lawyers in Illinois than in great Great Britain. The Times then goes on to say:—"Lawyers may almost be said to constitute the governing class in this country. Lawyers usually constitute the majority of both houses of Congress and of both branches in the State Legislatures. Lawyers make the laws, quarrel over them, and then get them declared unconstitutional. The next session of the Legislature they repeat the operations of the previous year. The uncertainties of the law increases from year to year. The more the law is expounded, the more difficult it is to understand. The more light is thrown upon it, the more obscure it becomes. The more commentaries there are on it, the more are required. Other things become cleared as time moves on. But the reverse is true in relation to the meaning and application of the law. No judge or bench of judges is even measurably sure in rendering a decision. All one set of judges can do is to make a guess. It is all guess work, from the highest tribunal to the lowest."

These words are in the main applicable to Canada. The Dominion Parliament is largely composed of Lawyers. The Ontario Legislature is another favourite haunt for lawyers, and they have succeeded in making such a jumble of the Judicature Act that Chief Justice Hagarty says he does not expect to live long enough to be able to understand it. Winnipeg has a large and varied assortment of lawyers, but in the Provincial Administration there is only one, the Attorney General. Still it is difficult to see how the world could get on without lawyers, human nature being what it is. Certainly laws could neither be made nor amended without lawyers. Some years ago a worthy doctor, who a member of the Dominion Legislature, prepared a bill regulating the sale of poisons and it was on the point of being passed when a lawyer discovered that it repealed the statutes relating to murder and forgery.—Winnipeg Times.

MADOC.

Mining.—The Review says that Capt. James, of Lake Superior, and Mr. A. Coe, of this village, have taken a contract to mine 200,000 tons of ore at Coehill. The Diamond drill lately sent out to the Emily mine by Mr. Coe commenced boring last week.

Accident.—The Belleville Ontairo says that on Monday R. McNeill, of the Windsor House, Madoc, was fixing a clothes line on the top of the building, in which act he was standing on a board extended from the stables to the hotel. The board broke letting him fall to the ground a distance of about 16 feet. In falling he struck his head against the stone wall, fracturing his skull. Slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

LINDSAY.

The Races.—The Warder says that the races here this week were very successful in every way. On the first day Maggie May was the winner, owned by Mr. M. O'Holloran; but next day Highland Boy and Jenny King took the lead.

One of the long sheds in the Jewett house yard fell in on Saturday owing to the weight of snow and rain. Fortunately there were no teams under at the time. Several other sheds in other parts of the town also went down that morning.

PORT HOPE.

Carnival.—The Guide says that on Wednesday evening the Skating Rink was well filled with those bent on the enjoyment of the occasion. The costumes though not quite so numerous as at the last carnival were as good, and in many cases were ahead of it. There was a fair showing of the picturesque and beautiful, but as usual the comic was in the majority. The Band of the 46th Regt. furnished the music. The ice was in good condition and the spectators numerous.

THE HOME RULERS' POLICY.

London, Feb. 23.—The News says it is understood that Parnell has consented to reconsider his purpose of moving an amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, arraigning the executive of Ireland for the administration of the Crimes Act.

THE "TIMES" ON PARNELL.

London, Feb. 23.—The Times says that the marked rejection by Parnell in the House of Commons yesterday of the opportunity offered him for clearing himself from the discredit of holding relations with the Irish occasions might be justified if his political conduct had been from the beginning above suspicion. The country cannot be expected to view with favor conduct which seems wanting in courage or candor.

A DENIAL FROM MACADARAS

Paris, Feb. 23.—Gen. Macadaras laid his case before American Minister Morton, who introduced Macadaras to Kelly, an American lawyer. These three framed a telegram denying that Macadaras was "Number 1" and forwarded it to Mr. Trevelyan, the British Ambassador having first approved of it.

THE PRISONERS.

Dublin, Feb. 23.—The prisoners charged with the Phoenex Park murders are supplied with meals from the public house at which Jas. Carey stopped to drink on the way from the scene of the murders on the evening of the sixth of May. A stranger calls at the house once a week and pays the bill, the authorities still continue to search for the knife used by the assassins.

AMERICAN.

THE PRISONER'S COMPLAINTS.

Sing Sing, Feb. 23.—A convict discharged yesterday said the convicts have been telling the investigating committee a big pack of lies. He had nothing to complain of, and had found the rations good enough and the work fair. He had been punished three times and deserved it. Two other discharged convicts had no complaints to make. An intercepted letter from a convict to ex-keeper Campbell states that the food is satisfactory and the work not over hard, but the men are discouraged because they have not private means of making a little money to assist them on leaving prison.

THE SENATE TARIFF BILL.

New York, Feb. 23.—The Tribune's Washington despatch says that the Democratic leaders are considering a scheme to move to suspend the rules some day next week to take the Senate Tariff Bill from the speakers table and pass it. This would require a vote of two thirds. Carlisle says seventy-five Democrats will support such a motion. A large Republican reinforcement will be necessary, and this some Democrats appear to think can be obtained.

HEAVY GAMBLING.

Philadelphia, Feb. 23.—Davis, a well known sportingman has won $60,000 from farobanks in New York in a month.

MISSISSIPPI IMPROVEMENTS.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The report of the house committee which have investigated the Mississippi river improvements, will say that the experiments should be more economical, and will condemn national aid to the levees. A despatch from Memphis reports the continued destruction of the engineer works for the improvement of the Mississippi above that point.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 23.—Twenty five miles below here J. S. Rhodes, his wife and three children, a widow lady and two men, names unknown, were drowned while crossing the mississippi river. They were returning from Cemton with the body of Rhodes' stepdaughter.

BELLEVILLE.

Accident.—At the nomination of candidates for East Hastings the platform fell, with the following results:—Thos. Kelley, Thurlow, leg broken and internally injured; S. M. Palmer, cut about head; W. C. Thompson, Thurlow, seriously hurt; W. H. Milburn, shoulder dislocated; John Hoskins, Thurlow, seriously hurt; Wm. Moon, N. Vermilyea, W. Copeland, N. G. Brintnell, Chas. Hudson, J. F. PARTISAN AGITATION.

NOTHING puzzles the supporters of Mr. Mowat more than to ask them what they intend to do about the Boundary Award, if the other party interested, that is the Dominion of Canada, continues, through its representatives in Parliament who have the jurisdiction in the matter, to refuse to ratify the award. The answer is always high-sounding, but vague in the extreme. They will stand up for the award—they will wave their flag—they will maintain the rights of Ontario—they will resist Bleu dictation, &c., &c. When further asked by what practical means they will accomplish all this, they hesitate for a reply. Will they go to war? "No," they say, for they have found that their old threats of rebellion and civil war were not favourably received. Will they wait for a new Dominion election in the hope that a House of Commons will be elected that will be favourable to the award, now rejected by our representatives, including the majority of those from Ontario? "No," again, for they want a settlement immediately, and without delay. What will they do then? This is the question for which they had no ready answer, but of late they seem to have adopted the formula:—"Agitate, agitate, and if unsuccessful, appeal to the Queen."

Now what does this really mean? Agitation can have no practical effect unless it changes the decision of the House of Commons, which cannot be done for four years, and very improbably then. So we are to have agitation for four years, or perhaps nine years, or even longer, and then an appeal to the Queen, that is to the judicial committee of the Privy Council. If so, why not go there at once, as is the wish of Canada, and as Sir John Macdonald suggested as the proper course more than ten years ago? What can possibly be gained by delay, when a resort to the Privy Council is inevitable in the end?

It is true that hot-headed Reformers called those "traitors" who wished to appeal to the Queen, and "robbers" who would submit the matter to the highest court of the realm, but they have apparently thought better of that. Mr. Mowat announces himself willing to go to the Privy Council, if he can have the patronage and pickings of the debateable territory wherewith to maintain himself in power meanwhile. His supporters advocate an appeal to the Queen, after they have enjoyed the amount of agitation they may desire. Sensible men will ask why the appeal should not be made at once, and the matter be settled justly and conclusively?

The reason is plain. Mr. Mowat and his supporters wish to "agitate" to make political capital for their own maintenance in power, and they do not care how much the interests of this province suffer in the process.

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

HOME CORRUPTION.

The Mowat administration has not filled, as it should have done before the nominations, the vacancy in its ranks, caused by the retirement of the Hon. S. C. Wood. The effect of this would be, if by some unfortunate chance they were retained in power, that they would have to put the country to the expense and inconvenience of another election, in regard to the member they choose to fill the vacancy. And they wilfully cause this unnecessary inconvenience for a corrupt purpose, that of influencing a number of electors by holding out the hope to them that their member may be in the Cabinet.

This is on a par with their gross corruption in delaying for months the appointment of our County Registrar, that they may dangle the already promised situation before the eyes of other applicants, who will find themselves simply fooled.

Such corrupt conduct is even more immoral than direct bribery. The briber does wrong, but it is with his own money, but these pretended purists, Mr. Mowat and his colleagues, are bribing by means of the influence they only hold in trust for the benefit of the people of the Province, not for their own agrandizement.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Mowat organs are endeavoring to class as an independant, Mr. F. H. McDougall, who has been nominated for Ottawa, in rivalry with Mr. O'Keefe. Mr. McDougall's claims to independance, seem to be that he took the stump for the Reformers at the last Dominion election, that he has taken the stump for the Reformers in the present contest, that he was nominated to the late Reform convention at Toronto by the Reformers of Russell as one of their delegates, and that he attended in this capacity the Reform convention. What a very independant politician! The plain truth is that Mr. F. H. McDougall is an out and out supporter of Messrs. Mowat and Blake.

⁂

MR. NEELON's election by acclamation for Lincoln is claimed as a victory for the Mowat Administration. Mr. Neelon himself publicly announces himself as an independent member. He voted last session to condemn Messrs. Mowat & Co., for their attempts to oppose the National Policy, and he gave other votes against them. It was as a warm supporter of the N. P. and as an independent member that Mr. Neelon was permitted to be elected by acclamation.

THE TEMPERANCE PLATFORM.

The policy of Mr. Meredith and of the Conservatives of Ontario as a body, according to their most solemn pledges and authoritative statements is as follows:—

I. That they will maintain the present restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors without any relaxation.

II. That they will maintain intact the present limitations of the number of liquor licenses.

III. That they will not give the control of the liquor licenses to the municipal councils.

IV. That they will free the granting and control of liquor licenses from any connection with party politics.

V. That they will entrust the enforcement of the liquor laws to officers appointed to carry them out without favor or partisan considerations.

VI. That they will restore to the local municipalities the license fees, now carried to Toronto.

What true temperance man is there who will not vote for this programme in preference to the Mowat system of partisan officials, irregularities connived at, illicit groggeries unrepressed, and officers admitted by the Department to leave the liquor laws unenforced?

MOWAT'S LOGIC.

(To the Editor of The World.)

A correspondent to the Toronto World very pointedly criticises Mr. Mowat's policy as follows:—

SIR: If I understand the matter aright, Mr. Mowat's policy is, first—to withdraw old powers and privileges from the municipal bodies, also from the judges, and transfer the same to the provincial government. This has already been done with regard to the liquor business and the division courts, and the report seems to have every color of truth about it that, if he be again returned to power, the present local control of the schools will be next attacked. At the same time, remember, it is contended on his side that the doctrine of Provincial rights should be pushed to the farthest limit possible, as against alleged aggression on the part of dominion authority.

It comes to this, in effect, that the only honest, capable and trustworthy authority that we have is that of the province. The dominion authority above it, and municipal authority below it, are alike either dishonest or incapable, or both. The former is dishonest and rapacious and above all things bent on fleecing Ontario; the latter is so morally degraded as to be unfit either to issue licenses or to manage the public schools. For a board of school trustees, with its limited jurisdiction, is of course a municipal body. Now observe what follows: When the people meet to elect members of the provincial legislature, they are sure to choose a majority of honest and capable men. But when the same people meet to elect members of the dominion parliament or the municipal councils, equally sure are they to choose a majority of rogues and fools together. In parliament at Ottawa, and in our municipal councils from the Ottawa to the Detroit river, corruption and incompetence reign supreme; while, by a strange contradiction, a provincial assembly supporting only wise and honest government is chosen by almost the same identical body of electors. This is Mowat logic; I ask the public how it squares with common sense.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

THE PRINCE IMPERIAL.

Address at the Unveiling of the Memorial by the Prince of Wales.

The following is the speech of the Prince of Wales at the unveiling of the United Service Memorial to the late Prince Louis Napoleon upon Woolwich Common, a summary of which was telegraphed at the time:—"I acquiesce, with every feeling of gratification, in the wish of the committee that I should unveil the statue of the late lamented Prince Imperial of France. In performing this duty it is obvious to all concerned that the short ceremony of to-day is not a political one in any sense of the word, for this is a memorial contributed by more than 25,000 subscribers of all ranks, and from every branch of her Majesty's sea and land forces. We are assembled here for the purpose of inaugurating a monument to the memory of the young and gallant Prince who fell in fighting the Queen's enemies. This is a specially well-chosen spot for the statue, which has been so successfully modeled by my relative, Count Gleichen, who stands beside me, fronting as it does, the academy where the young Prince passed two years of his life. He there acquired military knowledge, and showed extraordinary ability. Though he was a foreigner, and had great difficulties to contend with in mastering the English language, we are told by the reports of the Professor that after that two years which he spent here he might perfectly well, if he had chosen to enter the English Army, have gone into the Royal Artillery or Royal Engineers. Afterward he was attached to a field battery during the manoeuvres in the Aldershot district. After that, when the war in South Africa broke out, and he saw that the comrades with whom he had studied here, and with some of whom he had served in the Autumn manoeuvres, were going to share in the trials and arduous duties of the war, his natural impulse was to accompany them. By the Queen's permission he therefore joined the army in South Africa. The rest is a matter of history. We all know what befell him, and how deeply his death has been regretted by every one. These virtues, that blameless life, that courage, and that obedience to orders which characterized him will, I am sure, prove a bright example to many young men entering the Army; and I feel confident that when the Cadets who are educated at this academy look upon the statue we inaugurate to-day they will, seeing before them the features of a young and brave Prince who died with his face to the foe, wish to emulate his bright example." His Royal Highness then unveiled the monument amid cheers, and Capt. Bigge, of the Royal Household, deposited two wreaths of bay upon the eight corners of the pedestal on behalf of the Queen.

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

CHINESE AND ENGLISH.

The Difference in the Habits and Customs of the Two People.

The contrarieties of the Chinese, as compared with us, have often been commented on. The Rev. Selah Brown writes about them in the Christian Advocate. We shake hands as a salutation; a Chinaman shakes hands with himself. He stands at a distance and, clasping both together, he shakes them up and down at you. We uncover the head as a mark of respect; they keep their heads covered, but take off their shoes for politeness. We shave the face; they shave the head and eyebrows. We cut out our finger nails; they consider it aristocratic to have nails from three to five inches long, which they are obliged to protect in silver cases. The Chinaman's waistcoat is outside his coat, and his drawers outside his trousers. We blacken our shoes; he whitens them. We have soup as a first course at dinner and dessert at last; they have desert at first and soup at last. We want our wines ice cold; the Chinese drink theirs scalding hot. We bury in the earth; they on its surface. With us, black clothing is a badge of mourning; with them, white garments indicate the loss of friends. In that land of opposites it is the old men who fly kites, walk on stilts, and play the shuttlecock, and, to keep up their odd ways of doing things, they play the latter with their feet instead of their hands. In China women do men's work, and men are the milliners, dressmakers and washerwomen. With us the right hand is the place of honor; with them it is the left hand. In dating letters we place the year last; they write the year first. They always speak of the mariner's compass (their own invention) as pointing to the south. We pay our physicians when we are sick; they pay while they are well, but as soon as they get sick the pay stops. Here men kill their enemies; a Chinaman gets revenge by killing himself. We use a soft pillow; they a block of wood. They launch ships sidewise, ring bells from the outside, and actually turn their screws in the opposite direction from ours.

A Horse's Love for His Old Master.

Seven years ago, while Major Starkweather was mayor of Williamsport, he was the owner of a pair of elegant dark sorrel horses. One of the horses died, and the mayor, desiring to have a match team, sold the other horse to Mr. A. Miller, who did not have him half an hour before Dr. R. G. Martin, our mayor, took him on trial for a week, and was so pleased that he bought him. Dr. Martin owns the horse to this day, the animal being one of his fine match team. On Thursday morning, while Major Starkweather was going along Center square, he noticed the horse standing at the curb along Peters' building. He still has a warm place in his affections for the horse, and wishing to test the memory of Harry (now Charley) went up to him and spoke to him. The horse recognized his old master at once, and gave unmistakable evidence of his affection. He placed his nose on the major's breast, and in other ways demonstrated his delight in seeing his former owner. The horse, not being hitched to a post, followed Major Starkweather some distance, seemingly loth to part with his company.—Allentown Register.

The Trent Valley Canal.

The Belleville Intelligencer says it is not remarkable that the Mowat Government could place a grant of money in the estimates to tear down the existing works of the Trent Valley Canal, so that the canal would have become an impossibility for all time to come, and Mr. Ferris reap a rich harvest from the drowned lands? but the funds were all spent when aid was wanted to extend the North Hastings Railway into the country that has supplied large funds from timber dues.

Rat Skins Eclipsed.

Speaking of the seal fisheries, Mr. Earle said that many seal skins were now sent to London and Paris to be manufactured into kid (?) gloves. "You must know," he said, "it would be very difficult to secure a sufficient number of kids to turn into gloves to meet the demand, and even such a plebian family as the rat must give out after a time. Some of the very best Paris made gloves you buy now are made of sealskin. There is quite a demand for sealskins for this purpose." In reply to a question as to whether the fisheries in Newfoundland would be satisfactory this season, Mr. Earle said he thought they would, as the winter had not been very severe there, and there would probably not be much ice on the coast. In this case the vessels would be able to get out from the coast and make a good haul. —Globe Cor.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1883.

Mr. Carnegie's Committee.

The meeting of Mr. Carnegie's general committee and friends in Hill's Music Hall this evening will be opened at 7 o'clock. The friends will please notice the change of hour, and attend in large numbers.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending Feb. 17th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $5,154.20; freight, $10,956.41; total, $16,110.61, as compared with $14,476.22 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $1,634.39; and the aggregate traffic to date is $95,595.74, being an increase of $5-467.75 over 1882.

Heavy Snow Falls.

The large amount of snow which has fallen this winter has taken affect on sheds and outhouses which were not strongly built, and the roofs of several sheds in different parts of the town have collapsed under the weight of snow which has lodged upon them. Persons have been busy the last few days removing the snow from the roofs of the blocks on George street, lest it should slide off suddenly and bury someone under the avalanche.

Obituary.

The Lindsay Warder contains the following obituary notice of Major Wallace:—

"On Friday evening Major Wallace, father of Mr. J. W. Wallace, Mayor of Lindsay, and one of the oldest residents of this section of country, passed away, aged 80 years. The deceased was born at Tyne Head, Northumberland, Eng., June 1st, 1803, and came to Canada about 1815, settling on a farm with his parents at the foot of Yauraska Mountain, about thirty miles from Montreal. He moved to Upper Canada about 1833 and in connection with his brother-in-law, Mr. Brogdin, built the first wharf at Port Hope and the second frame house in Peterborough, and when a guide had to be obtained to pilot them through the woods from Port Hope to Peterborough. In 1837 Mr. Wallace took an active part in quelling the rebellion; was commissioned Lieutenant 1st or 2nd in Captain T. Benson's Co., and was afterwards gazetted Major in the Militia. In politics he was independent, voting for the man he thought best suited to serve his country rather than the political party he represented. During the past few months Major Wallace had suffered intensely, which he bore as only a Christian can till his lamented death on Friday. The remains were taken to Toronto on Saturday morning and deposited to rest in Mount Pleasant cemetery."

The Temperature.

The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a. m., 6° above zero; at noon, 23° above, and at 4 p.m., 27° above.

The Weather Probabilities.

Another snow storm visited us last evening. To-day is clear and cold. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh, north-eastern to north-westerly winds; fair weather, and lower temperature.

Going To Montreal.

The Toronto Mail says that a consultation is understood to have taken place on Thursday among the officers who have warrants against Flemming, when the Barrie officer agreed to forego his first claim for his custody in favour of Detective Fahey, of Montreal. This action is in consequence of a considerable difference in the laws of the two Provinces, and the statement that the laws of the Province of Quebec were ample to punish Flemming if found guilty of the offences with which he is charged.

Presentation.

Mr. John Dixon, M. A., Principal of the Collegiate Institute, who, on account of ill health, is unable to attend to his duties, has been presented by the teachers and pupils with a set of silver, handsomely ornamented, as a mark of their esteem and regard for him. The present was procured from Mr. J. McClelland, and it will, no doubt, be preserved by Mr. Dixon as a precious souviner. The following was inscribed on the silver:—"To Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, with kind regards, from the teachers and pupils of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute."

Missionary Meeting.

A meeting was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening in aid of the home and foreign missions. The Rev. E. F. Torrance, pastor, occupied the chair, and the Rev. E. J. Stobo conducted the opening devotional exercises. Mr. W. Johnson, secretary, read the annual report, which showed that $900 had been collected last year in this congregation for missionary purposes, and the Rev. Mr. Torrance stated that $2,000 had been contributed by the congregation for missionary and benevolent purposes. The Rev. Mr. Stobo delivered a very instructive address, and the Rev. Mr. Grant, of Orillia, advocated, in eloquent terms, the claims of the home and foreign mission fields. The meeting concluded with the usual exercises.

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

Dramatic.

There was a large attendance at Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday night, to witness the presentation of the military drama "The French Spy," under the auspices of the Peterborough Division of the Durham Field Battery. The following was the cast of characters:—

General Damremont	Chas. Maurice
Colonel Bernelle	E. B. Lightbody
Capt. Didier	Jos. Metherall
Sergt. Dubourg	Jas. Paterson
Tony Bavard	Chas. Robinson
Achmet Bey, Dey of Algiers	Ed. Clegg
Murad	Jas. Cobban
Osmin	Thos. Wilson
Ibrahim	W. Metherall
Henri St. Aime (Hamet)	Samuel Sharpe
Mathilde de Merle	Miss M. Sharpe
Madame Dubourg	Miss F. Russell
Marie, her daughter	Mrs. S. Martyn
Louise	Mrs. M. Barry

It is not usual to criticise the individual playing of amateurs, although in this case the acting was such as would not be harmed by criticism. All the parts were well taken, and acting the of some of the members was superior to that often seen in travelling companies. They appeared free on the stage, and the by-play was appropriate and effective. The last scene, when the French blew up the walls and rescued the prisoners, drew down the house, and richly deserved the applause so liberally given. The entertainment concluded with a laughable farce, "The Rival Sergeants," with the following cast:—

Sergeant O'Flynn	Thos. Wilson
Sergeant Henry	C. Robinson
Margaretta	Miss F. Russell
Louisa	Miss M. Sharpe
Jeanett	Mrs. S. Martyn
Marie	Mrs. M. Barry

The farce was a good play in itself, and was well acted, the antics of the Sergeant O'Flynn keeping the house in roars of laughter. The costumes used in both plays were such as can be pronounced elegant without drawing on the imagination. They were made at Messrs. Dolan & Co.'s, and reflect credit in that tailoring establishment as well as those who took part in the drama. The Fire Brigade Band was present, and furnished good music, and specialities introduced between the drama and the farce by Messrs. S. Martyn, Mart Barry and Mark Spencely met with approval. While congratulating the young men on the success of their venture, we hope the entertainment will soon be repeated in the Opera House.

Vinegar for the Sick Room.

There is a French legend that during the plague in Marseilles a band of robbers plundered the dying and the dead without injury to themselves. They were imprisoned, tried and condemned to die, but were pardoned on condition of disclosing the secret whereby they could ransack houses infested with the terrible scourge. They gave the following recipe, which makes a delicious and refreshing wash for the sick room; Take of rosemary, wormwood, lavender, rue, sage and mint a large handful of each. Place in a strong jar and turn over it one gallon of strong clear vinegar; cover closely and keep near the fire for four days, then strain and add one ounce of camphor gum. Bottle and keep tightly corked. It is very aromatic, cooling and refreshing to the sick room, and of great value to nurses.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

The Elections.

The Independent (Toronto) Telegram says:—"No doubt it would be a great surprise to the Reformers to see the Government turned out of office at the forthcoming elections. Mr. Mowat has held office for twelve years and his record on the whole is satisfactory. But it is claimed by Conservatives that the tide is now running in their favor and that the upshot of the elections will be a change of Government. They are certainly very hopeful and profess to have advices from the different constituencies, especially those in the eastern half of the Province, showing that they are sure of a majority. The Conservative leaders declare that there is only one obstacle in the way of their attaining to power, and that is the lethargy of their followers. They say that if their followers will only shake off the feeling that Mr. Mowat cannot be beaten, and will go to work, he can be beaten out of his boots. An election is quite as uncertain as a lottery, and there is no plan of forecasting who is to get the prize. But it is plain to see that the Conservatives intend to make a big fight for it."

H. C. ROGERS Postmaster.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

AT Mr. Campbell's town meeting, Mr. Proctor introduced himself as a member of "The Third Party," and then indulged for an hour and a quarter in the regular Grit harangue. We always thought this new departure was but a Grit sideshow. It is something like a commercial house establishing a branch firm for the purpose of making accommodation paper, by mutually drawing upon each other.

⁂

How is it that while the License Commissioners have been appointed for other ridings, there have been no appointments made for West Peterborough? This riding is an almost solitary instance of one with a majority of Conservatives on the Board. Is the delay because Mr. Mowat is afraid either to re-appoint or to drop these gentlemen—till after the election?

⁂

THE supporters of the Mowat Administration claim that they have a surplus of five millions of dollars. From the official statement of the Provincial account we learn that the receipts for interest amounted to $101,987.93, on a little over one fifth per cent of their boasted surplus. What excellent financiers or what enormous falsifiers they must be—one or the other.

⁂

WE learn from the public accounts of Ontario that Messrs. Mowat & Co. took from the municipalities $92,360.72 by means of the liquor licenses and this it must be remember does not include the huge sums spent on the salaries and expenses of their electioneering agent whom they are pleased to term "License Inspectors," which are also taken from the municipalities.

THE WORKING MAN'S INTEREST.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—In June last I addressed the following letter to my fellow working men which I trust you will be good enough to republish. In requesting you to do so, I wish to point out to my fellow working men that the men who are now seeking their suffrages in support of the Mowat misgovernment are the same set of men who were fighting the National Policy last June. I also wish them to remember that Mr. Mowat and his lieutenants stumped the country and used all the means, both legitimate and illegitimate, at their disposal, to defeat the men, who, by wise legislation, brought prosperity to our country. I trust that on the 27th inst., every man who has to earn his living by the sweat of his brow will turn out and vote for the N.P. party.

Yours, &c.,
A WORKINGMAN.

Peterborough, February 24th, 1883.

The following is the letter in question:—

DEAR SIR,—As we are now on the eve of a general election, I would like to address a few words to my fellow workingmen, through your columns. Four years ago, when the N. P. was proposed, it might be said as an experiment, the workingmen throughout the Dominion of Canada were in a bad state, wages were very low, our factories were closed, or working only with a few hands on short time, work of all kinds was scarce, and could be obtained only for a few days at a time, and then very often only by the intercession of a friend; our workingmen were leaving the country as fast as they could, and those of them who had a little property were forced to sell it in order to take them away. This being the case—and I believe no man will deny it—it was not to be wondered at, that the workingmen of the Dominion supported the new Policy, which promised to bring them some relief. That Policy has now been enforced about three years, and what is the result? Compare the state of things then and now. Now the workingman is sought for, wages are good, and employment constant. Our foundries and factories have been enlarged, new ones have been erected, the hands have been doubled and quadrupled, and they are working constantly, and making overtime. Property is advancing, and the workingman who has a little property is able not only to retain but to improve it, and instead of having to leave his wife and family behind him, "to go elsewhere to seek employment," he can now remain at home to look after them, and comfort them. Every workingman knows that higher wages is not the only advantage? He knows that employment is more steady, and that he is more thought of, and that instead of having to get the assistance of some friend to obtain work, he can leave his boss any time he does not suit him, and get a job almost anywhere without having to seek for it, in fact that instead of having to look for work, the work is looking for him. Now Mr. Editor I think the facts I have stated are beyond dispute, and therefore that every workingman should support by his vote and influence the men who have introduced this national prosperity, and work at home in place of national ruin, and having to go away from home to get work. Every workingman owes it to himself to vote for the man who protects him against the refuse of Yankee workshops, that was thrown on our markets. If boots and shoes are to be made, let us have them made in Canada instead of Massachusetts, if locomotives are needed, let them be made in Canada instead of new Hampshire, if boilers and machinery are required, let them be made at the Hamiltons' instead of York State, or Pennsylvania? If labor is to be employed let it be employed here instead of in a foreign country. Let us keep our money and men at home to enrich our own country, instead of sending them to a foreign country to enrich it. The Americans will not admit our products into their markets, until we pay them a heavy duty. Why in the name of common sense and fair play should we admit theirs? I lived on both sides of the lines I prefer Canada all things considered, but the only way Canadians can live here in comfort, is by protecting their own industries, as the Americans protect theirs, since they will give us neither reciprocity nor free trade.

Thanking you for your valuable space,
I am Sir yours, &c.,
A WORKINGMAN.

SINGULAR INCIDENT AT SHEFFIELD.

A Bridegroom Arrested on a Charge of Theft.

A marriage was arranged to take place at Ranmoor, the fashionable suburb of Sheffield, between Edwin Wild, described as a schoolmaster out of employment, and a lady from Cornwall, who has been living in Sheffield with several friends for the last six weeks. Three carriages and pairs were waiting at the bride's doors, and the bridal party, suitably attired, was about to leave the house, when startling news reached them by a messenger from the police station. The bride, with considerable presence of mind, informed the drivers that the marriage was postponed for a week, and the wedding carriages were driven off. The cause of the bridegroom's non-appearance was soon discovered: He had been arrested, with his best man, on a charge of theft. Detective Kemp has been on the watch for Wild and another person named Wm. Edwin Booker, an ivory fruit manufacturer, on the charge of stealing a hearth-rug from a pawnbroker's shop. Yesterday the officer obtained information of Wild's whereabouts, and accompanied by Sergeant Moore, proceeded to 31 Wharncliffe road, Walkley. There they saw a party of four young men in wedding garments get into a carriage. The officers went up, and Kemp said to Wild: "I believe you are the two men I have been seeking for a week for stealing a hearth-rug." Wild made no reply to this charge, but pleaded with the officer not to lock him up. "Let me go to Ranmoor church first," he added, "and get married; it will be £15,000 out of my pocket if you lock me up now. You can come with me and see me married." Wild produced a special license for the marriage and the wedding ring. The officers, however, were obdurate, and ordering two of the friends to leave the carriage, took their places and drove Wild and Booker to the Langsett road police station, where they were formally charged with the theft, to which they made no reply. The driver went off to tell the bride what had happened. After the evidence the men were taken to the Central police office and lodged in the cells, still attired in their wedding garments.

THE TEMPERANCE PLATFORM.

The policy of Mr. Meredith and of the Conservatives of Ontario as a body, according to their most solemn pledges and authoritative statements is as follows:—

I. That they will maintain the present restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors without any relaxation.

II. That they will maintain intact the present limitations of the number of liquor licenses.

III. That they will not give the control of the liquor licenses to the municipal councils.

IV. That they will free the granting and control of liquor licenses from any connection with party politics.

V. That they will entrust the enforcement of the liquor laws to officers appointed to carry them out without favor or partizan considerations.

VI. That they will restore to the local municipalities the license fees, now carried to Toronto.

What true temperance man is there who will not vote for this programme in preference to the Mowat system of partisan officials, irregularities connived at, illicit groggeries unrepressed, and officers admitted by the Department to leave the liquor laws unenforced?

CAMPBELLFORD.

THREE FINGERS SEVERED.—The Herald says that while a straw cutter was in operation upon the premises of Mr. James Huycke, Percy township, near Seymour, last week, a little four year old son was anxious to assist by feeding the straw. In doing so, he put his hand in too far, and the knives came in contact with his fingers. The tops of three of them were completely severed from the hand.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED.—A new house on Front street, near the railway crossing, belonging to Mr. Dunk, took fire from the stove pipes, yesterday, but was extinguished before it had made much headway. No valuables were in the building, except a stove and carpenters' tools and supplies. These were taken out, and the fire was quenched by an energetic bucket brigade. The fire engine assisted.

A BAD STEP.—A young man who has been in the employ of Dr. Byam, for some time past, was caught in the act of embezzlement, last week, and was instantly discharged. The embezzler, it seems, has carried on a systematic work of robbing the till for months, and he confessed to the possession of between $150 and $200, money which he obtained in this way. Dr. Byam allowed him to go unpunished by refunding the stolen money, and leaving the village.

MR. THOMAS W. RACE, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

CORRUPTION RAMPANT.

THE campaign was commenced with a "Reform" flourish of trumpets about bribery and corruption. Those who remembered the record in the courts of these professed purists were prepared for the sequel though hardly to the extent of the reality. Gross corruption and the use of undue influences is rampant. We may say at once that we do not accuse Mr. Campbell of connivance with all this, for we believe that if he were aware of one tenth part of the iniquities perpetrated in his name and on his behalf, he is honest enough to retire from the contest in disgust.

We have all kinds of improper influences to contend against, the administration itself lending itself to wholesale corruption by dangling an already promised appointment before the eyes of victimized applicants, if indeed each member of the cabinet has not given a separate promise where it would do most good. Then we have provincial officials using their public influence and the promised use of public moneys; we have officers of public companies using scarcely veiled threats and, large employers of labour doing the same, while hints at loss of custom, eviction and other improper influences, too numerous to particularize, are freely used. This is the way in which the selfstyled "party of purity" the real "organized hypocrisy" is conducting the campaign.

Could anything be more atrocious, more utterly opposed not only to the letter but to the spirit of the law. The statutes provide that voting shall be by ballot so that by this secret voting the electors shall be freed from coercion or undue influence, yet these men insist upon violating this secrecy by insisting upon a promise to vote as they wish in order that they may thus coerce and influence improperly.

We call upon men subjected to such tyranny to resist it. Let them use the ballot for the protection from coercion which it was intended to afford them, and safe from all injury in the secrecy which was expressly designed to shield them from being thus trodden upon, let them vote as they will without submitting to such dictation.

Those who have been threatened either openly or by implication, should give the proper weight to such threats, and should mark their ballots in such a manner as to thwart the object of these would-be tyrants.

OUR TEMPERANCE RECORD.

SUCH persistent attempts are being made to charge the Conservative party with being in favour of relaxing the restrictions upon the sales of liquor and the limitation of the number of licenses, as well as to misrepresent them generally as being opposed to temperance, that we are forced, however unwillingly, to appeal to our record.

As to the personal question, it is well known that Mr. Carnegie is in practice a total abstainer, and a consistent advocate of temperance. Mr. Carnegie's bitterest opponent would not venture to assert that he would be opposed to temperance legislation, or would vote for any relaxation of the restrictions on the liquor traffic. So much for the personal question, which we will leave there.

As to the party record we are quite content to stand upon that also. By a resolution passed in the Conservative convention, for which Mr. Carnegie himself voted, it was solemnly declared that nothing should be done to relax the restrictions upon the liquor traffic, or to remove the limitation of the number of licenses. By a vote in the Legislature with which Mr. Carnegie is in full accord, the same pledge was authoritatively repeated. Upon both occasions it was declared that the license officials should not be partisans of the Government, but should be freed from political influences. Thus alone can they be relied upon to attend to their duties, instead of neglecting them while engaged upon a political propaganda.

The evils of the system adopted on the other hand by Messrs. Mowat & Co. of making the enforcement of the law subservient to party interests are notorious. While the license holders are threatened and coerced, illicit trade is almost unrepressed. Mr. Mowat pledged himself to appoint a fair proportion of the license officials from both parties but he certainly did not keep his word, and some of the few Conservative he appointed were speedily dropped because as he falsely said he could not rely upon Conservative temperance men to enforce the law. They were too busy in enforcing the law in reality, instead of aiding Mr. Mowat politically; that was the real cause for their insulting dismissal. The letter of Judge Hughes, which we publish elsewhere, thoroughly exposes the iniquities of this system. And these hypocritical pretenders to temperance make the people of Ontario pay for their drinks at the bar while on a jaunt to Chicago.

We call upon temperance men to compare the records and to vote accordingly.

JUDGE HUGHES' LETTER.

THE INIQUITY OF THE LICENSE INSPECTION SYSTEM EXPOSED.

Corrupt Influences—Grit Members Manipulate the Patronage of the Government, who Ignore Complaints.

Judge Hughes, a staunch temperance man and the County Judge of Elgin, having spoken freely of the evils arising from the present system of appointing partisan liquor license officials, has been grossly abused by the Globe and its satellites. We therefore republish his letter that he may tell his own story. It will be seen that this upright judge, this strong temperance advocate, this gentleman of unblemished reputation, was struck from the list of License Commissioners because he would not make his position subservient to the political benefit of the Governments and of the Grit members:—

BOARD OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS,
COUNTY OF ELGIN, ST. THOMAS,
25th May, 1877.

SIR,—I feel it a duty to lay before the Government the position which I occupy with reference to the very difficult duties of chairman of this board.

Last year when the Government were about to appoint commissioners, I was asked by John Wilson, Esq., M.P.P. for the East Riding of this county, to accept the commission, which I felt I ought to decline, but which I was pressed by others to accept. I expressed myself somewhat freely to Dr. Wilson, by telling him that I was sure that if any man acted independently in the office, as I would feel myself bound to do, he would raise a "hue and cry" against me himself, that would be both humiliating and annoying, and that for a man in my position it were better to keep aloof from being brought into contact with such men as would join in a popular furore that might be raised, because this or that man was deprived of or refused a license. Dr. Wilson, however, urged me to consent to take the appointment, and that I would be sustained not only by the Government but by himself. I therefore, knowing that my brother commissioners (whose names were mentioned) would be men of respectability and character, agreed to accept the appointment, and act in the office. I at the same time, told Dr. Wilson that I was sure he would not wish me to act a second year; and that I should not like after once commencing the work to leave it half done, and find myself left out of the commission after I had entered upon it and worked out plans only for a year. Dr. Wilson gave me the most pressing assurances that I would be continued, and would not only not be interfered with, but that the board would be allowed to employ the whole of the necessary funds in employing detectives and enforcing the Act. He also at that and subsequent times in the most positive and strenuous manner urged the employment of detectives whenever and wherever they should be required. Had he not been so full of promises I would not have accepted the office. In faith, and trusting to this, I entered upon the work of the commission with a single eye to fathering the aims of the promoters of the Act, as I understood and still understand them, viz., by lessening the number and raising the character of the taverns and tavern-keepers; this was a work which the other members of the board have, as far as I could gather their intentions from their words and their actions, been as anxious for, and as assiduous in, as I could be myself, or wish them to be; and we have had amongst ourselves nothing but the most harmonious action throughout.

Some time since, I think in August last, the board found difficulties placed in the way of the working of the Act, and found it necessary to employ a detective. This matter has been already explained in previous letters. The detective was the only reliable person we could lay our hands upon, and the most efficient man in the whole constabulary force of the county, and just then without other employment. The Government, however, thought the salary fixed upon too high, and in, as I suppose a confidential way, corresponded with Dr. Wilson on the subject, and thought proper to divulge to Dr. Wilson the name of our detective, which was previously unknown. Dr. Wilson made it the occasion of a upon me personally "for appointing such a man," and said a great deal more than was becoming in a man who has a proper respect for himself or for the position he holds in the county. I, however, told him that my experience as a magistrate did not lead me to expect angels to act as detectives, nor would men pursuing the ordinary walks of life consent to act as such, and that the Government and the board and the magistracy were generally obliged to employ men for that pursuit, who were earnest and zealous and successful; and that I, from a long experience of the man employed, had recommended him to the board, who knew him as well as I did, and the board had concurred in the view that what salary he asked for, with mileage to be taxed, was no more than he had a right to expect, he paying for all his own assistance and means of detecting breaches of the License Act, as well as travelling expenses of such assistance.

The mode pursued by our detective was in no one case objectionable, nor did he ever descend to a trick in order to entrap people into illegally selling liquor as was done in other counties, to the manifest lowering of the aims of the law, and compromising the administration of it, and so reflecting upon the Government.

In these circumstances, it was to be expected that Dr. Wilson would have treated his negotiation about the detective's salary and allowances as confidential, and you may be surprised to learn that he has not done so, but has publicly spoken of the matter, and told some of those who were fined for who the individual was who informed against them. This conduct speaks for itself!

This matter does not affect me personally, but I feel that in so delicate a matter, especially after the urgent pressure of Dr. Wilson that the board should employ detectives, as I have already named, he might have allowed the board to be the better judges of how properly to execute that part of their duty, especially as the doctor is not at all experienced in such matters, and is too apt to view appointments to office more with reference to the political leanings of the employee than of fitness or aptness for duty.

I now come to a matter purely personal, about which I must say at the outset I feel so strongly, that if I am not to be sustained by the Government, irrespective of Dr. Wilson, I must ask the acceptance of my resignation of the office of commissioner, which I now tender, but which I mention with great regret.

The greater difficulty in the execution of the Act respecting the liquor traffic has arisen and existed in the town of St Thomas, as I dare say is found to be the case in other towns and cities elsewhere.

The board have felt it better not to enforce the Act with too much stringency anywhere for the first year; But we have desired that the inspector and detective should be more careful of illicit traffic in St. Thomas than elsewhere, because the knowledge that the law is enforced and obeyed in the county town—or the reverse—would have its due moral effect upon other parts of the country; and so keep down the necessity for prosecutions as much as possible.

Last year, an innkeeper of one of the largest hotels here applied for a license; the application was not immediately acceded to, but held over for consideration—because the applicant was a notorious about his house. He told me himself that he had given it up; he confessed to me personally that he had played cards with the son of Mr. Lachlin Campbell, one of my bailiffs, and had jointly with others "blacklegged" $350 from him (a mere youth) of his father's money, but said he had paid the money all back to Mr. Campbell. However, an influence was brought to bear—I will not say whence it was—but the applicant obtained a license contrary to, and in face of, all I had said about the matter by way of caution and remonstrance! The plea upon which it was put was, that he had a large house and it was a pity to have such a large house closed up.

The house, however, soon after passed into the hands of Col. Cole, who applied to have the license transferred to himself and his son-in-law one Robert Lloyd. Judging from the past experience and reputation of Col. Cole, and supposing he would keep the house and occupy the premises himself, I consented to the transfer of license to himself; but, because I knew the son-in-law was a man of bad repute, I declined to consent to Robert Lloyd's name appearing in the transfer.

From that time to the first day of May of this year Col. Cole never personally occupied the house, but left the care of it (such as it received) to the keeping of his son-in-law, and to his son, John Cole. The most disreputable scenes took place in the house during most of that time; people who have gone there as guests have been obliged to leave, and altogether, it was changed from being what it was once—a decent, quiet, and orderly hotel.

TO A RESORT FOR HARLOTS,

and persons of the most drunken and dissolute habits. Of all this John Cole, the son of the reputed landlord, was cognizant.

* * * * *

(A passage here, which was a privileged communication, is omitted for obvious reasons.)

The commissioners therefore thought it proper to refuse a license to Col. Cole this year, unless he personally occupied the house and removed his son from being an inmate. He so delayed and postponed and vacillated about the matter from time to time, that the board ultimately placed the matter in my hands to deal with, because we did not wish to deal harshly with Col. Cole and injure him. The result was that Col Cole came to me and said he had let the house to Mr. N. B. Huffman, who had been an applicant for a license for another house, and Col. Cole told me that license might be made out to and in favour of Mr. Huffman, who had paid him the $200 duty which he (Col. Cole) had deposited to the credit of the license fund. The license was made out accordingly, and then Mr. Huffman and Col. Cole asked me if there would be any objection to his (Col. Cole) opening the bar and keeping the house for a few days, as he and Mr. Huffman had arranged for doing so, if the board would not object. I told Col. Cole that the board had no power to grant any such leave; the license authorized Mr. Huffman, and him only, to sell, but that I thought no complaint would be made for a few days. Certainly none would be urged under the sanction of the board.

Since then Mr. Huffman has been kept out of the occupancy of the hotel, and although the lease was prepared for signature, Col. Cole has refused to sign it, but has been negotiating for a sale of the premises to the former landlord, Mr. Musselman, and a constant sale of liquor has been kept up in the house by Col. Cole and his son and others, without the sanction of Mr. Huffman, and Col. Cole's son is constantly there notwithstanding.

In these circumstances I addressed to each of them a letter to the following effect:—

"Sir,—If N. B. Huffman is not placed in the occupation of the Hutchinson house before ten o'clock to-night he will be required to procure another house, or I shall recommend that his license be cancelled. If he procures another house the license will be transferred to that, &c." Dated 23rd May, 1877.

I am now told that Dr. Wilson, in the face of my letter, upon being applied to by Col. Cole and Mr. Musselman, told them not to mind my letter, but and he would see that it should be all right; and not mind me, &c. They accordingly sold, in defiance of my letter, during the whole of yesterday.

I now beg to report this matter to the Government, not as a complaint against Dr. Wilson for with him I have nothing whatever to do, officially or otherwise; I ask the Government to sustain the board in its action. I ask the Government to call upon the inspector to enforce the law against the illegal course, and enter complaints against those who are setting the law at defiance. I have myself already so directed the inspector, but when a member of Parliament threatens the inspector, it is time that either I as representing the board, or the inspector as acting under the orders of the board through me as their chairman, Dr. Wilson himself, who is acting under the authority (such as it is) of being a member of Parliament, should know whether the law is to be for then, and then only, will the public know whether the law is to mean anything or not. I also ask to have the matter placed in the hands of the county attorney.

ENFORCED OR NOT;

Dr. Wilson thought proper to take me to task about this and another matter some three weeks ago. I took occasion to remind him of my reluctance to take the office when he pressed it upon me, partly on account of the difficulty he would find in forbearing to interfere with the discharge of our duties, and I explained it all as far as he was capable of appreciating our motives of action. He then took occasion to tell me he would feel it to be his duty to demand in his place in Parliament the appointment of a committee (who would send for persons and papers) to enquire why persons had been deprived of their licenses had been refused them if I did not then and there give him the fullest explanation. I daresay he thought I should be much frightened by such a direful ordeal, but which I took occasion to tell him had no terrors for me. I then went into as full an explanation as I thought it reasonable for him to expect or for me to give. He remonstrated, and, in a very dictatorial way, told me the board had no right to prescribe who Col. Cole should keep in his house, that he had a right to keep what persons he chose; and if or indecent assaults were committed upon them by the inmates of Col. Cole's hotel, they might complain to the authorities. I told him those were not my views or the views of the board, and that his committee in Parliament might very probably instruct him that his views were wild and that those of the board were correct.

I now close this letter, which is necessarily long to be full and an explanation. I wish to say I do do not ask to have Dr. Wilson stopped in the course he, from motives of his own, best known to himself, but very well understood by politicians here, has thought proper to pursue—as that is to me matter of indifference—but I wish to either be sustained, and to have the action of the board over which I preside sustained, or to be relieved from my position as one of its members; and I also ask to have this letter considered a public, and not by any means a private, document; for I feel that I have devoted time and attention to this subject for the public weal; for the ameliorating the saddening effects which have risen from the unrestrained system of licensing improper men and improper houses for the sale of liquors, I feel that the board I now represent have been zealous and earnest in their endeavours to secure the ends the promoters of the existing laws have in view, and I cannot consent that mere such as some men (I will not say Dr. Wilson) are actuated by, should destroy the work we have done or mar the objects we seek to attain.

POLITICAL OR PARTY CONSIDERATIONS

I have the honour to remain, sir,
Your obedient servant,
D. J. HUGHES.

The following reply to this appeal only darkens the aspect of the case. Of course the Government could not interfere to make their political officers or their supporter in the House enforce the laws, in preference to their higher duty of making political friends, and as the Judge thwarted this object he must go:—

"TORONTO, June 12, 1877.

"MY DEAR JUDGE HUGHES,—I beg that you will accept my apology for delay in answering your letter of the 25th of May. My reason for delay is that upon the arrival of your letter I was absent, and on my return I desired before answering to confer with the Premier. It so happened that he was absent on my return, and until I left for Brantford.

"I have now seen him and submitted your letter to him. He desires me to say that he concurs with me in sincerely regretting that a difference of so serious a character has arisen between you and Dr. Wilson; that it is very difficult, indeed almost impossible, for the Government to interfere either with the Board, the Inspector, or the Doctor in a matter of this kind, and therefore, while much regretting it, it would, perhaps, upon the whole, be better, if you are willing, that the Government should consider your letter as a resignation. If so, your letter should take the form of a simple letter to that effect. It might, he thinks, relieve the position from some complications, and would, upon the whole, be more satisfactory to all concerned, as well as to him.

"I am, my dear Sir,
"Very sincerely yours, (Signed) "ARTHUR S. HARDY.
"His Honor Judge Hughes,
"St. Thomas."

An N. P. Victory.

The Toronto Evening Canadian says: "Mr. Neelon's election for Lincoln by acclamation is a decided victory for the N.P. Some time ago he made a speech in favor of the N.P., and during the last session he voted for Mr. Merrick's N. P. resolution. The party lash was cracked over his back, but he refused to go to the Grit convention held in this city. His reply to the invitation to attend was,—'I have no business there.' The Journal says of him: 'And of his sincerity, integrity and honesty of purpose his bitterest Grit opponent dare not entertain a doubt.'"

THE GOOD SHIP "N. P."

In Ottawa, chief city of this Canada of ours,
Where the good, the free and beautiful doth bask in sunny bowers,
The port from whence our ship of state majestically sails,
And edicts issue forth, at which the mighty monarch quails,
A few bold spirits met one day and made a grand connection
To man the ship, unfurl the sails and travel for protection.

Protection for home industries was the password of the crew,
They had staked their all at starting, and they meant to see it through;
And to guide them through the dangers thickening round on every hand,
They'd a pilot bold and fearless as any in the land,
Who kept them running close to the wind till they reached the open sea,
Then fired that mighty tariff gun and hoisted the N.P.

The booming of that mighty gun went thundering down the main,
And patriots long lain dormant, sprang into life again,
And a murmur faintly heard at first, each day has louder grown,
Inviting exiled Industry once more to mount her throne,
Till at last she sits triumphant on the mound her sons have made,
Cemented by their union on the ruins of free trade.

The captain of that hulk, free trade, aghast, stands looking on
At bold protection's mighty strides to remedy the wrong
Wrought by his plundering partisans who worked with tooth and nail,
And studied hardest how they might our liberties assail,
Till grim and gaunt, yet unassailed with cruel bony hand,
That dark browed monster poverty, stalked through our favoured land.

Yes, favoured now. But still again that hand is to the fore,
Seeking some succour from the men it trampled on before,
Who sorrowful and sore, amazed at labour's dying groan,
Sought in new lands the means to live, denied to them at home;
They smiled to see the wrong they'd wrought, nor raised a hand to save,
Yet with honey'd words they seek you now, beseeching, sore afraid.

They seek with wary wiles to turn the coming blow aside,
And cover up their treacheries, by shouting far and wide,
The story of their Streams Bill, their Boundary Award,
But forgetting once to mention how the settlers they'd defraud,
Left to their tender mercies, but the fruits of which they'll see
By being routed far and wide—horse, foot and artillery.

The tiger's fangs are hidden, now his foragings are o'er,
But trust him not, though he may lick the hands he spurned before;
Beware him, bind him, yet again ye hardy sons of toil,
Lest forth he springs with strength renewed, to rob you and despoil;
'Tis nought but overwhelming power for which he will abstain;
He waits but chance to favour him to turn and rend again,

Let not those scenes of anguish be again renewed,
Remember what you suffered, and be no more subdued;
The self same pilot steers our ship, as when he first began,
True as the needle to the Pole, his course direct he ran,
Then give him heart to labour on, send supporters to his cause;
'Tis yours to give, uphold the right and Sir John Macdonald's laws.

Hanging Rock.

Among the Capon Mountains of Hampshire County, W. Va., is a gorge called Hanging Rock, which possesses more than ordinary historical and romantic interest. A narrow road runs along the side of a brawling stream, and above it on either hand the wooded cliffs rise to a hight of several hundred feet. A band of Catawba Indians who were encamped in the gap in 1731 were set upon by a party of hostile Delawares and totally exterminated. A few years later some prowling Frenchmen and Indians fired from an ambush on Ensign Daniel Morgan, "the hero of Stillwater and the Cowpens," who was passing through the gap bearing despatches to Winchester. Two soldiers who were with him fell from their horses dead, while Morgan with the blood streaming from a terrible bullet wound, clasped his mare about the neck with both arms and was borne safely back to a neighboring fort, where he was lifted from the saddle insensible. In 1864 the gorge was the scene of a fierce cavalry fight between some roving troops from the Federal and rebel armies. Recently surveyors have located the route of the Baltimore, Cincinnati & Western Railroad through the pass.

The Coraline Corset which has become so popular, to be had at Turnbull's in all sizes.

A Bumble-Bee in a Telephone.

A young man in one of the outlying districts of Detroit took an unwarranted liberty with the telephone the other day. A big bumble-bee one warm day came bumbling into the office through the window, which was open, and was caught and placed in a tumbler by the young man, and the tumbler placed over the orifice of the transmitter. The youth then rung up the central office, and with the telephone to his ear, awaited the result. "Hello!" came in response from the other end of the line. "Bum bum, bu-r-r," buzzed the bee in reply. "What's that?" "Bum, boom, bum, bu-r-r." "I can't quite understand. You'll have to repeat that." "Bum, buzz, whir-r-r," went the bumble-bee. "Oh talk United States you imbecile! Didn't you ever use a telephone before, you idiot?" yelled the enraged operator. A renewed and more frantic buzzing was the only response. "Go to thunder, you bull-headed old fool!" came sizzling over the wire. No response. "Something's the matter with your old box. I'll send a man around to-morrow to fix it," came from the central office man, and then a "click," as he hung the instrument on the hook.

FROM ALL OVER.

A MARRIED hotel clerk and an unmarried girl have eloped from Trenton.

A PUBLIC testimonial is to be presented to Prof. Macoun, Dominion naturalist.

THE House of Burgesses at Hamburg has adopted the compromise scheme for uniting the city with the German Customs union.

P. J. SHERIDAN, who is in New York, declares that Carey's statements respecting him and his connection with the Phœnix Park murders are fabrications.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.—The constant dropping of water will wear away even the hardest stone. So the constant irritation of a cough will so wear upon the lungs as to induce incurable Consumption. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will cure the worst cough, speedily and effectually.

IT is stated that the Dublin detectives have received valuable information regarding the Invincibles' "Number One," and are quite positive as to his identity.

THE Bible Christian Churches of the state of Ohio have accepted the basis of Methodist union by large majorities; those of Wisconsin are voting against the scheme.

WORTH KNOWING.—A Fact Worth Knowing. The best household remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all throat and chest troubles tending toward Pulmonary Consumption is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, to be procured of any druggist.

A DESPATCH from California says Hon. Mr. Chapleau is gaining strength, but his medical attendants will not let him leave until an advanced period in the spring.

FITZPATRICK, one of the Phœnix Park prisoners, and who was said to have acted as sentinel for the murderers at the time of the commission of the crime, has been released.

IF you only used Dr. Carson's Bitters you would not be always telling everybody that enquired after your health how dreadful mean you felt; had a terrible headache; appetite, etc. On the contrary, you would return the greeting with a bright smile, a hearty grip, and look like as your would feel—first-rate. They are for sale by all druggists in large bottles at 50 cents.

IT was announced in the Imperial House of Commons that the Government would ask for a committee of both Houses to enquire into the expediency of constructing a Channel tunnel.

WE have a speedy and positive Cure, for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth and Head Ache, in Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. A nasal Injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. For sale by J. D. Tully.

IT is reported that at a lumber camp twenty-five miles from East Tawas, Mich., a man chopped another's head off. The murderer was lynched, and the body is guarded by sixty men, who will not permit its removal. A riot is threatened.

SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known [illegible] testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 18th) from Mr. J. O. Darois, No. 10 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtues of this nature medicine gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See adv't in another column. Guarantees issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

A Murder on a Train.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 22.—A terrible crime was enacted on the Wells accommodation train of the Pennsylvania Railroad which left this city at 9 o'clock on Tuesday evening. As the train was leaving Bradock station, a man named John Cavanaugh jumped aboard. He was intoxicated and upon entering the car discovered his wife seated talking to a man whom he did not know. This angered Cavanaugh and he at once began to create a disturbance. The train was stopped and the conductor assisted by the brakeman, ejected the man. As the train moved off, Cavanaugh drew a revolver and fired at the brakeman but missed. Cavanaugh then jumped on the platform and fired into the crowded car and a passenger named Conrad Remick dropped dead in the aisle of the car. The murderer, who is but twenty-one years of age, and only married a month or so, leaped off and escaped.

The First Mill.

It is just 100 years since the first flour mill was set up in the Midland district. It was erected at Kingston Mills, seven miles from the city of Kinston, and for three years after its opening it was the only mill in the district. Often men from Cornwall on the east and Marysburg on the west came there with the grain on the horses' backs, in canoes in the summer, and on sleighs in the winter, drawn through deep snow, and meandering through the woods. The Government supplied all the machinery, and, in fact, everything required. The walls were erected by soldiers detailed for such duty from Kingston. The first mill erected was of logs, roughly [illegible]. The settlers had their grain ground without any toll. The original building has long since mouldered into dust.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

PLEASANT TO THE TASTE.

Forester's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mr. John Madden, of Aylmer street, one of the oldest members of Court Peterborough No. 29, C.O.F., he having united himself with the Court during the year in which it was organized here, was attended by a large number of the members of that Order on Friday afternoon, besides a host of friends and acquaintances. The funeral cortege was headed by the Fire Brigade Band, and proceeded to the Little Lake Cemetery, where the deceased was interred. The Rev. T. Manning, B. A., read the burial service of the Methodist Church, and the Forester's ceremonies were conducted by Bro. James Byrne, R. W. H. J. W., and Bro. W. H. McIlwaine, Chaplain.

In Court in Toronto.

The Globe says that John Flemming was before the Police Court on Friday morning, when Mr. Chas. Henry Meredith laid an information against him for obtaining money under false pretences. Detective Fahey, of Montreal, was present in Court, and appeared anxious to take Flemming back to Montreal with him. Mr. Wallace Smith, of the Chicago Bar, was in Court with a number of witnesses from Chicago. Mr. George Schram did not appear against Flemming to push the charge laid against him on Monday. Dr. McMichael stated that he had witnesses in Court to prove Flemming's innocence. The Magistrate said he could not take their evidence, as Mr. Schram had evidently withdrawn his charge. Mr. Fenton said that Detective Fahey, from Montreal, was present to take the prisoner back with him, and as it would probably be impossible to make out a case against him, he was willing to let the prisoner go to Montreal, where they thought he could be prosecuted. Several gentlemen were present with the object of laying information against Flemming. The case was adjourned until Tuesday next.

MR. CAMPBELL'S MEETING.

The much Advertised Blow Falls very Harmless after all.

The meeting that was so extensively advertised by Mr. Campbell's supporters, and was to have such startling effect, took place in Bradburn's Hall last night, and nobody seems much hurt.

Mr. HAZLETT took the chair and called upon

Mr. CAMPBELL, who made a few brief remarks having just returned almost worn out from the north of the Riding.

Mr. PROCTOR, of Toronto, then spoke for an hour and a quarter, being so mendacious, so illogical and so wearisome even to his own party, that it is hard to understand why he was brought from Toronto.

Mr. WILKINSON, of Cobourg, was then allowed an hour to champion the Conservative cause, which he did in a very able, clear and logical speech, utterly demolishing the previous speaker's fallacies, and covering the ground of the leading questions of the day as completely as could be done in the limited time. The applause with which he was cordially greeted, showed that fully half the large audience was with him.

Mr. PETER RYAN, of Toronto, then made a very eloquent and poetical speech which lasted for an hour and a half. A large portion of it was occupied with personal sarcastic attacks upon Mr. Wilkinson. He very dexterously glided over or altogether avoided the dangerous points for his party, and skilfully made the most of those that could be twisted in their favour. Sometimes he did this without regard for truth, as for instance, when following the bad example of Mr. Proctor, he read extracts from the Dominion Land Act, and claimed in utter opposition to the truth, that this was to the same effect as the River and Streams Act.

Mr. C. W. SAWERS, who obtained a hearing with much difficulty, asked if it was not the fact that the Dominion patents reserved the rights, while the Ontario patents did not reserve them.

Mr. RYAN admitted that he could not answer the question, a confession that was received with loud laughter. He then, as if to cover his confession at this exposure of his unfairness, levelled some very unwarranted personal insults at Mr. Sawers. His greatest flight of eloquence, and it was very eloquent, was an appeal to our common humanity on behalf of the poor sufferers from mental or bodily deprivations. From this elevation he descended to an appeal for votes on behalf of Mr. Mowat, for supporting institutions for these unfortunates, quite forgetting to mention that these institutions were founded and supported by the Sandfield Macdonald administration, and that they will be equally supported under Mr. Meredith.

Mr BERTRAM announced in his well known bad style that they would not return Mr. Carnegie.

In response there were shouts of "We will elect him," "Wait till the 27th." &c.

After a vote of thanks to the chairman, and cheers for Mr. Carnegie, and for Mr. Campbell or the Queen, for it got rather mixed, the meeting dispersed.

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

O. Y. B.

We have been requested to state that a mass meeting of the members of the above Order will be held in their hall on Monday evening, to consider business of special importance.

The Market.

There was not a large attendance on the market this morning. The grain market is not much changed. The prices to-day were as follows:—Spring wheat 95 cts., fall wheat 93 cts., oats 43 cts. to 44 cts., peas 70 cts. to 74 cts., and barley 50 cts. to 65 cts.

The Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's thermometer registered 4° below zero on Thursday night and 13° last night. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a.m., 10° above zero; at noon, 18° above, and at 3 p.m., 34° above.

The Weather Probabilities.

Last night was very cold, and the weather to-day is clear and cold. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Increasing winds from the north east and south east; increasing cloudiness, followed by snow or rain and milder weather.

FITS "A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS. From Am. Journal of Medicine. [illegible] (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean. NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA. The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States. No failure of crops has ever occurred. Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market. An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry. The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws. SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, in the most perfect manner [illegible] disorders. Nothing like "Sulpholine" has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE TEMPERANCE PLATFORM.

The policy of Mr. Meredith and of the Conservatives of Ontario as a body, according to their most solemn pledges and authoritative statements is as follows:—

I. That they will maintain the present restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors without any relaxation.

II. That they will maintain intact the present limitations of the number of liquor licenses.

III. That they will not give the control of the liquor licenses to the municipal councils.

IV. That they will free the granting and control of liquor licenses from any connection with party politics.

V. That they will entrust the enforcement of the liquor laws to officers appointed to carry them out without favor or partizan considerations.

VI. That they will restore to the local municipalities the license fees, now carried to Toronto.

What true temperance man is there who will not vote for this programme in preference to the Mowat system of partisan officials, irregularities connived at, illicit groggeries unrepressed, and officers admitted by the Department to leave the liquor laws unenforced?

GREAT FIRE AT EMERSON.

Burnham's Block Destroyed—Heavy Losses by Peterborough Men.

On Sunday morning, February 18th, a disastrous fire took place in Emerson, Manitoba, causing a sad loss of property, the heaviest sufferers being gentlemen from Peterborough.

It was about three o'clock in the morning that the flames were first discovered in a shed attached to the furniture store and workshops of Messrs. Noble & Follis, to which they speedily spread, and thence to the adjoining restaurant occupied by Mr. J. Reid and owned by Messrs. Walton & Bird.

Mr. C. V. Boughton, the chief of Boughton's Hose Co., who lived close at hand, was at once arroused, and giving the alarm, summoned his men, who was speedily at work, but there was some delay form the hose being frozen from use at the recent fire, no facilities for properly caring for it having been provided by the town authorities. This delay allowed the fire to gain headway, and it spread to the small frame building owned by Mr. F. E. Burnham and occupied by him and his partner, Mr. Bell, as a law office.

Next to this was Mr. Burnham's handsome new block, of brick, three story high, but unfortunately with the end next the fire not bricked, as an extension of the building was contemplated, and there was also a covered outer stairway leading to the second floor. The firemen in spite of these difficulties were working hard, and would undoubtedly have saved this valuable property, but at this critical juncture the water in the tank was exhausted. The delay requisite to move the engine and lay the hose to another tank was fatal, and the whole block was consumed. The ground floor was occupied by the Ontario Bank, and by a store which had just been fitted up and the tenant was to move in next day. The upper stories were divided into offices and bachelor quarters, among the tenants being Messrs. Macdougal & Boughton surveyors and insurance agents, and Mr. R. Cluxton.

The fire was fortunately prevented from spreading to the westward by the substantial brick wall of Messrs. Walton & Bird's building. Happily there was little wind, and by the exertions of the fire brigade, and of citizens who threw snow on incipient fires on the neighbouring roofs and other exposed places, a still more serious conflagration was avoided. Many also worked hard to remove goods from the burning and endangered buildings, among the property thus saved being the valuable law library and papers of Mr. F. E. Burnham.

There was a narrow escape from loss of life. Dr. Saunderson and four of his friends were engaged in moving effects from his room in Noble & Follis' burning building, when they found their retreat by the stairway cut off by the flames. To save their lives they were forced to jump from the windows, being more or less injured by the fire and the fall.

Noble & Follis had an insurance of $1,500 on a stock of $8,000, much of which was saved. The owner of the building, Councillor Johnston, had an insurance of $1,200 on a value of $3,000. In the restaurant Mr. Reid lost about $400, without insurance, most of his property being saved. The owners, Messrs. Walton & Bird, had an insurance of $1,000, the value being $1,500. Mr. Burnham's office was worth $600, and his newly erected block had cost about $20,000, his insurance being $12,000. The Ontario Bank lost a few hundred dollars, over their insurance of $250. Though the other part of the ground floor was not yet occupied, some fur goods worth $1,600 had been stored there and were destroyed, as was also a carpenter's tool chest worth $100. Messrs. Macdougal & Boughton lost their instruments, &c., to the value of $800, and Mr. R. Cluxton suffered a loss of several hundred dollars over his insurance of $150. Other losses in the upper stories of this block were: Dr. Burritt $300, G. Blacklock $800, (insurance $300), G. L. Irwin $400; T. Hickey $100, &c.

It will be seen that the great bulk of the losses have fallen upon Peterborough men.

It is said that Mr. F. E. Burnham proposes to rebuild his block in the spring on a still more extensive scale.

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

MR. PARNELL SPEAKS.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. Parnell replied to Mr. Forster. He analyzed the evidence of Carey, which was not a statement of fact, but of belief or hearsay. It has been already disproved as regards Mrs. Byrne. The evidence in reference to the source of the "Murder Fund" rested upon the fact that some men while in prison received cheques from the sustenance fund of the Land League. Such aid had been given to thousands of prisoners. Mr. Forster's animus was due to the fact that he endeavoured to obtain a promise from him (Parnell) but failed to do so, and lost his office. He declared that the present officials of Ireland were manifestly unfit to administer the Crimes Act. Mr. Forster ought to return to his congenial work. He was hopeful that he would weather this as he had weathered other formidable oppressions. He spoke for thirty-five minutes, during the whole of which period the Prince of Wales was in the gallery. Mr. Trevelyan, replying to Mr. Parnell, proceeded to vindicate the policy of the Government in Ireland, and Mr. Parnell and Sir Stafford Northcote followed.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—The Prince of Wales has arrived here, and was received at the depot by the Crown Prince Frederick William and family.

ENGLAND'S CONGO POLICY.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—It is reported that England intends to recognize the ancient Portuguese claim of sovereignty in the Congo region. This course is defended as the most convenient means of checking French encroachments, England herself declining altogether to send out an expedition.

SOCIALISM.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 24.—There was an explosion of dynamite to-day in a village near here. Two men, one of whom was mortally wounded, were arrested in connection with the occurrence. Both were recently sentenced to imprisonment for being connected with the troubles at Montceau-les-Mines, France. Important confessions have been made.

BLOWING UP THE KREMLIN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 24.—It is stated that the authorities have received letters containing threats to blow up the Kremlin at Moscow, where the Czar is to be crowned. A search has been made, but nothing indicating preparations for the destruction of the palace revealed. A close watch is being kept. The public are not allowed to enter the building. An Imperial ukase has been issued instituting a special police service for the Kremlin Palace, Moscow, for the coronation ceremony. Captain Weskwsky, a naval officer, has been entrusted with the electric lighting. It is not considered advisable to employ civilians or strangers unless unavoidable. Meanwhile invitations are prepared for large numbers of distinguished guests who are expected to attend the ceremonies.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

SCIBBEREEN, Ireland, Feb. 24.—A parcel addressed to Earl Spencer, and containing several ounces of dynamite with a fuse attached, was deposited in the letter box at Ballydehob Post office to-day.

MILITARY REORGANIZATION.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—A Vienna despatch announces that the work of reorganizing the Austrian army is being rapidly carried out. It is asserted that the new line when completed will enable the mobilization of the Austrian army to be accelerated by one whole day, owing to the greater facilities it will provide for the conveyance of troops from one part of the Empire to another.

AMERICAN.

A SWINDLE DISCOVERED.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—Barber, arrested for attempting to sell forged railroad bonds, claims to have been the dupe of others. A large quantity of securities of various companies were found on him. It is thought by his arrest a swindle of vast magnitude was nipped in the bud. Barber registered in the directory as the Secretary of several wild cat mining companies. It is said that there will be several other more important arrests. The person from whom Baker obtained the bonds is believed to have been concerned in the bond robbery at the Wellsboro Bank in 1878, and also a participant in the safe robbery at Reading when fifty thousand bonds were stolen.

WILL BE ADOPTED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The Times' Washington despatch says that this asserted by prominent Republicans. Extraordinary rule reported on Saturday will be adopted.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 26.—Miss Holly, of Orangeburg County, was to have been married on Saturday night. On Saturday morning she went into a field to rake up some leaves. She kindled a fire and while warming her feet her dress caught fire and her clothing was burned from her body. She died on the very hour fixed for her marriage.

A NEW MOVEMENT.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Monro County Land League yesterday inaugurated a movement to induce Congress to establish free trade between the United States and Ireland.

Fires in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Feb. 20.—Two extensive fires occurred here to-day; one in the large wholesale grocery and spirit store of D. Mass and Co., St. Paul street. The conflagation originated on a lower flat and soon extended to all parts of the building, notwithstanding every effort to subdue it by the city brigade. The premises are completely gutted and the loss is estimated at $100,000, only partially covered by insurance. The second fire was in the workshops of the Juvenile reformatory on Mignonne street, which have all been destroyed, causing a very heavy loss, of which no estimates can be yet made. Some 300 inmates are in the reformathry, but their dormitories were not invaded by the conflagration.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1883.

WE ASK JUSTICE.

THE electors of West Peterborough are well aware that from both press and platform vilification and misrepresentation, with gross personal abuse, has been showered upon the Conservative candidate for the Riding with malignant persistence ever since he has been placed in the field.

The electors are all well aware that no attempt has been made at retaliation. We believe that neither on the platform nor in the columns of this journal has one word been uttered that could grate upon the feelings of either Mr. Campbell or his friends.

We have considered that the important matter for the electors to weigh was the opinions of the candidates and the rival policies of their leaders. We have accordingly discussed these public questions without condescending to personal detraction or criticism of our opponent.

Now, we claim no especial merit in this, for it was the only course open to honest men, but we think it gives us the right to appeal to the electors to do justice to our party and our candidate and to give no weight to the unworthy and cowardly abuse and the unscrupulous falsehoods with which our candidate has been assailed by dishonest speakers and a disreputable journal.

POLITICAL OFFICIALS.

THE system of appointing political license officials to act as electioneering agents, while neglecting their duty of enforcing the law, has been very widely condemned. New developments, however, show that the system is even more objectionable than was supposed. From the boastings of members themselves, from official letters and other indications, it seems evident that it is the general practice, if not the constant rule, that these appointments are controlled by the member, if a Reformer, and we suppose if not by the unsuccessful candidate.

It would be bad enough that these officials should be general political agents for the Government, but this is worse still. Fancy the local member having the power to place one of his most active agents in a position where he has power to influence or coerce a whole trade. Imagine the rejected of the electorate being invested with the same tyranical and irresponsible power. Can we wonder that license holders complain of being threatened and coerced, that judges censure the permission of murder-breeding illicit groggeries, and that even the department for very shame is compelled to send out a circular admitting the neglect of duty by these political officials. Yet as long as they do the dirty political work of their masters they are not dismissed, however, much they neglect their proper duties.

TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION.

WE are convinced that last June the favourable manner in which the Conservative leaders had dealt with the Trent Valley Navigation had considerable weight with the electors, and we invite them to allow it the same weight on this occasion.

It is true that we shall be told that the Trent Valley Navigation is a Dominion work and does not come within the jurisdiction of the Provincial authorities, who cannot interfere with it. They certainly should not do so, but from their past record, from their present action, and from the power they might still hold in the future, there is every reason to dread their injurious interference.

It will be remembered that the revival of the project a few years ago had its spring in our exposure of a plot to destroy the works on the Trent. Mr. Ferris, M. P. P., owning some drowned lands, for the drowning of which compensation had been already paid, thought it would be a smart stroke of business to get the dams destroyed, that his land might be left dry, and he might acquire this additional property at the cost of the public—getting the compensation and the land too. Some of his constituents were also in the same position. Mr. Ferris, being a subservient follower of Mr. Mowat, applied to that immaculate statesman, who actually countenanced and aided in the perpetration of this job. He applied to Mr. Mackenzie, then Premier and Minister of Public Works, who kindly consented to give up these valuable works gratuitously, and thus put fresh difficulties in the way of opening the navigation, in order that Mr. Mowat might be able to bribe Mr. Ferris, and enable him to bribe his constituents by presenting them with land already virtually bought by the public. In fact Mr. Mackenzie had passed the Order-in-Council, but we had exposed the job, and a change of Government having happily taken place it was revoked.

Mr. Mowat not only perpetrated this job, but he actually put an appropriation in the estimates for the destruction of this valuable public property, that he might so reward a supporter in the House and corrupt his constituents. So much for the past.

To come to a more recent day and down to the present, it is well known how the Mowat administration dilly-dallied with the Lakefield dam matter, till they so obstructed navigation that the Dominion had to assume it for the public protection. It is equally well known that they have acted in the same way in regard to Young's Point dam, pretending to repair it just before last year's Dominion election for political purposes, then dropping it in spite of remonstrances, till the present election has caused them again to renew their pretences, and this has been done with culpable indifference to the risk to our property, and even our lives. This dam, condemned by their own officials, supports the pressure of the whole waters of the extensive Clear and Stoney Lakes. Conceive this flood rushing down the Otonabee valley, and say what limit could be placed upon its destructive effects. And this terrible calamity, augmented by the unusual snowfall of this winter, would very probably have come upon us with the spring floods, had not the Government of Sir John Macdonald come to our rescue, agreeing to assume the works, and at this very moment preparing material for that renovation of this crazy structure, which will avert the threatened catastrophe.

Such is their record in the past and up to the present. As to the future we must reflect that the Provincial authorities have the control of our upper waters, which they can use so as to interfere with this great navigable route or force the Dominion to assume their control in self defence.

Would it be safe to leave such power in the hands of the enemies of this important means of developing our internal communications? Would it not rather be well to place such a zealous and indefatigable advocate of this enterprise as Mr. Carnegie in a position which will give him still greater influence in its favour?

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

BEFORE being influenced by promises as to the Registrarship, the electors should make quite sure that their respective friends have a promise that cannot be evaded. It is quite certain that Mowat & Co., are using the vacancy they are dishonestly leaving unfilled for the purpose of corrupting the electors. It remains to be seen, however, who it is that they are corrupting by means of the registrarship, and who it is that they are corrupting by false promises of it. What a howl there will be when the next Gazette appears.

⁂

To hear some ranters one would think that Sir John Macdonald had a patent for disallowance, and that nobody else had ever exercised the veto power. The official records show that Sir John while in power disallowed provincial acts at the rate of one in eighteen months, and Messrs. Blake & Co., while in power disallowed them at the rate of one every four months.

⁂

THE Ottawa Citizen thus exposes the hypocrisy of Mr. Mowat:—

> "In 1873 the Hon. Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, supported a bill in the Provincial Legislature. It passed the House; but, strange to say, the custodian of provincial rights recommended the then Lieutenant-Governor not to sanction the bill, but to reserve it for the consideration of the Dominion Minister of Justice. Tricky Mr. Mowat! Valiant champion of Ontario's legislative privileges!"

LEGISLATING A FALSEHOOD.

THE Montreal Journal of Commerce, an independent journal, speaks as follows of the unjustifiable nature of Mr. Mowat's Rivers and Streams Bill. It will be seen that the writer is unacquainted with a fact which would strengthen his view, namely, that there is no need for the Government to expropriate such improvements, for an Ontario Statute enables any five persons to form a company and purchase them at a fair valuation:—

> "As we are on the subject of party tactics, we may take the opportunity of referring to a point which escaped us when we last noticed the 'Rivers and Streams Bill,' and which was seized on by Mr. Meredith, the Opposition leader, and not, so far as we have observed, satisfactorily met. The bill not only declares the law regarding the use of improvements on rivers and streams in future, but it goes further, and declares what has been the law, and this contrary to the judgment of the Supreme Court. We presume that the new law, which we have not seen, is similar to the old one. Mr. Meredith offered an amendment which seems to us unobjectionable, but we fail to discover the object of the declaration, and the Liberal press has not stated the grounds on which it is defended. We think that the law was open to amendment, and that it is unreasonable to compel the Province to expropriate in every case in which a riparian proprietor chooses to make improvements, but we can find no justification for the declaration in the Act that the law had always been what the highest court had unanimously held that it was not."

WEST RIDING ELECTION.

Mr. Carnegie's Central Committee Room will be at the REVIEW OFFICE on Polling Day, where all information can be obtained.

C. W. SAWERS, Secretary, JAS. STEVENSON, Chairman

To the Free and Independent Electors of the WEST RIDING OF THE COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor having seen fit to dissolve the Legislature of this Province and to issue writs for the election of a new Legislature on the shortest possible notice, I beg respectfully to solicit your votes to return me as your representative in the Assembly about to be elected.

In doing so I beg to state:—

That I am opposed to the policy of the Mowat Government whereby we are being kept out of our just territorial rights, and that, if elected, I shall do all in my power to secure for the Province the boundaries assigned to it at Confederation.

I am opposed to all ex post facto legislation and I am convinced that it is contrary to sound policy as well as justice that any man's property should be taken from him without full and adequate compensation, to be ascertained by an independent and fairly constituted tribunal.

I believe there is now on the Statute Book of this Province all or nearly all the legislation required to protect the public interests and to provide for the acquisition of non-floatable streams and improvements which may have been made thereon upon terms at once just to the lumbermen and to the owners thereof.

I am opposed to the unnecessary centralization of patronage where it can be used to influence the electorate, believing that such centralization is dangerous to the freedom of the people and calculated to produce the same evils in Canada as it has already produced in the neighboring States.

I am opposed to any Government using the power vested in them for the time being by the people to prevent a free expression of public opinion upon any subject, and especially upon a subject with which they as a Government have nothing to do, as was done by the Mowat Government and their officials in the last Dominion election in regard to the tariff policy adopted by the people.

I am opposed to the reckless and unnecessary extravagance of the Mowat Government whereby the capital of the Province is being rapidly dissipated and its ordinary expenditure increased to a point which cannot be maintained without a resort to direct taxation in one form or another.

With a view to bringing the ordinary expenditure within the ordinary income of the Province, without curtailing those expenditures which have a direct bearing upon local taxation, I shall advocate a substantial reduction in the number of the representatives of the Assembly, greater economy in the departments and generally such reforms as may be calculated to reduce those expenditures from which the people are deriving no direct advantage, believing that they are entitled to and desire the cheapest Government that suffices to regulate their affairs.

I am opposed to making the liquor traffic the shuttlecock of any political party, and will advocate and support every measure calculated to place the issue of licenses and the enforcement of the laws relating thereto in the hands of those least likely to be influenced by political considerations.

I am in favor of such a readjustment of the franchise as will give to all classes of the community that voice in the government of the country to which they are entitled and of which certain classes are now unjustly deprived by the present Government, notwithstanding that they have had ample opportunities of remedying this injustice.

The educational department under a political head not having proved a success, I shall favor a return to the non-political position which the department occupied when under the able management of the late Dr. Ryerson.

I believe that too much attention and too much money has been spent on what is called higher education and upon educational theorizing to the neglect of the three R's; that the cost of maintaining public schools—especially in the outlying districts—has been unnecessarily increased thereby, and that the people are not deriving the advantages which they should do from the large amounts annually expended nominally for educational purposes, but in too many instances to little practical advantage.

There are, no doubt, several other questions to which allusion might be made, but this address is already too long, and as my views on the public questions of the day are already pretty well known to most of you, and especially as I hope to have the opportunity, between this and polling day, of discussing the issues of the campaign with my opponent in your presence, I shall conclude by expressing the hope that my long and active connection with the public affairs of the Town and County of Peterborough, my practical knowledge of its agricultural and manufacturing interests and the manner in which I have hitherto discharged the public duties with which I have from time to time been entrusted have been such as to secure for me the hearty and active support of not only those who agree with me, but also of those electors who believe it to be the duty of a representative to try and impress his views upon his party leaders and not simply to vote as directed by them.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN CARNEGIE.

CANOEING.

American Canoe Association—This Year's Meeting in Canada.

To the Sporting Editor of The Mail.

SIR,—Your columns have already given a good deal of information as to the association and its doings at Lake George. This year the annual camp is to be held in Canada, and this fact will undoubtedly awaken fresh interest in many who were hitherto inclined to look upon it as a foreign institution. Canada is perhaps the only civilised country in the world in which the use of the aboriginal canoe has never been entirely superseded by that of the rowing boat. In asking the American canoemen to come here they were invited to come to "the home of the canoe." They are coming over in force, and it will be expected that the Canadian "Knights of the Paddle" will turn out in such numbers as to justify and make good the invitation. Already the interest is awakening on this side of the line, but in order that the manly sport of canoeing and the thoroughly international association devoted to that sport may be brought fully to the attention of all Canadians who take an interest in amateur aquatics, I ask the assistance of your columns.

The association should attract the many canoeists, young and old, who have in some cases for years been accustomed to camping and roughing it in the wilds. It should attract many whose innate fondness for the water has not yet been killed off by the troubles and worries of rowing clubs and rowing regattas, in which a discordant element of half concealed professionalism has turned real amateurs away in disgust. It should attract many a man who, as summer comes on, feels the want of fresh air, change of scene, moderate exercise, and entire freedom from business cares. To those coming within any of the above classes who would know more of the association let me give a few particulars.

The association is in its fourth year, and number between two and three hundred active members, from all parts of the United States and Canada. None but amateurs are admitted. To remove any temptation on the part of professionals to creep in, and to banish as far as possible the elements of discord, the prizes in its regattas are confined to such simple articles as flags, paddles, &c. The flags have heretofore been contributed by the American ladies, but perhaps this year the ladies of Canada will take upon themselves this part of the work. Many of its members undertake long cruises over comparatively unknown stretches of water, and bring back interesting records of their trip, with sketches, photographs, &c. A general camp is held once a year. At this camp members have the opportunity of becoming acquainted and comparing their canoes and outfit. A regatta extending over two or three days with paddling and sailing races for all classes of canoes gives life to the camp. All previous meets have been at Lake George. This year a "new departure" is to be taken in coming to Canada. One thing leading to this is the friendly spirit of the American members, who are anxious to make the association a thoroughly international affair. But another thing that led to the choice of Canada, and Stony lake in particular, as the scene of the next camp, was that the members were anxious to get away for once at least from the beaten paths of tourists and the neighbourhood of hotels; to go, in fact, to the wilds. Rowing men want for their regattas a place where crowds may congregate to see and applaud their efforts. Canoeists, while perhaps not wholly averse to applause, look upon the regatta rather as a means of testing, in a friendly way, the relative speed or sailing powers of their different styles of canoes, and object to furnish the attractions for some enterprising hotel.

The camp for 1883 will be held at Stony Lake, in the County of Peterborough, from probably the 10th to the 24th of August. The lake may be reached by taking the Midland railway to Peterborough and thence to Lakefield, from which point a small steamer runs up to Stony Lake. The regatta will be held about the 21st, 22nd, and 23rd. The hotel accommodation in the neighbourhood is very limited, but there is ample camping ground for all.

Dr. C. A. Neide (address: Schuylerville, N.Y.,) is secretary, and will receive all applications for membership. The annual fee is $1, with initiation fee of $1 extra. A local committee will be formed here, and all necessary information will be gladly given to those who intend to be present. The official organ of the association is the American Canoeist, published by Brentano Bros., at 5 Union Square, New York. The coming meeting will be one of more than usual interest, because that at it there will be represented for the first time in full force all the different styles and types of Canadian canoes, and at it there will be a fair chance of comparing the relative merits of single and double-bladed paddles. It will be memorable too, I trust, as the first grand gathering of Canadian canoeists from all parts of the country.

Yours, &c.,
E. B. EDWARDS.

Peterborough, Feb. 20.

The Electroscope.

The Rev. Mr. Gilbert, during an address at Christ Church the other night, remarks the Otago Times, while speaking of a telephone, asked his audience if they would be astonished if he were to tell them that it was now proved to be possible to convey by means of electricity vibrations of light—to not only speak with your distant friend, but actually to see him. The electroscope—the name of the instrument which enabled us to do this—was the very latest scientific discovery, and to Dr. Gnidrah, of Victoria, belonged the proud distinction. The trial of this wonderful instrument took place at Melbourne on the 31st October last in the presence of about forty scientific and public men, and was a great success. Sitting in a dark room they projected on a large disc of white burnished metal the race course at Flemington with its myriad hosts of active beings. Each minute detail stood out with perfect fidelity to the original, and as they looked at the wonderful picture through binocular glasses it was difficult to imagine that they were not actually on the course itself and moving among those whose actions they could so completely scan.

THE Western Union Telegraph Company has estimated the durance of telegraph poles as follows:—Cedar, 15 years; chestnut, 12; juniper, 12; spruce 7 years. Cedar, chestnut, and spruce are used in the Northern States; juniper and cypress in the Southern States, and red wood in California. Poles cut in the summer will not last as long as those cut in the winter by five years. Soil and climate, of course, making a difference with the life of poles.

ELECTRO-GENERATIVE FUEL.

At the recent meeting of the French Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Brard, of La Rochelle, read a paper before the physical section, in which he described a new method of generating electricity by the combustion of a peculiar kind of fire-slab. This slab consists of a brick of carbonaceous matter and a brick of nitrate of soda or nitrate of potash, placed together, but separated by a thin sheet of asbestos paper, and both enveloped in a wrapper of asbestos. The carbon brick is formed of about one hundred grammes of coal-dust kneaded into a paste with a tar or molasses, and shaped in a mold by heat. The mold gives the brick a pitted surface above, and perforates it with holes through and through from the upper to the under side. Strips of brass or copper are also imbedded in the under side of the brick to serve as an electrode for the carbon pole of the electro-generative element. The other brick consists of a mixture of three parts ashes and one part nitrate of potash or soda, melted together and poured upon the pitted surface of the carbon, which, however, is first covered with a layer of asbestos paper. Strips of brass are also imbedded in this compound to serve as an electrode. The slab thus formed constitutes a generator of electricity when wrapped in asbestos and placed in a furnace or fierce fire. In such an element the carbon forms the negative plate and is oxidised just as zinc is oxidised in the ordinary voltaic cell, the nitrate of potash being the oxidizing substance. The slab becomes a thermo-chemical battery, and Dr. Brard states that an electric current is obtained strong enough to actuate an ordinary electric bell. By connecting up several of these elementary slabs after the manner of a voltaic battery, a more powerful current is the result, three or four cells being sufficient to decompose water.

Lucky Canadians.

The following letter appears in the Belleville Ontario:—"I notice in the Globe of the 8th inst., an account of the heirs of the Bradford estate, England, residing in Cleveland and Geneva, Ohio, having fallen heirs to about $40,000,000, which they are about to obtain. The Bradford family of this city also claim heirship. David Jackson has also fallen heir to from fifteen to twenty million dollars, through his great-grandfather, Wm. McKay, who emigrated from Glasgow, Scotland, to Maryland, United States, in the early part of the eighteenth (18th) century, where he died, leaving a large estate, besides about ten million dollars in Glasgow. The old man went east this week looking after his fortune. He is in a position to prove his heirship, being, at present, the only heir to the estate of Wm. Mckay. Who will be the next lucky Canadian?"

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated an agreeable form, all the virtue of this nature medicine gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustation" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. W. T. HOUSE.

WELLAND, Ont., March 20, 1882.

I have used "Hall's Catarrh Cure," and judging from the good results I derived from one bottle, believe it will cure the most stubborn case of Catarrh if its use be continued for a reasonable length of time.

The Cells.

Two prisoners rested in the cells on Saturday and Sunday nights. Five tramps shared the cells with them on Saturday night and one tramp last night.

Trent Valley Canal.

Ten teams have just been put on to move the plant for the Buckhorn section of the Trent Valley Navigation from Lakefield to Buckhorn. This does not look as if this important improvement is being neglected.

Personal.

The Rev. Mr. Ratcliffe occupied the pulpit in the Baptist Church on Sunday.

Mr. Jas. Salter, Inspector of the Citizens' Insurance Company, is in town.

Mr. Wm. Lesher has arrived in town from Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The Fire Alarms.

The three fire bells ordered by the Council have been put up in position, and are ready at any time when needed to sound the alarm. One has been put up at the corner of George and Dublin streets, near Mr. T. Menzies' residence, another opposite the West Ward school house, and the third at Spry's corner—at the conjunction of Stewart and Dalhousie streets.

The Weather Probabilities.

Yesterday was stormy and to-day the weather is cloudy and moderate. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as received from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh to stormy westerly to north westerly winds; very fine weather, with lower temperature.

The Minister of Inland Revenue.

The Hon. John Costigan, accompanied by Mr. H. H. Smith, Mayor, arrived in town on Saturday night. The ten o'clock train, on which he came, was behind time and did not reach here until a quarter to twelve, but, although the hour was late, there was a large deputation present at the station to meet Mr. Costigan. He went north to-day to speak at Downeyville and in Ops.

Electors, mark your ballots on the 27th February, for CARNEGIE in the West Riding, and READ in the East Riding.

HOW TO MARK YOUR BALLOT.

THE electors of the West Riding should be careful to mark their ballots correctly. Remember that Mr. Carnegie's color is blue and that Mr. Campbell's is red, and that a vote for Mr. Carnegie should be recorded by an X made opposite his name, as follows:—

CAMPBELL.
I. James Campbell, of the Township of North Monaghan, County of Peterborough, Yeoman.

CARNEGIE.
II. John Carnegie, of the Town of Peterborough, County of Peterborough, Publisher. X

The electors of the East Riding should vote for Mr. Read, by marking their ballots as follows:—

BLEZARD.
I. Thomas Blezard, of the Township of Otonabee, County of Peterborough, Yeoman.

READ.
II. George Read, of the Township of Otonabee, in the County of Peterborough. X

THE ICE INDUSTRY.

Mr. G. C. Rogers' New Ice House in Ashburnham.

Mr. Geo. C. Rogers has made preparations for supplying the town and village of Ashburnham with wholesome ice for domestic and general use next summer. He has erected, on the river above his mill, an ice house forty by sixty feet, and twenty feet to the eaves. It has been carefully constructed, Mr. Rogers having visited Toronto and other places and viewed the different models of ice houses, so as to be in a position to build one that will be most suitable for the purpose. This one is built on the same plan as that of Messrs. Davies & Co., of Toronto, at their brewery. The walls of the ice house are double, and the space between the walls are filled in with saw dust. Drains have been constructed beneath it, and air will be admitted by means of ventilators arranged at the top of the building on much the same principle as is used in ventilating green houses and conservatories.

Last week Mr. Rogers had men employed in filling this house with ice. Twenty men were busy cutting the ice, six teams drew it to the ice house, twelve men there packed it away, making things quite busy during the whole week. About six thousand blocks or two hundred and twenty-five cords of ice have been stored in the building, and will be covered over with saw dust.

This ice business will be conducted in connection with the mill office, where orders for ice can be left. The mill office being connected with the telephone system, orders for ice can be given by telephone, and it will be delivered promptly. By entering into this business, Mr. Rogers has supplied a want, and, no doubt, will meet with encouragement. Already many persons have signified their intention of purchasing ice from him during the summer, and many more will follow their example.

Mr. Carnegie's Committee.

There was a large attendance of enthusiastic workers at the meeting of Mr. Carnegie's committee on Saturday evening, and each one felt in earnest in their endeavors to secure a victory for the Opposition and for the cause of good Government, and were confident as to the result of the voting. Let there be a good turn out at the meeting of the committee and friends at the Music Hall this evening, as it will be the last opportunity for general consultation before the polling day.

Accidental Fires.

On Saturday night a lamp, from some unknown cause, exploded in Mr. John McKee's drug store. In the excitement a bottle of alcohol was spilled on the fire and added to the danger, but it was extinguished without doing much damage, although one of the assistants had his hand slightly burned. On the same evening a paper sign in Messrs. Fairweather & Co.'s window fell down on the gas light and caught fire. It fell on some goods in the window, and although it was soon extinguished, a few pieces of goods were damaged.

Railway Smash-up.

The Midland trains were delayed on Saturday through waiting for the Grand Trunk express trains, and they in turn were delayed by the collision of two freight trains, which occurred on Saturday morning about a mile west of Newtonville. The collision is said to have occurred through some mistake of the operator at Newtonville. Brakeman Rouil was seriously injured, and driver Miggay received severe wounds. The engines, cars, and goods were all burned, and the loss to the Grand Trunk Railway is estimated at $60,000.

An Old Resident Gone.

Mr. Wm. Deyell, sr., an old resident of the Township of Otonabee, received the last tributes of respect on Saturday last. Mr. Deyell's father came from Cavan County, Ireland, and was one of the first settlers in the Township of Cavan, Durham County. Mr. Deyell was seventy years of age, and had resided in Otonabee for many years. The regard that was felt for him was shown by the large number of friends who attended the funeral, the procession being about a mile in length. He was interred in the Little Lake Cemetery, the Rev W. Joliffe, of the Bible Christian Church, conducting the funeral service. The Rev. Mr. Joliffe will deliver a funeral discourse at Bethel Church next Sunday afternoon.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an Office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS. From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the land deserving comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Martin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

MURDER IN DURHAM COUNTY.

A Man's Throat Cut and his House Fired—His Wife Arrested.

On Thursday night last a fearful tragedy was enacted on lot No. 26, 3rd concession of Hope. A man named John Bullen, aged between 85 and 90 years, was living with his wife Bridget, who is some 65 or 70 years of age. They were both pensioners on the township funds, and did not live very agreeable together. About eleven o'clock on the night in question the house they lived in was discovered to be on fire, and a couple of the neighbors who saw the conflagration got there just as the roof fell in. After some time they discovered the body of the old man in the burning building. They shoveled snow on the place and subdued the fire. On examining the remains, it was found that his throat had been cut. The old woman was not near, but was found afterwards in a neighbor's house, a quarter of a mile away. She says the old man cut his own throat and set fire to the house. Coroner Maxwell held an inquest in the B. C. Church, Zion, on Friday; T. M. Welch, foreman. The jury returned a verdict in substance as follows:—That the deceased came to his death at the hands of his wife Bridget, who had set fire to the house to hide her crime. The old woman was committed under the coroner's warrant to Cobourg jail to stand her trial.—Port Hope Guide.

PORT HOPE.

AN AWFUL DEATH.—The Guide says that one of the most distressing accidents occurred in Port Hope on Friday night that we have ever been called upon to chronicle. About 9:30 o'clock, Mrs. William Ray, Baldwin street, was sitting by the stove sewing. Her son, a boy twelve or fourteen years of age, who had taken the lamp down stairs to do an errand, was handing it to his mother, when the bottom struck the table by which she was sitting, breaking the lamp—a large one—at the bowl. The oil ran over her and immediately took fire. She rushed into the bed-room where Mr. Ray was asleep, the flames from her person reaching to the ceiling. He sprang from the bed, threw a quilt over her, and told her to lie down. Instead of doing so, she rushed out of doors and jumped from the verandah into the snow, where another quilt was thrown over her and the fire extinguished. But the poor woman was so badly burned that she died at five o'clock a.m. on Saturday. She leaves a husband and two children to mourn her untimely end, who have the sympathy of all their friends.

BELLEVILLE.

ROBBERIES.—The safe in the office of the County Attorney at Belleville was entered on Thursday and $22 stolen. A man who came to Belleville from Norwood on Friday night, was knocked down by a tramp near the Grand Trunk station, and $25 taken from his pocket.

OMEMEE.

FINED.—The Herald says that on Monday one of the Emily pathmasters was arraigned before Dr. Norris, J. P., charged with not keeping the road in a proper state of repairs during the last storm. The pathmaster was fined $3 and costs. We are informed that he has carried the case to a higher court.

A Handsome Church Destroyed.

RIVER DU LOUP, EN-BAS, Feb. 24.—The Roman Catholic church took fire shortly after mid-day and burnt itself quietly out. No endeavours whatever were made to save the church or chapel. The chapel is situated at the rear of the church and did not take fire for some time after the church had been burning. With any ordinary fire appliances no doubt the main portion of the church could have been saved, and the chapel could have been saved intact. A contract was given out some months since at a cost of $25,000 for the finishing and the beautifying of the interior of the church. The origin of fire is supposed to have been caused by an overheated stove in the front of the church used by the workmen, but no person being in the church at the outbreak of the flames its origin must remain a mystery. Fortunately there was no wind at the time. Had there been a high wind two-thirds of the town would have been left in ashes. The church was on fire in the early part of last summer through some similar cause, and about the same hour of the day, but was easily subdued, and an extra insurance was then effected on the building. The church was one of the finest of its kind in Lower Canada, having an excellent spire of about one hundred feet, and a splendid chime of bells. The church is insured in the Royal of London for $20,000, and in L'Assurance Mutuelle de Fabrique for $16,500; total, $36,500. The edifice was valued at $100,000.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtue of this nature medicine gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

THE CONTEST.

WHILE we are writing the electors of Ontario are determining who are to represent them in the Provincial Legislature for the next four years, and consequently which party is to administer our affairs. Without being so rash as to prophecy what will be the precise result, we may express our confidence that Mr. Mowat will at least be shorn of the power which he has exercised so tyranically. We believe that at the very least his majority will be so materially diminished that he will no longer be able to ride rough-shod over his opponents, and we see very good reason for hoping that he may be replaced by Mr. Meredith and his supporters, to the great benefit of Ontario.

THE FENIAN CLAIMS.

When the Globe professes to be relating an event in Canadian history it should endeavour to [illegible], and not expose its ignorance. It represents Reformers as objecting to the ratification of the Washington treaty, because the claims of Canada for the Fenian raids were not considered, and imputes some blame to Sir John Macdonald for this omission.

If this is not gross ignorance it must be worse. The British authorities proposed that the fishery question should be submitted to arbitration; the United States suggested that the Alabama claims should be considered at the same time. Great Britain was willing, and said that all outstanding claims and disputes might be settled simultaneously. The Washington authorities professed their readiness to agree to this, but they played one of those sharp tricks that have more than once disgraced their diplomacy. They worded their agreement so as to limit it materially. They fixed a time limit which fell short of the Fenian epoch. John Bull was once more hoodwinked by the more smart and unscrupulous Brother Jonathan.

As the matter was not submitted to the plenipotentiaries at Washington, and indeed by the terms of the reference was expressly excluded from their consideration, they were not in a position to take any action regarding it.

The Globe may as well tell the truth in regard to this transaction. If it must blame any one, it should be the United States authorities for their "smartness," or those of the British Empire for their over-confidence in the honesty of the other party to the dispute.

Courageous Girls.

At Forty-eight street, New York, the other day a young lady went to her room in the evening and saw a man's face in the window. It moved and she screamed and ran to the door. At the same moment in the hallway her sister caught a glimpse on a pair of legs dangling in front of the window over the front door. Without screaming she opened the door, caught hold of the man's boots and pulled stoutly, landing him on his back in the middle of the hallway. Meanwhile her sister recovered from her fright, sprang forward to assist the other, and at the same moment two lady visitors trooped up stairs and joined in the assault. Kick, scratch, squirm, or push as he might, the four girls held him fast on the floor, where he snarled at them, cursed them, ground his teeth in anger at being trapped by women, and alternately raised his head and dashed it back on the floor. One of the ladies hailed a passing messenger boy and told him to run for a policeman, as a burglar had been caught. The officer soon came and took the man to the station. He was found to be an old offender.

Gleaning Pine.

A local newspaper says that two farmers within two and a half miles of Ludington, Mich., have hauled to mill this winter 100,000 feet of pine, all secured from land that had been cut over before—that is, the big operators had skimmed the cream from it, and thought that what was left was of no account. But the two farmers, probably in clearing the land, picked up a little matter of 100,000 feet, which they sold for $7.50 a thousand, or an aggregate of $750. Probably after the great operators have "exhausted" the pine in Michigan, the farmers, small jobbers and pocket mill men will make themselves rich gleaning up the scattered pine, and furnishing the local supply for years to come. —Northwestern Lumberman.

THE BROOK TRAGEDY.

PARTICULARS OF THE MURDER OF A FORMER RESIDENT OF THIS TOWN.

A Sensation in California—The Son's Remarkable Story of the Crime—Strychnine Found in His Possession.

The San Francisco Call of January 9th contains the following account of the murder of German Brook:—

"One of the most remarkable and inexplicable crimes ever recorded occurred in Oakland yesterday afternoon about half-past three o'clock, and adds another to the long list of sensations furnished by the moral city across the bay. In a little one-story house on Willow street, near Eighth, West Oakland, lived an old man, German Brook by name, and his son Arthur, a young man nineteen years of age. Each one owns newspaper routes. The boy had lived at the West Oakland House for some time, attending to the business of his routes on The Call, Alta, Democrat and Bulletin. Recently his father went to Oakland and purchased a newspaper route. Father and son hired the little house on Willow street, and Mrs. Brook was expected soon to go over and live with her husband and her son. At the time mentioned yesterday afternoon, shooting was heard inside the house, and the boy ran out of the kitchen into the yard and along the side entrance to Willow street, thence into a store that adjoins the house on the north side, exclaiming that his father and he had been shot. The boy was bleeding from a bullet wound in his left arm. He repeated his startling story to bystanders, and then ran to a drug store a block distant. Officer Fields was notified of the shooting and ran to the house where the tragedy occurred. He entered the kitchen by the rear door. Lying on the floor was the elder Brook, his head in a great pool of blood. His head was bruised and bloody, and his breath came hard and labored.

THE BOY'S STORY.

The boy had told the officer that two men had entered the house and one of them had done the shooting. Therefore the officer looked rapidly through the house for the assailants, and then through the stable in the yard, finding no one. He then returned to the house, and with the assistance of some men placed the unconscious form of Mr. Brook on a sofa. Captain of Police Pumyea and Detective Fuller repaired to the house to investigate the crime. The elder Brook was placed in a wagon and taken to the Receiving Hospital. Captain Pumyea took the boy to the City Prison.

In the private office of the Captain The Call reporter had a long talk with the young man. He told the following story: "My name is Arthur Brook. Recently my father and I moved into a house on Willow street. On Sunday last my father and I were in San Francisco and returned by the 6:30 p. m. boat. As we entered the house we heard some one there. My father said that he must get a pistol for protection from burglars. To-day (Monday) I collected some money for newspapers bills, and in the city I purchased a pistol. I returned home about 3 o'clock and handed my father the bills and the money I had collected. My father was sitting at the table in the kitchen. He told me to get my horse shod and start out on my route. I reached to take the pistol from my pocket to hand him. As I had the pistol in my hand somebody opened the door of the kitchen—the door from the yard. I turned and saw two men with their faces covered. One had a red silk handkerchief over his face, and the other had a dark covering over his face. One of the men drew a pistol, and, striking with it, knocked the pistol from my hand to the floor. The second man picked it from the floor. Just then my father said, 'I know you, John.' The man who had my pistol then fired at my father. I sprang forward, and the same man shot me. I rushed out of the house by the kitchen door and told the people in the bakery next door and everybody I met what had occurred. My father had a paper route in San Rafael, and before that had one in San Francisco."

THE BOY'S WOUND.

The wound of the boy is slight. The bullet entered the left arm below the elbow and ranged upward, stopping about the elbow joint. The wound of the father is a mortal injury. The bullet entered the head at the top and left side, fractured the skull, and lodged somewhere at the front of the head.

The boy was questioned closely concerning all the circumstances. He said he knew of no one who had any spite against his father or himself, and he did not know to whom his father referred when he said, "I know you, John." He supposed the object of the men was robbery. The story of the boy is well nigh incredible. That two men, in broad daylight, could enter a house and shoot two persons, without apparent cause, seemed to the officers impossible, and immediately they sought another and more probable explanation for the tragic occurrence, and in the meantime they detained the boy at the City Prison. Diligent inquiry among the neighbors elicited the information that no two men had been seen entering or leaving the house; in fact, they had not been seen at all in the neighborhood. This fact threw additional discredit on the boy's statement, and further information was sought. The pistol was found lying on the floor of the kitchen. Three chambers had been discharged. The bullet that struck Mr. Brook accounts for one; the bullet that struck the boy accounts for another. Looking for marks of the third bullet, Officer Fields found on the table in the kitchen a mark as though a bullet had struck and glanced against the wall above the table. A depression in the plaster shows where a bullet might have struck, and the bullet itself, battered and out of shape, was found lying on the floor in front of the table. Then the sleeve of the boy's coat is scorched, showing that the shot by which he was wounded was fired at very close range. Taking into consideration all these circumstances in connection with the improbable story of the boy, it was deemed at least possible that the boy might have and he was accordingly locked in a cell in the City Prison, though no charge was made against him on the prison register. The idea of at least the possibilities of the case is that young Brook had some trouble with his father, and pulling the pistol, which he had purchased yesterday, shot at him. The first time he missed his aim and the bullet struck the table. The second shot was more successful. Immediately the old gentleman jumped to his feet, and grasping the pistol, turned it round, and the boy fired a third time. By reason of the father turning the boy's hand, the boy shot himself in the left arm. This statement had sufficient credibility to warrant the officers in placing the boy under arrest. In addition, it is said that the story the boy told when he first left the house differed materially from the one he told The Call reporter at the Oakland City Prison. The only way in which all doubts could be set at rest would be a statement of the elder Brook, and this is impossible, for he lies perfectly unconscious, and his death is expected with every movement.

The pistol is an English bull-dog, 32 calibre, and not a self-cocking pistol. Three chambers were discharged, the shells being in the pistol when it was found. The wound in Mr. Brook's head was evidently fired from behind. The hole in the hat shows that he must have been sitting, with his hat on the back of his head, and the pistol was fired from behind, slightly to the left side.

On the table in the kitchen were found several receipts for newspaper subscriptions and $1.60 in change. In the pockets of Mr. Brook were found about $30 in coin. The boy says he is nineteen years old, but he looks to be not a day over sixteen. He is bright and intelligent, and readily answers questions put to him. The whole case is cloaked in great mystery. Every statement in connection with it seems paradoxical. Every effort is making to gain the real truth of the matter.

The family of the victim reside in this city, on Green street, between Polk and Larkin, and consists of three daughters and three sons, including the boy under arrest and a married daughter in Alameda. The eldest son is in the employ of Murphy, Grant & Co. The boy who is mentioned above is spoken of by the neighbors of the family as being a boy of unusual quiet and peaceable disposition."

The same paper, in its issue of the 10th of January, has the following reference to the tragedy:—

"German Brook, the newspaper carrier, who was shot at his dwelling on Willow street, Oakland, on Monday afternoon, was still alive last evening. Since shot he has not regained consciousness, and it is probable that he never will. When his son, Arthur Brook, was searched in the Oakland City Prison a scrap of newspaper containing a quantity of white powder, subsequently proved to be strychnine, was found in one of his pockets. The young man at first denied all knowledge of the possession of the poison, but when the paper was shown him he said he had carried the powder for several weeks, but did not know what the powder was. He disclaimed having had the intention to poison any one. In investigating in relation to the feeling that existed between father and son, it was learned that the father was strict with the boy. It is also announced that Mr. Brook was making the boy work out the sum of $200, which he is charged with embezzling from Redington & Co., when collecting for them some time ago, which sum his father was about to pay to that firm. In reporting information concerning circumstances of this kind an odium may be cast upon an entirely innocent person; but in the case of a mysterious crime, like the shooting of Mr. Brook and his son, circumstantial evidence and probability have to form the opinion. The officers say that they have no theory of the case, but are examining into every circumstance that might lead to the fixing the crime on the guilty person, beyond doubt. The boy's story of the masked robbers entering the house and one doing the shooting is deemed almost too improbable for belief without corroborating evidence. No charge has been entered against young Brook on the prison register, though his name has been placed on the book, in order to detain him until further information of the crime can be gleaned. Nothing transpired yesterday to remove the suspicion that the boy might have committed the crime. The elder Mr. Brook owned a privilege for selling the weekly San Francisco papers on the local trains, and every Saturday travelled on the cars, selling papers."

The Call of the 14th January, contains the following account of the death of Mr. Brook and the inquest:—

"German Brook, the man who was shot last Monday at his residence, on Willow street, died at half-past eight o'clock yesterday morning, at the Receiving Hospital. His wife alone was present at the bedside when he breathed his last. He has not spoken a word since he was wounded, and the hope that he would explain the mystery of the tragedy by which he lost his life, was vain. The boy Arthur Brook, who was suspected of having committed the crime, was informed of his father's death. He inclined his head on the sofa in the office of the Captain of Police, but shed no tears. He was asked if he had anything to say. He replied that he could say nothing more than he already had said. He denied that he had any trouble with his father. He repeated that there was nothing more to tell than he had already told.

Last evening an inquest was held at the Coroner's office.

Dr. W. B. Simonton testified that on Monday last, about 3.30 p.m., he was called to a drug store to attend to Arthur Brook, whom he found to have a gunshot wound in the left arm. On inquiring the cause of the wound, the boy told him that he and his father were shot, and that his father's condition was much worse than his own. He asked the doctor to attend to his father first. On entering the house witness found the deceased lying on the floor, his head resting in a pool of blood. Upon examination of his head, witness discovered a gunshot wound at the middle of the left parietal bone. The right eye was swollen and discolored. His breathing was oppressed, the pulse slow, and he was mentally unconscious. Witness said that the ball entered the wound of the boy Arthur a little below the elbow and the median line of the left forearm. The direction of the ball was upward, in his opinion. The boy told the witness, when he examined the wound, that two men had entered the house, and one of them shot him and his father. Witness thought the deceased must have been sitting when the shot was fired.

Dr. E. H. Woolsey testified that he attended Mr. Brook in consultation with Dr. Legler. The wound to the brain was necessarily fatal. The left cheek of deceased was powder burned, and a portion of the beard at that place was singed. This obviously resulted from the close explosion of the pistol. Witness said the same shot that made the wound in the head could not have made the powder mark on the cheek. The person who did the shooting must have been higher than the man who was shot. Dr. Woolsey illustrated the relative position of the shooter and the man who was shot. The presumption would be that the man did not make a voluntary move after he was shot, but it was possible for him to have power to get up and speak immediately after being shot.

Mrs. Kate Thomas, who lives in the house next to that in which the deceased was shot, testified that on last Monday, about half-past two o'clock in the afternoon, she was sitting in her house with Mrs. Weintraut, and heard the reports of two shots, one following the other almost without interval. A moment after she saw through a space in the fence a man coming from the steps of the kitchen door. He turned and went out through the alley. The man wore dark clothes and looked to be rather stout. His coat was a short sack coat. Witness heard no noise or shouting. Witness did not know whom she saw in the yard.

The coat worn by Arthur Brook was shown Mrs. Thomas. She said the coat worn by the man she saw was the same style and about the same color.

The boy, Arthur Brook, was called as a witness. As he was about to be sworn, N. S. Wirt, of San Francisco, the boy's attorney, said he objected to his making any statement at this time. He said he had had no time for consultation, and he wished time before the boy was examined. He asked that the inquest be continued to Monday. Coroner Hamilton said that he could not compel the boy to make any statement if he did not wish to, but the adjournment of the inquest was another matter. Mr. Wirt repeated that his advice was for the boy not to make any statement. The boy was then taken back to the city prison without making any statement.

Harry Brook, Mrs. Charlotte Nelson, Fred Sanderlin, J. S. Colburn and Officer J. B. Fields also testified, but nothing new or important was elicited from them.

The jury found that deceased came to his death from a pistol shot, "and the circumstances point to Arthur Brook as having fired the shot."

Arthur Brook was committed to stand his trial for the murder.

COURT ETIQUETTE.

It is considered most essential that the dignity of the courts of justice should be strictly maintained. Everyone is familiar with the imposing aspect of the superior courts of law at Osgoode hall, and it is well known that a lawyer before he can be heard in court must appear in proper court costume, i. e., with a black coat, a white tie, and a gown. A day or two ago a well-known lawyer appeared in court, and, when called upon, commenced his case in the usual way, but he was promptly stopped by the presiding judge, who, in an injured way, remarked that he thought some one was speaking but could not see the speaker. The barrister in question, remembering that he was properly attired, and not being quite recovered from his efforts in arranging his tie, could not understand his lordship's cutting remarks, but he took his seat in a bewildered way, and gazed stupidly round him. As he did so one of the strings of his gown, which in some way had got twisted round his neck, fell back into its proper position showing clearly the white tie, which for the moment had been hidden. The judge noticed his mistake and speedily rectified it, which still more mystified the counsel, who as yet was quite ignorant of the reason of what he thought was a judge's whim. A good laugh ensued when he learned of the accident.—Mail.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS. From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living Physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Gaol.

The County Gaol has at the present time almost as many male prisoners as there are accommodations for. There are confined in the prison sixteen males and two females, the greater part of the men being imprisoned for drunkenness.

The Cells.

Two prisoners inhabited the police cells last night. One was arrested at half-past eleven o'clock and the other at about one o'clock. One of them was nearly frozen when found and would probably have perished if he had not been taken in charge.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, is as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh to strong westerly, gradually shifting to north-easterly winds; fair weather, with light snow in some localities; slightly higher temperature.

Personal.

We take the following paragraph from the Packet's report of the thirty-second annual meeting of the congregation of the Orillia Presbyterian church, held on February 14th:—

"Reference was made to the great loss sustained by the congregation in the removal to Peterborough of Mr. Melville Millar, and a graceful tribute was paid to his past valuable services, as a Deacon and Treasurer of the congregation."

Wiggins' "Storm Herald."

We have received a copy of the "Storm Herald and Almanac" issued by E. Stone Wiggins, M. A., L. L. D., which contains a portrait of this author on the title page. Among other interesting matter, it contains a map of the course of the great storm which he predicts for March 9th. According to this map, the storm will cross the Southern States in a north-westerly direction, turn due north as it approaches the boundary of Manitoba, and sweeping round in the North-west Territory it will pass across Ontario and Quebec from west to east. It will pass south of Lake Michigan in a north westerly direction, but will immediately curve around and sweep down Lake Superior and cross Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence from the west. It is pictured as reaching almost to the North Pole. The book is published by the Grip Publishing Company, and is well printed.

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restaurant and Oyster Parlour.

POLIC COURT.

TUESDAY, Feb. 27.—Mr. T. Menzies, J. P., occupied the bench at the court again this morning.

DRUNK.

Michael Murray was charged with having been found drunk in a public place, and acknowledged that he had committed the offence, but pleaded that it was the first time that he had ever been arrested. He was allowed to go, on promising to leave town and go to work.

Owen Brady pleaded guilty to a similar charge, but also wished to be allowed to go. His petition was granted, he promising to keep out of the way of the constables by seeking work at once.

The Temperature.

The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a.m., 10° above zero; at noon, 16° above, and at 3 p.m., 18° above.

Railway Notes.

The noon Midland train was an hour late to-day.

A despatch from Marmora says that a fatal accident occurred on Sunday morning in the boarding-house of Munford & MacMaken, contractors on the Ontario and Quebec Railway Mr. King, their clerk, was drying dualine, which exploded, killing him instantly and hurting Mr. Buckley very badly, also blowing the house to pieces.

A Cutter Broken.

As Mr. James Young was driving over the railway crossing on Charlotte street this forenoon, his horse became frightened and attempted to run away. The cutter, a light one without a box, was upset and he was thrown out, but he held on valiantly to the reins, and although dragged around in the snow, finally brought the frightened animal to a stand still. The horse appeared to be uninjured, but the shafts were broken and the rig was otherwise damaged.

The Contest.

At the meetings of the Committees on Monday night the town politicians tightened up their armor for the contest day. And they commenced it early and in earnest. Vehicles of various kinds moved swiftly through the streets before the polls was opened, and the town has presented an appearance of unusual activity all day. The friends of each candidate have been working earnestly in support of their principles and views, their candidate and their party, but the election has proceeded in a very orderly manner.

March Storm Dates.

Mr. H. G. Vennor's Weather Bulletin for March gives the following as the most probable dates of the March storms:—

1st.—A decided storm and bluster with snow and in some sections rains, (Maritime Provinces.) The storm will extend southward to Washington, D.C.

3rd and 4th.—General heavy storms. Chicago and west blockaded, also Nova Scotia. This storm will probably likewise be experienced in Great Britain, with snow.

10th and 12th.—Very general heavy snow storms and blockades, extending far to westward. Rains and snow falls Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Tremendous snow drifts in western States.

17th to 20th.—General heavy snow and rain storms south to New York and Washington. Snow blockades again west. On 20th or 21st great wind storm at New York.

27th.—Another general storm period. Snow and rains. Newfoundland snow blocked.

30th and 31st.—General snow, wind and rain storms. Heavy blow and rains New York and middle States sea-board. Snow and rain storms Maritime Provinces.

The month will be one of the stormiest experienced in a long period of years and there is a probability of great destruction of life and property. The storm period of the 10th to 12th will undoubtedly be severe and wide spread, but the heavy rain and wind storms of the 27th to 30th may cause the greatest harm, particularly towards New York and middle sea-board.

A CARD OF THANKS.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—As I am to leave town early in March to settle as pastor of the Baptist Church in the city of Belleville, I am of the opinion that it would be very wrong on my part to leave Peterborough without acknowledging publicly the kindness of her citizens to me, during a long season of sore affliction. Allow me therefore, through your columns to say that I leave Peterborough with very great regret, mingled with grateful and loving remembrances of the many kindnesses received not only from the Baptist Church, but also from all denominations in town and neighborhood. If any one has reason to think well of Peterborough I have. I would also here express my gratitude to and my affection for my brethren in the Gospel Ministry, inasmuch as our intercourse has been loving and precious and our co-operation in every good work of the most cordial character, and further feel that some expression of thanks is due to Dr. Fife who for one whole year has been my adviser and friend—doing his utmost to hasten my convalescence and this without hope of fee or reward, but he will have that of the Servant's Lord. Matth. XXV. 40. I shall ever feel deeply interested in Peterboro's growth and prosperity and will ever pray God to bless and prosper His own cause in her midst. And as I do not remove to any great distance I hope to be able to be frequently in your midst to bear testimony, as God gives me opportunity to the power and grace of His Gospel. May God richly reward and bless all.

I am, dear sir,
Yours in Christian love,
E. J. STOBO.

Chinese Cigarettes.

Leprosy, says a physician of San Francisco, has not a few victims among the whites. Especially is it revealing itself about the lips and tongues of boys who smoke cheap cigarettes made by Chinese lepers. The disease, though fatal, is slow in giving tokens of its first approaches. The doctor knows of one hundred and seventy cases, the majority largely Mongolian. The disease is highly contagious; sleeping in bed-clothes handled by infected Chinese servants, even sitting on the chairs they have used, handling the same things, etc., is dangerous. The disease often is not observable for four or five years, and then only by physicians accustomed to examining such patients.

In the Sandwich Islands, where it prevails, an island is set apart for lepers. The hospital has at this time eight hundred lepers. A vigilant eye is kept on the lookout for traces of incipient leprosy. When observed, the person is at once sent to the hospital, but a great many are concealed by friends, and thus the disease spreads. No case is discharged cured, unless it be true that quite lately some few recent cases have been cured. Report says they were effected by eucalyptus leaves. One doctor claims to have counteracted recent developments by inoculation. The leper does not suffer much pain till his fingers and toes drop off. When the leprous sores are still on their hands, they work in Chinese cigar factories and give wide spread to the infection. Clothes-washermen the same.—Ex.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent, in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1883.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

The result of the contest in this riding must be highly satisfactory to the friends of good government. In the West Riding, and especially in the town of Peterborough, a steady adherance to conservative principles has once more been manifested, and the Reformers might well desist from futile attempts to wrest it from us.

They certainly did their worst in this election and they have signally failed, so that it would be vain for them to hope for greater success on another occasion. Having achieved this victory in spite of the most strenuous efforts to defeat us, we need not dwell particularly upon the nature of these efforts. We must however do our duty by plainly condemning the corruption and coercion that was employed to thwart the will of the great majority of the free and independent electors. It speaks well for the manly independence and the intelligence of the electorate, that these efforts were not more successful.

The thanks alike of the member elect and of the Conservative party are due to those electors who honestly adhered to their pledges in the face of the inducements and all the influences brought to bear upon them, and also to those individuals, too numerous to mention by name, who worked so zealously and energetically for the good cause.

West Peterborough may well remember the twenty seventh of February, 1883, with satisfaction and pride.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

As usual the returns from the East Riding of Peterborough are very far from complete, but from what is known we fear that the constituency has not done its share in the effort to shake of the yoke of the Mowat administration. Till we have fuller returns, any further comment would be premature.

THE PROVINCE.

We must admit that we are somewhat disappointed at the result of the general election for the Provincial Legislature. Though we well know the difficulty of the task, the large adverse majority to be overcome, the potent influence of the army of official electioneering agents, and the arrangement of the constituencies by Mr. Mowat for the advantage of his party, we had hoped that the justice of our cause might have lead to a more decisive victory and to the overthrow of the administration with which our fine Province has too long been cursed.

As it is, however, a considerable gain for the public good has been made. Mr. Mowat and his colleagues have had their majority so greatly reduced, that even if they are able to maintain themselves in power for another four years, which is extremely doubtful, they will perforce have to be less overbearing, tyranical and unscrupulous, while the ability of the opposition to criticise and check them will be greatly augmented.

After the loud boastings of the Ministry and their supporters, such a doubtful victory is little better than a defeat, and is an indication that their power has almost waned.

NO WARRANT FOR BRENNAN.

DUBLIN, Feb. 28.—No warrant has been issued for the arrest of Brennan.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—It is stated that Mr. Gladstone in the interviews yesterday with the President and Ministers of Foreign Affairs appeared desirous to end the tension between France and England. It is believed that fresh regotiations relative to Egypt are impending, which will place France in a more favorable position than now.

CONSERVATIVE ELECTED.

DUBLIN, Feb. 28.—Col. King Harman (Conservative) is elected to Parliament from County Dublin, over McMahon (Nationalist). The vote stood 2,514 to 1,428. Gwynne, the second Conservative candidate, received 13 votes.

ARRESTS IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—The Radicals are angry at the arrest of Byrne at the instance of the British Government. The Intransigeant accuses the Government of basely cringing in order to meet English exigencies. The circumstances of the arrest are being investigated. It is expected that there will be other arrests of persons supposed to be connected with the troubles in Ireland.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—In the House of Commons the Chancellor of the Excheque, discussing the distress in Ireland, said that the Government would not shrink from strong measures if their were likely to have a permanent effect. He pointed out that wages were high, and the distress only affected the over crowded districts. He hoped that the Irish members would do what they could to restore confidence in Ireland, so that the promoters of public works would be able to obtain loans from private sources instead of from the Government.

THE PASSION PLAY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Interested parties have already spent $60,000 in as attempt to bring the Passion Play before the public.

BONDS ILLEGALLY ISSUED.

ALPOONA, Pa., Feb. 28.—It is believed that $150,000 of the city improvement loan bonds have been illegally, if not improperly issued. The city is unable to meet the interest on the bonds. There is but little to show for the expenditure of the money received for the bonds. It is thought that a fight will be made against the payment of more than $50,000 of the loan.

DISFRANCHISED NEGROES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The interior Department recommends Congress to pass a law settling three thousand negroes in the Indian Territory. They were formerly slaves of Indians upon Okalahma lands. It is stated that these negroes have never cast a vote and are denied full access to schools and the courts, being incompetent as witnesses and jurors.

THE TARIFF BILLS.

One seizure was made in Philadelphia. It is stated that nothing but corruption on the part of the inspectors can explain the passing of these goods without the payment of duties.

SHERIDAN'S CASE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Tribune's Washington despatch says that the men who have given the subject extra and special attention do not believe that a case can be made out for Sheridan's surrender to the British Government. A conspiracy to murder, which seems to be all that can be made out against Sheridan under Carey's story, supposing the story to be proved, is not an extraditional offence.

ESCAPED CONVICTS.

HELEVA, Pa., Feb. 28.—Five of the escaped convicts concerned in the murder of Major Gaut has been recaptured. One was shot dead by Gaut. The fugitives have thrown off all their outer clothing and are barefooted, and exposed to cold and hunger, are creeping, crawling and swaggering through mud and water. They must finally succumb. MR. PARNELL'S ADDRESS.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Mr. Parnell moved in amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, attacking the Executive in Ireland for he administration of the Crimes Act. The language of the amendment is very violent. It refers the unjust executions. Mr. Parnell said if there had been any reduction in the number of outrages in Ireland it is only because the people are being kept down by a brutal, horrible Coercion Act, administered in a brutal, terrible way. He defied the Government to continue to govern Ireland without the sympathy of the people. The amendment of the Land Act was urgent, though even that would not quench the spirit of Irish nationality. He charged the Government with packing the juries. After further debate the amendment was rejected by a vote of 133 to 15.

A Man's Wife.

It is not to sweep the house and make the beds, and darn the socks, and cook the meals, chiefly that a man wants a wife. If this is all he wants, hired servants can do it cheaper than a wife. If this is all, when a young man calls to see a lady send him into the pantry to taste the bread and cakes she has made; send him to inspect the needlework and bed-making; or put a broom into her hands and send him to witness its use. Such things are important, and the wise young man will quietly look after them. But what the true Man most wants of a wife is her companionship, sympathy and love. The way of life has many dreary places in it, and man needs a companion to go with him. A man is sometimes overtaken by misfortunes; he meets with failure and defeat; trials and temptations beset him; and he needs one to stand by him and sympathize. He has some stern battles to fight with poverty, with enemies and with sin, and he needs a woman that, while he puts his arm around her and feels that he has something to fight for, will help him fight; who will put her lips to his ear and whisper words of counsel, and her hand to his heart and impart new inspirations. All through life—through storm and through sunshine, conflict and victory; through adverse and favorable winds—man needs a woman's love. The heart yearns for it. A sister's, and a mother's love will hardly supply the need. Yet many seek for nothing further than success in housework. Justly enough half of these get nothing more. The other half, surprised beyond measure, obtain more than they sought. Their wives surprise them by bringing a nobler idea of marriage, and disclosing a treasury of courage, sympathy and love.

A GLORIOUS VICTORY!

MR. CARNEGIE ELECTED IN WEST PETERBORO'.

HE HAS A MAJORITY IN EVERY WARD IN THE TOWN.

Rejoicings over the Result—Large Meeting in the Opera House—Stirring Speeches Delivered—No. One Ward to the Fore.

The contest in the West Riding of Peterborough on Tuesday, was one of the most sharply contested that has taken place there for a long time. The opponents of the Conservative candidate used every effort and brought every possible influence to bear to secure his defeat, but they were unsuccessful, and he was returned by a substantial majority. The West Riding remained true to the Conservative cause, and elected Mr. Carnegie to support Conservative principles in the Provincial Legislature.

The number of votes polled in the town was larger by one hundred and eighteen than the number polled in the Dominion election last June, which in some measure accounts for the diminished Conservative majority. Mr. Carnegie polled nine more votes in the town than were recorded for the Conservative candidate last June.

On the polling day there was much hard work done, although there was not much display. The old and tried workers in the Conservative cause did their duty nobly, and were assisted by not less zealous younger recruits. Considering all they had to contend with, the influence of the Government as well as all else that was used against them, they have great reason for congratulation on the result.

The following are the returns:—

THE POLLS CLOSED.

After the polls had closed at five o'clock a large crowd assembled in and before the REVIEW office to learn the result of the voting, and as the returns were received they were posted up. As the numbers increased the assembly moved over to Hill's Music Hall, and as return after return was received, and it was seen that the election of Mr. Carnegie was secure, cheer after cheer was given. It then only became a question as to the majority, and the Conservative gave vent to their feelings in cheers and general congratulations.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Shortly before eight o'clock the doors of the Opera House were thrown open, and almost immediately it was filled with a dense throng, the number of which was so large that many could hardly obtain standing room. Here they awaited the returns from the constituencies throughout the Province.

Mr. H. H. SMITH, as President of the Liberal Conservative Association of West Peterborough took the chair, and congratulated the Conservative party on the victory that they had achieved.

Mr. GEO. HILLIARD, M. P., was called upon, and expressed the great pleasure he felt at the result of the day's voting, and stated that, everything considered, this was one of the greatest victories they had ever won in this Riding.

Mr. H. COLLINS, Reeve of North Monaghan, delivered a sensible speech, expressing his gratefulness to his own township for standing with him in supporting the Conservative party at this election.

Mr. CARNEGIE was loudly called for, and on coming forward was received with immense cheering. He said that, as the returns had not all been received, they were not yet "out of the woods," yet he felt confident that he had been elected by a substantial majority. In considering the vote in the town there were reasons for encouragement. There had been an increased vote of 118 over last June. At that election there were 947 votes polled in the town, and this time there were 1,065. He had received 601 votes, while 592 votes had been polled for Mr. Hilliard, and Mr. Campbell had received 464, while 355 votes had been cast for Mr. Lundy. This increase proved one of two things. It either proved that the town was growing rapidly under the hated N. P., or that the "Party of Purity" had discovered some way of manufacturing votes. He returned his warmest thanks for the unbought and uncoerced support which he had received from the intelligent electors of West Peterborough. Undue influences had been used against him. An unscrupulous Government and their officials had done all they could to defeat him, and attempts had been made to coerce the electors by every possible means The loss of employment and of trade was held out to coerce them, but, thanks to the N. P., the people were not now beholding to charity for a day's work. It was an insult to approach the electors in such a spirit. When an honest day's work or an honest article was given for money, that was all that should be required. The support he had received was from those electors who could not be coerced or bought. He had no offices to promise them, but he had appealed to them as men and like men they had sustained him. He again returned his thanks.

Mr. J. O'MEARA delivered a stirring address, congratulating the electors on the result and especially No. 1 Ward. Although influences had been used against Mr. Carnegie that had never been used in Peterborough before, they had elected him.

Mr. T. RAPHAEL also extended congratulations. Although he expected that this would be the last occasion on which he would address a Peterborough audience, yet he hoped he would always hear of them returning a gook Conservative member.

Mr. T. CAHILL said that this was the hardest fought contest that they had ever had in this Riding, but Mr. Carnegie had been returned. This gentleman had been villified in every form, and he owed his election to the intelligence of the electors. The contest had not been won by the men on the platform, but by the mechanics and workingmen who had left their work to record their votes, and he hoped that they would always vote according to the dictates of their judgment.

Several more stirring addresses were delivered, but we have not space to give a synopsis of them. The following were the speakers: Messrs. T. Kelly, C. W. Sawers, Jas. Kendrey, E. J. Toker, E. Phelan, N. Tromley, J. Barbeau, J. LaComte, T. Rutherford and T. Cavanagh.

During the delivery of these addresses returns were received at intervals from the telegraph office, and as it became apparant that the Mowat Government's majority was fading away, the large audience cheered enthusiastically.

The Fire Brigade Band was present and played many stirring airs. The meeting dispersed after giving rousing cheers for the Mr. Carnegie and the Queen.

EAST PETERBOROUH.

The returns from the various polling places in the East Riding of the County have been very slow in coming in, and at the time of going to press were very incomplete. However, it appears to be certain that Mr. Blezard has been returned.

Mother and Daughter.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26—Mary Ulrick, sent to Berks county almshouse a year ago, conceived an intense affection for a much younger woman, Laura Thick, who had been there twenty years. They only knew each other by their first names, when they discovered they were mother and daughter. The mother, who had spent years when in better circumstances in searching for her child, fell dead in the latter's arms.

LINDSAY TO STONY LAKE.

The following interesting account of a canoe trip by Mr. J. G. Edwards appears in the February number of the American Canoeist :—

Learning that the annual meeting of the American Canoe Association is to be held next summer at Stony Lake, and that some members contemplate taking the trip via Lindsay, it may be interesting to give a description of the rivers and chain of lakes on the route, over which I have paddled and sailed many times. The last occasion of visiting Stony Lake was in September, with five others, in three double canoes. On account of limited time, we were obliged to take the first stage of that trip by steamer, which is always an uninteresting means of locomotion to canoeists.

For the guidance of those who desire to take the whole trip by canoe, I will give details of the route from here. The Midland Railway station at Lindsay is on the bank of the River Scugog, into which you can at once launch your canoe. Immediately below is a mill-dam, which is easily carried over. You pass the town in a northerly direction, down the sluggish and winding river, a run of seven miles bringing you to Sturgeon Lake, a beautiful sheet of water, about twelve miles long, and from one to two miles broad, running about east and west. After leaving the river, on the right hand, or south shore of the lake, is a good camping ground directly opposite Sturgeon Point hotel. A run of twelve miles from the mouth of the river, in an easterly direction, brings you to the Bobcaygeon, at the foot of the lake. Until near the village, keep the south shore, along which are good camping grounds. As you approach Bobcaygeon, two short streams of half a mile connect Sturgeon and Pigeon Lakes, "Little" and "Big Bob" Rivers. Take the north, or "Big Bob." At Bobcaygeon, Mr. Smith, of the Bobcaygeon Independent, should be interviewed. He is generally to be found in the back parlor of Goulais' Hotel. There is a short canal with one lock here. A quarter of a mile below the lock, Pigeon Lake opens out. Turn your course south, or to the right, from the mouth of the river, steering towards the left or east side of the lake; and about four miles down, on the east is Sandy Point, a beautiful camping ground. Three miles further down, on the same shore, is Jacob's Island (another good camping ground), around which you pass to the left and enter the Narrows between Pigeon and Buckhorn Lakes. The narrows run easterly for about a mile to Buckhorn Lake. On the north shore is Oak Orchard, another camping ground. Keep the north shore, passing several islands in a north-easterly direction, and entering the more open lake. At the north-eastern extremity of this lake, seven miles from the Narrows, is the entrance to Little Buckhorn Lake, which is about two miles long. Keep the north shore, and Buckhorn Dam is reached; around which the first portage has to be made, as running over the timber slide is never attempted in small boats. Half a mile below the dam is Buckhorn Rapids, very often run by canoes, but not always safely. On the occasion of our trip last September, the two leading canoes shot the rapids safely, and, on reaching an eddy below, their occupants turned to watch the descent of the third. On it came in gallant style, its dashing young crew looking as if they felt themselves equal to running Niagara. For one instant they were seen poised on the crest of a huge wave that broke over a concealed rock. The next moment they were struggling in the broken waters. So suddenly and so unexpectedly were they turned out of their canoe, that the first use they made of their breath, when they had floated into quieter water, was to accuse the one the other of having upset the boat. Having got into their canoe and wrung out their wet clothes, they paddled on as if nothing had happened. In running these rapids, keep well in to the right shore. Emerging from the river, after a short run, you enter Deer Bay, and keeping straight down the centre of it, for about two miles, you reach Lovesick Rapids, which may be easily run. You turn first to the left, as you run the rapids, and then to the right, keeping down the right shore of Lovesick Lake about a mile, and then, as you enter the current above the Burleigh Rapids, keep to the left and run in to the landing at the boat-house, from which you can get your canoe carried over the wagon road to the still water below the hotel, a distance of about a quarter of a mile. If you prefer it, you can paddle down to the slide past the hotel, having to make only two short portages by the way. The river here is much broken up by the rocks, and canoes suffer accordingly. Below the hotel you may count yourself afloat on the waters of Stony Lake. A run of half a mile brings you to the foot of Burleigh Bay, where you turn to the left, and then to the right, passing Hurricane Point. Keep straight down the channel, past Grassy Island, and, turning slightly to the right, you see before you the island, which has, I understand, been selected for the camp of the A. C. A.

The time occupied in this trip will be about two days. I have frequently paddled between Bobcaygeon and Stony Lake, either way, in a day, portaging alone. The prevailing wind in summer is from the west, and will prove favorable on all the lakes on the route. A party from here will be going to the camp next August, and would be happy to have the company of any American canoeists who may wish to take the trip.

J. G. EDWARDS.

Mahon's Bank Failure.

By the failure of Mahon's Bank, the London Free Press says that not less than 40,000 will be lost to the depositors, losses which will bring much sorrow to many who had by reason of years of thrift managed to make savings against the necessities of the future. Another phase of this matter is, that some firms which had been "carried" by the Mahon banking house will find themselves in financial straits, owing to the sudden stoppage of monetary accommodation upon which they were wont to rely. Some stringency may thus present itself which was not previously looked for. One of the members of the Company, of London, has been committed for trial for alleged fraud in receiving a deposit a short time before the bank suspended.

FITS

A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.
From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address
Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE
PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Our Skaters Abroad.

We find the following in the Winnipeg Free Press of a recent date:—

"It is the intention of the managers of the Manitoba Skating rink to hold a grand fancy dress carnival on Friday evening next. Mr. Douglass Tempest, winner of the gold medal for fancy skating, has consented to give an exhibition of his attainments on the glittering steels, during the evening, for which purpose the ice will be cleared at a quarter past 8 o'clock. A full brass band will be present. At the conclusion of the exhibition Mr. Tempest will be presented with a handsome pair of skates by the managers as a parting souvenir, as he leaves for his home in Peterborough on Saturday morning."

Cleaning a Watch with Benzine.

This is an interesting piece of information from the Pharm Zeitung: Place a watch, with the case open, but the works in motion, in a vessel so that the watch will be completely covered with benzine. After three hours it will be found that the watch has been thoroughly cleaned. The vessel should be covered with parchment paper, and the watch, before it is removed, should be slightly agitated. Lastly, the watch is laid in benzine again, but this time a little petroleum oil is added in order to lubricate the machinery.

The elections in Muskoka and Algoma have not yet taken place.

Head Turned by Good Fortune.

MONTREAL, Feb. 26.—It is reported here from Brockville that W. C. Anderson, late a telegraph operator, who was said to have succeeded to a million dollars by the death of two uncles, had fallen into extravagant habits, and was accumulating debts for expensive clothes, jewelry and diamonds. He was arrested at Brockville on a capias for money lent and had to give up a fine sealskin coat to be released. He came on here, but has dissipated so heavily that no explanation can be got from him. Evidently prosperity, or coming good fortune rather, has turned his head.

A Murderer's Murder.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26—Wm. McQueen, aged 16, just released from the penitentiary, after serving several years for wife murder, last night brained one Burnham, an inmate of the poor-house, while he was asleep. The murderer surrendered.

Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. For sale by J. D. Tully,

SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Darois, No. 19 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

FREEZING AND FROZEN PLANTS.

Dr. George Thurber writes in Dec. American Agriculturist upon care of frozen plants:—

Those who have window plants cannot always keep the temperature of the room sufficiently high at night to make sure that no harm will come to them by frost. Where it is feared that they may freeze, it will be well to cover them at night, either with a sheet or with newspapers, which are quite as good. It is not difficult to arrange a covering by the use of strings and sticks to hold the papers up above the plants. A canopy of this kind will prevent the radiation of heat from the pots and the plants, and be of great service. In a collection of plants, some will be much more severely injured by freezing than others, but nearly all, if not too much exposed, will soon recover, unless suddenly warmed. When the plants are found to be frozen, make the change to a higher temperature very gradual. Remove them to a room where the air is but a few degrees above freezing, or if this can not be done, warm up the room where they are, but very gradually. In moving frozen plants it must be done with the care, as in their frozen state they may be readily injured. Sometimes the newer shoots will fail to recover their natural condition. When this occures all those parts that fail to recover should be removed—cutting back with a sharp knife to a sound portion of the stem.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

Prof. Hotchkin's treatment is practical, rational and economical. Its object is immediate relief and eventual cure. It is based upon scientific principles and easily demonstrated to the comprehension of every intelligent person, that a truss without steel springs or hard substance, having healed Inguinal and Umbilical as well as Varicocele, at the advanced ages respectively of from 65 to 95 years, must and will stand the test against all Spring Trusses to children as well as adults. Prof. H. having had 30 years experience has become master of his profession, and DEFIES the Hernia he cannot hold in its place.

CARD OF THANKS.

THE undersigned desires to return his most sincere thanks to the electors who marked their ballots for him last Tuesday, despite the villification, the misrepresentations and the coercion of unscrupulous opponents. While every elector who recorded his vote for the undersigned deserves and receives his warmest thanks his thanks are especially due to the Chairman, (Mr. James Stevenson), and members of his Committees, and to his many friends in all parts of the riding, who worked so zealously and so faithfully to secure his return, despite a combination of antagonistic influences hitherto unequalled in any contest in the riding, and, without whose exertions he would not to-day be the member elect for the West Riding of Peterborough in the Legislature of Ontario by the handsome majority of 89.

JOHN CARNEGIE.

Peterborough, March 1st, 1883.

SPRINGVILLE.

ACCIDENT.—A painful accident happened to Mr. Charles Cromie while engaged at a sawing at Mr. James Eastwood's. The carriage by some means got astray and while Mr. Cromie was fixing it a log fell on his arm, breaking it. Dr. King set the injured limb, and he is now as well as could be expected.

PRESENTATION.—On Saturday the Rev. Mr. Bennett, pastor of the Springville and Bethany Presbyterian churches, was waited upon by a number of his hearers and presented with a fur coat, and Mrs. Bennett with a purse of forty dollars, as a slight expression of their regard.

Protection for Sanitary Visitors.

There has been exhibited at the rooms of the National Health Society, London, a novel dress intended for the protection of sanitary visitors, nurses, and others who have to enter the rooms of persons suffering from infectious diseases. The garment is of mackintosh, glazed inside and out, and made completely to envelop the wearer and with a hood to cover the head. Thus only the hands and face remain exposed—a matter considered of comparatively little importance, as these can be easily washed with disinfectants. A not less important object proposed to be effected by the use of this dress is that by its removal when the wearer leaves the sick-room the clothes which have been protected need not be changed, and the danger of the disease being carried from house to house or communicated to susceptible persons in public vehicles is obviated. A tight case for the fever-dress to be enclosed in is part of the invention. At the end of the day, or as often as may be convenient, the dress can be cleansed with disinfectants. Further protection is given by a simple form of respirator. This is made of two folds of thin washing net, between which is placed a layer of medicated cotton-wool, through which the wearer can breathe, though no germs can pass. The respirator has tape strings which tie around the ears. After use the wool is burned and the net washed.

A Big Ice Bridge.

A well-known steamboat man, who arrived from Riparia yesterday, told a reporter many interesting facts concerning the recent ice gorge in Snake River. Just above Palouse Rapids the river is hemmed in by high, almost perpendicular walls of rocks, very similar to the dalles of the Columbia. At this point the floating ice lodged and made for the time being a perfect barrier. All that followed from above added to the gorge, which in two days extended up stream to and above Riparia, a blockade for more than six miles. When the Chinook wind came and the water rose it carried away only as much ice as it touched, leaving the top intact, and several persons crossed from shore to shore, a torrent running only a short distance under their feet. The tunnel through the ice seemed to be as perfectly formed as though done with human hands. The ice bridge remained for three days. Finally, the sides were carried away, and, of course, the arch fell.—Portland Oregonian.

AT WIMBLEDON.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the National Rifle Association to-day the Duke of Cambridge, who presided, said nothing could exceed the kindness and hospitality the Americans showed the British team during the last international match, and the association looked forward with pleasure to giving the American team a most hearty welcome at Wimbledon.

SILVER WEDDING.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—The silver wedding festivities of the Crown Prince and Princess are taking place to-day, and the streets are thronged.

OUTRAGES.

MADRID, Feb. 28.—A band of masked and armed men, supposed to be members of a secret society, entered a farm at Puerto Jerrano, Andalusia, murdered the man, outraged a woman, and destroyed everything on the place. Several plantations in Andalusia have been partially destroyed by similar bands. Some emissaries of the secret society, who have been arrested, were found furnished with fresh orders from their chief, a school-master, who has been arrested.

SOCIALISTS ARRESTED.

MADRID, Feb. 28.—Thirty-eight arrests have been made in Malaga, including the ex-Mayor of the city, on a charge of being concerned in the Socialistic propaganda.

AMERICAN.

MURDERS HER PARAMOUR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The wife of Antonie Quinquinnet to-night stabbed and killed Defline Houvet, her paramour. The parties kept up an illicit connection for over a year. The woman's husband recently discovered her infidelity through the boasting of Houvet. The woman acknowledged her guilt and to-night was fixed as the time when Houvet should make an explanation to the husband in the presence of the woman. Houvet came before Quinquinnet's arrival. He took liberties with the woman, who seized a cook's knife and plunged it in his heart. The woman, who was arrested, has had eight children, all of whom are dead.

ARRESTED IN BUFFALO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 28.—On Monday night Detectives Riley and Drebe arrested Geo. S. Bullock and John P. Slatter, on a telegram from St. Thomas, Ontario, charging them with stealing jewelry. They were returned to Canada to-day.

FIFTY PASSENGERS WOUNDED

PALATINE, Ill., Feb. 28.—Three cars of the Dakota train on the Chicago and Northwestern road were ditched near here to-day. A child was killed. Fifty passengers were wounded.

THE BOSS CRANK AGAIN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Representative Robinson had an interview to-day with the Secretary of State regarding Sheridan's extradition. Of course the Secre'ary promised to do what was right in the premises. Robinson will offer a resolution in the house declaring the people of the United States will look with jealous suspicion on any attempt to drag from their sanctuary any political refugees for whose blood despots are thirsting, and in no case will they tolerate the surrender of any person without full and reliable proof of the guilt charged, and without a guarantee that he shall be tried by an impartial jury without reference to class, caste, or sect.

Shabbily Dressed, But Wealthy.

At 5.30 last evening Policeman Ross (85) brought to police headquarters a man apparently 40 years of age, who was rather shabbily dressed. The officer had noticed him wandering aimlessly around the Esplanade, and had the appearance of either recovering from a spree or suffering from mental derangement. In his pockets, lying around in a loose state, were $528.53. There were eighteen twenty dollar gold pieces and three fives. Letters, telegrams and other papers showed that the man's name was Roger Berrigan. One letter was from his sister Mary Ann Berrigan of Chelsea, a little village near Ottawa. One telegram was from his brother, stating that a man named Jones wanted Roger to go to Texas to take charge of a quarry at $100 per month and board. There were other papers which showed that he had been boss over railroad gangs. The man could not or would not give any account of himself. As he seemed to be suffering severely he was sent to the hospital. The doctor there said he had been drinking, and wrote the following on a slate: "What is your name?" Berrigan wrote under it: "What is your name?" No information could be gained from him.—World.

A Projected Canal.

It is suggested by the Freeman's Journal that a canal from Dublin to Galway, Ireland, 100 miles in length, would shorten the passage to America by a day, and reclaim 1,000,000 acres of land. It is added that the surplus labor of the island might thus be profitably employed for years, and afterward settled on the reclaimed land. The cost of the undertaking is placed at £50,000,000. The "only difficulty" mentioned is that the English Government "never would be induced to do anything big and really effective with regard to Ireland."

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

About 150,000 bottles of medicine and 3000 Spirometers, the invention of M. Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Write enclosing stamp for pamphlet giving full information to either of the Canadian offices where competent English and French specialists are always in charge. Address International Throat and Lung Institute, 13 Philips square, Montreal, P. Q., or 173 Church street, Toronto, Ont.

THIS DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

SHERIDAN AND BYRNE.

LONDON, March 1.—The Times says the applications for the extradition of Byrne and Sheridan justify the belief that the Government have a strong prima facie case to lay before the French and American authorities. There will be strong popular protests in France and America against the extradition of persons who it will be alleged are being prosecuted for a political offence. The American judges are not inaccessible to political influences, and the fear of the Irish vote is ever before the eyes of American politicians.

VIOLENT LANGUAGE.

PARIS, Mar. 1.—The Universe violently attacks the Government for an assumed intention to deliver Byrne to England. It says that England refused to deliver Bernard, the avowed accomplice of Orsini, and she offered an agreeable refuge to all our political convicts and amiable communists. Now, on the simple story of a wretch who sold those who were his tools, the Republic delivers up each man who, until proof is brought, ought to be held innocent.

PARNELL'S INTENTIONS.

LONDON, March 1.—Parnell wrote to James Mooney, President of the National Land League in America, yesterday that if the House of Commons refuses the second reading of the Land Bill, which he will move on the 14th inst., and if there is no prospect of further Legislation for Ireland during the present session, he will forthwith proceed to the United States to attend the proposed Convention in Philadelphia.

CATTLE SEIZED.

LIMERICK, Mar. 1.—Thirty cattle belonging to O'Flaherty, Vice-President of the Land League here, were seized owing to non-payment of rent by O'Flaherty.

REMANDED.

LONGURAL, Mar. 1.—The persons accused of murdering Doherty in 1881 have been remanded to await the extradition of the Land Stewart, an accomplice, who fled to America.

WILL THEY BE GIVEN UP?

LONDON, March 1.—The Times in reference to the application of England to the United States and France for the extradition of Sheridan and Byrne, says that an American or Frenchman would contend that the case of the Phœnix Park murderers was covered by the privilege accorded to political offenders and asserted in Great Britain, after the attack of Orsini and his accomplices on the Emperor Napoleon, in Paris, in 1857. The Times says that if only complicity in an organization or secret society is alleged against Byrne and Sheridan, their extradition will possibly be refused.

AMERICAN.

A WEALTHY ESTATE.

MILWAUKEE, March 1.—J. A. Vanloon, a victim of the Newhall House fire, left an estate of a quarter of a million.

A WATERY WASTE.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 1.—At the mouth of the Wabash River the Ohio River is twenty-seven miles wide.

APPOINTMENTS.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The Herald's Washington despatch says it is reported that the President has decided to appoint Cooper, a retired merchant of New York, as Collector of that port, and Chas. Kreigham Naval Officer.

A PRISONER'S SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, Mar. 1.—Johannes Geiselman, formerly a letter carrier in Wurtemburg, Germany, was arrested on a steamer yesterday on a charge of embezzlement. He shot and killed himself.

MURDER.

DERUYTER, N. Y., Mar. 1.—Geo. Haight, justice of the peace, and a prominent resident, was found unconscious on the floor in his chamber on Tuesday morning with a shot in his head. Mrs. Haight was in bed. A discharged pistol was found under Haight's pillow. Haight recovered consciousness and declared that he did not fire the shot and did not know who did. Mrs. Haight stated that she did not hear the shot and knew nothing about it. She has $9,000 insurance on Haight's life.

A LEPER.

NEW EGYPT, N. J., Mar. 1.—Roger Headley is suffering with a disease which prominent physicians pronounce leprosy.

A HAUNTED HOUSE.

ATLANTA, Mar. 1.—Mysterious rappings at a house in Montgomery county have caused great excitement. They are attributed to spirits. Hundreds of people have visited the house.

TELEGRAPH SUIT.

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 1.—The Law Committee has decided to report favorably on the Council's ordinance authorizing the city solicitor to proceed against $20,000 bonds of the Mutial Union Telegraph Company given as a guarantee. The corporation would not consolidate with any other ordinance. It also directs the confiscation of the telegraph polls of the Company.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—The reduction in the public debt in February was much less than in January, chiefly on account of the large quarterly payment for pensions to be made early in March. The amount which has been forwarded to pension agents is $9,781,000, the largest sum in any month during the present fiscal year. The ordinary payments from the treasury last month were smaller than usual.

THE ESCAPED CONVICTS.

HELENA Ark., Mar. 1.—Two more of the escaped convicts were captured and nine are still at large, committing numerous depredations. The fugitives killed a blood hound which was pursuing them.

A MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

NEWDORP, L. I., Mar. 1.—A thirteen year old daughter of H. O. Smith, artist, was fatally wounded on Tuesday night in the breast. She says she was unaccountably injured while raking the fire. The coroner does not believe there was a cartridge in the fire and says there was a pistol found in the house with three chambers empty.

PROF. G. W. HOTCHKIN.

Will visit the following places again:—

PORT HOPE—Queen's Hotel.
PETERBOROUGH—Caisse House, March 3, 4 and 5.
LINDSAY—Benson House, March 6, 7 and 8.
COBOURG—Dunham House, March 9, 10 and 11.

Prof. Hotchkin's treatment is practical, rational and economical. Its object is immediate relief and eventual cure. It is based upon scientific principles and easily demonstrated to the comprehension of every intelligent person, that a truss without steel springs or hard substance, having healed Inguinal and Umbilical as well as Varicocele, at the advanced ages respectively of from 65 to 95 years, must and will stand the test against all Spring Trusses to children as well as adults. Prof. H. having had 30 years experience has become master of his profession, and DEFIES the Hernia he cannot hold in its place.

CARD OF THANKS.

THE undersigned desires to return his most sincere thanks to the electors who marked their ballots for him last Tuesday, despite the villification, the misrepresentations and the coercion of unscrupulous opponents. While every elector who recorded his vote for the undersigned deserves and receives his warmest thanks his thanks are especially due to the Chairman, (Mr. James Stevenson), and members of his Committees, and to his many friends in all parts of the riding, who worked so zealously and so faithfully to secure his return, despite a combination of antagonistic influences hitherto unequalled in any contest in the riding, and, without whose exertions he would not to-day be the member elect for the West Riding of Peterborough in the Legislature of Ontario by the handsome majority of 89.

JOHN CARNEGIE.

SPRINGVILLE.

ACCIDENT.—A painful accident happened to Mr. Charles Cromie while engaged at a sawing at Mr. James Eastwood's. The carriage by some means got astray and while Mr. Cromie was fixing it a log fell on his arm, breaking it. Dr. King set the injured limb, and he is now as well as could be expected.

PRESENTATION.—On Saturday the Rev. Mr. Bennett, pastor of the Springville and Bethany Presbyterian churches, was waited upon by a number of his hearers and presented with a fur coat, and Mrs. Bennett with a purse of forty dollars, as a slight expression of their regard.

Protection for Sanitary Visitors.

There has been exhibited at the rooms of the National Health Society, London, a novel dress intended for the protection of sanitary visitors, nurses, and others who have to enter the rooms of persons suffering from infectious diseases. The garment is of mackintosh, glazed inside and out, and made completely to envelop the wearer and with a hood to cover the head. Thus only the hands and face remain exposed—a matter considered of comparatively little importance, as these can be easily washed with disinfectants. A not less important object proposed to be effected by the use of this dress is that by its removal when the wearer leaves the sick-room the clothes which have been protected need not be changed, and the danger of the disease being carried from house to house or communicated to susceptible persons in public vehicles is obviated. A tight case for the fever-dress to be enclosed in is part of the invention. At the end of the day, or as often as may be convenient, the dress can be cleansed with disinfectants. Further protection is given by a simple form of respirator. This is made of two folds of thin washing net, between which is placed a layer of medicated cotton-wool, through which the wearer can breathe, though no germs can pass. The respirator has tape strings which tie around the ears. After use the wool is burned and the net washed.

A Big Ice Bridge.

A well-known steamboat man, who arrived from Riparia yesterday, told a reporter many interesting facts concerning the recent ice gorge in Snake River. Just above Palouse Rapids the river is hemmed in by high, almost perpendicular walls of rocks, very similar to the dalles of the Columbia. At this point the floating ice lodged and made for the time being a perfect barrier. All that followed from above added to the gorge, which in two days extended up stream to and above Riparia, a blockade for more than six miles. When the Chinook wind came and the water rose it crrried away only as much ice as it touched, leaving the top intact, and several persons crossed from shore to shore, a torrent running only a short distance under their feet. The tunnel through the ice seemed to be as perfectly formed as though done with human hands. The ice bridge remained for three days. Finally, the sides were carried away, and, of course, the arch fell.—Portland Oregonian.

AT WIMBLEDON.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the National Rifle Association to-day the Duke of Cambridge, who presided, said nothing could exceed the kindness and hospitality the Americans showed the British team during the last international match, and the association looked forward with pleasure to giving the American team a most hearty welcome at Wimbledon.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—The silver wedding festivities of the Crown Prince and Princess are taking place to-day, and the streets are thronged.

OUTRAGES.

MADRID, Feb. 28.—A band of masked and armed men, supposed to be members of a secret society, entered a farm at Puerto Jerrano, Andalusia, murdered the man, outraged a woman, and destroyed everything on the place. Several plantations in Andalusia have been partially destroyed by similar bands. Some emissaries of the secret society, who have been arrested, were found furnished with fresh orders from their chief, a school-master, who has been arrested.

SOCIALISTS ARRESTED.

MURDERS HER PARAMOUR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The wife of Antonie Quinquinnet to-night stabbed and killed Deffise Houvet, her paramour. The parties kept up an illicit connection for over a year. The woman's husband recently discovered her infidelity through the boasting of Houvet. The woman acknowledged her guilt and to-night was fixed as the time when Houvet should make an explanation to the husband in the presence of the woman. Houvet came before Quinquinnet's arrival. He took liberties with the woman, who seized a cook's knife and plunged it in his heart. The woman, who was arrested, has had eight children, all of whom are dead.

ARRESTED IN BUFFALO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 28.—On Monday night Detectives Riley and Drebe arrested Geo. S. Bullock and John P. Slatter, on a telegram from St. Thomas, Ontario, charging them with stealing jewelry. They were returned to Canada to-day.

FIFTY PASSENGERS WOUNDED

PALATINE, Ill., Feb. 28.—Three cars of the Dakota train on the Chicago and North-western road were ditched near here to-day. A child was killed. Fifty passengers were wounded.

THE BOSS CRANK AGAIN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Representative Robinson had an interview to-day with the Secretary of State regarding Sheridan's extradition. Of course the Secretary promised to do what was right in the premises. Robinson will offer a resolution in the house declaring the people of the United States will look with jealous suspicion on any attempt to drag from their sanctuary any political refugees for whose blood despots are thirsting, and in no case will they tolerate the surrender of any person without full and reliable proof of the guilt charged, and without a guarantee that he shall be tried by an impartial jury without reference to class, caste, or sect.

Shabbily Dressed, But Wealthy.

At 5.30 last evening Policeman Ross (65) brought to police headquarters a man apparently 40 years of age, who was rather shabbily dressed. The officer had noticed him wandering aimlessly around the Esplanade, and had the appearance of either recovering from a spree or suffering from mental derangement. In his pockets, lying around in a loose state, were $528.53. There were eighteen twenty dollar gold pieces and three fives. Letters, telegrams and other papers showed that the man's name was Roger Berrigan. One letter was from his sister Mary Ann Berrigan of Chelsea, a little village near Ottawa. One telegram was from his brother, stating that a man named Jones wanted Roger to go to Texas to take charge of a quarry at $100 per month and board. There were other papers which showed that he had been boss over railroad gangs. The man could not or would not give any account of himself. As he seemed to be suffering severely he was sent to the hospital. The doctor there said he had been drinking, and wrote the following on a slate: "What is your name?" Berrigan wrote under it: "What is your name?" No information could be gained from him.—World.

A Projected Canal.

It is suggested by the Freeman's Journal that a canal from Dublin to Galway, Ireland, 100 miles in length, would shorten the passage to America by a day, and reclaim 1,000,000 acres of land. It is added that the surplus labor of the island might thus be profitably employed for years, and afterward settled on the reclaimed land. The cost of the undertaking is placed at £50,000,000. The "only difficulty" mentioned is that the English Government "never would be induced to do anything big and really effective with regard to Ireland."

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

Souvielle of Paris and ex-aide surgeon of the French army, have been used by physicians and patients during the last year for the cure of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, consumption in its first stages and many diseases of the head, throat and lungs. SHERIDAN AND BYRNE.

LONDON, March 1.—The Times says the applications for the extradition of Byrne and Sheridan justify the belief that the Government have a strong prima facie case to lay before the French and American authorities. There will be strong popular protests in France and America against the extradition of persons who it will be alleged are being prosecuted for a political offence. The Americn judges are not inaccessible to political influences, and the fear of the Irish vote is ever before the eyes of American politicians.

VIOLENT LANGUAGE.

PARIS, Mar. 1.—The Universe violently attacks the Government for an assumed intention to deliver Byrne to England. It says that England refused to deliver Bemard, the avowed accomplice of Orsini, and she offered an agreeable refuge to all our political convicts and amiable communists. Now, on the simple story of a wretch who sold those who were his tools, the Republic delivers up each man who, until proof is brought, ought to be held innocent.

PARNELL'S INTENTIONS.

LONDON, March 1.—Parnell wrote to James Mooney, President of the National Land League in America, yesterday that if the House of Commons refuses the second reading of the Land Bill, which he will move on the 14th inst., and if there is no prospect of further Legislation for Ireland during the present session, he will forthwith proceed to the United States to attend the proposed Convention in Philadelphia.

CATTLE SEIZED.

LIMERICK, Mar. 1.—Thirty cattle belonging to O'Flaherty, Vice-President of the Land League here, were seized owing to non-payment of rent by O'Flaherty.

REMANDED.

LONGUBAL, Mar. 1.—The persons accused of murdering Doherty in 1881 have been remanded to await the extradition of the Land Stewart, an accomplice, who fled to America.

WILL THEY BE GIVEN UP?

LONDON, March 1.—The Times in reference to the application of England to the United States and France for the extradition of Sheridan and Byrne, says that an American or Frenchman would contend that the case of the Phœnix Park murderers was covered by the privilege accorded to political offenders and asserted in Great Britain, after the attack of Onsini and his accomplices on the Emperor Napoleon, in Paris, in 1857. The Times says that if only complicity in an organization or secret society is alleged against Byrne and Sheridan, their extradition will possibly be refused.

APPOINTMENTS.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The Herald's Washington despatch says it is reported that the President has decided to appoint Cooper, a retired merchant of New York, as Collector of thatport, and Chas. Kreigham Naval Officer.

A PRISONER'S SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, Mar. 1.—Johannes Geiselman, formerly a letter carrier in Wurtemburg, Germany, was arrested on a steamer yesterday on a charge of embezzlement. He shot and killed himself.

MURDER.

DERUYTER, N. Y., Mar. 1.—Geo. Haight, justice of the peace, and a prominent resident, was found unconscious on the floor in his chamber on Tuesday morning with a shot in his head. Mrs. Haight was in bed. A discharged pistol was found under Haight's pillow. Haight recovered consciousness and declared that he did not fire the shot and did not know who did. Mrs. Haight stated that she did not hear the shot and knew nothing about it. She has $9,000 insurance on Haight's life.

A LEPER.

NEW EGYPT, N. J., Mar. 1.—Roger Headley is suffering with a disease which prominent physicians pronounce leprosy.

A HAUNTED HOUSE.

ATLANTA, Mar. 1.—Mysterious rappings at a house in Montgomery county have caused great excitement. They are attributed to spirits. Hundreds of people have visited the house.

TELEGRAPH SUIT.

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 1.—The Law Committee has decided to report favorably on the Council's ordinance authorizing the city solicitor to proceed against $20,000 bonds of the Mutial Union Telegraph Company given as a guarantee. The corporation would not consolidate with any other ordinance. It also directs the confiscation of the telegraph polls of the Company.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—The reduction in the public debt in February was much less than in January, chiefly on account of the large quarterly payment for pensions to be made early in March. The amount which has been forwarded to pension agents is $9,781,000, the largest sum in any month during the present fiscal year. The ordinary payments from the treasury last month were smaller than usual.

THE ESCAPED CONVICTS.

HELENA Ark., Mar. 1.—Two more of the escaped convicts were captured and nine are still at large, committing numerous depredations. The fugitives killed a blood hound which was pursuing them.

A MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

NEWDORP, L. I., Mar. 1.—A thirteen year old daughter of H. O. Smith, artist, was fatally wounded on Tuesday night in the breast. She says she was unaccountably injured while raking the fire. The coroner does not believe there was a cartridge in the fire and says there was a pistol found in the house with three chambers empty.

THE LESSON TAUGHT.

UNDER this heading the Emerson International has a timely article in reference to their recent fire, by which old residents of Peterborough suffered so severely. Our contemporary calls the attention of its readers to the folly of neglecting to provide proper appliances for protection from fire, and to the great consequent loss. There are places nearer home than Emerson that might well take the same lesson to heart, and remember the old adge, "Penny wise, and pound foolish."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Now that the election is over the principal subject of curiosity in Peterborough is the filling of the vacant Registry office. The favored applicant will soon be known—and then will come the music.

⁂

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS for the West Riding of Peterborough will probably soon be appointed now. There is much interest felt as to who will receive these delayed appointments.

⁂

MR. D. D. HAY who was principally notorious for his threats of rebellion, and for being one of the excursion party whose drinks were charged to the people of Ontario, has very righteously been rejected by the electorate.

⁂

Mr. DEROCHE is among the missing supporters of Mr. Mowat, though according to himself and his friends he was to fill the vacancy in the Cabinet left by the resignation of the Hon. S. C. Wood. By the bye, who is to be the Provincial Treasurer?

⁂

THE Toronto World, a Reform journal, in an article on the recent election says:—

"The verdict is that Mowat must not go, but it is also one of encouragement to the conservatives. For, from being a weak, a ridiculed and a discredited minority, they will put on the form of a compact, strong and vigorous opposition, which, if well handled, ought to have the best of prospects in the next election. In the late legislature Mr. Mowat had often a majority of 28; now, as far as heard from, the figures are: Government 48, opposition 38, a difference of 10, with Muskoka and Algoma to hear from. From 28 to 10, or even to 12, is a great reduction."

A MOUNTED IMPOSTER.

Impersonating the Brother of a Dead Toronto Man for His Wealth.

J. H. Wright, of the police force at Fort Saskatchewan, was brought up on Monday last before Capt. Cagnon and W. R. Brereton, J.P's, charged with obtaining property under false pretences, and was committed for trial at the sittings of the court to be held at Edmonton on July 18 next. It seems that last summer, after the death of Thomas Wright, of this place, on July 2, his effects, consisting of a claim with some crop on it, four or five horses, several hundred dollars in cash, a watch and other valuables were placed in charge of A. D. Patton until the friends of the deceased could be heard from. At this time J. H. Wright was in the police force at Battleford, and hearing of the case, communicated with Patton through Col. Richardson, claiming to be a brother of the deceased Wright and his legal heir. Shortly afterwards he was removed to Ft. Saskatchewan and made it his business to see Mr. Patton, who handed over to him one of the horses and the watch and chain of the deceased Wright, and gave him liberty to assume possession of all the belongings of the deceased as soon as he desired to do so. Mr. Patton then wrote to the father of the deceased, informing him of what had been done and received an answer to the effect that J. H. Wright was an imposter, and desiring that he should be prosecuted. In defence Wright asserts that it was a mistake; that he has a brother Thomas who left Toronto some four years ago, of whom he has not heard since but whom he believes to be somewhere in the Northwest, and that he fully believed the deceased to have been his brother. Letters found in his trunk at the time of his arrest and produced at the examination, do not bear out these assertions, however. Some time since Wright applied for his discharge from the police force, and in committing him for trial Capt. Gagnon assured him that he would use every endeavor to have him discharged as quickly as possible. Wright joined the force in the spring of 1882.—Edmonton (N. W. T.) Bulletin.

LEPROSY IN HAWAII.

The Terrible Disease Spreading Among all Classes of Inhabitants.

By the tone of the latest Honolulu papers, received here on Tuesday, that loathsome disease, the leprosy, is frightfully on the increase in all the islands of that groupe. The Hawaiian Gazette, an old-established paper, is filled with the accounts of the rapid spread and the inaction or mistaken action of the government in the premises. It says with reference to the situation in and around Honolulu, that "men are beginning to fear themselves and to consider if, by any means, this horrible taint has got into their system." The Saturday Press says: "There is not a district on the island that has not in some way or other conveyed its apprehension on this score to the papers." And it adds that while the government organs are trying to hide the ghastly secret by "whitewashing the outer part of our sepulcher and labelling it clean, within it is full of festering sores and rotten bones." The leprosy is described by these experienced papers as a very peculiarly infectious disease. Whoever takes it never recovers. All that has the semblance of healthy humanity departs; it may be slowly, but surely. His face wears the aspect of the dead, his hands becomes full of running sore, his joints are all similarly afflicted, and, to quote from the Gazette, "he rots away and falls into the grave piecemeal." Leprosy, according to the same authority, may be taken by a "clean" and healthy person by smoking the same pipe a leper had smoked, by wearing clothes washed by a leper, by an abrasion of the skin with a knife, scissors, or by anything handled by a leper. Yet in most of the islands lepers are found mingling with the healthy, even in Honolulu; and it is only by spasms that the government takes care to have them removed and segregated. Hence the rapid spread of the horrible disease. The infected are as liable to be at work on the sugar plantations and in the sugar houses as anywhere else. In this way it is possible, even probable, that Hawaiian rice and sugar may carry the distemper to this city and elsewhere wherever it goes. Why not, if cleanly-washed clothes may communicate it to the healthy wearers? The Gazette says (Jan. 17): "Mothers of families, householders, and a great many others are all more or less alarmed. Many a householder has of late years objected to having washing done by Hawaiians on account of the leprosy." And it "accepts the very unpleasant fact that leprosy is preying upon the vitals of the nation," adding that, "so far as the public know, little or no effort is being made to segregate lepers who are living on the other islands." Reading and earnestly reflecting upon these alarming accounts, we are led to the conclusion that, unless the Hawaiian government can obliterate leprosy, or, at least, put lepers apart from the people so that the infection may not further spread, the day is not far off when we of the Pacific coast will have to petition for a close quarantine against all Hawaiian shipping and exclusion of all its sugar, rice, and articles of domestic production. That is what would be done if it were cholera or plague or yellow fever; and the leprosy is worse than all these combined. They are but temporary ills. This one comes to stay, and staying, imperils universal taint and putrefaction of the blood of all exposed to the infection. —San Francisco Chronicle.

THE BANK OF ENGLAND.

Some Curious Facts About the Five Pound Notes—Honorable Dealings.

In the course of five years the paid notes amount to 77,745,000 in number, and they fill 13,400 boxes, which if placed side by side would reach two and one-third miles. If the notes were placed in a pile they would reach to a height of five and two-third miles, or if joined end to end they would form a ribbon 12,445 miles long. Their superficial extent is said to be rather less than that of Hyde park. They weigh over ninety and two-thirds tons, and their original value was over £1,750,626,000. The greatest of rogues might be inclined to find some comfort in the extent and intricacy of such a store of old paper. Of course, however, they are most systematically arranged, and any note of the seventy-seven millions may be pounced upon with the utmost celerity and precision. At the end of five years these old notes are thrown into a furnace specially constructed for the purpose, and burned. It is a curious fact, however, that so firm in texture is the paper of a genuine Bank of England note that burning alone can hardly destroy it. The authorities have in a little glazed frame the remnants of a note which was in the great fire of Chicago. Though completely charred and black, the paper still holds together, and the printing of the note is said to be sufficiently legible to establish its genuineness and to warrant its being cashed.

There are some other notes here which were cashed after having gone down with the Eurydice a few years ago, and reduced to little better than pulp. Indeed, the scraps and fragments which sometimes comes into the bank to be cashed have a really ridiculous appearance. On the occasion of a recent visit, for instance, the officials had under examination a number of fragments of discoloured paper, none much bigger than a sixpence, and when put together presenting to the unskilled eye, not the slightest resemblance to a note. And yet it was pretty confidently asserted that the paper would be cashed. It is beneath the dignity of the Bank of England to take, or even appear to take, advantage of accidents of their notes, and if there is any possibility of establishing the identity of one of them, it is sure to be duly honoured. Even where a note is entirely destroyed, proper evidence of the fact of destruction will be accepted and payment made. A lost note will in some cases be paid, and there is one occasion recorded upon which the liberal attitude of the directors in a case of this kind involved them in loss of £30,000. A bank director declared that he had lost a note for that amount, and, upon his giving an indemnity for the sum in the event of the note ever turning up, the money was paid to him. Many years after his death an unknown person presented the missing note. The paper was undeniably good, and the bank had no alternative but to cash it, as it was payable to bearer on demand, and as the heirs of the bank director who had lost it repudiated all liability, the money could not be recovered.

Tragedy in a Lumber Camp.

A special to the Detroit Post and Tribune from East Tawas gives the following particulars of a horrible tragedy:—We were informed by a teamster that an argument arose between two teamsters in one of Brown's camps regarding who hauled the heaviest load of logs, and resulted in favor of the smaller load. At night, after most of the men had retired, the victor was seated beside the stove, with his head bowed down, when the other came in, and, with one blow, completely severed the head from the body. While the head laid upon the floor the mouth and eyes opened and closed once or twice. The cry of murder was given and sixty men hurriedly arose from their beds, saw the fearful deed, and without further ceremony took a log chain and hung the murderer to a tree, and will not allow him to be taken down until the arrival of the sheriff. We are unable to learn the names of either. It is reported to-day on the street that an attempt was made by the men of an adjoining camp to cut the body down and resulted in a riot. Seven men were killed. Brown left for the camp early this morning. The camp is twenty six miles north-east of Tawas.

A Novel Style of Car.

The Gilbert car company of Green Island is building two sleeping cars for the Government railway of New South Wales, which are modelled after the patient of Gustave Leve of New York. The principal features of these cars are that they can be utilized as drawing-room and sleeping coaches without the usual inconvenience. The berths are so arranged that during the day they shut into panels in side of the case entirely out of the way. Reclining chairs form the seats, and at night they are folded up and put under the berths. One end of the car has a drawing-room thirty-eight feet long, and the other a smoking apartment. There are also the usual lavatories and toilet rooms. The cars are sixty feet ten inches in length, and nine feet six inches in width. The windows open at thirty-one inches. The cost of each car is $13,000.

Letter from Member of Congress.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTASIVES,
Washington, D.C., Feb. 19, '82.

GENTLEMEN,—Inclosed find $1, and will you send me some of N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsomic Elixir by express. I have a bad cold, as has almost every one else here, but cannot find the Elixir, which I used frequently at home and consider a most valuable medicine; in fact, the very best remedy for a cold that I ever used.

Very truly yours, WILLIAM W. GROUT.

WORTH KNOWING.—A Fact Worth Knowing. The best household remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all throat and chest troubles tending toward Pulmonary Consumption is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, to be procured of any druggist.

FORTUNATELY Valvular disease of the heart is not very common, its disturbed action may be due to indigestion, liver irregularities &c. A Stomach disturbed with wind, or indigestable food will cause pain and fluttering by crowding on the nerves of the heart. Burdock Blood Bitters will speedily remedy all such difficulties.

AN INTERESTING EXPRESS PARCEL.

Messenger Hesse, of the Adams Express Company, recently brought over his division of the route from Washington an express package, which it would have been superfluous to mark "handle with care." The package weighed about 120 pounds avoirdupois, and it was consigned to a preacher of this City, living in Greene street, with a "C. O. D." of $35. The package had come all the way from Dalton, Ga., and was nothing more nor less than a young lady of 18 tender years, whose parents had sent her to New York by express in order to preclude all possibility of losing her on the way, or to be able to collect damages if she should be mislaid. Messenger Hesse was in something of a quandary how to pack his precious freight when he received a receipt for her at Washington. He thought the only safe plan would be to put her in the corner of a car and pile a lot of trunks on top of her, or to get a crockery-crate and cage her in that, but he finally decided to ship her through in passenger car, and get the brakeman to watch her. One of the necessities of this unique freight package was an occasional meal, and the brakeman was anxious to bring the young lady's provender on these occasions. Messenger Hesse, however, sternly bade him to stick to his stove and his brake-wheel, and not to try to usurp other people's duties. The expense of the fair express package's meals was put on a tag and added to the C. O. D. After a great deal of mental suffering, lest his charge should fall out of a window or be spirited away at intermediate stations, Messenger Hesse finally got her safely to Jersey City. There she was loaded into an express wagon and brought over the Cortlandt street ferry to New York and taken to the office of the Adams Express Company, at No. 59 Broadway, where another agent signed a paper acknowledging her safe receipt, and Messenger Hesse breathed a sigh of relief and went forth and drank a whisky cock-tail to down his sorrow at parting. The express package was again put into an Adams Express wagon and driven to its consignee, in Greene street, who paid all charges, and received it with open arms. Messenger Hesse is anxious to have this branch of express traffic developed.—N. Y. Times.

Thousands Say so.

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaints purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald,

GOOD ADVICE.—If our readers will accept proffered advice, they will always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand for use in emergencies, such as Burns, Scalds, Wounds, Lameness, Croup, Chilblains, Rheumatism and all varieties of aches, pains and inflammations. It will ever be found reliable.

MR. THOMAS W. RACE, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

A PHYSICIAN, a graduate of McGill Medical College, Montreal, speaking of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, said, I know of no better Medical Compound for Dyspepsia, Billiousness and Constipation. They are unequalled as a Blood Purifier; as a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. Sold by all Druggists in large bottles at 50 cents.

TENNYSON.

To-day I got answer about Alfred Tennyson; all is right on that side. Moxon informs me that the Russian Books and Letter arrived duly and were duly forwarded and safely received; nay, further, that Tennyson is now in town, and means to come and see me. Of this latter result I shall be very glad. Alfred is one of the few British or Foreign Figures (a not increasing number I think!) who are and remain beautiful to me—a true human soul, or some authentic approximation thereto, to whom your own soul can say, Brother! However, I doubt he will not come; he often skips me in these brief visits to town; skips everybody indeed, being a man solitary and sad, as certain men are, dwelling in an element of gloom—carrying a bit of Chaos about him, in short, which he is manufacturing into Cosmos!

Alfred is the son of a Lincolnshire gentleman farmer, I think; indeed, you see in his verses that he is a native of "moated granges" and green pastures, not of mountains and their torrents and storms. He had his breeding at Cambridge, as if for the law or Church; being master of a small annuity on his father's decease, he preferred clubbing with his mother and some sisters, to live unpromoted and write poems. In this way he lives still—now here, now there, the family always within reach of London, never in it; he himself making rare and brief visits, lodging in some old comrades rooms. I think he must be under forty, not much under it. One of the finest looking men in the world. A great shock of rough, dusky-dark hair; bright, laughing hazel eyes; massive aquiline face—most massive, yet most delicate; of sallow brown complexion, almost Indian-looking; clothes cynically loose, free-and-easy; smokes infinite tobacco. His voice is musical metallic—fit for loud laughter and piercing wail, and all that may lie between; speech and speculation free and plenteous. I do not meet in these late decades such company over a pipe! We shall see what he will grow to. He is often unwell; very chaotic—his way is through chaos and the bottomless and pathless; not handy for making out many miles upon.—Carlyle to Emerson.

Nothing Without Cost.

After all, there is no good thing in this world that can be had without cost. We talk about air and sunlight and water as the free gifts of God gifts to all alike without cost to any; but, as a matter of fact, these all have their price. Pure air is so expensive that it is practically dispensed with in many a church and dwelling-house, and in every sleeping-car. Sunlight has to be kept out of most of the rooms in a city residence, because of the large outlay necessary to secure it within the limits of the average building lot. Water is now one of the prime causes of city and village taxes; and pretty poor water at that. Then, as to personal gracefulness, and skill, and knowledge, and power in any line of effort, and even as to spiritual attainment, whatever one has, has cost him something, has cost him in proportion to its real value. Good Bishop Hall said "There is no life happy but that which is spent in continual drudgery for edification." And so there is no life in peace that has not had its struggle to secure purity. "First pure, then peaceable." Nor does God give wisdom and experience to those who have not studied and endured long and patiently. The prophet Daniel tell us that first he studied out of the books, to learn what were the Lord's promises for the scattered Jews; then he set his face "unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and applications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes," to obtain from God a fulfillment of the promises. It was after all this that Daniel had a visit from the angel, who was sent from heaven to give him skill and understanding. And no man, since the days of Daniel, has been justified in supposing that he could have Daniel's skill and understanding without Daniel's studying and praying. God's best gifts are ever to those who will pay the price of them. It is of no use to hope to shine in character as pure gold, without passing through the testing furnace which separates the gold from the dross. It is no use to hope to be a partaker of the glory of Christ, without being a partaker of the sufferings of Christ.—S. S. Times.

Vicissitudes of an Aristocracy.

In the number of the Revue des Deux Mondes for December 15, there is an extremely interesting history of the French peerage, in which the vicissitudes of that institution since the revolution are by no means the least curious part. In 1789 the convention abolished all titles and forbade all crests and liveries, and Louis XVI. and his wife became thenceforth Louis Capet and Femme Capet respectively. The word "citoyen" was the official appellation all through the Consulate, and it was only in 1804 that Josephine became Mme. Bonaparte. In effect the word "monsieur" had appeared immediately after the Terror, and titles never fell much into abeyance during that period. With the empire Napoleon founded a fresh aristocracy, just as Lord Cornwallis in India found an aristocracy of landed proprietors, whose position is now giving so much trouble to the authorities. In this Ney became Duc d'Elchingen, and other Generals Dukes of Rivoli, Dantzig, Castiglione, etc. Any one who has read the novels of Balzac knows well the intensive rivalries of these two aristocracies of the Faubourg St. Germain and the Chaussee d'Antin and the manœuvres of Napoleon to induce them to intermarry. On the accession of Louis XVIII, they were both officially recognized. It was not till after 1830, in Louis Philipp's time, that the present demoralization of titles began to take place. This was extremely easy, as the old parchment pedigrees had been made into gun-wad during the revolution, and as this became more apparent the impostors grew bolder. Then came 1848, and titles were again abolished, but reviewed by the Prince President in 1853, and the 4th of September, 1870, did not attempt to again abolish them, though various proposals have been since made to tax the bearers of titles assumed and real. At present, as in England, any one may call himself anything, and if he can only persuade other people to do the same so much the better for his title.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address

Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE
PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R. R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.

The Cells.

The police cells were empty last night—no prisoners and no tramps—and there was a blank at the police court this morning.

The T. V. C.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says that, although it has not had time to mention the canal lately, the work there is proceeding as rapidly as the weather will permit.

Dramatic.

The "French Spy" will be produced in Cobourg on Monday night and in Port Hope on Tuesday night by the members of the divison of the Durham Field Battery located in this town Lieut. Sanderson is at present in Lindsay for the purpose of making arrangements to present the drama in that town.

Skating Competition.

At a skating carnival in Campbellford this evening a gold medal will be offered for competition for fancy skating. Mr. E. J. Hartley intends to enter the competition, and his principal competitor will probably be Mr. H. Leavens, the champion skater, who is known here.

Fortune Telling.

We are informed that an old woman is going around the town, ostensibly to sell lace, but who is doing a more lucrative business in fortune-telling. To invest money in purchasing an imaginary fortune is as bad, if not worse, than investing in "Fund W." or "Club 13." To show how reliable (?) information procured in this way is, let us relate an incident of a female fortune-teller and a young lady, which occurred in Peterborough last summer. The young lady lived near an hotel, and the old lady wished to tell her fortune, but being refused the privilege, she went into the hotel kitchen. There she commenced a conversation with the employee, and turned it upon the young lady, and, of course, learned all that was known about her ip that kitchen. Then she went back to the young lady and was very anxious to tell her fortune, pretending that she had something very special to communicate, and even lowering her charge to a small amount. But the young lady had overheard a portion of the conversation in the kitchen, and knew exactly the extent of the fortune-teller's ability, so she bade her begone. This is the mode by which fortunes are told, and anyone who pays a fee to thus learn of the future, or believes a tale thus told, is a very foolish person indeed.

Curling.

Two rinks of the Port Hope Curling Club will play a friendly match with the Peterborough Club this evening in the Peterborough rink.

Taken to Montreal.

The Mail says that John Flemming, whose arrest and subsequent movements in Toronto have created quite a stir recently, was taken away by Detective Fahey on Wednesday night to run the gauntlet of his dupes in Montreal. The case against him in that city is said to be a strong one, and there is a possibility of a conviction.

The Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. H. Best, of Chatham, who has accepted the call from the Baptist Church of Peterborough, will occupy the pulpit in that Church on Sunday next. On the evening of Thursday, the 8th of March, a social will be held for the purpose of giving the congregation an opportunity to meet the pastor and extending to him a welcome. The clergymen of the town will be invited and addresses will be delivered.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather to-day is warm and spring-like. March has certainly come in like a lamb, and if Mr. Vennor's prediction proves to be correct, it will go out like a lion—like a roaring lion. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh westerly to southerly winds; fine mild weather. The temperature will rise considerably above the freezing point.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while it's wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. For sale by J. D. Tully.

SMITH AGAIN.—Every day we receive testimonials from well known Montrealers testifying to the wonderful merits of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy. The latest comes to-day (November 24th) from Mr. J. O. Darois, No. 19 St. Mary Street, who says his child, six years old, passed an immense number of small seat or pin worms and large stomach worms, with only a few doses. For sale by all druggist at 25 cents. Use no other.

Ambitious to be an Author.

In 1869, a young girl from a Southern State came to one of the large Eastern cities to seek her fortune at authorship. She had a few hundred dollars; was pretty, quick-witted, and had absolute faith in her own genius.

She would write a novel, she said, or a poem that would astonish the world and bring her fortune. After this had been done then she intended to go home crowned with fame, to become the queen of her little village.

The novel and the poem was written, and went the rounds of the publishing-houses seeking in vain a publisher. She wrote other novels to no better purpose. She wrote essays, newspaper articles, and carried them herself to every editor, using her pretty face and girlish wiles to force a sale.

After a few months her money was gone. Her clothes grew shabby. Her face, a little sharp now and pinched, had become familiar in every newspaper office. Her eyes had lost their dewy softness, and shone hard and defiant. Often she was hungry.

The end of the story is easily guessed. She was sent home at last, ruined in health and in reputation. This is a true story in every detail.

The girl had ability enough to earn her living in a half dozen ordinary ways; but she had not the ability to express herself in writing, and here is the fatal mistake which she and so many other young people make.

They are blind and indifferent to all kinds of success but that of authorship. Yet many a man and woman who can hardly write a well-expressed letter have more sound practical sense executive talent and refinement of feeling than the versifier or story-teller who hold the public breathless for a time.

But the ambition to succeed as an author is harmless enough, provided disappointment does not disable the mind for other work. It is a career which requires no capital or "plant" of any kind. Neither is influence needed to secure a new aspirant a hearing, although there is a wide-spread belief among unsuccessful writers, that there is a ring composed of editors and a few well known writers, whose object is to crush unknown genius and forbid it a hearing.

On the contrary, there is not an editor in the country who would not hail with absolute delight a new writer of power, who could bring fresh strength to his columns.

Send your manuscript, therefore, boys and girls, to the magazine you refer. You may be assured that it will be fairly read and judged. If you do not succeed, it will be because you have not the especial talent for writing. Give it up. You have other ability; use that. Turn to any profession or trade rather than hang around newspaper offices in the unhonored ranks of the hangers-on of literature.—Youth's Companion.

British Columbia Mines.

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 28.—A prospector just from the Kootenay district brings a specimen of lead and silver ore of marvellous richness and nearly pure. He says the mines are of a vast extent, and it is estimated that in one location there are two hundred and fifty thousand tons of ore in sight, and that the value of the mines at present discovered is fifty millions. The glories of Leadville pale before this prospector's report; one seam is one hundred feet thick. He tells of great veins of pure copper visible in the hill-sides. These mines are within sixty miles of the route selected by the Canadian Pacific railway, via Kicking Horse pass.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commences to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

It is based upon scientific principles and easily demonstrated to the comprehension of every intelligent person, that a truss without steel springs or hard substance, having healed Inguinal and Umbilical as well as Varicocle, at the advanced ages respectively of from 65 to 95 years, must and will stand the test against all Spring Trusses to children as well as adults. Prof. H. having had 20 years experience has become master of his profession, and DEFIES the Hernia he cannot hold in its place.

DEEPLY CHAGRINED.

THE Reform Toronto World says:—

"A correspondent wishes to know why, if they got the same returns as the World, there was such a discrepancy between those furnished by the Globe yesterday and ourselves. The answer is obvious. Having no interests to serve, we gave the most complete returns at our command, while our contemporary, wishing to lessen the effect of its disastrous losses chronicled the election of its own friends whose returns were incomplete but ignored altogether those of its opponents. It was a foolish, childish, and almost dishonest course, exposing the party organ's own weakness and showing how deeply chagrined it was at the result."

THE LOTTERY IN LONDON.

Proceedings Against Ticket Sellers and Prize Winners.

LONDON, March 1.—A stir was caused in the city to-day by a number of summonses being issued against parties having held tickets in the late Masonic lottery. At first the matter was considered as an excellent joke by those getting the papers, but on further investigation the affair looks more genuine. It will be remembered that some time before the drawing took place rumors were floating round the city to the effect that the promoters of the scheme should desist on pain of proceedings being taken against every one taking tickets in the affair. No importance was attached to the notice, and nothing more was heard till to-day, when it became rumored around town that a large number of prize-winners in the city had been served with summonses to appear in Toronto. Mr. W. T. Strong, druggist, expressed the opinion that the whole affair appeared very much like a practical joke. Inquiry at the county crown attorney's office elicited no further information, as nothing had been heard of the matter there. Mr. W. J. Booth, of the $2,500 syndicate, has also received a summons, and Mr. T. H. Brunton another.

How Mrs. Kenny Lost Her Money.

During the year 1879 Mrs. Adelaide R. Kenny of Philadelpha, recieved a circular from a stock broking concern called Thatcher, Belmont & Co., No. 48 Broad-street, which promised to pay fabulous profits for the investment of a small amount of capital. Mrs. Kenny sent the firm $1,000 for investment and recieved soon afterward a small sum of money, which the firm said was the profits of her investment. The firm evidently sent her part of the money originally intrusted to them by Mrs. Kenny in the hope of securing further sums from her for investment. The bait was seized by Mrs. Kenny and she sent the firm two more checks, one of which was for $5,500, and the other for $900. In the meantime Anthony Comstock had closed the establishment of Thatcher, Belmont & Co., and several other concerns as being fraudulent and swindles. The firm of Thatcher, Belmont & Co. was composed of Edward A. Weed and George Chandler. After the place had been closed Chandler went to Comstock and said he did not want to get into any trouble, and at the suggestion of Comstock Chandler sent a letter to the postmaster notifying the latter to send all mail matter addressed to Thatcher, Belmot & Co. to the Dead Letter Office in Washington, from which it could be returned to the writers. Before the Postmaster had acted upon the notification however, Weed and Chandler had recieved Mrs. Kenny's checks, and having cashed them the two men disappeared. Mrs. Kenny brought a suit in the supreme Court against Weed and Chandler last April, and Judge Barret granted an order for their arrest. Weed was arrested on the 13th inst., and Chandler was captured last Wednesday. They were held in $10,300 bail, which they gave and were released.—N. Y. Times.

THE ADDRESS PASSED.

LONDON, March 1.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Parnell complained against the seeming intention of the Government to relieve the distress in Ireland by poorhouses and emigration. Mr. O'Conner's amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the Throne, was rejected by 163 to 32. The address was agreed to in committee and reported to the house.

"NUMBER ONE" AGAIN.

DUBLIN, March 1.—The police have torn down placards extensively posted throughout Galway signed "Number One." The placard denies that the person charged with Constable Laton's murder turned informer. There is some irritation on account of the action of the police.

CITY OF BRUSSELS' COLLISION.

LONDON, March 1.—The inquiry by the Board of Trade into the sinking of the steamer City of Brussels by the steamer Kirby Hall, has resulted in the exoneration of the captain of the City of Brussels. The court found that the Kirby Hall was undermanned, but that the captain acted prudently with the exception that he did not stop on hearing the whistles of the City of Brussels. The court has decided not to interfere with the captain's certificates.

All convicted of murder will probably be hanged. Probably 300 will be sentenced to life servitude.

THE PASSION PLAY.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Justice Duffy to-day, in the case of Salmi Morse, arrested for producing the Passion play without license, decided that the case ought to go before a jury, and it was probable that the cause would hold the accused for trial. He fixed bail at $500.

A PUGILIST SHOT.

CHICAGO, March 1.—To-night Jas. Elliott, the pugilist, and Jere Dunn, a well-known sporting man, met at Wm. Langdon's saloon and began shooting, Elliott being killed, and Dunn wounded in two places. Accounts of the meeting vary. One account says Elliott attacked Dunn with a chair, Dunn meantime using his revolver. Dunn and his friends say he was not aware of Elliott's presence in the saloon until Elliott fired, the shot passing under Dunn's scalp and another through his left forearm. Dunn then drew his revolver and joined in the fusilade, the crowd of some 25 persons in the place making a hasty exit. Dunn has been arrested. Elliott died en route to the hospital, the fatal shot being in the stomach. Dunn is a partner of McKee Rankin in a breeding farm on an island in the Detroit river.

A VERY NICE FATHER.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Early this morning Charles McDonald and Wm. Mitchell fought a desperate battle on the flats, Port Richmond. Both are very yonug. Twenty rounds were fought, in all of which McDonald came out second best. McDonald's father acted as his second, and although his son could scarcely keep his feet after the tenth round, the old man kept him in the ring until he could fight no longer. The principals with the elder McDonald have been arrested.

63,000 People Drink City Water.

Incidental to the meeting of the waterworks committee yesterday afternoon, City Engineer Brough gave some interesting information as to the growth of the business of the water department. Out of Toronto's 86,000 population, 63,000 are entirely dependent on the city water service for their supply. There was not a foot of new mains laid down last year, but 1,900 new services were put in. Since the year 1879 our population has increased 10 per cent, while the number of basins or baths in the city has increased 85 per cent, and closets 70 per cent.—Toronto World.

Remarkable Effect of Sickness.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1883.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE news, which is now fully confirmed, that Mr. S. S. Peck has met with a crushing defeat in North Victoria, must be hailed with satisfaction by honest men of either party. It is not creditable to the country that such offenders should be set in high places, and we have been spared the disgrace this time.

⁂

THE House of Commons has now resumed its normal aspect, the seats of the Ontario members on both sides of the House having been very scantily filled during the recent election. It was not likely that the leading men of the Province would be debarred from giving their views to the electors even by the device of hurrying on the contest so that it should be simultaneous with the session of the Dominion Parliament.

TRENT NAVIGATION.

The following is taken from the official report of 1882 of Mr. T. S. Rubidge C. E.:—

During the last session of Parliament it was decided by the Government that, pending the completion of the surveys, an early commencement of the work of construction would be desirable; and, inasmuch as the information obtained during the preliminary examinations of last season was considered sufficiently comprehensive and accurate to warrant the opinion that the main line of water communication recommended by Mr. Baird was the most practicable, an appropriation was accordingly voted during the session towards the construction of the Burleigh, the Buckhorn, and the Fenelon Falls Canals, all which works are situated on the main line above mentioned, and are also links in the chain of lakes (known as the Back Lakes) and necessary to render their navigation continuous. The preliminary surveys at these points were only commenced in May last, and although rapidly completed the various works were with much difficulty located by the 10th August, the time named in the advertisement for exhibiting the plans, &c.

The tenders were received by the Department up to the 24th August, and the contracts were subsequently awarded as under, viz:—

Burleigh Canal—George Goodwin Contractor, of Grenville, P. Q., 27th September, 1888; to be completed 1st July, 1885.

Buckhorn Canal—George Goodwin, Contractor, of Grenville, P. Q., 27th September, 1884; to be completed 1st September 1884.

Fenelon Falls Canal—A. F. Manning & Co., Contractors, Toronto, 14th October, 1882; to be completed 1st July, 1885.

The Land Valuators were appointed 7th October, and have since fully entered upon their duties.

Work was commenced at Fenelon Falls on the 16th October.

In connection with the canalization of the Back Lakes the Department has taken preliminary steps to expropriate the Lakefield Dam, situated at the head of the Otonabee River, and by means of which the level of Lake Katchiwannoe, or the reach next below Younge' Point Lock, is regulated and the navigation to Lakefield maintained.

The works of construction (on the Back Lakes) now under contract may be thus briefly described.

BURLEIGH CANAL.

This canal, the first in the new series, is situated in the County of Peterborough, on the southern limits of the Laurentian formation, and in a comparatively unsettled part of the country. The works extend over a distance of about two and a-quarter miles i. e., from Deer Bay to Stony Lake, including the Burleigh River and Lovesick Lake and Rapids, and are designed by means of locks and dams to create slack water between those points, and thereby complete the navigation downwards via the existing lock at Younk's Point to the village of Lakefield, and upwards through Deer Day Lake to Buckhorn Rapids, the site of the next works in ascending order.

BUCKHORN CANAL.

As at Burleigh, these works are also situated in the County of Peterborough, on the southern limits of the Laurentian formation, and on the north side of Buckhorn Rapids, in the settlement known as Hall's Mills, and extend over a distance of about a quarter of a mile, connecting Deer Bay with the waters of Buckhorne, Pidgeon and Mud Lakes, and by means of the locks at Bobcaygeon and Lindsay with Sturgeon and Scugog Lakes, and the proposed work at Fenelon Falls, the last in ascending order.

FENELON FALLS CANAL.

This canal, the last in the new series, is located on the north side of the Fenelon River, near the centre of the village of Fenelon Falls, in the County of Victoria, and extends over a distance of about one-third of a mile, connecting Sturgeon Lake with Cameron's Lake and by means of the existing lock at Rosedale with Balsam Lake and the village of Coboconk, on Gull River.

The works consist of the excavation of the lock pits and canal, chiefly through stratified line stone rock, the masonry and foundations of two locks, the formation of approaches thereto, the construction of landing piers at the lower, and of a rock wing dam at the upper entrances; widening and strengthening the existing mill dams with rock from the excavation, and building the requisite piers, &c., for swing bridges at the central span of the Victoria Railway Bridge, and also at the upper lock on the line of Colborne Street.

The general dimensions of the new lock are: length between hollow quoins, 134 feet; width between chamber walls on floor, 33 feet; depth on mitre sills—lowest water, 5 feet.

The existing structures to be utilized hereafter in completing the Back Lake navigation, comprise:—

1. The Lakefield dam,
2. A Lock and Dam at Young's Point,
3. The Buckhorn Dam,
4. A Lock and two dams at Bobcaygeon,
5. A Lock and dam at Lindsay,
6. The Fenelon Falls Dam,
7. A Lock and Dam at Rosedale (Balsam River).

The general dimensions of the locks approximate closely to those adopted for the new works.

The locks at Younk's Point, Lindsay and Rosedale, were constructed by, and are under the control of, the Provincial Government.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE ELECTION.

The election on Tuesday passed off quietly in Lakefield, considering the intense interest taken in the result. Both parties worked hard, and nearly every vote was polled that could be. Thirty-one more votes were cast at this election than in the election in June last. The majority in Lakefield for Mr. Carnegie was fifty-four, The Reformers polled three votes, residents of Smith, in Lakefield, instead of where they lived. The Conservatives could have polled three under the same circumstances in the village, but did not—they voted where they lived. Mr. Campbell's majority in Smith would be by this means reduced three, and Mr. Carnegie's majority in Lakefield reduced by the same number. Mr. Carnegie's majority in Lakefield would really be fifty-seven, leaving out of the count the Smith votes polled for Mr. Campbell in the village. Mr. Carnegie's majority was not so large as was expected by his friends. Notwithstanding the powerful and fascinating influences used by Mr. Campbell's supporters in inducing the free and independant electors of Lakefield to vote Reform, Lakefield stands the banner Conservative polling division in the West Riding of Peterborough. There were no ballots rejected or objected to. While the ballots were being counted a large crowd collected in front of the Council Room on the street and anxiously awaited the result, and when at the close of the count the result was announced 54 for Carnegie, a wild state of excitement was the result, and cheer after cheer for Mr. Carnegie was heard in different parts of the village.

GETTING THE RETURNS.

A joint public meeting was held in Leonard's Hall, on the evening of the 27th, for the purpose of receiving the election news from the Telegraph Co., which was arranged for by both parties jointly. At the meeting a number gentlemen made short addresses and everything passed of quietly and goodnaturedly. About half-past eleven o'clock the streets of the village were entirely deserted.

REVIEWS.

HARPERS' MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—The current number of Harper has for its frontispiece an exquisite engraving, "The Burgomaster's Daughter," after George H. Boughton, A.R.A., who also continues his admirable pen and pencil sketches of "Strolls in Holland." W. H. Bishop takes us to very different scenes "Across Arizona," the descriptions being accompanied with profuse illustrations. In the "French Voyageurs," by T. W. Higginson, and "Sir Christopher Gardiner, Knight," by Charles Francis Adams, we have additions to the interesting and valuable series of papers on old colonial days. Apropos of the death of Wagner, M. G. VanRenselaer writes on "Parisfal at Bairenth," with many particulars concerning the great composer, a good likeness of him and sketches of his surroundings. E. Mason discourses upon "Philip Wouvermans'," with specimens of his works. The two aerial stories, "For the Major" and "Shandon Bells," increase in interest and both contain strong situations this month. There are several very readable short tales, some poems which are even above the usual high standard of Harper, and the excellent editorial miscellanies.

A COURT SCENE AT WASHINGTON.

The Redoubtable Robert Ingersoll in a Towering Rage.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—In the star route trial to-day Informer Reredell's cross-examination was resumed. An angry passage occurred between Merrick and Ingersoll. Merrick said he should interrupt without regard to the wishes of counsel.

Mr. Ingersoll (warmly)—I do not want the regard of counsel and would consider his regard as an insult.

Mr. Merrick (turning quickly around towards his opponent)—I never give my regard to a puppy.

Mr. Ingersoll (involuntarily picking up a heavy inkstand and red with anger)—You are a dirty dog.

The court pounding vigorously on a desk restored order. Judge Wylie was visibly shocked. Mr. Merrick explained that he had been pressed beyond the limits of human endurance. The court said the language was inexcusable under any provocation.

After explanations by both sides the affair was amicably settled.

When the court called counsel to order after the angry colloquy Ingersoll said no man could abuse him without resistance on his part. Said he, "I would do it at the day of judgment if I were assailed by God. I would defend myself with my little puny power." After an amicable settlement of the affair the entire passage was stricken out of the record.

Ingersoll also contended that any offensive remarks he might have made in this or at the previous trial should be stricken out of the record.

A PHYSICIAN, a graduate of McGill Medical College, Montreal, speaking of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, said, I know of no better Medical Compound for Dyspepsia, Billiousness and Constipation. They are unequalled as a Blood Purifier; as a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. Sold by all Druggists in large bottles at 50 cents.

A LADIES' BUCKET-SHOP.

An Attractive Gambling Establishment in Chicago.

A despatch from Chicago says:—Not the least interesting phase of the absorbing craze of this city is seen in the "ladies bucket-shop," an attractive gambling establishment conducted exclusively for the patronage of the fair sex. Commodious apartments, pleasantly arranged on Randolph street, are crowded daily during 'Change hours with middle-aged and young ladies, who condescend to watch the fluctuations in grain-and-provisions as indicated on the tape of the "ticker" and on a large blackboard. Probably fifty chairs are filled with wives, widows, daughters, and sweethearts, while several [illegible] stood in the corners. "March corn, three-quarters," pipes the musical voice of a blonde-moustache clerk behind the bank-looking counter where the cashier and his assistants are taking from their fair spectators contracts for the purchase and sale of futures in hog products and the cereals. Strangely enough, the ladies are on the bull side of the market, and when a deal goes against them they will continue to advance cash for additional margins as long as they are able to raise the necessary funds.

The lady patrons at this establishment are fashionably, but modestly, attired, and many of them moving in the highest circles, and the faces of all bearing the unmistakable stamp of those who are accustomed to risk money in games of chance. A well-known detective who frequently visits the place called attention to the peculiarly noticeable expression of the features of all the lady speculators as that of immobility. Their eyes were calm and deeply thoughtful and determined, but their faces gave no outward sign of the consciousness of inner thoughts. One lady of imperious bearing, with a costume of rich black silk, enveloped in a seal sacque of most ample dimensions, is the heaviest operator. She is Mrs. L——, the wife of a Board of Trade commission merchant, and has become thoroughly imbued with the spirit of speculation from the operations of her husband, who makes a practice of "talking shop" at home. He gained about $8,000 on the January corn corner. Miss H——, who formerly resided in St. Louis, is pointed out as a bold and daring operator, having been known to handle 50,000 bushels of corn in a single day. She is a thorough scalper, however, and usually closes out her trades every day. She is believed to be generally successful.

One sad case is pointed out in the person of a very pretty young widow, attired in the deepest mourning costume. About ten months since her husband suddenly died. They had lived extravagantly in an elegant mansion on Dearborn avenue, one of the fashionable thoroughfares, and when the estate was settled only about $10,000 could be cleaned up out of the property of the deceased. As the annual expenses of the family had grown enormously, the widow soon found that she must perforce either move to a less fashionable quarter, and live more economically, or devise ways and means to secure a larger income. With the latter end in view she commenced speculating. Within three months the unfortunate woman had her capital wasted away, has aged rapidly, and causes her friends much disquietude. The last remnant of her fortune she has now invested in May wheat, which cost her only $1,000, but she is so infatuated with the deal that she may continue to hold until not only the profit but the entire margin is swept away, involving her in complete financial ruin.

Speculation has grown to an enormous extent within a few years. There are 5,322 principals doing business in the city as commission merchants and brokers in grain and provision futures of a speculative character. These include regular legitimate members of the Board of Trade and the call board, besides the open board, the bucket-shops, and curbstone brokers. These persons transact business for not less than 475,000 people, who invest money with a desire for gain. Their half million customers reside in Chicago, and in nearly every city and hamlet of the great North-West, and many are found in every State in the Union. The annual business transacted for these people aggregates the enormous sum of $180,000,000. The investments of the great majority are swallowed up in the maelstrom of the street, while the number of those gaining fortunes is small indeed.

Gambling for Locomotives.

A report has leaked out in San Antonio, Texas, regarding a game of poker in New York some time ago between several railroad kings, during which one of the gentlemen, having lost all of his pocket money, offered to put up engines as collateral. Fortune still combatted him, and at the close of the game he had lost three of the best engines he owned. They are now running on the winner's road in this state, their numbers being 22, 21 and 26, and are valued at $40,000.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

IN INEBRIETY.

Dr. C. S. Ellis, Wabash, Ind., says: "I prescribed it for a man who had used intoxicants to excess for fifteen years, but during the last two years has entirely abstainted. He thinks the Acid Phosphate is of much benefit to him."

Thousands Say so.

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaints purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.

NATURE'S REMEDIES.—The sting of a nettle is instandly relieved by applying the juice of the maple leaf. So also are kidney trouble by using Fountain of Health. Sold everywhere at 25 cents.

IF you only used Dr. Carson's Bitters you would not be always telling everybody that enquired after your health how dreadful mean you felt; had a terrible headache; appetite, etc. On the contrary, you would return the greeting with a bright smile, a hearty grip, and look like as your would feel—first-rate. They are for sale by all druggitts in large bottles at 50 cents.

A CHEQUERED CAREER.

A Former Student of Trinity College Under Arrest in the States.

The following despatch was received from Buffalo:—In July last Edward H. Price, a travelling salesman, came to this city and stopped at the Tifft house. During his stay there he became short of funds, and drawing a sight draft for $160 upon Adlar J. Toph, a real estate dealer of Cincinnati, Ohio, induced the proprietor of the Tifft house to cash it upon the representation that he (Price) was in Toph's employ. The draft afterwards proved to be valueless. Price took the money and went to New York city on an extended spree. When the money was exhausted he started westward, and reached Oswego in a penniless condition. There he hired out as a steersman on a canal boat and went as far as Syracuse. There a sore limb compelled him to give up the occupation of steersman, and, being destitute, the Syracuse authorities sent him to the poor-house, where he remained until a week ago, when he was discharged. In the meantime the police of this city kept a lookout for Price, and learning last week that he was in the Salt City, sent a telegram there yesterday, and had him arrested. Last night Detective Lyons took the train for Syracuse, where he found the prisoner, and returned with him at noon to-day. Price is a bright young man twenty-five years of age, a Canadian by birth, and well connected in Toronto, where his father had a judicial position for seventeen years. He was educated at Trinity College in that city. Since he left his native place he has experienced a varied fortune in the United States. He spent several seasons on the Mississippi as clerk on river boats, rising to the position of purser. Price is now locked up at police headquarters. He will be arraigned on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences.

FENELON FALLS.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—The Gazette says that Mr. Joseph McArthur, our worthy reeve, is making preparations for the erection of a pork packery (if that is the right name for it) on the lot on Francis street, west, that was occupied by the planing mill destroyed by fire in the summer of 1880. The building is to be of stone from the canal, and a large quantity of that material is already on the ground. Mr. McArthur has not yet decided upon the dimensions of the packery, but as he has a long purse and large ideas it will no doubt be a good sized one. Rah for tenderloins and pettitoes at reasonable prices.

HORSES DROWNED.—The thaw of last week was so sudden and rapid, and was accompanied by so much rain, that ponds of considerable depth were formed in depressions in the roads, and no doubt many accidents occurred in consequence. Two of a serious nature have come to our knowledge. On Saturday a team of horses owned and driven by Mr. John Thompson, of Verulam, who was cadging for Mr. Irwin, slipped off a crossway about four miles north of Haliburton, and one of them was drowned; and on Monday a horse was drowned from the same cause in Havelock township, where its owner, Mr. Richard Welsh, who lives near Bobcaygeon, was cadging for Mr. Boyd.

Visiting a Silo.

During the late convention of the Dairymen of Western Ontario at Ingersoll, a number of the leading members paid a visit to the farm of Mr. James Harris, near that town, to inspect the silo for preparation and keep of ensilage, which Mr. Harris constructed about three years ago. The walls are of stone, seventeen feet wide and thirty-three feet long, with an additional four feet boarded above; capacity, 180 tons ensilage; at a cost of $500. Last fall the corn from twelve acres, yielding eighteen tons per acre, was passed through a straw cutter and packed in the silo, horses doing the tramping up to within a few feet of the top, after which planks were laid on closely and the whole mass firmly pressed down with ten "jack" screws, distributed over the mass and held down below by beams. Lastly, the cracks in the board covering were filled with clay from a brickyard. Mr. Harris estimated the cost of putting in the ensilage, including cutting in the field, at $1 per ton. The twelve acres of cornstocks prepared in this way were sufficient to feed 25 cows all winter. Some were given a little bran additional, but very little hay was used. Several of the cows were averaging 26 lbs. of milk each per day. Mr. Harris considered his ensilage an entire success. Some of his stock presented a very fair appearance on ensilage alone. It should be added that about a foot on top of the mass of ensilage was somewhat decayed under the joints of the boards, and on coming near the silo a peculiar acid smell was apparent, similar to that arising from a brewery. The ensilage was distinguished by a sour, pickle like taste. It was opened on November 10th. To ordinary cows they fed 60 lbs. per day; the new milch cows 70, with the addition of a little bran and meal occasionally. They had not fed more than half a ton of hay. At present the ensilage is 49 degrees of heat within, where not exposed to the air. The cows continue to eat it with avidity.

Protecting Canadian Immigrants.

For a few years back the attention of the Dominion Government has been drawn to the necessity of appointing agents to protect immigrants coming to Canada through American territory, as it was well known that they were tampered with by American agents and induced to remain on the other side. Mr. W. A. Shepard, who has been a resident of Winnipeg for the past thirteen years, has been appointed the Dominion agent for this purpose between Montreal, New York and Winnipeg, and he has been the first to be able to establish an agency in Castle Garden, New York, his partner, Mr. Scoball, having left Toronto a few days ago to open an agency there, as also in Montreal, New York, and Winnipeg. The headquarters of the firm are in this city at 112½ King street west.—Toronto Mail. Mr. Scoball intends to come through with immigrants bound for Manitoba, and thus prevent their getting astray. He says that a special party will leave Toronto for the Northwest on the 10th of Morch.—Winnipeg Sun.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1883.

The Cells.

Two bankrupt pedestrains lodged in the police cells last night.

A Fire.

On Wednesday evening, at about six o'clock, the house of Mrs. Graham, Water street, had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire. A lamp exploded in the wardrobe, and the fire was communicated to the clothes which it contained. Before it was extinguished several dresses were burned, and loss will probably amount to $100.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending March 1st, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $4,726.01; freight, $11,091.77; total, $15,817.78, as compared with $13,365.95 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $2,451.83; and the aggregate traffic to date is $111,414.52, being an increase of $7,919.58 over 1882.

A Good Article.

Mr. Geo. C. Rogers, of the Otonabee Flour Mills, has worked up in Peterborough and Ashburnham quite a large business for the celebrated Compressed Yeast of Gaff, Fleischmann & Co's. His orders have been steadyily growing larger every week. It has proved a good article in the hands of many ladies now using it, who state they would not be without it as an auxiliary on baking days in the saving of time and labour by its use, as well as for its beautiful result in bread and pastry making.

The Weather Probabilities.

To-day is fine, and the sun has been shining brightly all day. One would almost fancy it was a May day, instead of the 2nd of March. Probabilities come to the fore with a promise of another twenty-four hours of fine weather. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, fresh westerly to northerly winds; fine mild weather.

At the Post of Duty.

The West Lynne, N.W.T., Times says:

"At the late fire in Emerson a number of the members of the Boughton Hose Company allowed their own personal effects to be destroyed sooner than desert from the post of duty which the emergency called for and the responsibility that they had assumed. The chief, Mr. C. V. Boughton, himself lost some valuable engineering instruments and maps, which could have been saved if he had spared ten minutes time for himself. Of course they only did their duty, but let it be remembered to the lasting credit of the Boughton Hose Co., that they are only a volunteer fire brigade, and no one has a right to demand from them personal sacrifices for the volunteer services they rendered."

IF YOU WANT large fresh oysters dished up in good style, go to T. Darcy's Restuarant and Oyster Parlour.

The Temperature.

The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a.m., 30° above zero; at noon, 44° above, and at 3 p.m., 42° above.

Social.

A social entertainment was held in the George Street Methodist Church on Thursday evening, when oysters and other refreshments were served. A good programme was carried out, consisting of music, readings, &c. One feature of the entertainment was an exhibition of ventriloquism by Master Herbert Dixon, who bids fair to become as accomplished in this art as either of his brothers.

Curling.

A friendly curling match was played at the rink here on Thursday evening, between two rinks from the Port Hope, and two rinks of the home club. The match resulted in a victory for the visitors, the score being as follows:—

PORT HOPE.	PETERBOROUGH.
Mr. Phelp's rink—25	Mr. Aitrell's rink—13
Mr. Hall's rink—21	Mr. Dunsford rink—16
46	29

The Port Hope club thus won by 17 points. After the conclusion of the match the visitors were entertained to an oyster supper at Darcy's Restaurant, and they returned home on the early train this morning, well pleased with their visit to Peterborough.

Skating Competition.

On Thursday evening a fancy dress carnival was held at the rink in Campbellford, and a valuable gold medal was offered for the best exhibition of fancy skating. Mr. E. J. Hartley, of Peterborough, and Mr. H. Leavens, of Belleville, who claimed the title of champion of Canada, were the only competitors. Dr. Goldsmith, of Campbellford, and Mr. Patton, of Hastings, acted as judges, and the exhibition was one of rare excellence, each of the skaters winning rounds of applause from the spectators. When time was called, the judges retired to compare notes, and the spectators appeared to be evenly divided in their opinions as to who had won the medal, but the decision of the judges set the question at rest, as the medal was awarded to Mr. Hartley. Mr. Leavens is a good skater, but the gracefulness with which Mr. Hartley went through the most difficult movements deserved this recognition, and the correctness of the decision of the judges could not be questioned.

Railway Notes.

The Norwood Register says that Mr. McDonald's men have quit work on the cut through Orange Hill, owing to the abutments on the east side not being completed. As soon as the weather becomes favorable the abutments will be finished and work resumed. Operations on the cut through McCarthy's hill, west of the village, are being actively pushed forward, notwithstanding the severity of the weather.

The Stirling News-Argus says that during the last month of 1880 there was received at Stirling station from Belleville (G. T. freight not included) 240 tons, as against 890 tons for the same period of 1881. The total freight received from Belleville city for the year 1881 was 490 tons; 1882, 710 tons an increase of 220 tons, or about 46 per cent increase.

The News-Argus gives the following particulars of the terrible accident which occurred on the Quebec and Ontario railway, at Callahan's Rapids, last Monday morning, the result of a dynamite explosion, causing the instantaneous death of one person, and the serious if not fatal injury of another. Two men, named King and Buckley, were in one apartment of the boarding-house of Munford & MacMahon, contractors, warming the explosive, and preparing it for blasting, when the explosion took place. Mr. King, the clerk, was blown about forty feet through a window, his right arm blown completely off, and the left arm and lower jaw horribly shattered. Buckley was blown through a partition, and although badly hurt it is thought he may recover. Instantly the building was on fire, the occupants barely having time to escape. This is the fifth accident (the last two fatal) that has happened on this road within a space of six miles.

New York Snobs.

The wearing of livery has gradually crept in bit by bit, till this season Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt has thrown the citizen masque aside, and has put all her servants in full British claret-coloured livery from top to toe. Of course all the little barrels are fast rolling after, and several who scarcely know what a crest is, and only know that their father was a small dealer, or drove a car, are allowing themselves to be coaxed by their wives into ordering their tailors to put their family crest on the brass buttons of their coachman's coat.—Scottish American.

Coffee Adulteration.

The returns of the public analysts show conclusively that coffee is about the worst or best adulterated substance on the face of the earth. Not only is chicory used to an enormous extent, but the returns show that wasted nutshells, peas, or rather wasted cereals, and a goodly quantity of other substances find their way into the coffee cup. These adulterations are, of course, only found in ground coffee. They are of a harmless sort. They generally serve to cheapen the article, and by many mixed coffee is preferred to pure. But everybody does not think thus. Those who have submitted themselves without a murmer to the household annoyance entailed by the presence of a coffee mill have flattered themselves that they at least drink pure, good coffee. This, it now turns out, is also in a small way a delusion and a snare. As the result of a quarrel between a landlord and tenant in Chicago lately, it has been discovered that there is a process technically called "gaging," by which green and inferior coffee berries are increased in size and gives the proper shade necessary to their passing as prime Java. This process, it is said, does not materially injure the coffee, but it certainly cannot improve it, and the difference between the spurious first-class coffee and the really first-class must be great.—Witness.

Lizards and Music.

Lizards, such as some of the Geckotidæ, the Lacertidæ, and the Iguanidæ, certainly betray a sense of musical vibrations. Little geckos and other house lizards, if they do not exactly "come out to listen," as they are reputed to do, will stop instantly in their flight over walls and floors when a note is struck, and remain motionless for some seconds, as though actually listening for its repetition, and I have seen taraguiras in a garden "mesmerized" by a guitar in the same way. But it is to be observed that in neither instance is the mesmerism complete enough to prevent their eluding capture, and that if the music be continued they soon become habituated to it and resume their wonted movements. I am inclined to attribute the effect to the reception of the air waves by the general sensibility of the cutaneous surface, the feeling of what is most likely a disagreeable thrill, rather than to any impression on the special sense of hearing. Sitting at an open grand piano one day, looking at some manuscript, but not touching the keys, a "legatitie," making his way down the wall against which the instrument stood, by a series of running crooked jerks, caught my eye, his little sprawling hands and iridescent body sharply defined against the white background. On the further end of the piano lay a paper of "dalees;" this had attracted a swarm of flies, and the flies in their turn attracted the legatitia. Down he came, with abrupt suspicious darts and turns to this side and that, until he stood on the level ground of the piano-top, paused, flitted half across it, and paused again. Just as he began to run once more, having cautiously brought my hands and feet into position, I struck a tremendous double chord with the hard pedal down. Poor little chap! I thought I had killed him. He was absolutely knocked of his legs, and turned over on his back, where he lay feebly kicking. Before I could reach him, however, he had recovered, regained his feet, flashed up the wall, and disappeared into a crevice. I expect that that lizard, at any rate, had a very low opinion of music afterward.

He Wanted to be Complained of.

A man who had been purchasing a horse and cutter was yesterday speeding the animal up and down Peak street, when a policeman said to him:—

"That's four times you have been racing up and down, and you want to quit or you'll get into trouble."

"How?"

"I'll complain of you."

"What for?"

"Fast driving."

"At what rate will you swear that I was driving?"

"At least eight miles an hour."

"Will you, honest Injun? Will you say at least eight?"

"I will, and the recorder will fine you three dollars."

"Say," said the man, as he pulled out a five-dollar bill and extended it, "take this and do me a favour. Make complaint that I was driving at least eight miles an hour, and have me fined for it. I bought this old beast for a four-mile-an-hour horse, and if it gets around among the boys that he can step at the rate of eight I can sell him for $25 in cash and a second-hand overcoat! Go and enter complaint to-day, so that it will be mentioned in the morning papers, and don't forget to say eight miles an hour—eight might miles an hour on your solemn affidavy!"

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 1883.

MONTREAL.

Special to the Review, March 3.

THE HON. SACKVILLE WEST, British Ambassador to Washington, and Sir Charles Tupper were entertained to lunch at St. James' club to-day.

NORWOOD.

A REVOLVER DRAWN.—The Register says, that two youngsters met on Saturday evening last to settle a quarrel of long standing. After fighting for a few seconds one of the combatants drew a revolver. Constable Hill was brought to the scene, but no arrests were made.

RUNAWAY.—A mustang, direct from the plains of California, and driven by Mr. Wm. Hill, ran away on Tuesday forenoon last. Mr. H. was thrown off the sleigh and received some severe contusions about the breast. After running around a block three or four times it came to a standstill in front of its quarters on Ridge Street. The sleigh was badly wrecked.

Electricity for the Tricycle.

Electricity has long been threatening to displace gas as an illuminant. It is now entering the field against the horse as a means of traction. Two eminent electricians claim to be able to bottle up 12 horse-power in a storage battery weighing three hundred-weight, and they promise to produce in a few months a perfectly practical electric tricycle, capable of running 15 or 20 miles without recharging the accumulators, and able to ascend all such hills as are now possible for the foot tricycle, and even steeper gradients if auxiliary foot gearing be used to help the electromotor when the incline is great. The weight of batteries will not exceed the weight of a second rider, and it will run at the rate of seven miles an hour. As the new motor will never go lame, or shy, or break its knees, or eat its head off when not employed, it is likely to prove a dangerous rival to the horse. The quadruped, however, which has survived steam, need not fear extinction by electricity.—Pall Mall Gazette.

An Old Church in Arizona.

The most interesting of all sights is the grand old mission church of Son Xavier nine miles from Tucson, on the Papago reservation. This mission was founded in 1654, when the Papago (or Pima) Indians were supposed to have accepted the Christian religion. The church of San Xavier was begun about the year 1700 and finished in 1806, excepting one of the towers, which is yet unfinished. The style of architecture is Moorish. The lines are wonderfully perfect. It is in the form of a cross, 70 by 115 feet, and has a well-formed dome. A balustrade surmounts all the walls. The front is covered with scroll-work, intricate, interesting, and partly decayed. Over the front is a life-size bust of St. Xavier. The interior is literally covered with frescoes. The altar is adorned with gilded scroll work. The statues are as numerous as the paintings. The tilling on the floor is much defaced and but little left. That of the roof is nearly all as perfect, as when laid. Its manufacture is one of the lost arts. There is a chime of four good-sized bells in the tower that have a soft, sweet sound. Ascending to the roof, you walk up a long, narrow stairs in solid walls. But one can go at a time. The same is true in going to the gallery of the church. It is marvelous that so long ago, and in such a place, such architecture, ornaments, painting, and sculpture were so well executed. You are admitted by two of the Papago signors, who have it in charge. The admittance fee is 50 cents for each person.—Denver Tribune.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 1883.

REVISE OUR CONSTITUTION!

Now that the elections are over, the Globe is agitating for a revision of the British North American Act, that is for an alteration of our constitution. They think now that the law is altogether wrong in its allowance of the veto power. Of course they could see no objection to the right of veto when Mr. Blake and his friends were exercising it at the rate of four measures a year, but for Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues to disallow acts at the rate of one every year and a half, is of course unendurable.

This change of base is another proof of the utter hypocrisy of our opponents. During the recent contest it was such a gross breach of the constitution for Sir John to disallow an Ontario Act that the electors should arise in their might and by increasing Mr. Mowat's majority show their condemnation of the outrage. Now that the constituencies have disregarded this advice and Mr. Mowat has only escaped an immediate dismissal by the skin of his teeth, we are told, not that the veto was unconstitutional, but that the constitution should be altered so as to prevent any such occurrence in the future.

With their usual want of patriotism, our opponents now tell us that the United States has a great advantage over Canada, because its States possess absolute sovereignty over their local affairs. This is a wicked and gratuitous falsehood, for the United States constitution expressly prohibits such legislation as the River and Streams Bill, and that on two different grounds, namely that the decisions of the courts may not be overridden by the legislatures, and that private property cannot be expropriated without full compensation. The Supreme Court of the United States would make a speedy end of such an iniquitous act by pronouncing it unconstitutional and invalid.

Our constitutional charter, the British North Aamerican Act, may not be perfect, for it is the work of fallible men, but we are sure that the people ofOntario do not wish to change it in the direction of legalising confiscation.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

On Thursday, March 1st, the time for receiving petitions for private bills was extended to Friday, March 9th, after some discussion, during which it was stated that out of 87 bills of which notice had been given, only 29 had been passed by the Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Casgrain's Bill for the prevention of frauds in relation to public contracts was read a second time.

Mr. Royal moved for papers in relation to duties on lumber imported into Manitoba and the North-West Territories, and after some debate upon the subject the motion was carried.

The subjects of steam communication with Germany and the naturalization of Germans engaged the attention of the House, the Government expressing its willingness to aid the former and the debate on the latter being adjourned.

THE UNIVERSAL THEME.

THE Ottawa Correspondent of the independent Montreal Star writing on March 1st says:—

"The result of the Ontario elections was the subject of universal conversation throughout Parliament House yesterday. The Conservatives were jubilant; those of them who had been engaged in the fight and had returned to resume their parliamentary duties, showed by their wearied looks the effects of a hard battle, but wore smiles of satisfaction at the extent of their victories. The Liberals are generally crestfallen. They had settled down last night to the belief that the Hon. Mr. Mowat's majority had been reduced to ten. Hon. Mr. Blake said he was not disappointed at the result; in fact, was never disappointed in Ontario. He thought that Mr. Mowat had too large a majority before. It was impossible, he said, under the present election law, to get a true representation of the relative strength of the two political parties in the country; consequently, their numbers in the Local and in the Dominion House would fluctuate."

New Spring Prints, large and small patterns, good variety at Turnbull's.

An Unwilling Bride.

There was a marriage in the Richmond street Synagogue yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being one Isper and a Miss Brunstein, two Russian Jews who fled from Kieff during the late prosecutions against their countrymen. Elaborate preparations had been made for the wedding for some time past, and the guests were very much surprised on reaching the holy place that the bride had taken a sudden aversion to the union. She would not give any apparent tangible reason for the hitch—or at least for her willingness to be non-hitched. After a couple of hours of expostulation from her friends she changed her mind, and Rabbi Gluck tied the matrimonial knot according to the Jewish custom.—Toronto World.

THE KNIFE.

A Man Stabbed and in a Very Dangerous Condition.

An account of a terrible stabbing affray reached the city yesterday morning. A gentleman who was present at the time states that after the ballots were counted at Verona a crowd of excited men entered Abraham's hotel, where politics were freely discussed by the supporters of both parties. A young man named H. Kinlon was very abusive, and directed his language towards John McCullough, who is a warm supporter of Mr. Denison. The result was that a few blows were struck, when Kinlon retreated, having received more than he bargained for. It was not gone long before he returned with his brother Michael, who is older and, stronger than Henry. He came to get revenge for his brother's defeat. McCullough was in the bar talking to friends when Michael Kinlon entered. There was great excitement at the time, as it was known that Kinlon was a desperate man. When he saw McCullough he rushed at him viciously, and a struggle began. He was backed up by several friends; in fact a large number participated in the fight. After the struggle was going on a few seconds, the cry was raised that Kinlon was using a knife, and sure enough when those present looked at his hands it was observed that he grasped a huge jack-knife in his right one, and with it he was cutting and slashing at his opponent, who never cried out during the tussle, notwithstanding he felt himself being cut on different parts of the body. Kinlon's friends kept back any friends of McCullough who attempted a rescue, and, it is said, that one Craig gave the wounded man a terrible kick in the stomach which had the effect of laying him out on the floor. When he fell Kinnlon turned round and fled, but before he took two steps he received a blow on the head from a whip stock that knocked him down. He quickly got up, however, and left the hotel, followed by a gang of his admirers. Henry Kinlon, it is said, also participated in the fight. McCullough arose from the floor and staggered to the door, saying that he was stabbed. On the floor where he fell, there was a pool of blood and when that was seen the crowd began to realize the mischief that had been done. McCullough walked outside and had proceeded but a few yards when he dropped exhausted upon the ground, and the blood fairly poured from his wounds. The bar room was literally besmeared with blood, and the surroundings indicated that a terrible piece of butchery had been perpetrated. The wounded man was picked up and taken into the hotel again and Dr. Claxton sent for, who dressed the wounds. Dr. Henderson was also summoned from the city, and he lost no time in repairing to the scene of the tragedy. At the time of writing he had not returned, therefore it is impossible to state the exact nature of the wounds. Our informant states McCullough received a deep cut in the groin that severed a large artery, a stab in the lung, and a number of cuts on the breast and back. He is in a most dangerous condition, and his recovery would be a miracle.—Kingston News.

LINDSAY.

DOUBLE RUNAWAY.—The Post says that a double runaway occurred on Saturday of last week. A mare belonging to Mr. Howe, tinsmith, which had been left standing at Sheriff Kempt's gate getting impatient started for the shop at a good round gait. On his way down he neared a mare belonging to Mr. McLennan and driven by his two little sons, Donald and Kenneth. Their steed not liking the idea of being passed mended there pace and a hot race ensued. The little fellow Donald did all in his power to hold back his steed, but finding he could not turn to one side to allow the other horse to pass, but turning too quickly the sleigh upset, throwing the little fellows out. The mare dashed down street in pursuit of the other horse which had passed her, the runners of the upturned sleigh striking her hocks as she ran. Mr. Howe's horse stopped at the shop. Mr. McLennan's horse was about to follow suit, when some one rushed out to stop her. She then wheeled and ran across the road and on to the sidewalk in front of Kennedy's store, where she was stopped. Nothing was smashed by either runaways.

LINDSAY TROTTING RACES.—The races of the Lindsay trotting association came off over the track in the south ward on Wednesday and Thursday of last week and were well attended by sporting men of this vicinity as well as numbers for a distance. Beaverton was well represented on the track, the trotters owned by Mr. F. McRae and Mr. Mosgrove carrying off two first prizes. Lindsay men were successful, and crack animals owned by Mr. C. Bartlett and Mr. M. O'Halleran took first money in the "green" and "named" races. The races were trotted over a half-mile track mile heats; best three in five to win. Below will be found the result in each race. Green race—purse, $45 enterance fee, $4.50—Maud Bartlett, 1st; Nellie Gray, 2nd; Gain's gray mare, 3rd; Livery Maid, 4th. Named race—purse, $50—enterance fee, $5—Maggie May, 1st; Highland Boy, 2nd; Limerick Boy, 3rd. Three minute race—purse, $60; enterance fee, $6—Jenny King. 1st; Maggie May, 2nd; Highland Boy, 3rd; Omemee Maid, 4th. Open race—purse, $100; entrance fee, $10—Black Diamond, 1st; Mayflower, 2nd; Jenny King, 3rd.

England's New Field-Gun.

A new and powerful field-gun, designed to supersede the 16-pounder as the weapon of the field artillery, has been proved at the butts in the Government marshes adjoining the Royal Arsenal, Woolwich, this week, and passed a satisfactory trial. The new gun weighs the same as the 16-pounder, namely, 12 hundredweight, but is a breech-loader, and like all the modern guns has an elongated chase or barrel. The construction is in all respects identical with the most recent designs of the royal gun factories. The metal is steel in concentric coils. The several advances made in the art of gunnery since the 16-pounder was produced by the experimental committee in 1870 have enabled Col. Maitland Superintendent of the royal gun factories, to bring out this new gun of the same weight to fire a projectile 6 pounds heavier, and it will consequently be known in the service as the 22 pounder. The 16-pounder fires only 3 pounds of powder behind the shot, but the 22-pounder can with safety take 7½ pounds, and with this charge it has this week registered the remarkable velocity of 1,775 feet per second, which is 420 feet higher than the best performance of the gun which it is to supersede. Such a velocity implies a very extensive range, and the gun will probably do effective work with shrapnel shell at a distance of three miles. A number of the new guns are to be at once manufactured at Woolwich.—London Times.

Mayor Beaudry Re-elected.

Hon J. L. Beaudry was on Thursday elected mayor of Montreal by about 400 majority. Mr. Balmer was his opponent.

A PHYSICIAN, a graduate of McGill Medica College, Montreal, speaking of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, said, I know of no better Medical Compound for Dyspepsia, Billiousness and Constipation. They are unequalled as a Blood Purifier; as a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. Sold by all Druggists in large bottles at 50 cents.

GRAVEYARD GHOULS.

A New Invention Spoils Their Occupation—Burglar Proof Grave Vaults.

"Allow me to show you something, sir," remarked a man who entered The Mail office yesterday afternoon with a leather case tucked up under one arm. Long practice had made him a expert, and before the sporting editor could say "can't afford it," it was open.

"Here is"——

"No, thank you; I really have more books now than I can read. But there is a man in the next room who is very fond of all sorts of literature, and I daresay he will be glad to subscribe—is it in numbers?"

"No, no; allow me to"——

"Not all necessary; you will find him in the next room, I assure you."

"But my dear S——"

"Yes, he's very fond of books, and if I wasn't so busy I would introduce you."

"I don't want to,"

"Oh, you don't want to. You've been in there before, I suppose and he has sent you to me—did he subscribe?"

"Will you allow me to—"

"Oh, certainly, any time after ten I'm always in and will only be too happy to look at it, but now I'm really so busy."

"What I want is—"

"Yes, yes; drop in any time after next elections and I'll see that you get a good notice. Such a work deserves every support."

"Indeed it does. The ghouls who rob our—"

"I agree with you. The copyright law should be better than they are—"

"Goodness gracious," broke in the now almost heart-broken agent, "its grave robbers I'm talking about."

"Grave robbers!"

"Yes; I've a burglar proof grave vault for which I'm taking orders. Guarantee it proof against the attacks of burglars of all kinds. You know how they stole Stewart's body, and perhaps you'd like to protect your friends against anything of that kind."

"No," said the mild-eyed sporting man. "I'm not afraid of my grave being desecrated, and I've no friends I am afraid of losing in that way—good day.

"Good day, sir," and the burglar-proof gave vault man stole sadly away.

A CURIOUS FIR-TREE.

Switzerland has its old chesnut-trees on the banks of Lake Leman, and the ancient linden of Fribourg, the history of which is said to go back to the time of the royal conflicts with Charles the Bold. M. Louis Pire, President of the Royal Botanical Society of Allias, Canton of Vaud, which he believes to be older than the linden of Fribourg, and considers entitled to be regarded as the oldest and most remarkable tree in the canton, if not in the whole confederation. It is growing near the baths of Allias, at a height of about thirteen hundred feet above the hotel, and forty-five hundred feet above the sea, surrounded by a forest of firs, which it overtops by more than thirty feet. The trunk of this tree is ten metres, or a little more than thirty feet in circumference at the base. At about a yard from the ground it puts out, on the south side, seven offshoots, which have grown into trunks as strong and vigorous as those of the other trees in the forest. Bent and gnarled at the bottom, these side trunks soon straighten themselves up and rise perpendicularly and parallel to the main stem. This feature is not, perhaps, wholly unparalleled, but another most curious fact is that the two largest of the side-trunks are connected with the principal stem by sub-quadrangular braces resembling girders. These beams have probably been formed by an astomosing of branches, which, common enough among angiosperms, is extremely rare among conifers; but it has been impossible to ascertain the manner in which the ingrowing of one branch into the other has been effected. The adaption by which a limb, originally destined to grow free and bear foliage, has been converted into a living stick of timber, is a strange one, and affords a new illustration of the power of nature to fit itself to circumstances. The space between the rough flooring formed by the growing together of the offshoots, at their point of departure, and the girder-limbs, is large enough to admit of building a comfortable hermit's hut within it.—Popular Science.

Gambling for Locomotives.

A report has leaked out in San Antonio, Texas, regarding a game of poker in New York some time ago between several railroad kings, during which one of the gentlemen, having lost all of his pocket money, offered to put up engines as collateral. Fortune still combatted him, and at the close of the game he had lost three of the best engines he owned. They are now running on the winner's road in this state, their numbers being 22, 21 and 26, and are valued at $40,000.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Thousands Say so.

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard. Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers." Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure Kidney and Liver complaints purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills every year. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.

IF you only used Dr. Carson's Bitters you would not be always telling everybody that enquired after your health how dreadful mean you felt; had a terrible headache; appetite, etc. On the contrary, you would return the greeting with a bright smile, a hearty grip, and look like as your would feel—first-rate. They are for sale by all druggitts in large bottles at 50 cents.

THE SIGNS OF THE MOON.

Whatever may have been the method of evolution in the minds of men concerning the influence of the moon and the planets on human life, it is certain that mankind from the remotest ages believed in such influences and acted in accordance with their belief.

The sun's apparent path among the stars is called the ecliptic, and a belt a few degrees broad on each side of the ecliptic is the zodiac—i.e., the belt marked with animals. The stars along this belt from remotest antiquity have been divided into twelve constellations, named chiefly from the species of animals most likely to attract the attention of early men. All almanacs give their names, and the parts of the body which the moon and the planets affect when in that particular constellation: Aries, Taurus, &c., i.e.—The Ram, the Bull, the Goat, the Lion, the Scorpion, the Fishes, &c.

Sirius, the Dog-star, rising with the sun in the early summer, indicated the rising of the Nile—dedicated to the dog-headed god Aries, a constellation; the god "Nu," a man with ram's head and horns—to which god the sheep was sacred. The bull was sacred to another god, and so on through the whole list. It is not necessary here to enquire whether these so called sacred things became such because of man's belief in the influence of the stars, or whether the reverse was the case, or again, whether the two things grew together, as independent but mutually influencing each other. "The Sun of Austerlitz," is a phrase well known, and some may have before seen a statement to the effect that "the star of empire westward takes its way." Of course "the stars in their courses fought against Sisera," and the sun stood still on Gideon, and the moon over the valley of Ajalon, so great is the interest of the upper world in the lower; in fine, all things exist for man. And, so existing, why should they not indicate the destinies of man? Would not this be philosophy? It is astrology.

Astrology—its methods and pretensions will be merely alluded to to-day; yet it goes without saying that the superstitions concerning the moon have had a very intimate connection with the subject. One writer says:—"Seeing that astrology once permeated all science, all religion, and all politics, it is not strange if traces of it crop up when we should least expect them." The Signal Service of the United States has undertaken to collect and put into shape, ("if shape it may be called that shape had none") the common follies concerning the moon, which may be current in various localities.

According to the belief of the faithful in this matter, the moon has a special influence over men, animals and vegetation, due to the sign in which it may be found at any given time. The first sign begins at the vernal equinox—the point in which the sun's apparent path cuts the celestial equator in March—and extends eastward thirty degrees; the second sign then covers a little space.

But the equinoctial point does not stand fast in the heavens; it slides slowly to the west at such a a rate as to carry it over a space of thirty degrees in twenty-two centuries. In consequence of this backward motion of the equinox the sign gradually draws away from the constellation or groups of stars once bearing the same name as the sign. Indeed, the two originally were indentical. The Constellation Taurus now very nearly coincides with the sign Gemini; the Constellation Aries with the sign Taurus, &c. It is more usual but not invariable custom with almanacs to give the constellation in which the moon may happen to be, and call it the sign of the same name. This is incorrect; astrology requires the other way. So far as my observation extends, this discrepancy has not seriously interfered with the influence of the moon. When two almanacs give the one way and the other respectively it is likely that the most devout believer never perceived the difference, and went on his way believing as before, and confirming his belief more and more, not knowing that sometimes he is following one rule and sometimes another. One method shows the dial of the skies a whole sign in advance, so that while the celestial influence should fall on the head, it is made to fall on the neck. To enumerate the things which the moon governs, according to the sign in which it is found, is to enumerate almost the whole round of rural work, as it affects mankind, or animals, or trees or the crop of the fields and the gardens.

It is not thought advisable to enumerate the the things supposed to depend on the signs of the moon. In place of such a rehearsal it may suffice to mention a few things connected with the moon itself rather than with the sign. The word lunatic has a meaning so well understood that definition would be superfluous; yet the word implies the old, very old, belief that men may be rendered insane by the influence of the moon. Sailors will tell you that the light of the full moon falling on one asleep will cause madness, or else the flesh will dwindle away, and the unhappy one might as well die.

Mention has already been made of men's belief that the position of the moon's horns can be used in prognostications of the weather. So, also, the time of day when the moon changes—changes near morn indicating warm weather; changes near midnight, the opposite.

"Get the almanac and see when the moon changes." This injunction is given preparatory to forecasting the weather. It is innocent amusement, and can do no harm. When one says there will be a change on the day of the moon's phase, the day before, or the day after, the guess will naturally hit about half the time in the general theory of probabilities, for those three days lack only a few hours of being half a week, and there is in this latitude a change usually at least once a week. The flip of a copper, with chances of "head or tail," is equally good, as a practical rule, and is equally philosophic.

When the "lesser light" runs far North, the weather will be cold; when far South, then it will be warm. Now the astronomer can tell for a thousand years to come the exact position of the moon or its horns, at any given year, day, hour, or minute, yet he knows nothing at all of the weather, even for a single week ahead, except that there will be "summer and winter, seedtime and harvest."—R. W. M. in Cincinnati Weekly Gazette.

FITS

A Leading London Physician establishes an office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address

Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Another Fraud.

An exchange gives the following as another of the many plans of defrauding the honest farmer of his heard-earned money:—"A farmer receives a circular through the mail stating that a new variety of winter wheat has been discovered, and that seed will be furnished free of charge until a good crop of said wheat is raised, on condition that he send one dollar to pay for packing, etc. The dollar is sent and nothing more is heard of it.'

The Temperature.

The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day:—At 8 a.m., 8° above zero; at noon, 25 above, and at 3 p.m., 25° above.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather to-day is colder and cloudy. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh winds; generally fair weather; stationary or higher temperature.

The Market.

There was quite a large attendance on the market this morning of buyers and sellers. There were changes in the prices of a few articles. Eggs sold at 16 cents per dozen, butter 25 cts. per pound, potatoes 75 cts. a bag, beef $7 to $8, and pork $8.25. Wheat is up a little again. For fall wheat from $1.00 to $1.02 was paid, spring wheat $1.00 to $1.02, oats 46c. to 47c. and peas 75c. Hay $10 to $11 per ton.

The Sun Life.

Mr. A. Waldie, who has represented the Sun Life Insurance Co. in Peterborough, is on the point of removing to his old residence at Kingston, to take charge of the agency of the same company in that city. He will be succeeded in Peterborough by Mr. W. H. Hill, formerly of Bridgenorth, who will no doubt maintain the popularity of this company among us.

The Pulp Mill.

The pulp mill on Dickson's race, in Ashburnham, was sold on Friday at the Sheriff's office. The bidding for the property was made by Mr. John R. Scott, of Napanee, and Mr. Geo. A. Cox, of Peterborough, but it was finally sold to Mr. Scott for an amount which was $575 over all liens on the property. Mr. Scott is the owner of the Napanee Paper Mills, and will, probably, ship the pulp made here to Napanee, and manufacture it into paper at the mills there.

Two Little Immigrants.

Among the immigrants of the steamship Lake Nipegon, which arrived last Thursdy from Liverpool, were William and Louisa Slater, aged 5 and 3 years respectively. Their father and mother came to this country about six months ago, leaving the children in a charitable institution in Liverpool. The father found employment, and saving money enough to pay for the passage of the little ones to this city. They were alone in the steamship during the passage. Their fellow-passengers say that the little ones behaved themselves remarkably well. They were delivered to their parents at Castle Garden yesterday.—N. Y. Times.

How Did He Know?

On Friday morning before his death Mr. Jewell awoke from a sound sleep and inquired what was the matter at the residence of the Hon. William E. Dodge, (his daughter's father-in-law, the famous New York merchant.) Mr. Jewell's family had just received a telegram announcing the sudden and unlooked-for death of Mr. Dodge; but it was not deemed best to let him know that any such thing had happened, and he was therefore told that all was well in Mr. Dodge's family. He said no, that it could not possibly be; something serious had happened; the family were in great trouble, if not actually in affliction; he knew it, in a way which, if not explicable, was, nevertheless, as clear and certain as if he saw it. Insisting upon this, and refusing to accept his family's denials, he at length induced them to telegraph to New York, to see what was the matter. But Mrs. Jewell so worded the telegram as to instruct those who received it to answer that everything was all right. When that answer came they told it to Mr. Jewell, who refused to believe it, and at last asked them to let him see the message himself. This request being grant, and having the ocular proof before his eyes in the shape of an unmistakable Western Union telegraph message, he dubiously remarked: "Well, it does seem to be so; but it is very strange; I know there is something the matter—that something serious has happened in Mr. Dodge's house in New York." And that impression he retained until, so soon afterwards, he, too, ended his earthly life. He survived Mr. Dodge only about 36 hours. His feeling that "something serious had happened" was apparently as clear and strong as it would have been had he personally witnessed the death of his relative.—Hartford Times.

The Massachusetts Fast Day.

Gov. Butler has issued his fast day proclamation, appointing Thursday, April 5. He requests the ministers and people of every religious denomination throughout the State to assemble on that day in their several places of worship "that we may unitedly humble ourselves in the presence of Almighty God and acknowledge, with deep contrition, our manifold sins and transgressions; that we may devoutly deprecate His judgment and implore His merciful forgiveness through the merits of our blessed Lord and Redeemer. And let us ask that He would afford success to our manufactures and prosper all the work of our hands; that He would graciously condescend to direct the Government of the United States, and give them wisdom to discern and firmness to pursue the true interests of the country; that he would preserve us from war and from all connections that lead to dishonor and adversity; that He would dispel the clouds that encompass us about and continue to us the enjoyments of peace, liberty, and religion; that He would influence the Governors of the several States to do everything within their respective spheres to preserve the union, order, tranquility, and independence of the United States; that He would vouchsafe His blessings on our university, our colleges, and seminaries of learning; that He would bless all means used for propagating true religion, and promote the pious purposes of those who endeavor to disseminate a knowledge of the Holy Scriptures; and it is recommended that all unnecessary labor and recreation be suspended on that day; and I do specially exhort the ministers of the Gospel on that day to feed their flocks with the Divine word, and not to discourse upon political and other secular topics which may divert the serious thoughts of the people from humble worship of the Father.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly affected with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Editor of the Review.

On Thursday evening, the 24th ultimo, some person or persons unknown, at dusk, came to the parsonage at Keene, and dropped two large parcels, and hastened away. On each of these parcels was a letter containing these words: "Presented to Mr. Andrews by the congregations of Keene and Westwood." The one contained a beautiful pulpit gown, and the other a valuable fur winter coat; the one an ornament to hide a seedy coat, and the other a warm covering to shut out jack frost this cold weather. The recipient of these costly presents begs, through your paper, to thank the congregations of Keene and Westwood for their generous gift, and he does this more especially as this has been but one of a series of costly presents since he became their minister. He thanks them for the unostentatious manner in which their present was conferred. He thanks all the contributors to this gift, and more especially the ladies, whom he has reason to suspect of being the originators of it. He asks not a place for this in your paper as a piece of newspaper puffing, as he feels sure these congregations like no such thing, he asks a public record of the generous deed that others may be led to imitate it. Such gifts have a happy influence both on the giver and also on those that receive. There flows from such the mutual joy of giving and receiving. May He that does not allow a cup of cold water to be given a disciple in His name to lose its reward, reward the congregations of Keene and Westwood for their valuable benefaction.

Yours sincerely,
FRANCIS ANDREWS.

THE Toronto World, a Reform journal, says: "On paper Mr. Mowat has a majority of ten, and when the house meets he may have a round dozen as the balance in his favor. But from this will have to be taken one for the Speaker, which will leave the premier with only eleven to the good on a strict party division. It is sufficient to work with but not to fool with. In other words, Mr. Mowat, Mr. Fraser, and their friends will not be able to trifle with the House, and will have to move slowly, cautiously and with wisdom."

The Tricolour.

The origin of the French tricoloured flag is set forth in the following explanation:—"The immediate occasion for adopting the blue, white and red, constituting the French tricolour, is said to have been that they were the colours worn by the servants of the Duke of Orleans, and they were first assumed by the people when the Minister Necker was dismissed in 1799." But these colours in combination appear to have been formed by uniting the three colours successively used in the French standards at different periods, viz., the blue of the banner of St. Martin, the red of the Oriflamme, and the white of the white cross supposed to have been assumed by Philip of Valois. The three colours were given by Henry IV. to the Dutch on their desiring him to confer on them the national colours of his country, and they have been since borne successively by the Dutch Republic and the kingdom of the Netherlands. The domestic livery of Louis XIV. was tricoloured, as were also the liveries of the Bourbon kings of Spain. At the revolution they were borne in the same order as the Dutch but in a different position, viz., parallel to the flag-staff, whereas in the Dutch flag they are at right angles with it.

ONE OF OUR BEST CITIZENS would say to the public that he has tried Hall's Catarrh Cure, and that it is all that is claimed for it. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

FATAL FIRE.

ALBANY, March 3.—At two o'clock this morning the watchman at the Dunlop elevator discovered a fire in the sixth storey. When it was extinguished there the flames had broken out fiercely on the fourth floor. Several men were caught on the sixth floor; Garry Benson, the watchman, and Lewis Miller, a clerk of the fire department, rushed down stairs through the flames and were badly burned. The firemen, Samuel Atkens, and John Meyers and James Gilligan, labourers, were forced to come down the iron hoisting chain outside the building, a distance of nearly 100 feet. About 40 feet from the ground the chain was covered with ice, and the men slid to the ground with great velocity, being more or less severely injured. A strong north wind was blowing and the whole department was called out, but the fire spread rapidly through the mill and elevator, enveloping the whole structure. About 4 o'clock the upper walls fell outward, a part falling through Bridge & Davis' provision store, adjoining on Broadway, and burying several persons under the ruins. A fireman, William Carlin, and Michael Sheenan and Michael McEwan, employees of Bridge & Davis, were killed. James Cameron, book-keeper for the same firm, was injured internally, probably fatally; James Kelly had both his legs crushed, and fireman Goldwaithes his back injured. The entire mill and elevator were destroyed.

A NEW YORK FIRE TRAP.

NEW YORK, March 3.—A fire occurred to-day in the building on Vandewater street occupied by Fish & Swan, dealers in lubricating oils, and the New York Popular Publishing Company; loss heavy. The flames spread with great rapidity. On the two upper floors thirty girls were employed, who became panic-stricken. Some ran to the roof and climbed down to the buildings adjoining; others clambered down the fire escapes; others fainted and had to be carried out. The loss by the fire is $50,000. Two men were badly burned.

A STEAMBOAT HORROR.

NEW ORLEANS, March 4.—The steamboat Yazoo, for Bayou, Macon and Tensas, struck a log or snag twenty-five miles above the city last night, filled rapidly and sank. The captain, several of the crew, and two female passengers were picked up from floating debris by the steamer St. John. The following were lost:—Lee Casper, clerk; Christ Kerns, first mate; John Franz, carpenter; Dan Lightner, stewart; the coloured chambermaid, eight coloured roustabouts, Mrs. Lewis, of Chicago; a child of the pilot, Cooley, and a coloured woman unknown. The boat was heavily loaded with freight, value unknown. The boat's value was $75,000.

India Rubber Discovered.

Two species of India rubber yielding trees have recently been discovered in British Guiana of a character which insures their future profit to the colony. One is a near ally of the para rubber tree, and is known to the aborigines of the country by the name of Hatie, its botanical name being Hevea spruceana. It is about sixty feet high, with a trunk diameter of twenty inches, and is found on the alluvial oft-flooded land of the creeks and banks of the lower parts of the rivers, where in places it is abundant. The second is not scientifically known yet, as flowering specimens of it have not been obtained. It is one of the largest trees of a forest flora peculiarly rich in large types. The trunk is four or five feet in diameter, and runs up straight sixty or seventy feet unbranched, above which the head extends many feet more. On its discovery recently a few branchlets could only be obtained by shooting them off with large shot. The bark is thick and wonderfully rich in milk of excellent quality, and the elasticity and tenacity of the rubber seem to be unsurpassed. It is scattered in individual trees over a wide area of colony. The produce of these trees has not been put in the market yet, collectors apparently being unacquainted with them. Samples, however, have been sent to England to be valued. The discovery of these was made by Mr. G. S. Jenman, Government botanist, during an exploration which he lately made in British Guiana.—London Daily News.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. DUBLIN, March 5.—The prevailing impression among the detectives who have been working up the assassination conspiracy is that "Number One" is a myth. The best any-one says of it is that they expect that it may not turn out as bad as it looks. Abram S. Hewitt, who came from a sick bed in New York to vote against the bill, says the result of the new Tariff will be the closing of all wire rod and jute mills in this country for want of cheaper raw materials, which the new Tariff does little or nothing to supply. Failures in every branch of business have already begun and will proceed to accelerate rapidly until the weaker concerns will be driven to the wall.

FORTS TO BE ERECTED.

BUCHAREST, March 5.—A proposal has been introduced into the Chamber of Deputies by 32 members for expenditure of fifteen million lei for the erection of forts made necessary by the political situation. Urgency was voted for the measure.

A Mothers Touch.

In one of the fierce engagements near Mechanicsville a young lieutenant of a Rhode Island battery had his right foot so shattered by a fragment of a shell that, on reaching Washington after one of those horrible ambulance rides and a journey of a week's duration, he was obliged to undergo amputation of the leg. He telegraphed home, hundreds of miles away, that all was going on well, and with a soldier's fortitude composed himself to bear his sufferings alone. Unknown to him, however, his mother, who had read the report of his wound was hastening to see him. She reached Washington at midnight, and the nurses would have kept her from seeing her son until morning. One sat by his side fanning him as he slept, her hand on his feeble fluctuating pulse. But what woman's heart could resist the pleading of a mother then? In the darkness she was finally allowed to glide in and take a place at his side. She touched the pulse as the nurse had done. Not a word had been spoken, but the sleeping boy opened his eyes and said: "That feels like my mothers hand. Who is this beside me? It is my mother! Turn up the gas and let me see my mother!" The two dear faces met in one long, joyful, sobbing embrace. The gallant fellow, just 21, had his leg amputated on the last day of his three years' service, underwent operation after operation, and at last, when death drew nigh, resigned himself in peace, saying: "I have faced death too often to fear it now."

MONDAY, MARCH 5, 1883.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

THE first official report, which is now before us, of the proceedings of the Board of Civil Service Examiners, shows that the eight men were selected for this important duty, and that they have most successfully started this new system.

Their first duty was to draw up rules for their own guidance, and regulations for conducting the examinations, and it must be admitted that they have done this in a very efficient manner. In future the examinations are to be held on the second Tuesdays of June and December, but at the instance of the Government, the date of the first examination were advanced to November 7th, so as to hasten the adoption of the new system. Preliminary, qualifying and "honor" examinations was, consequently, held at that date simultaneously at Toronto, Ottawa, Kingston, London, Quebec, Montreal, Halifax, St. John, N. B., Charlottetown, P.E.I., Winnipeg, and Victoria, B. C., under the direction of the members of the Board, or of sub-examiners carefully selected by them. There were 302 applicants, of whom 180 passed the preliminary and 167 the qualifying examination, among them 96 being classed as "honor" men, as they were successful in the additional optional subjects which they had taken up. Lists are given of these successful candidates, who, it appears, range over the whole Dominion. This first set of examination papers is printed in full in the report, and the questions seem well chosen for the purpose.

There is one important lesson that the instructors of our youth may learn from the results of these examinations. Those who were rejected were generally unsuccessful in consequence of their deficiency in arithmetic. So, too, among the "honor" candidates, who almost invariably selected "book-keeping," either alone or together with other subjects, the examiners report that "while most of them understood the theory of accounts fairly well, comparatively few were possessed of the practical knowledge which would justify their being considered competent book-keepers." Now, this is not as it should be. These two branches of education are, of all others, the most important for the great mass of our scholars, and the general deficiency in them shows that our educational system is not sufficiently practical. Steps should be taken to remedy this defect without delay.

This report naturally suggests the striking difference between our rulers at Ottawa and Toronto in regard to their dealings with Civil Service appointments. We have on the one hand Sir John A. Macdonald and his colleagues introducing and carrying out a system of examinations which must greatly limit their previously almost unrestricted power of appointing officials, and which is a very important step, that must naturally be followed by others, towards the freeing of such appointments from political influences. On the other hand we have Mr. Mowat and his colleagues, grasping at every possible office, usurping the power of appointment from our municipalities and local authorities, and using most unscrupulously the patronage thus acquired for the purpose of rewarding political services in the past or securing them in the future, but above all for the purpose of maintaining themselves in office with the aid of this army of official electioneering agents.

In this instance as in so many others it is the Conservatives who have proved themselves to be the true Reformers, the really liberal statesmen of Canada, while Mr. Mowat and his self-styled "Reformers," prefer bureaucratic tyranny and political corruption.

THE Belleville Ontario, which ought to know, shows Mr. Sills to be the representative, not of West Hastings, but of the Grand Trunk Railway, some of whose officials according to our contemporary reduced the conservative majority in one ward of Belleville from 70 to 21, thus giving Mr. Sills a majority of 23 instead of Mr. Rose, the Conservative candidate, having a majority of 26, as would otherwise have been the case.

FAIR, BUT FALSE.

A Beautiful "Charity" Collector in the Cells in Toronto.

For some time past a well-dressed, good-looking young lady has been engaged in the laudable occupation of soliciting charity for destitute families in this city. Many and many a time has a tear trickled down her cheek as she told a woeful tale to some good lady. The sorrow and suffering of a poor immigrant family; or perhaps it would be a struggling widow who was trying to support a large family of small children. She was a most successful solicitor, and her good looks, good address, and winning ways have gained her admittance to some of the best houses in the city. At one time she would use the name of some prominent clergyman, and at another that of one or other of the many charitable institutions. For a long time she played a most successful game, and many a dollar has been freely given to this fair hypocrite, which, once in her pocket, never left it.

On Tuesday last an item appeared in the local columns of the Mail referring to the work of a female impostor in the north-eastern part of the city. She was always well-dressed, and stemed by the different suits she wore to have an extensive wardrobe. It may be gratifying to those who have been duped by her to know that she is now in the hands of the police, having been arrested on Friday by Detective Burrows and Constable McRae. The eastern part of the city had evidently become too hot for her, and she transferred her operations to the west, where for the past two or three days she has been engaged in collecting for a destitute "immigrant family." She secured board with a most respectable family on Markham street, and told such a plausible story that they began to congratulate themselves on having such a good Christian lady as a boarder. However, the account given in the Mail of this woman and her ways set the police on her track, and shortly after nine o'clock last night she was visited at her boarding house by the officers mentioned. She attempted to play the part of an "injured innocent," and said they were making a mistake. The detective admitted that possibly he was, but induced her to accompany him to the Western police station. When arrested she had no less than five watches in her possession, three of them being gold and two silver. She had also three valuable gold chains, and jewellery to the value of nearly seven hundred dollars. She gave her name to the police as Kate Buchanan, and says she is twenty-four years of age. Just how long she has been carrying on this business is not known, but some interesting developments are expected from her arrest.—Mail.

A DEADLY DRUG.

Death of a Woman from an Overdose of Morphine.

Between five and six o'clock on Thursday evening Mrs. McGowan, of 40 Esther street, was found dead in a chair beside the stove in her dining room. It appears that a grocer's boy called at the house, but as he received no answer to repeated raps on the front door passed round to the back. On looking through the dining-room window he saw Mrs. McGowan, as he supposed, sitting asleep beside the stove. The boy, thinking something was wrong, informed a neighbour, at whose suggestion he raised the window and entered. The deceased was found sitting as though asleep, and it was not until the boy shook her that he discovered she was dead. An hour or so before some of the neighbours had seen her out in the yard. The woman's husband, who was at work at the time, was summoned, and he at once came to the conclusion that she had been poisoned. It appears that she was addicted to the use of morphine. Months ago the husband applied to Dr. Fisher to see if he could do anything for her, and by mixing the morphine with another drug he succeeded in gradually reducing the amount she was taking without his patient knowing it. In an unguarded moment the husband told his wife of what was being done to wean her from the deadly drug. She was mortified to think that a trick had been played on her, even for her benefit, and fell back into her old ways. Again the husband applied to the doctor to make a second attempt to cure her, and this time he was almost on the point of success. Her regular daily allowance had been reduced to an almost homœopathic dose, and Dr. Fisher expected in the course of a few weeks to have her completely broken off the habit. Unfortunately the doctor was called away from home on Tuesday last, but he left minute directions with his clerk, whose name is Alexander, regarding Mrs. McGowan. On Thursday a boy came with an order which he thought was signed by a Miss McConnell, for fifty cents' worth of morphine. The clerk at first refused to supply it, but on the lad coming back a second time, saying the lady for whom it was intended was in the habit of getting it, he filled the order, giving the boy three scruples for his half-dollar.

The coroner was notified of the death, but did not consider an inquest necessary. Last night her father, who is a prominent merchant in Buffalo, arrived here, and will return with the body to that city, where it will be interred. —Mail.

The Unseasonable Season.

The telegraph, by bridging space and annihilating time, enables data to be gathered such as warrant, without the possession of scientific knowledge, the assertion that, the world over, the season is most unseasonable. In Europe floods have been premature in their arrival and have lingered late or begun too early. The winter has been almost as different from the average season is by all accounts different from the old-fashioned winter. On this continent cold and snow are as phenomenally severe as wind and water across the Atlantic. The cold spell of record, and its area has been far greater than any hitherto remarkable cold wave. In Manitoba we have had continued cold for a longer period than can be recollected by people far advanced in years, who were born in the early days of settlement here. There have been colder days than any registered this winter, but nothing to approach the continued severity of the month of January. A peculiarity of the winter is the light snow-fall, there having been no interruption beyond a few hours from this cause to railway traffic in the North-West this winter. If their thermometers be reliable the States of Minnesota and Dakota have had not only cold as severe as we have had in Manitoba, but a fall of snow almost unprecedented. While railways have been open in the Canadian North-West, in Minnesota the railways have all been more or less blocked, and the same holds true to Dakota. In Iowa the trunk lines east and west have been blocked for two and three days at a time, while on some lines west of the Mississippi, running north and south, there has been no mail for nine days. Even Chicago, for forty-eight hours, maintained connection with New York only by one telegraph wire. In Ontario the cold has registered 30° below; at Montreal 25° below; Quebec, 30° below, and in the New England States 35° has been registered. With such incontrovertible facts as these before us, and comparing their experience with ours we must come to conclusion that cold and all as the season has been, the people of Manitoba have reason to be thankful for having, under all circumstances, the decidedly preferable share of the unseasonable season.—The Commercial, Winnipeg.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Swinburne Mistaken for an Idiot.

Wilde told an interesting story of Swinburne. He is a famous swimmer and delights in the water as Byron did. One morning he went bathing at the Isle of Man, where he stopped at the time, and swam directly to the east, the glorious sun in his face. After swimming an hour he suddenly came to his senses and found himself very tired and nearly out of sight of the island. He turned about and was almost in despair of reaching land, when a fishing smack was rounded to and he was hauled aboard, breathing hard. He jumped up on the prow, swung his arm to keep the blood in circulation, and broke out into a declamatory recitation of the "Ajax" of Sophocles in the original Greek. As the fishers turned landward with their naked passenger he hurled the tragedy at them with all his force of elocution and gesticulation. They stared at him and were awestruck. When they had gained the pier the master of the boat recovered voice, shouting to those on shore:—"Here we come again, and we've fetched a 'jibberin' idjit for you!"

These are Solid Facts.

HOME.

Oh! what is home? that sweet companionship
Of life the better part;
The happy smile of welcome on the lip
Upspringing from the heart.

It is the eager clasp of kindly hands,
The long-remembered tone,
The ready sympathy which understands
All feeling by its own.

The rosy cheek of little children pressed
To ours the loving glow;
The presence of our dearest, and our best,
No matter where we be,

And, failing this, a prince may homeless live,
Though palace walls are nigh;
And, having it, a desert shore may give
The joy wealth cannot buy.

Far reaching as the earth's remotest span,
[illegible]
One thought is common to the heart of man—
It is the thought of home.

That little word his human fate shall bind
With destinies above,
For there the home of his immortal mind
Is in God's wider love.

TREES IN STREETS FROM A SANITARY POINT OF VIEW.

An interesting controversy on the utility of trees in streets and open spaces in cities has been lately going on in the Geneva journals. It arose out of a discussion in the International Hygienic Congress, which was held in Geneva in August, and Dr. [illegible], a member of the Congress, has since contended, in the Journal de Genève, that trees in streets do more harm than good; that they impede the circulation of air; and that as for the shade they afford, people who do not like sunshine have only to keep on the shady side of the street. Instead of planting more trees in towns, as some propose, he would rather, in the interests of hygiene, remove all existing trees. In reply to Professor Goret, of the University, points out that the functions of trees in streets are not limited to acting as screens for sun-shunning wayfarers; they temper the heat, and serve as a protection against dust. The evaporation from their leaves tends to keep the surrounding air cool and moist. One of the best means of refreshing the air of a sick chamber is to place in it plants and branches, and sprinkle them with water. A like effect is produced by trees. Sunlight is necessary to health; but trees, if not to thickly planted, do not intercept sunlight; the perpetual vibration of their leaves and swaying of their branches admit the light every instant, and in sufficient measure, and serve, moreover, to protect the eyes from the noon-day glare. So far from trees impeding the circulation of air, they help to purify the air; the evaporation from their leaves determines a current from above, and the fresh air thus brought down helps to drive away the heated and dust-impregnated gases of the streets. Another useful property of foliage is that, while in hot, dry weather it moistens the surrounding atmosphere, thereby rendering it fitter to breathe, this effect, which is due to evaporation, ceases in wet weather. Trees, moreover, act as purifying agents by absorbing carbonic acid and giving out oxygen. But the action of trees on the air is far less important than their action on the soil. Their roots draw up stagnant waters, and absorb the organic matters contained in the filth from which the streets of a town are never free, and which, after infiltrating the ground, are a frequent cause of fevers and infection. Trees, in fact, have the same on the sub-soil of towns as drains have on the contents of their sewers,—they act as disinfectants. Taking these facts into consideration, Professor Goret ventures to differ from the conclusions of the Hygienic Congress, strongly recommends the planting of trees in streets and squares. But they must be planted with judgment. They should be placed at proper distances apart, and the branches should not be allowed to come in contact with the buildings near which they grow. The sorts best adapted for street planting are those which grow to a considerable height and spread out their branches. The fashion that prevails in some continental cities of cutting trees down to a uniform size is highly objectionable. The branches of trees so treated become so compacted together as to be impervious to light, and the shade they give, although deep, is too circumscribed to be of much use.—Boston Journal of Chemistry.

Hydropathic Animals.

A Frenchman, who has gone to the ant and other animals, considered their ways, and is wise, says that warrior ants have regularly organized ambulances, and no known animal is guilty of tolerating the abominations of a cesspool. Nearly all mammals feed their young more rationally than fashionable mothers, and understand hygiene better than the medical faculty. "A dog on being stung in the muzzle by a viper was observed to plunge its head repeatedly for several days into running water. This animal eventually recovered. A sporting dog was run over by a carriage. During three weeks in winter it remained lying in a brook, where its food was taken to it; the animal recovered. A terrier dog hurt its right eye; it remained lying under a counter, avoiding light and heat, although habitually it kept close to the fire. It adopted a general treatment, rest and abstinence from food. Another case is that of a cat which had the singular fortitude to remain for forty-eight hours under a jet of cold water."

Life in India.

One of the conditions of life in India is amusingly illustrated by the following resolution, recently passed by the Municipal Commissioners of Bombay:—"Resolved, that as the lace monkeys in the town have become exceedingly troublesome, by attacking women and children carrying eatables, and overturning the tiles of the roofs of houses in the town, these animals be caught and sent out into the jungles, and that arrangements be made that monkeys may not receive any injury while being seized. The Commissioners vote the sum of $100 for meeting the expenditure which may be incurred in carrying out this resolution."

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz.: a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, MARCH 5, 1883.

Council Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Town Council will be held this evening in the Council Chamber at 7.30 o'clock.

Board of Education.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held at 7.45 o'clock on Tuesday evening at the Collegiate Institute building.

Journalistic.

The Meaford Mirror has entered upon its second year, and is now thoroughly well established as it deserves to be, for it is an excellent newspaper and a consistent supporter of the Conservative cause.

A Change of Day.

In future the Peterborough Times will be issued on Wednesdays, instead of on Saturdays, in order to accommodate those living in the north. In consequence of this change there will be no issue of that paper this week.

A Fall on the Sidewalk.

On Saturday evening a young lady fell on the icy sidewalk at the corner of George and Brock streets, and although no serious injury was sustained, the bruises caused by the fall pained severely. This corner, at the Bank of Commerce, has been in a dangerous state for some days, and precautions should be taken, or some one may have to answer for a broken limb.

The Opera House.

An apparatus has been put in the Opera House which will greatly facilitate the management of the lights during a performance. Different pipes convey the gas to the headlights, footlights, &c., and are controlled by valves, so that any of them can be turned at pleasure. But the chief value of the new arrangement is that the whole hall can be darkened instantaneously without there being any danger of entirely extinguishing the lights. This is managed by a large valve which shuts of the main supply of gas, but a small tube, on which this valve does not operate, still supplies enough gas to keep the light burning. A similar apparatus, together with reflectors for the body of the hall, &c., were taken to Lindsay this morning by Mr. E. C. Hill, for the Opera House in that town.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Man Jumps into the Otonabee, but is Rescued.

On Saturday evening, Benjamin Reynolds attempted to rid himself of this life and all the cares and evils that attend it by drowning himself in the Otonabee river, but he was seen and rescued from the water in time to save his life. According to the statement of the men who rescued him, Reynolds went down to the river near Calcutt's brewery in Ashburnham, at about a quarter to six o'clock. Wm. Gaskins and Sidney Blade, who had been cutting ice in the river and were going home from their work, saw him go down, and suspecting what his intentions were, they secreted themselves and watched him. He walked on the river to a hole from which the ice had been taken, and having looked cautiously around him to see that his actions were not observed, and placed his cap tightly on his head, he jumped into the water and sank from view. The two men who had been watching him immediately ran to the spot, and when they reached it Reynolds had risen to the top of the water, but his head was still under it. They grasped him by the shoulders and hauled him out, and then Gaskins ran for assistance. Reynolds was taken to Young's Hotel, and although cold and numb, he soon rallied. He was taken in charge by Constable Craig and lodged in the County gaol.

This afternoon Reynolds was brought before Mr. Mills, J. P., and Mr. Bennett, J. P., in in Ashburnham, on a charge of vagrancy. After hearing the evidence he was committed to gaol for thirty days.

Reynolds lost his left arm close to the shoulder by an accident in a mill years ago, and his action on Saturday evening is attributed to despondency on account of not being able to procure work, which may have led to temporary insanity. Although he appeared somewhat dull in court, his mind appeared to be clear enough to understand his position and the terrible act which he had contemplated.

The Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. H. Best, the new pastor of the Baptist Church, occupied the pulpit in that Church on Sunday. At the morning service, at which he delivered his first sermon after entering upon his new pastorate, he chose for his text the following words :—"God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believed in Him should not perish." His discourse was a practical one, and he announced that his intention was to always preach the plain truths of the Gospel. He is a good speaker, and his first discourses created such a favorable impression that there is no doubt as to the wisdom of the congregation in choosing him for their pastor.

Dramatic.

The members of the Battery and others, who compose the local dramatic company which produced the "French Spy" here, started this morning on a tour to neighboring towns. They will present the drama to-night in Cobourg, in Port Hope on Tuesday night and in Lindsay on Wednesday night. They are accompanied by the band, and the company numbers over thirty persons. On their return on Thursday they will parade through the streets here, and will reproduce the play in Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday evening, together with a new farce. They were well received on the occasion of the first representation of the drama, and will doubtless have a good house on this occasion.

The Methodist Church.

The Rev. A. Burns, D. D., LL. D., Principal of the Ladies' College in Hamilton, preached in the Charlotte Street Church on Sunday morning, and in the George Street Church in the evening, on behalf of the Educational Society. Large congregations were present on both occasions. At the evening service his discourse was based on I. Thess. v., 21—"Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good." The sermon was a masterly exposition of arguments by which the divinity of the Christian religion is proven. He begun by stating that there was no wrong in asking questions or in honest doubt, and then proceeded to remove all reasons for doubting. The discourse which took over an hour in the delivery, was attentively listened to, and the arguments were so plainly presented and so well illustrated that they could be easily understood and appreciated by all.

Personal.

The Omemee Herald contains the following paragraph :—

> "Mr. Thos. McNaughton, the leading salesman in Mr. Kelly's store, Peterborough, is said to be the best window dresser in that town. That's right, Thomas; go up head."

The Queen's College Journal, Kingston, has the following paragraph. Mr. R. Maxwell Dennistoun, who in thus mentioned, is the son of Mr. J. F. Dennistoun, Q. C., of Peterborough :—

> "The pen is mightier than the sword. The final ties in competition for the Carruthers' gold medal were played off this week. The play had narrowed down to a triangular contest, the participants being Major Short, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Dennistoun, '86, of the Journal staff. The two first were drawn against each other, and their game was somewhat remarkable. The score stood 13 to 5 in favor of Stewart, and that gentleman was "lying shot." Not content with this he threw another stone for 14. This shot knocked all his stones out of count, leaving 3 or 4 of the Major's in the circle. Mr. Stewart never made that fourteenth point, and the gallant Major passed him. The Journal man now came upon the scene, and as a result has brought glory upon himself and the editorial circle of which he is a member. We congratulate our brother editor, and hope that Mr. Dennistoun's success will give much point to an article which appeared in our last issue advocating the formation of a college rink."

The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows to-day :—At 8 a.m., 4° above zero; at noon, 22° above, and at 3 p.m., 26° above.

Police News.

A blank at the Police Court this morning. "Anyone in the cells?" asked the reporter. "On Saturday night six tramps and seventy-two rats; on Sunday night only the rats," was the reply of a constable.

The Weather Probabilities.

The weather this morning was cold, and to-day is fine. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Northerly shifting to easterly winds; fine weather; slightly higher temperature.

The Ragan Lectures.

The Lecture Committee of the Mechanics' Institute have secured the services of Mr. H. H. Ragan to deliver two lectures in Bradburn's Opera House. On Tuesday evening, March 20th, he will lecture on "Paris, the Magnificent," and on the following evening, on "London, from the Top of an Omnibus." Each of these lectures will be profusely illustrated by means of oxy-hydrogen light. Mr. Ragan's lectures, eight in number, are highly spoken of by the press of the United States and Canada, and these two which he will deliver here appear to be the most appreciated.

New Brunswick Crisis.

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 3.—The new Government was sworn in at Fredericton this morning as follows :—Blair, of York, Attorney-General and leader of the Government; Elder, of St. John, Provincial Secretary; Mitchell, of Charlotte, Surveyor-General; Ritchie, Solicitor-General; Gillespie, of Northumberland, President of Council; Vail, of Kings; Turner, of Albert; and Harrison, of the Legislative Council, members without office. When the House of Assembly opened the personnel of the new Cabinet was announced. The ex-Premier stated that Mr. E. L. Wetmore had been chosen leader of the Opposition. The Legislature was prorogued until the 12th April.

Novel Use of Electric Light.

An experiment, which suggests vast possibilities in the use of the electric light, has been made in England. A lady appeared at a fancy dress ball at Hull with incandescent lamps arranged about her. It is quite impossible for an accumulator or battery to be concealed in the dress. The electricity was supplied from a bichromate battery concealed in the case of a hand-organ which was carried about by a gentleman in attendance upon the lady exhibitor. Wires running from the hand-organ supplied the current to the lamps.

Death Warning.

Mr. Fenton, of Toronto, County Crown Attorney, on Friday received through the mail a post-card bearing in the right-hand corner the ominous skull and cross-bones and the word "death" in black letters. Written in very illegible caligraphy was this laconic warning :—"Lotteries. Make your peace." (Signed) "Invincible." Mr. Fenton attributes the missive to the facetiousness of some city reporter, and is disposed to make merry over the caper.—Mail.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1883.

The Cells.

One tramp was quartered at the police cells last night. No prisoners were arrested.

Board of Education.

A regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held at 7.45 o'clock this evening in the Collegiate Institute building.

Personal.

Messrs. T. M. D. Croly, John Smith, R. Weir, G. W. Hall, J. G. Browne and S. Johnson went to Lindsay on Monday to attend the annual meeting of the R. W. Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, which assembles in that town to-day.

Derby Sweepstake.

A sweepstake for the Derby is now being got up at Chamberlain's Restaurant, the tickets being one dollar each. As the list is limited, those who wish to have an interest in the great English race should give in their names at once.

Distinguished Visitors.

A distinguished party arrived on the noon train, consisting of Bishop Walsh, of London, Bishop Cleary, of Kingston, Bishop Mahoney, of Toronto, and Vicar-General Laurent and Vicar-General Rooney, of Toronto. The official car of the Midland Railway was attached to the train for their use, and on their arrival here they were driven to the episcopal palace.

The Little Lake Races.

Every preparation has, we learn, been made for the trotting races to be held on the Little Lake race course to-morrow and the following day. The track is in good condition, and well fitted for a trial of speed. Already some of the best horses in Canada have arrived in town to participate in the contest. It is expected that these will be the best races of the season, and that they will be superior to any witnessed in Peterborough before.

The Weather Probabilities.

Another snow storm has come, but whether it is the advance guard of Wiggins' storm or not, we have no means of ascertaining. The weather is mild. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Strong easterly veering to southerly and south-westerly winds ; cloudy, milder weather, with snow and rain ; followed by north-westerly to northerly winds and colder weather to-morrow.

A Well Furnished House.

The following notice of the Caisse House, which we find in the Port Hope Times, is a deserved compliment to a well-conducted hotel :—

"The Caisse House, Peterborough, since the present proprietor, Mr. Thos. G. Choate, assumed the management of it, has regained a great deal of its old-time popularity with the travelling public, and is doing to-day a splendid business. The rooms are comfortable in all parts of the house, well furnished, clean and warm while the commercial rooms are also first-class. The table is well supplied with everything the most fastidious could desire, and the attendance is prompt. Mr. Choate and his sons evidently have mastered the difficult problem of 'how to run an hotel,' and many of the owners of larger and more pretentious houses in the cities could learn something from them."

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

IN INEBRIETY.

Dr. C. S. Ellis, Wabash, Ind., says : "I prescribed it for a man who had used intoxicants to excess for fifteen years, but during the last two years has entirely abstained. He thinks the Acid Phosphate is of much benefit to him."

SENSATIONAL RUMOR.

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—A rumor that the new loan of the Reading Railway has not been placed, and that the receivership would be re-established, caused a considerable sensation in financial circles last night. The rumor grew out of the fact that the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society had abandoned a block of $650,000 of car trust. The amount will be readily placed in other quarters, and the present state of affairs will not be disturbed.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1883.

PROSTITUTING THEIR PATRONAGE.

Mr. D. Sinclair, ex M. P. P. for North Bruce, has been appointed Registrar for that county. We have been asked why the Mowat Government could not as easily have appointed the Registrar of the County of Peterborough at the same time. The reason is that the circumstances are different in the two cases, though in both Mr. Mowat and his colleagues have placed themselves in a very unenviable position.

Mr. Sinclair having served his party in the Legislature, had to be rewarded for such services by the office that fell vacant in his constituency. We all remember that one of the charges against Mr. J. S. Macdonald, most urged by the Reformers when they were conspiring for his overthrow, was that he had given offices to members in such circumstances. They even brought in a formal motion condemning the appointment of any member to an office in his own county. They have already repeatedly broken this rule, which they had thus lain down for themselves, and this is only an additional proof of their duplicity and hypocrisy.

In the case of our own county, their conduct is still worse, for it is flagrantly dishonest and corrupt. They have kept a vacancy in our Registry office for months, in order that they and their supporters might have an opportunity of bribing electors by promises that they or their friends should obtain the appointment. Having been already promised it has been dangled before the eyes of other applicants in order to influence votes by the false hopes thus held out. It was as corrupt as paying hard cash for the votes, and still more immoral, for they knew that they intended to break the promises that they had thus made to the majority of their dupes, thus adding fraud and falsehood to corruption.

It is not surprising then that they are afraid to face the storm that they have brewed—that like boys on a river bank they are hesitating to take the plunge. We would not wilfully do Mr. Mowat and his colleagues an injustice, and we hope that their hesitation may be partly due to remorse and qualms of conscience—that now the heat of the contest is over, and they look back in cold blood upon their iniquitous conduct, they shrink from the open manifestation of their mingled corruption and duplicity.

There cannot, however, be much longer delay, and soon we must know whose friends have been simply unduly influenced, and whose friends have in addition been defrauded.

ABUSING OUR JUDGES.

It is surprising what an antipathy the Reformers and more especially their leading organ have for our law courts and our judges, or rather it would be surprising did we not remember how greatly these pretended purists have suffered for their misdeeds at the hands of our judiciary.

The Globe, as if anxious to retain its bad pre-eminence in this respect, is now having the indecency to abuse a County Court Judge, simply because he is likely to be called upon to recount the ballots in one of the recent elections. Would it not be well to wait at least until they have some stronger cause for slandering the Bench of which Canada is justifiably proud?

THE FISHERY EXHIBITION.

Details of Nova Scotia's Contribution—New Arrivals Reaching Halifax.

Halifax, N.S., March 3.—The Canadian exhibit for the International Fisheries Exhibition in London is being rapidly arranged. New contributions are constantly arriving to the care of Dr. Honeyman, and are stored at the Marine and Fisheries Department. Suitable cases for the exhibit of Nova Scotia's exhibit of fish preserved in glass jars, have been provided, so that these will be ready for shipment at a moment's notice. The additional exhibits include some very handsome models of deep-sea fishing vessels, and cases of birds are in course of preparation. Nova Scotia's preserved fish includes specimens of every known kind in the province with a duplicate of these for the Economic department. A refrigerator on a large scale is being prepared at Campbellton, which will be sent, containing a very varied collection, including many of larger species, up to a whale, in a frozen state. Mr. Wilmot is also preparing a collection of stuffed fish, and Mr. Patton will send a trophy of oils with his emulsion of cod liver. Notman will furnish photographs of the various provincial fish breeding establishments. The exhibit of dry fish will be good, and representations are fish oils will form a respectable part of the show.

Prince Edward Island's contribution is frozen up in the Northern Light, but is expected to arrive on time all right. The steamer Newfield goes to Sable Island about the 12th inst., and on her return will commence loading for London. She will likely have a very full cargo.

THE RAID ON LOTTERIES.

Thirty-Nine Cases Called in the Toronto Police Court.

(From the Toronto World, March 2.)

Mr. F. Fenton, County Crown Attorney, has been busy the past few weeks collecting information in regard to lotteries, with a view of enforcing the law as far as this county is concerned. Up to yesterday he had thirty-nine summonses served on different citizens of Toronto, the specific changes being selling, buying, receiving and advertising lotteries, native and foreign. The majority of the summonses issued have reference to the proposed Orange lottery in Ottawa next May. Although parties who are alleged to have trafficked in lottery tickets of the Masonic enterprise of London, and also a Detroit lottery are among the number. The dates of the alleged offences are from Dec. 25th, 1882, to Feb. 15th, 1883. The cases were called in the police court yesterday morning, after the regular business was concluded. Magistrate Denison said that as he was not in his usual good health he would ask Mr. Fenton to delay for a couple of days the commencement of the prosecutions. This was agreed to, and an adjournment till Monday was made. There were several lawyers in court ready to answer for some of the accused.

In connection with the London Masonic lottery the first name on the list is Christopher W. Bunting, managing director of the Mail newspaper. He is charged with publishing a lottery advertisement (London Masonic) on Dec. 25, 1882.

Elias J. Davis and Joseph W. Davis, selling twenty-five tickets to one Taylor on Jan 1.

—— Taylor, selling 25 tickets for Davis Bros. on Jan. 1.

Fred W. Morson, selling 25 tickets on Jan. 1.

John R. Wilson, receiving 25 tickets and selling 5.

Christopher W. Bunting, advertising the Orange lottery of Ottawa in the Mail newspaper on Jan. 23 and 25.—

Edward F. Clarke, advertising the same lottery in the Orange Sentinel of Feb. 1, 8, 15 and 22, and receiving 25 tickets from William Peck.

William Peck, of 112 Lumley street, disposing of 25 tickets in the same to Ed. F. Clarke; 25 to one White; 50 to Henry W. Power; 100 to Elijah Westman; 25 to Henry Munday; 25 to James Lennox; 25 to H. E. Trent.

H. E. Trent, of Queen street west, receiving 25 tickets from Wm. Peck, and selling 10 of them.

Henry Munday, of 541 Queen street west, receiving 25 tickets from Wm. Peck.

Thomas White, of No. 4 Richmond street, disposing of 25 tickets to Rober Almond.

Robert Almond, of 550 Queen street west, receiving 25 tickets from Thomas White. Also advertising the Orange lottery and selling 5 tickets.

John Frazer, selling to R. H. Watt one ticket on Feb. 24.

The above are the names of parties who have been summoned so far, but it is understood many more will follow. The informations were laid by William Wates, a county constable.

Mr. Fenton states that he could get none of the city police to act, and he had to get parties from outside the city. The disposal of the cases will be watched with much interest.

It is understood that Mr. Fenton will have several witnesses brought from London. A despatch from that city last night says there is considerable stir there over the serving of subpœnas to several Londoners.

VENNOR ON THE STORM PERIODS.

Heavy Snow-storms Predicted—St. Patrick's Day to be Stormy—The Year's Outlook.

Mr. Vennor in his Bulletin for March says: The following are the most probable dates for the usual March storms which, we think, this year are likely to partake of the severity of the month of January to a certain extent. The chief of most general storms we are inclined to place in the latter half of the month. The north-west division is more particularly treated of in a special and separate forecast further on in the paper.

1st.—A decided storm and bluster with snow and in some sections rains (Maritime Provinces). The storm will extend south-ward to Washington, D. C.

3rd and 4th.—General heavy storms. Chicago and west blockaded, also Nova Scotia. This storm will probably likewise be experienced in Great Britain, with snow.

10th to 12th.—Very general and severe snow storms and blockades, extending far to westward. Rain and snow falls in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Tremendous snow-drifts in Western States.

17th to 20th.—General heavy snow and rain storms south to New York and Washington. Snow blockades again west. 20th or 21st great wind storm at New York.

27th.—Another general storm period. Snow and rains. Newfoundland snow-blocked.

30th and 31st.—General snow, wind and rain storms. Heavy blow and rains New York and middle states sea-board. Snow and rain storms Maritime Provinces.

The month will be one of the stormiest experienced in a long period of years and there is a probability of great destruction of life and property. The storm period of the 10th to 12th will undoubtedly be severe and wide-spread, but the heavy rain and wind storms of the 27th to 30th may cause the greatest harm particularly toward New York and middle sea-board.

The following is his version of the probabilities for the year:

Spring.—April, advanced warmth toward middle of month and favorable rains. Colder towards closing days and entry of May. May will enter cold and white and continue so through first half month, with snow falls and cold rains. Brief periods of summer warmth.

Summer.—June is likely to be a warm summer month and similar to that of last year. In fact the whole of the coming summer will probably follow in the track of last year's weather conditions. Somewhat severe relapses to cold weather and frost may occur in parts of July and August.

Autumn.—After advanced cold weather and snow-falls in October and November, the autumn of the year likely to remain unusually open and fine up to a late date with general scarcity of snow in nearly all sections through December and probably much of January, 1884. Our present view is that the autumn of the present year will much resemble that of the year 1875, in various sections of the country.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

BEWARE OF HIM!

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper, to caution the residents of the South Ward against some persons unknown, who are just now engaged in the despicable practice of "appropriating" other people's wood for their own use. For some time the writer's wood-pile has been growing beautifully less—not on account of home consumption, and I feel that it is high time to warn others against the "wood thief," as it is well known that many places has been visited by this "wolf in sheep's clothing." The thief does not only commit his ravages on the wood-pile on week days, but having no regard for the Sabbath, he does some tall work when the people are at Church in the evening. On Sunday night a visit was paid to a citizen's yard, and a goodly supply of his wood carried off, much to his mortification, and no doubt much to the gratification of the aforesaid thief. Now, Mr. Editor, I would caution this individual, whoever he may be, to be a little more careful where he carries on his operations, for if he is detected he will be punished to the utmost rigor of the law.

I am, dear sir, yours, etc.,

A VICTIM.

"Blood will tell." A face adorned with Pimples, Boils, Blotches &c., is not particularly pleasant sight, and invariably betokens an impure state of the Blood. Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters free the system from all gross humours, renders the Blood Pure and Cool, aids digestion and gives a healthy appetite. For sale by all Druggists in large Bottles at 50 cents.

Mr. Thomas W. Race, Editor and Proprietor of the Mitchell Recorder, writes that he had a prejudice against Patent Medicines, but being induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters, for Billiousness that occasioned such violent headache and distress as to often disable him from work. The medicine gave him relief, and he now speaks of it in the most favorable terms.

Fortunately Valvular disease of the heart is not very common, its disturbed action may be due to indigestion, liver irregularities &c. A Stomach disturbed with wind, or indigestable food will cause pain and fluttering by crowding on the nerves of the heart. Burdock Blood Bitters will speedily remedy all such difficulties.

Mrs. Bodman of Bothwell, says my daughter was very ill with Billous Fever, used Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters with wonderful results, one Bottle entirely subdued the fever and thoroughly restored her to health and vigor.

THE PORTABLE ELECTRIC LIGHTER.

At last we can have the electric light where it can do the most good. That is to say we can put it now on our desks, on our tables, on our mantle-pieces, anywhere in fact where a clear, bright, safe lighter is wanted. The portable electric lighter, patented in 1879 and again in 1882, is now before us, and we look at it with surprise and happiness. Surprise, because it is evident how great a progress we have made in the science of electricity; happiness because it gives us a clearer, better, more movable light than any we have ever enjoyed. Here is a lamp, so called, occupying only the space of five square inches, which can be carried anywhere, and is besides an ornament. By simply pressing upon the knob to the full extent of the spring, (which connects with the battery), an electric current is produced by which the spiral of platinum is heated to incandescence and the light is instantaneous. The material lasts about two months and can then be renewed at a small cost through any chemist. It will not be long before everybody will have a portable electric lighter. The price, $5, is so low that it cannot fail to become popular at once. The principal office is at 22 Water street, Boston, where all applications for this most novel lamp should be sent.

Rescue of Six Castaways.

The overdue Pacific Mail steamer City of Tokio docked late yesterday afternoon. Her delay was caused by heavy weather and strong easterly winds. There are aboard six South Sea Islanders from Abimama, of the Gilbert Islands. They were picked up at sea by the ship Northern Light, and taken to Yokohama. The ship found them adrift and in a dying condition on November 10, in latitude 3° 31' south, and longitude 168° 1' east. The boat contained ten persons, five of whom had died from starvation. There was one woman among the survivors. They were so emaciated and looked so wretched, especially the woman, that at first their recovery was believed to be impossible. However, they received all possible care, and all recovered. Their story was that in attempting to cross from one island to another, a storm overtook them and drove them to sea and out of sight of land. They had nothing to eat but a little dry pulverized banana, and to drink, a few gallons of water in vessels. The woman gave birth to a child while on board the Northern Light, but the babe did not survive. One of the men speaks a little English. They are to be sent back from here to Australia, thence to the Fiji Islands, and from there to the Gilbert Islands. To all outward appearances they are untutored savages, yet constant intercourse with them shows that they have been under missionary influence. Captain Slocum, of the Northern Light, said, regarding them:—"A more devout band of Christians I never met. When first hauled out of their cheerless cockleshell, more dead than alive, they fell upon their knees on deck and gave thanks to the Almighty with becoming reverence."—San Francisco Bulletin.

The Mystery in "Marble Faun."

Two persons write to the Times for information respecting that "mysterious and terrible event" with which Hawthorne and his "Marble Faun" connects the history of Miriam. They have been puzzled by Hawthorne's assurance that readers "will have no difficulty in recalling to mind its (the crime's) nature, incidents, perpetrators, &c." They have sought in vain for assistance from their friends, and they finally beg that the Times do so if it were able. The correspondents may comfort themselves, however, with the assurance that they are not the first persons who have been thus led by the great romancer into this difficulty. He had a wizard-like fondness for doing that sort of thing, and from the outset career he succeeded strangely well. Miriam's case mystified the first readers the "Marble Faun" ever had. Before Hawthorne had left England they entreated him to clear it up, and our correspondents remember very well the postscript he wrote for them by way of satisfaction, but which in reality deepened the mystery and heightened the interest in it. His reference there to "one of the most dreadful and mysterious events that have occurred within the past century" it is quite agreed now, as we understand the case, was pure invention—a carrying still further of the mystery he had thrown over the girl's history, while seeming to aid in removing it. To do so would, in any rate, have been quite the Hawthorne way.—N. Y. Times.

Hawaiian Nobility.

Some very funny things happened at the coronation of the King of the Sandwich Islands. One of the highest officers of the army was sent around with the invitations. He stopped on the docks to see some of the idlers who were attracted by curiosity to the package in his hands. One of them offered him twenty-five cents for an invitation, and in a short time he had disposed of the whole package, and pocketed a nice little sum, but some of the visitors who were present at the coronation astonished the authorities. The Hawaiian Gazette pictures the embarrassment likely to arise when the titles of nobility are conferred. "It will at first sound odd to say, 'three pounds of sausages, your grace!' or 'mother says will your lordship match this pink ribbon?' or 'two and a half pounds of butter, fresh, Sir Charles,' but we will soon get accustomed to it. Besides we shall only be beginning with our aristocracy where many of the older ones end. A washerwoman in St. Petersburg was a countess. Many a scion of English nobility has split rails, minded sheep, or served drinks behind a bar in America and Australia. One here used to drive an express. The courtly nobility of France had, after the explosion of 1789, to betake themselves to foreign lands and teach dancing."

Progress of the Pacific Railway.

Mr. Dawson, M.P., has received a letter from a prominent citizen of Prince Arthur's Landing, in which he states that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company are pushing on with great rapidity the completion of the line from that place to Nepigon bay. They have 1,200 men at work. The company are having built on the Clyde three powerful steel-bottomed steamers, of 1,200 tons each, to ply between Algoma Mills and Prince Arthur's Landing next summer.—Mail.

WORTH KNOWING.—A Fact Worth Knowing. The best household remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all throat and chest troubles tending toward Pulmonary Consumption is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, to be procured of any druggist.

THE proposal to forbid by law the ringing of "rousing bells" in the morning, in New England manufacturing towns, is opposed by the mill hands, who argue that the alarm is a great convenience to the majority, and not much of a nuisance to the minority.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.—The constant dropping of water will wear away even the hardest stone. So the constant irritation of a cough will so wear upon the lungs as to induce incurable Consumption. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will cure the worst cough, speedily and effectually.

THE main girdle of the steel bridge to be erected across the Forth, in Scotland, will be within a few feet of a mile in length. The bridge is to rest on ground cylindrical piers, each weighing 16,000 tons, to which must be added 8,000 tons, the estimated pressure on the top of the piers of the superstructure, rolling load, and wind pressure. This gives a pressure at the base of 24,000 tons, or about six tons per square foot.

DECLINE OF MAN.—Impotency of mind, limb or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, and all diseases caused by indiscretions and abuse, are radically and promptly cured by the use of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which is for sale by all responsible druggists. He had been, he said, banished from Mexico and abandoned by his relatives.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The minutes of the last meeting, February 12th, were read and confirmed.

THE TAX ROLL.

The MAYOR said there was a question whether they had the power to charge the five per cent. interest on taxes not paid within the limited time, unless they extended the time for the return of the Collector's roll. He read a letter from the Town Solicitor advising the Council to extend the time.

THE COLLECTOR was heard, and said that the Midland Railway had tendered the payment of their taxes on the 16th January, and had since done so again, but that he had refused to accept it unless they paid the five per cent. extra, and this they refused to do. He had spoken to Mr. Cox about it, and he had replied that he had signed the cheque for the taxes before the limited time had expired.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

COURT OF REVISION.

Councillor SAWERS read the following report of the Court of Revision, which was adopted:—

To the Mayor and Councillors of Peterborough.

The Court of Revision having considered the following petitions, beg to report and recommend that the petitions of Mary Brown and Mary Collins be referred to the Charity Committee, and that the petitions of Mary Whalen, Geo. W. Hall, Jas. L. Brown, A. P. Morgan, George Brownlee, Edward Connor and Mary Wood be not granted.

C. W. SAWERS,
Peterborough, March 5, 1883. Chairman.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councillor PATERSON read the report of the Finance Committee, as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee beg leave to recommend the payment of the following accounts:—

R. Morrow	$32.60
H. Best	4.35

T. Montgomery	5.27

Peterborough Gas Co	24.00
A. Hall	1.79
J. W. Flavelle	7.25

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. PATERSON, JR.,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

FIRE, WATER AND GAS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD read the following report of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee:

To the Mayor and Council of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee beg leave to report and recommend to the Council the advisability of at once taking proper steps to erect in the rear of the fire hall a suitable place to keep a team of horses and a bed room for a man, and in order to carry out the above recommendation your Committee procure a plan and specification, and also ask for tenders in accordance therewith, the cost not exceed $10

Also that your Committee have the power to ascertain by tender or otherwise the cost of a man and team suitable for drawing the fire engine, watering the streets and otherwise to be kept employed, and report to this Council before taking further proceedings in the matter.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

A. RUTHERFORD,
Peterborough, March 5, 1883. Chairman.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that this recommendation was made because, although various plans had been tried, there had been trouble in getting the engine to fires. The team thus procured could be used for watering the streets, cleaning the snow off sidewalks and other work for the corporation.

Councillor CAHILL said that they should first consider whether it was advisable to deal with the matter in this way. He thought that the plan which had been tried previously, of giving a bonus to the first team on hand to draw the engine, was the most economical. There would be a great deal of expense connected with keeping the horses, and if the citizens intend to avail themselves of the waterworks there would be less need of a team.

Councillor PATERSON said that, when previously tried, it had been found that the place of giving a bonus did not work well at night.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that the engine would be needed for some years yet, as the waterworks would not cover the whole town for some years.

The report was adopted.

REMISSION OF TAXES.

Councillor DENNE moved, seconded by Councillor MENZIES, the motion of which he had given notice at the last meeting, that Mr. Clotworthy's taxes be remitted.—Carried.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

Councillor PATERSON moved, seconded by Councillor SAWERS,—That the question of having one or more telephones put up for use of the police and fire departments be referred to the Finance Committee.—Carried.

A HEAVY LICENSE FEE.

Councillor MENZIES moved that Mr. Wallace be allowed to use the shooting gallery for four weeks by paying $10 as a license fee. He said that the By-law required the payment of $15 a day, which was too much.

Councillor KELLY said Councillor MENZIES had voted for the license By-law at the last meeting. He did not believe in passing a By-law at one meeting and changing it at the next.

After further discussion, the motion was declared out of order, as it would require a By-law to amend the license By-law.

THE MARKET TOLLS.

Councillor PATERSON moved that the Market Committee advertise for tenders for the sale of the market tolls and award the same.

Councillor KELLY said he understood that there was an arrangement made last year by which Mr. Doherty was to have the market for two years.

Mr. DOHERTY was heard by the Council.

The matter was referred to the Market Committee with power to act.

THE PARK LOTS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD called attention to a difficulty the Assessors had in assessing the Park lots, on account of there not being proper registered plans. About twenty-five plans would be required, at a cost of two dollars each, and he was satisfied that the town would gain enough in one year by getting them to repay them for the expense.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor SAWERS,—That the Clerk be authorized to get the necessary plans not to exceed twenty-six in number.

Mr. LUNDY, Assessor, was heard in reference to the matter, and the motion was carried.

THE AUDITORS.

Councillor DENNE said that there was a report on the street that Mr. Stratton's appointment as auditor was not legal, as he was Inspector of the town schools, and we would like to know whether it was legal or not.

The MAYOR said that the appointment was a legal one.

Councillor DENNE moved, seconded by Councillor HARTLEY,—That the Clerk be authorized to get the opinion of the town solicitor as to the legality of Mr. Stratton's appointment as auditor.

Councillor SAWERS thought that the motion was unnecessary.

After some further discussion the motion was put and lost.

The Council then adjourned for three weeks.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7, 1883.

YOUNGS' POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.—All the plant for the locks at Buckhorn passed through here last week, having taken the route of Deer Bay on the south side and up the 17th con. of Smith, a much shorter route in the winter-time from Lakefield. There were about ten teams employed for nearly a week. Hurrah for Buckhorn, our worthy live member—Mr. Hilliard, M.P.,—and the Trent Valley Canal!

LARGE ICE HOUSE.—Mr. Goodwin, the contractor for Burleigh locks, has got erected a large ice-house on the Portage road, above Burleigh shute, for the use of the boarding-house for the men to be employed on the building of the locks. There is also a large one to be erected at Buckhorn, Mr. Geo. Chalmers supplying all the lumber and sawdust.

TRENT VALLEY SURVEYORS.—The surveyors and men in attendance for the Trent Valley works have now picked up their traps and gone to Buckhorn. They will be absent about three weeks. Success to them and their work.

THE SHANTIES.—Some of the lumber shanties are on the eve of breaking up for the winter, having got all their sawlogs, etc., nearly all drawn on to the ice to await navigation. The lumbermen have had a very successful winter for their operations.

THE ELECTION.—Mr. Campbell at his last meeting at the Point, told us to "agitate! agitate!! agitate!!!" So we have agitated to return a supporter of Mr. Meredith. We all worked well for Mr. Carnegie, and did not have one Liberal Conservative vote unpolled. But we had to work hard, as several votes had been tampered with by the followers of Mr. Mowatt's corrupt Government. We congratulate Mr. Carnegie on his election.

Gaining a World Wide Reputation.

Consultations with any of the surgeons belonging to the institute free. Poor people showing certificates can have spirometers free. Write enclosing stamp for pamphlet giving full information to either of the Canadian offices where competent English and French specialists are always in charge. Address International Throat and Lung Institute, 13 Phillips square, Montreal, P. Q., or 173 Church street, Toronto, Ont.

NATURE'S REMEDIES.—The sting of a nettle is instandly relieved by applying the juice of the maple leaf. So also are kidney trouble by using Fountain of Health. Sold everywhere at 25 cents.

HEADACHE, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Constipation promptly relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. As a family medicine they are far superior to Pills. In large Bottles 50 cents.

Fight With A Bull Dog.

A Philadelphia despatch says: Mrs. Mary Lanahan, of No. 2,850 Warnock street, had a desperate encounter to-day with a bull dog belonging to her brother-in-law, Jacob Reese, who occupies the same house. She had gone into the back yard and was shaking a towel when the dog, an animal weighing about 27 pounds, jumped at her and caught her by the hand. The woman screamed loudly, which seemed to excite and enrage the brute still more, as he sprang upon her and threw her to the ground, catching her arm and mangling it with his teeth. She regained her feet and started for the house, but the dog by this time seemed to have become possessed of the ferocity of a tiger and followed her, and when the two reached the inside of the hall opening into the yard he again succeeded in throwing her down, and in this way they fought until both reached the street door, where the contest was continued. A gentleman came along the street and directed the woman to hold the dog. She obeyed, grasping his collar, and the man hit the brute several times on the neck with a cane, which forced him to leave the woman. The fight lasted about eight minutes, and when it was over it was found that both of the woman's arms were badly mangled, besides other wounds. Mrs. Lanahan was taken into the house and a physician was summoned. She is now doing well, though suffering great pain from the bites.—Bay Pilot.

"FREE THINKERS'" TRIAL.

LONDON, March 5.—Foote, editor; Ramsey, proprietor; and Kemp, printer, of the Free Thinkers Journal, were found guilty of blasphemous libel. Foote was sentenced to 12 months, Ramsey 9, and Kemp 3 months. Foote's sentence provoked a storm of yells in the court.

The principal importance attached to the affair is that it will possibly cause prosecutions.

Received $4,000 Back Pay.

Mr. Jas. McKinley, who at one time lived on the Montreal Road, but who is now a resident of Oswego, met with extraordinary luck a short time ago. He fought during the American war, and, with a number of others, applied for his pension, not having received that which he was entitled to. The result of his application was that he received a cheque for $4,000, and a document guaranteeing him a pension of $15 per month till the day of his death. James was lucky and no mistake.

A Corrupt Blunder.

The reason Mr. Mowat did not fill the vacant seat in the Ministry before the elections, was because it was thought that by leaving it open the candidature of several aspirants would be helped. Each aspirant was enabled to point to the prize as likely to fall into the lap of his constituency if he were returned. It is plain, now, however, that to leave the appointment open was a mistake, as a constituency will have to be opened. We may depend upon it that whichever constituency may be opened, the Conservatives will make a determined effort to capture it.—Toronto Telegram.

Election Petitions in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, March 5.—To-day was the last day for receiving petitions for unseating members-elect of the Local Legislature. Seven were filed, two against Conservatives, four against Reformers, and one against an Independent, as follows:—Reformers—Emerson, Burnham; Portage, Martin; Rockwood, Jackson; Springfield, Bell. Conservatives—Morris, Tennant; Kildonan, Attorney-General Sutherland. Independent—Laverandrye, Goulet. Offers were made to withdraw the petition against the Attorney-General, if the Springfield one was withdrawn, but the offer was declined.

Scalded to Death.

A few days ago a very sad affair is said to have occurred in the little town of Joliette which disturbed the whole community and threw the family more immediately concerned into the deepest grief. The youngest member of the family, an infant, was subject to fits, and, according to the advice of the medical attendant, the mother on the occasion of their occurence gave the little sufferer a warm bath. On the day in question the child was taken with a fit and the mother in her haste plunged the child into a scalding hot bath, into which she had forgotten to put any cold water. The result was that the child was scalded in a manner believed to have caused its death.—Witness.

A Mothers Search.

A Mrs. Gardner, of Russell, was recently in Ottawa, having returned, after an absence of nearly two years in search of her husband and two children, who were forced to fly from their home through the intriguing of her father-in-law. She first made a tour of the Gatineau district, whither she was given to understand they had gone. After a fruitless search she went on to Bay City, Michigan, and thence to the Black Hills, and finally to Potsdam, N.Y., only to find that her two children had died through neglect and were buried in a corner of a field. The sympathy of the whole community has been excited for the noble, true-hearted woman, who braved so much for the sake of her helpless little ones. She had now returned to her home, in Clarence township, much shaken in health. The heartless father has gone to Toronto.

The Color Test.

The Railroader, devoted to the interests of employees, is very severe on the color test. It says: "In obedience to a public clamor as senseless as the green-glass craze of a few years ago, the Solons of Massachusetts have passed a law requiring that railway employees, to hold their positions, shall be subjected to certain scientific tests for a color blindness, some of those tests requiring that the employee shall correctly distinguish and name the various delicate shades in color of skeins of silk and worsted. Under the operations of the law the companies have been obliged to discharge some of their oldest, most experienced, and successful train men; and the managers, in order to retain the valuable services of other life-long employees, who, in a quater of a century have never yet failed to distinguish between a red, white, or blue light or flag, are seriously considering the project of apprenticing them out to some first class millinery establishment, that they may become perfect in a fine art of distinguishing the delicate shades of color. Our Boston correspondent informs us that the boys worked hard for the success of candidates pledged against this foolishness, and he thinks the new Legislature will repeal or so modify the law as to bring its requirements with on the bounds of common sense and justice.

Oh, What A Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For sale by J D. Tully.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Mowat's majority last session	32

This was unmistakably the smallest majority that could be credited to the Mowat Administration when the late Legislative Assembly was holding its last session. It will be seen that we have classed Mr. Neelon and Mr. Lees, though both gave independent votes, with the parties with which respectively they generally acted. We have also ranked Dr. Kincaid and Mr. McAllister with the Opposition and Government respectively, because, though they were pledged for the time to preserve an independent attitude, their constituencies both previously and subsequently have been so classed, West Peterborough as Conservative and North Renfrew as Reform.

When we consider that by claiming two professedly independent members as supporters of the Government the highest majority Mr. Mowat can now claim is 10, it will be seen how great is the reverse which has befallen him. Even if he carries both Algoma and Muskoka, which is very improbable, he will have little more than a third of his old majority with which to face the Opposition in the new House.

Besides this it is already apparent from the returns of the polling that the majority of the electorate cast their ballots for the Opposition candidates, and that Mr. Mowat only retained the scanty majority he has by the iniquitous arrangements of his gerrymandering bill of 1875. A large proportion of his supporters also only escaped defeat by the narrowest majorities. We will deal further with this subject of the electoral majority when all the official returns are in.

It is very evident that a severer condemnation of the policy of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues could hardly have been given short of his instantaneous and ignominious dismissal.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE LOCAL EDUCATIONAL PARLIAMENT.

The Principal of the Collegiate Institute—School Moneys—The Changing of Text Books—School Supervision—Non-Resident Fees—Teachers' Disagree—Attendance—Communications, &c.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held on Tuesday evening.

PRESENT.—Messrs. Stevenson (Chairman), Dumble, Rutherford, Denne, Robinson, Burnham, Kendrey and Stratton.

There were also present, the Secretary, the Inspector, the Principal of the Public Schools, several teachers and a number of others.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

EXPLANATIONS.

The CHAIRMAN said that Mr. Dumble and himself had waited upon Mr. Dixon, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, and arranged with him as to procuring another Principal. They had secured the services of Mr. O'Connor, of Owen Sound, who was highly recommended. He said that the town had not paid over all the money due to the School Board, there being still about $4,000 in the hands of the town. This would increase the expenses of the Board, as they would be compelled to pay interest.

The CHAIRMAN, in reply to Mr. Rutherford, said that Mr. O'Connor was to receive the same salary as was paid to Mr. Dixon, and that he was hired for six months.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the trustees of S. S. No. 11, Douro, enclosing the half yearly account, amounting to $10.75, for the attendance of pupils from the town at that school.—Amount to be applied on note held by the Board.

From John Braden, Principal of the Public Schools, stating that a teacher employed by the Board had circulated reports injurious to him, and damaging to the schools, and had paid no attention to requests made by him in regard to school matters, and asking for the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter.

From the Principals of the Collegiate Institute and Public Schools, giving the names of the pupils attending the schools who paid fees, and the amount paid by each.

ATTENDANCE.

The Principal's report of the attendance at the Public Schools during February was read and received. The attendance was as follows:

	On Reg.	Av. Att.
Central School	600	501
South Ward School	215	183
West Ward School	149	120
Total	962	804

CHANGING TEXT BOOKS.

MR. RUTHERFORD said that at the last meeting he referred to a charge that partiality was shown to certain booksellers in giving them notice of changes made in text books, and he had been met with the statement that no change had been made in the public schools. He read what he stated was a partial list of the different books used during the past three years, according to which the number of the books used was as follows:—Arithmetics, 3; grammars, 6; geographies, 4; Canadian histories, 4; spelling books, 2, copy books, 2. He was surprised that the Inspector and Principal should have stated that no changes had been made.

SCHOOL SUPERVISION.

DR. BURNHAM read the following report of the School Supervision Committee:—

To the Chairman and Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—The Committee on School Supervision beg leave to submit the following report:—

That they have received three tenders for school supplies for the present year, and after a comparison of the quality of the material and prices, awarded the contract to Messrs. A. L. Davis & Co., their tender being the most favorable.

The ink supplied to the schools being of such poor quality, your Committee deem it advisable that the Chairman of the Committee should purchase the same for this year.

The Principal of the Public Schools has brought before your Committee the subject of a change of copy books used in the schools, and your Committee recommend that his request be granted by the Board.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GEORGE BURNHAM,
Chairman.

The new copy books proposed to be used were shown to the members, and it was stated that the publishers would take back any of those now in use which the booksellers had in stock.

The report was adopted.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE FEES.

Mr. RUTHERFORD asked why the Committee on Collegiate Institute fees had not been called together?

Mr. DUMBLE replied that there was certain information required before the Committee would be in a position to consider the matter, and that information had only been handed in to-night.

ACTION APPROVED.

Mr. STRATTON moved, seconded by Dr. BURNHAM,—That the action of the Chairman of the Board and Mr. Dumble in procuring a Principal for the Collegiate Institute in place of Mr. Dixon, who had resigned owing to ill health, be approved of.—Carried.

MR. BRADEN'S COMPLAINT.

Mr. STRATTON moved, seconded by Dr. BURNHAM,—That the communication of Mr. Braden be referred to a Committee consisting of Messrs. Dumble, Sproule, Rutherford, Denne, Cox and Stevenson, to examine into it and report to the Board as soon as convenient.—Carried.

Some discussion took place upon the matter of the school moneys not being handed over by Town, and the Board adjourned.

County Constable William Waites left the city on Thursday last for Gananoque to serve summonses in connection with the lottery business upon Mr. A. M. Gamble, who won a $5,000 prize at the Masonic enterprise. Mr. David Porter, of Ballyduff, who drew the $15,000, was to be favoured with a like missive, both of which were issued at the instance of the Society for the Suppression of Vice. The serving of Mr. Gamble's summons was an easy affair, as the gentleman expected such a document some time ago. He expressed surprise, and said that there was little of the money left. The constable then went on to Ballyduff, and found everyone struck with the lottery fever. He found that the bird had flown, and a party of men threatened him for coming down at all with a summons. Mr. Waites says that the craze for lottery is so strong that many would go without a meal for a lottery ticket.—Mail.

A Startling Discovery.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery, resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

GRIT TREASON.

The Reform Organ in Toronto Openly Preaching Annexation.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 5.—This evening's Telegraph says:—"When a Toronto correspondent gave particulars a few days ago of the formation of annexation societies in Canada, and intimated that the Reform party was likely to favour the scheme, some of our Dominion exchanges were quite incredulous. But a long editorial which has since appeared in the Globe seems to give colour to the idea. After urging the Maritime Provinces to resist the Dominion Government in the exercise of the veto power, and expressing the opinion that they will undoubtedly secede if it is exercised, it says:—'The Dominion Government would, if it were actuated by a spirit of patriotism take into account the circumstance that the Canadian provinces lie alongside the American States, which possess absolute sovereignty over local affairs. To lessen in the smallest particular the provincial sovereignty is to invite undesirable comparisons with the American States.' The lessening of provincial sovereignty to which the Globe refers, is probably the proposed legislation on the liquor question in the Parliament of Canada rendered necessary in the opinion of Sir John Macdonald by the decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, that the power of regulating the liquor traffic belongs to the Dominion instead of the Provincial Governments. There is no doubt that such legislation will be introduced, nor is there any doubt that the Dominion Government will continue to disallow provincial Acts when it considers them unjust or likely to prove injurious to the Dominion at large. The Globe knows this, and in expressing the opinion that the Canadian system of government will not bear comparison with that of the United States, it may be preparing the way for open advocacy of annexation."

Knowing Sparrows.

A lady writes to the Boston Journal:—"A few mornings since my attention was attracted to a flock of English sparrows, whose chattering was so earnest that I at first thought war was declared in the bird world, and that they were trying to adjust an amnesty. But soon I saw one fat, chubby little brown fellow fly up a few inches from the ground, carrying in his beak a soda biscuit. He flew but a few feet before he dropped his biscuit, when another sparrow seized it and carried it a few feet farther on, and so one after another of the little browncoats carried it along until finally the last sparrow dropped it plump on to the horse-car track. Then away they all flew, as if their object had been accomplished. Pretty quickly along came a car, and, passing over the cracker, ground it into crumbs. Then (and this is a true story) down swooped the flock of feathered philosophers and made a good breakfast."

THE GAMBLER'S WIFE.

Dark is the night! How dark! No light! No fire!
Cold, on the hearth, the last faint sparks expire!
Shivering, she watches, by the cradle side,
For him, who pledged her love—last year a bride!

"Hark! 'tis his footstep! No!—'Tis past!—'Tis gone!"
Tick!—Tick!—"How wearily the time crawls on!
Why should he leave me thus?—He once was kind!
And I believed 't would last!—How mad!—How blind!

"Rest thee, my babe!—Rest on!—'Tis hunger's cry!
Sleep!—For there is no food!—The font is dry!
Famine and cold, their wearying work have done.
My heart must break! And thou!" The clock strikes one.

"Hush! 'tis the dice-box! Yes! he's there! he's there!
For this!—for this he leaves me to despair!
Leaves love! leaves truth! his wife! his child! for what!
The wanton's smile—the villain—and the sot!

"Yet I'll not curse him. No! 'tis all in vain!
'Tis long to wait, but sure he'll come again!
And I could starve, and bless him, but for you.
My child!—his child! Oh, fiend!" The clock strikes two.

"Hark! How the sign-board creaks! The blast howls by.
Moan! moan! A dirge swells through the cloudy sky!
Ha! 'tis his knock! he comes!—he comes once more!"
'Tis but the lattice flaps! Thy hope is o'er!

"Can he desert us thus! He knows I stay
Night after night, in loneliness, to pray
For his return—and yet he sees no tear!
No! no! It can not be! He will be here!

"Nestle more closely, dear one, to my heart!
Thou'rt cold! Thou'rt freezing! But we will not part!
Husband!—I die!—Father!—It is not he!
Oh, God! protect my child!" The clock strikes three.

They're gone, they're gone! the glimmering spark hath fled.
The wife, and child, are numbered with the dead.
On the cold earth, outstretched in solemn rest,
The babe lay, frozen on its mother's breast:
The gambler came at last—but all was o'er—
Dread silence reign'd around. The clock struck four!

THE NEED OF WOMAN DOCTORS IN INDIA.

Punna is the capital of a native State in Bundelcund, Central India, a city of 12,000 inhabitants, situated above two hundred miles south of Lucknow and one hundred south of Allahabad. The sovereign of his State, the Maharajah of Punna, applied to Miss Beilby, a lady medical missionary at Lucknow, for medical attendance for his wife, the Maharanee, who had long been suffering from a painful internal disease. It would have been impossible for her to have obtained relief at the hand of any but a lady doctor, as native customs preclude an inmate of a Zenana from being seen by any man but her father, husband, or brother. The call was an urgent one, and Miss Beilby went to Punna to attend the Maharanie, residing many weeks in the midst of this heathen court, and in a native city where there is no other European. Her skill and care in the treatment of his Indian Princess were blessed and a cure effected. She was also able, while in attendance on the Maharanee, to relieve many poor patients in the city and in the native hospital.

When the time of her departure from Punna arrived she was desired to present herself at the palace to take leave of her royal patient, on Wednesday, the 12th of April last. The Maharanee received her in her private room, and immediately dismissed all her attendants and ladies, so that she might be quite alone with her. The Maharanee then said that she wished Miss Beilby to make her a solemn promise. Without knowing what it might involve she was reluctant to do this, and at length the Maharanee said: "You are going to England, and I want you to tell our Queen and the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the men and women in England, what the women in the Zenanas in India suffer when they are sick?" She explained that it was no social change in their condition she sought, but relief in their cruel sufferings. She charged Miss Beilby to give this message herself to the great Queen of England, not to send it through any other channel, but to take it herself, or her Majesty would think less of it.

Miss Beilby represented to the Maharanee the difficulty she would have in getting access to the Queen; that with us it is not as in the East, where anyone can go to the palace and lay a petition before the native sovereign. Besides, she told her she hardly knew what good it would do if she could do as she wished and take her message to our Queen. The Queen could not make lady doctors, or order them to go out. It was not in the power of even the great Queen of England to do this. "But," said the Maharanee, "did you not tell me our Queen was good and gracious, that she never heard of sorrow or suffering without sending a message to say how sorry she was, and trying to help? Did you not show me a picture of a train falling into the sea, where a bridge broke, and did you not tell me how grieved our Queen was? Well, it was very sad those people should have been killed, but our condition is far worse. If you will only tell our Queen what we Indian women suffer when we are sick, I am sure she will feel for us and try to help us." Miss Beilby felt she could no longer refuse to promise to convey this message, if possible. The Maharanee next bade her write it down at once (giving her pen, ink and paper), lest she should forget it, and added:—"Write it small, Dr. Miss Sahiba, for I want to put it into a locket, and you are to wear this locket around your neck till you see our great Queen, and give it to her yourself. You are not to send it through another."

On Miss Beilby's return to England, the Queen having being told by some of the ladies of the court of Miss Beilby's work and her message, determined, in spite of all difficulties and many engagements, to see her and hear all for herself, and accordingly sent for her. Her Majesty listened with great interest, asking many questions and showing the deepest sympathy. Turning to her ladies, she said, "We had no idea it was as bad as this. Something must be done for these poor creatures." The Maharanee's locket, with its message, was given to the Queen, and her Majesty intrusted Miss Beilby with a message in reply, which was intended for the Maharanee alone. But the Queen also gave Miss Beilby a message which might be given to every one with whom she spoke on the subject—"We should wish it generally known that we sympathize with every effort made to relieve the suffering state of the women of India."

The Maharanee, in parting with Miss Beilby said in solemn and earnest accents. "If you forget your promise your God will judge you."

Strange Disappearance.

About a month ago Alexander Wells, who had been in the employ of Messrs. Greey, Church street, left for Craig Lea, Muskoka, where he owned a farm, but he did not make his appearance there, and has not been heard of since. His friends are afraid that he has lost his way on the road to his farm and been frozen to death. From Am. Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise anyone wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific R.R., and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

The Cells.

The police cells were untenanted last night. No tramps sought shelter in them, and no arrests were made.

Personal.

Mr. W. O'Connor, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, has been called home by telegraph on account of the serious illness of his children. He was expected to return to-day.

Incorporated.

Among the notices of incorporation in the Ontario Gazette is that of Messrs. J. W. Flavelle, F. G. Cox, J. T. C. Lacey, A. L. Davis and E. W. Cox, who are incorporated by the name of "The Metropolitan Grocery and Provision Warehouse of Peterborough"; capital stock, $25,000

Dramatic.

Do not forget the dramatic representation by the members of the Battery in the Opera House on Thursday evening. By special request the drama, "The French Spy," will be repeated, with a new farce. They were well received by a large audience on the previous occasion, and they should be greeted by a large house this time. The Fire Brigade Band and Orchestra will be in attendance, and a good entertainment will be provided.

The Weather Probabilities.

Last night was cold and stormy, and to-day strong, cold winds continue to blow. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Strong winds and gales from the west and north, decreasing in force by the evening; fair to clear decidedly colder weather, with snow flurries in some localities.

For the Central Prison.

Mr. J. English, Central Prison bailiff, is in town. He will take with him to the Central four prisoners now confined in the County Gaol, namely, W. H. Meharry, sentenced to two years for assault, E. Swanbruch, committed for six months for larceny, and John Stain and Wm. Taylor, who were sentenced to six months for assaulting a constable and malicious injury to property. Mr. English intended to go to Toronto to-night, but will probably wait till to-morrow on account of the snow blockade.

CANADIAN FORESTERS.

THE ANNUAL DINNER OF COURT PETERBOROUGH AT MORGAN'S HOTEL.

A Large Gathering and a Sumptuous Repast—Toasts, Speeches and Songs—The Objects and Benefits of Forestry.

The anniversary dinner of Court Peterborough No. 40, of the Canadian Order of Foresters was held on Tuesday evening at Morgan's Hotel. This anniversary has been annually held at this hotel, and on this occasion it was remarked that the host had excelled himself. The spread was an excellant one, and Mr. Morgan has evidently discovered the secret of how to cater to the palate satisfactorily. There was a large number of the members of the Order and their friends present, and the dinner was a social as well as a physical treat.

After the removal of the cloth, Mr. J. F. Jameson took the chairman's seat and Mr. Jas. Byrne occupied the Vice-Chair.

The CHAIRMAN said that Forestry was at present in its infancy, but it was growing rapidly, and in a few years it would be a strong and beautiful child. It was five years since Court Peterborough had been organized, but it has been advancing steadily. This Court was one of the first of the Canadian Order, but the number of organizations had been multiplied and was increasing. They had to go no further than our own town to witness the benefits of Forestry. The object of the Order was benevolence—to visit the sick, relieve the distressed, burrying the dead and to educate the orphan. He referred in feeling terms to the loss by death of two of the brethern since the organization of the Court.

The usual loyal toasts were then proposed and duly honored.

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers," was responded to by Mr. Watson and Mr. Fraser.

"The High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters," was the next toast.

Mr. J. BYRNE, R. W. H. J. W., returned thanks on behalf of the High Court, and paid a tribute to the personal questions of its officers. He expected to see the order become one of the strongest in the country and extend to other countries bearing the Canadian name. All classes, from the clergyman to the laborer, were represented at the High Court, which showed that there were no social distinctions in the order.

"The Town Council," was responded to by Councillor McNaughton and Councillor Rutherford.

Song—"The Champion of the Cart," by Mr. T. Sabin.

"Our Sister Societies," was the toast that followed, and thanks were returned in neat speeches by Messrs. Foote, Clegg, T. Hooper, and T. Gunn.

"Canada, our Home," was enthusiastically received.

Mr. RICHARD C. WRIGHT responded, and said that he was proud that Canada was the land of his birth. He dwelt on the extent, the wealth and opportunities of Canada, and the liberty enjoyed in it.

Mr. FANNING also replied in a brief speech.

Song—"Song of the Emigrant," by Mr. T Hooper, jr.

"The Mercantile and manufacturing interests of Peterborough," brought Messrs Kendrey, McWhinnie, Long, Kingdon and A. Comstock to their feet, and each one testified to the flourishing condition of the industry which they represented. Messrs. Kendrey and McWhinnie stated that the wages of their employees had been raised from 15 to 25 per cent.

Song—"Watching for father's Return," by Mr. G. Smith.

The toast of "The Ladies" was proposed and drunk, and responded to by Messrs. J. Byrne, Clegg, S. Jameson, S. R. Armstrong and H. Long.

Song—"Digging Dusky Diamonds" by Mr. Whitehair.

"The Press" was duly honored, and responded to by Messrs. J. F. Jameson and F. R. Yokome, of the Examiner, and S. R. Armstrong of the REVIEW.

"Our Host and Hostess," was received with euthusiasm and replied to in a neat speech by A. P. Morgan.

Mr. Yokome, on behalf of the guests present, proposed "Court Peterborough C. O. F.," and the toast was responded to by Messrs. J. Byrne and R. C. Wright.

Songs—"Pulling Hard Against the Stream," by Mr. T. Gunn, "The Pitcher of Beer," by Mr. H. Evans and "Go and Learn a Trade," by Mr. W. Hooper.

The toast "Happy to meet, Sorry to Part and Happy to meet Again" and the National Anthem brought the festivities to a conclusion.

The anniversary was a successful one as regards the number present, the quality of the edibles and the enjoyableness of the occasion, and it will aid in keeping the spirit of Forestry alive during the year and will also be the means of adding to the number of the membership.

150 Children for Canada.

Dr. Barnardo, of the children's homes, London, England, purposes sending out to this city about 150 boys and girls, suitable for farm, domestic and other services, towards the end of May or beginning of June. Already many applications have been recieved for the above children by Mr. Geo. Trenaman (Dr. Barnardo's agent), who desires to complete the list of applications at once, to ascertain the exact wants of the people desiring the children's services, that satisfaction may be given to farmers, tradespeople and others who may apply. Last year a party of fifty boys were sent from these homes to this land, who have been satisfactorily placed in homes in Ontario.

A DISORDERLY HOUSE.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—On Monday night, between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock, the inhabitants of a certain house on Water street, between Charlotte and King streets, made the night hideous with their boisterous talk and conduct generally. Men and women cursing, swearing, crying and hair-pulling, was the order of the night. What are the town authorities about, to allow such a state of things in our midst—and that too, right in the centre of the town? Our police have been vigilant enough on previous occasions to suppress such an evil; why do they not show their dexterity now? Such a state of things should not be tolerated in a respectable town like Peterborough. The writer has kept silent on this point long enough—waiting to see if the police would not move in the matter. They cannot help noticing the crowds that visit this house day after day and night after night. Now, Mr. editor, either this is a house where intoxicating liquor is sold, or else it is one of ill-repute, and it is for the town authorities to determine which. Certainly, there is something seriously wrong. Hoping you will find space in your philanthrophic paper for the above, I remain yours etc.

VERITAS.

March 5th, 1883.

The Market.

This was the regular market day, but very few ventured out. The storm was too strong to face.

Stranded near Port.

Mr. H. Calcutt, has just returned home from the North West, looking hale and hearty as ever. He had travelled 1,500 miles from Winnipeg without obstacle, but when about three miles from town on the Tuesday evening train, he, with other passengers, was stoped by a drift as high as the smoke stack. As it did not seem likely that the drift would be cleared before morning, Mr. Calcutt looked round to ascertain the locality and the prospects of obtaining a conveyance. He found himself just at a spot well known to him, the Yankee Bonnet, though he had never been stuck there in the cars before, whatever might have been his experience in steamboats. Mr. Johnston provided a pair of bob-sleighs and woodrack, which was comfortably cushioned with hay, and with some of the other passengers, he took a moonlight drive home. He thinks a Peterborough winter more severe than the Manitoba climate.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE SNOW BLOCKADE.

Trains Snowed up and Traffic Suspended—All Night in the Cars.

The storm and gales of Tuesday night and Wednesday made bad work on the railway lines. The Grand Junction train left here on Wednesday morning for Belleville, and after hard pushing, and picking up the section men along the road to assist with their shovels, it got as far as Keene, and then returned, the track this way having been cleared by a snow plough. It got back to Peterborough at about eight o'clock in the evening. Another Grand Junction train left Belleville on Wednesday morning coming this way and reached Hastings at about 10 o'clock. There it remained until the track was cleared and arrived here at about nine o'clock in the evening.

The Midland line was also completely blocked by the snow. The Tuesday night's train arrived here about a quarter to eleven on Wednesday morning. The regular train from Port Hope left that town at about two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, with two engines to pull it through. Before it reached Millbrook another engine came up to it and rendered assistance, but its progress was still very slow. There was a large number of passengers in the train, including the Peterborough amateur dramatic company, who were to have given an exhibition in Lindsay in the evening, but not being able to get to that town they were making their way home. At Millbrook refreshments were received, and at 8.15 p. m. the train, with three locomotives, started for Peterborough. Slow progress was made, until a point was reached about four miles this side of Millbrook, when the train stood still, a mountain of snow higher than the smoke stack having blocked its passage. Here the train remained all night, utterly unable to proceed, and the passengers had the doubtful pleasure of using the seats in the coaches for sleeping couches.

Early this morning several of the passengers walked to Fraserville and procured breakfast. A snow plough sent out from Peterborough reached the train this morning, and the track being thus cleared, it arrived here about nine o'clock with its sleepy, weary and hungry passengers.

The regular ten o'clock train started for Port Hope this morning.

The noon train arrived about two o'clock, and we hope the blockade is at an end.

PRESENCE OF MIND.

Over Eight Hundred Children Safely Removed from a Burning School-House.

DETROIT, March 6.—Yesterday morning, while the pupils of Trinity church parochial school, corner of Porter and Seventh streets, were attending to their duties, one of the Sisters in charge discovered that the school building was on fire between the ceiling of the top storey and the roof, beyond immediate reach, and progressing so rapidly that no effort could be made to extinguish the flames. On her reporting the fact to the Sister Superior, that official quietly passed from room to room, and announced to the scholars that school would be dismissed for the remainder of the forenoon, telling the children to get their hats and coats, and pass out in order, and as quietly as possible. Although the information was entirely unexpected by the children, they did not suspect the true cause, and without question passed out of the rooms, down stairs, and into the street. There were about 800 children in the building, and all were got out without injury. An insurance of $12,000 will entirely cover the loss.

A BONUS.—It was definitely settled at the meeting held in the council chamber last Friday, to offer a bonus of $5,000 to any person or firm who would erect a factory which would employ from forty to sixty operatives. The offer was immediately taken up by Mr. Peters, who will, in the event of a by-law being passed to that effect, undertake to erect and operate a three sett mill. We trust that no obstacle will be raised against the consummation of this laudable scheme.

CAMPBELLFORD.

THE CARNIVAL.—The Hastings Star says the skating competition and carnival at Campbellford on Thursday last was very largely attended. A valuable gold medal having been offered for the best fancy skating, Mr. E. J. Hartley, of Peterborough, and Mr. H. Levine, of Belleville, entered the list, the judges being Dr. Goldsmith, of Campbellford, and Mr. A. M. Patton, of this village. The contest was keen, the competitors, amid rounds of applause, vieing with each other in the variety of figures. The Belleville man appeared to be the favorite, and it was evident that very many were disappointed when the judges announced that Mr. Hartley was the winner.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1883.

CAN THEY HOLD THE FORT?

NATURALLY enough the question uppermost in the minds of those who take an interest in Provincial affairs, and who does not, at the present time is, will the Mowat Government be able to hold the Provincial fort for another four years? Our impression is that they will not, while its friends profess to be quite sanguine that they will be able to do so. Unfortunately for themselves, and the credit which may be attached to their predictions, our opponents are always sanguine before the event, only to be beaten after it. In 1878 they were quite sanguine that Mr. Mackenzie's Government would be sustained—after the elections they were badly beaten. In 1882, they were very sanguine before the elections that the people of the Dominion would reject the Macdonald Government, and call upon Mr. Blake to assume the reins of power, but after the event the Macdonald Government was stronger than ever. At the same time in their minds there was no question but that the people of Ontario would condemn Sir John Macdonald's refusal to ratify the Boundary Award, his disallowance of the Streams bill, and his asserted gerrymandering of the constituencies, and yet after the elections Sir John Macdonald had a larger following at his back from Ontario than Mr. Mowat has or can have in the newly elected legislature.

Again in the present contest we were assured by these same gentlemen, before the event, that so great was the indignation of the people with regard to Mr. Meredith's "right aboutedness" on the Boundary question and his unpatriotic course with regard to the Streams bill, that he would not be able to command a baker's dozen of votes in the new Assembly. After the event however they are compelled to confess that Mr. Meredith has the largest following of any gentleman who has ever led the opposition since confederation—a following quite as strong as that given to Mr. Blake in March 1871, and with which he ousted the Sandfield Macdonald Government. So much for the value and sincerity of the predictions with which they are now trying to keep up their own courage and that of their friends. Let us now take a glance at some of the difficulties which beset the future path of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues.

First of all his Government is incomplete, thanks to his desire to help his supporters in the recent contest by enabling them to hold out the chances to attaining positions in the Government as an inducements to their friends to secure their return. Mr. Wood cannot with common decency continue to occupy the position of Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Agriculture for many days, while it is very well understood that a recent illness has rendered Mr. Crooks entirely unfitted for the discharge of duties which he was never well qualified to perform, consequently they must throw open in the very near future, and before the Legislature meets, two of the seats which now go to make up their narrow majority, and unless nearly the whole of the Government are to represent adjoining constituencies, they can only open those which the Opposition will have a fair chance of carrying. But, secondly, even if the first difficulty was surmounted without the loss of a seat and whatever little prestige is still left them, it is to be remembered that out of thirteen seats carried in square party contests by majorities below fifty, no less than ten belong to Mr. Mowat's supporters, and only three to those of the Opposition. This, we think, may be accepted as a tolerably fair indication that the chances of the contests which will undoubtedly take place in the courts, is as three to one in favour of the Opposition. Indeed, the probabilities are that the simple process of a recount will take from the Ministerial side and give to the Opposition some two or three of the seats now reckoned as a part of Mr. Mowat's slim majority.

And thirdly, even if Mr. Mowat should succeed in tiding over the difficulties to which we have already referred, and should be able to meet the House with a majority of say ten at his back, it is obvious that his difficulties are by no means over. Among that ten he will have such men as Mr. Neelon and Mr. Balfour, who have during the recent session placed themselves on record as opposed to the policy of the Mowat Government on more than one question, and they will have to face the same questions on the assembling of the new Legislature. Then among their majority they count Mr. Gillies of North Bruce, who has just been elected as an independent by Conservative votes, in opposition to the regular Ministerial candidate, and in spite of all the influences which Mr. Mowat and his colleagues could bring to bear against him, circumstances which are not likely to make him stand by the Government through thick and thin. Moreover, it is to be borne in mind that their very first act on the assembling of the House must take from them a vote in the person of the gentleman whom they place in the Speaker's chair. Under these circumstances, even granting the Globe the present majority of ten, which it claims, and even granting that Mr. Mowat should capture the two seats still vacant (a thing not very likely) it must be obvious to any one prepared calmly to weigh the surrounding circumstances that the chances are all in favour of Mr. Meredith being Premier of Ontario before another twelve months pass over his head, in accordance with the clearly expressed will of the electors, despite the many influences to which they have been subjected to induce them to record their votes contrary to their judgment. So may it be.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Toronto Telegram is not disposed to underate the Ontario Conservative leader. It says:—

"But Mr. Meredith will come in yet. He is young and popular and never strikes below the belt. Some day, if he lives, he will fill the place now filled by Sir John Macdonald as leader of the Conservative party."

⁂

THE very independant Montreal Star has some advice for Mr. Mowat. It says:—

"If Mr. Mowat is wise, he will be a trifle less bumptious in the future than he has been in the past, and avoid undertaking more than he can accomplish."

⁂

THE Toronto World says:—

"Mr. H. Merrick has been elected by one vote for North Leeds and Grenville. There is to be a recount, which it is thought will result in the election of his opponent. From a majority of four hundred to a solitary one is a great falling off, but it is not so bad after all as the reversal of Mr. J. H. Hunter's reform majority of 633 in South Grey into a minority of 187."

Our contemporary forgets to mention that the Leeds and Grenville election was only a family difference, the contest being between three Conservatives, and no supporter of Mr. Mowat venturing to run in this constituency even under such favourable circumstances.

⁂

THIS is the way the Reform press "guides" public opinion. The Whitby Chronicle invents and publishes absurd statements about general corruption by the Conservatives at the recent election; the Globe gravely quotes them, and now we shall see them go the round of their journalistic small fry. To show how preposterous are these statements, we need only give a sample as to our own neighbourhood. It is asserted by these slanderers, that East Peterborough among other constituencies, was visited by "agents sent with the 'swag' part of a large bribery fund raised at Ottawa," and that it 'swarmed with emissaries of the Ottawa Government." From this specimen we may judge the rest.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

On Friday, March 2nd., Sir J. Macdonald introduced a bill to consolidate the Lands Acts.

Bills was introduced by Sir L. Tilley as to Banks, and to authorise a loan at 4 per cent. to replace maturing 5 per cents. Mr. Bowell introduced a bill to consolidate the Customs Acts.

Mr. Robertson's Bill as to Speedy Trials was read a second time after some words of warning from Sir J. Macdonald and Mr. Blake as to the evil of private trials.

Mr. Mulock's Bill restricting Railway amalgamations was read a second time and referred to the Railway Committee.

On Monday, March 5th, Mr. Blake in moving for papers, made a long speech about the Canada Pacific Railway. He claimed that the company had a splendid bargain and that it was Grand Trunk jealousy that prevented them from raising money in London.

Sir C. Tupper condemned the unpatriotic attacks upon our great highway, and deferred further answer till his annual statement.

Mr. Paint moved for a select committee for the promotion of interprovincial trade, but it stood for want of notice.

On March 6th, the motion for the second reading of Mr. Beaty's Insolvent Act led to a long debate which was adjourned.

Mr. Charlton's bill for the punishment of seduction was read a second time, and is to be considered by a special committee.

The Land Carriers Bill, Building Societies Bill and Bill as to ice holes on navigable waters passing the second reading.

The Bill restricting railway amalgamation was read a second time and referred to the Railway Committee.

Export of Nova Scotia Coal.

From a return brought down, it appears that there were exported from Nova Scotia to countries outside of the Dominion, during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1882, 196,905 tons of coal. The principal countries taking our coal were:—The United States, 105,943 tons; Newfoundland, 57,004 tons; Spanish West Indies, 18,865 tons, and others. During the six months ending December 31st, 1882, the total export to countries outside of the Dominion was 171,206 tons, only 25,000 tons less than the whole fiscal year previous. It is gratifying to notice that in all cases the increase during the six month has been very great. For instance, Newfoundland took 60,250 tons in the six months, or three thousand more than in the twelve months previous. The Spanish West Indies took in the six months within five thousand tons as much as during the previous twelve months. Mexico took 3,690 tons more in the six months. Russia took just the same amount in the six months as during the previous twelve month, while Germany took 1,000 more in the six months. It is plain that in our foreign trade the coal of Nova Scotia is destined to play the same important part that the coal of England plays in the foreign trade of that country.—Mail.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

WEATHER NOTES.—Although February did not average so low as January, less 3¼°, still on the whole it has kept up the good old proverb of "February fill the dike, either with black or white." Only eight times did the thermometer drop below zero, the lowest of which was on the morning of the 10th, when it stood 24° below zero; 45° was the highest reached, which was on the evening of the 16th, making a total average for the month of 14° above, while February of 1882 averaged 21 14-28°. Snow fell on the 16th to the depth of 13 inches, and rain fell on 3 days to the depth of 1 to 6-100 of an inch. Although comparatively speaking there fell a good deal of rain for what is always considered our hardest month, still owing to the depth of snow and the quick change to cold, the rain made little change on our water supply. In February of 1882, snow fell on 7 days to the depth of 7 inches, and rain fell on 6 days to the depth of 2 75-100 inches, being about half the snow and double the quantity of rain of 1883; but if Wiggins' and Venner's foreshadowings come true our next report will be wind and water instead of snow and frost.

ARCTIC EXPLORATION.

Searching for a Greenland Oasis—Previous Explorations.

A correspondent writes from Christiana under date of Feb. 13:—The Swedish explorer, Dr. Oscar Dickson, who, together with King Oscar and the Russian, Mr. Sibiriakoff, fitted out the celebrated Nordenskjold expedition around North Siberia, has arrived here from his home at Gothenburg to lay before the King the plan of a new Swedish Arctic expedition under the direction of Professor Nordenskjold. Nordenskjold has again adopted the idea—long given up by others—that the so-called East Colony in Greenland, where there was a large settlement in the Middle Ages, must be searched for on the eastern coast, east of Cape Farewell, the south point of Greenland. The East Colony is said to have embraced 100 villages, thirteen parishes, two cloisters, and one diocese. But, owing to the great devastations caused by the plague in Norway in the middle of the fourteenth century, the connection with the mother country was interrupted, the colonists were left to themselves, lacking everything, so they were unable to defend themselves against the Esquimaux population, the so-called "Skrællings," who, only in 1379, are reported to have fallen in with the Northmen. The navigation on Greenland stopped, and gradually the colonists died from hunger and privation, or they succumbed in their struggles with the Esquimaux, the details of which are unknown to us.

During an expedition made in the year 1828-31 the Danish naval officer Graah believed to have proved that the East Colony should be searched for near Julianehaab on the western coast. But, as above mentioned, Nordenskjold is of a different opinion. To search for the old Norwegian colonies, traces of which may possibly be found East of Cape Farewell, is but a subordinate aim of the new travelling plan conceived by the great discoverer. Nordenskjold principally proposes to penetrate thirty or forty miles into the inland ice fields of Greenland and there to search for eventual oases, the existence of which is confirmed by several facts scientifically proved, and traces of which were discovered by the German Artic expeditions.

The eastern part of Greenland has a strongly marked Alpine character and is still less known than the western part, which may be called a plateau of glaciers. The country is indescribably wild and difficult to penetrate into, owing the breaking up of the mountains into huge walls, the large extent of the glaciers, and the depth of the snow. Another impediment to the exploration of the country is the softness of the soil during the season when the snow melts. The country, which is frozen and hard as stone during the larger part of the year, can only in summer be explored, and even then with difficulty. The soil is then quite soft, the lower parts of the country are changed into swamps and the slopes are inundated by the floods of the melted snowdrifts. The celebrated discoverer, however, does not mean to be deterred by such difficulties. It is said that Dr. Dickson will request the Swedish Legislature, through the Government, that a government vessel may be fitted out for the expedition which will start in May. An expedition already planned to the Siberian coast has been put off, as the results of the Danish expedition, under Lieut. Hovgaard (the Dijmpha expedition), are waited for.

True Wisdom.

A man may know all about the rocks, and his heart remain as hard as they are; a man may know all about the winds, and be a sport of passions as fierce as they; a man may know all about the stars and his fate be the meteor's that, after a brief but brilliant career is quenched in eternal night; a man may know all about the sea, and his soul resemble its troubled waters, which can not rest; a man may know how to rule his own; a man may know how to turn aside the flashing thunderbolt, but not the wrath of God from his guilty head; he may know all that La Place knows, all that Shakespeare knew, all that Watts knew, all that the greatest geniuses have known; he may know all mysteries and all knowledge, but if he does not know his Bible, what shall it avail? I take my stand by the bed of a dying philosopher as well as a dying miser, and ask of the world's wisdom as of the world's wealth: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

I despise not the lights of science; but they burn in a dying chamber as dim as its candles. They cannot penetrate the midst of death, nor light the foot of the weary traveller on his way in that valley through which we all have to pass. Commend me, therefore, to the light which illumines the last hour of life; commend me to the light that can irradiate the face of death; commend me to the light that when all others are quenched, shall guide my foot to the portals of that blessed world where there is no need of the sun, and no need of the moon, and no need of any of the created lights; for God and the Lamb are the light thereof. Brethren, leave others to climb the steps of fame; brother, sister, put your foot upon the ladder that scales the sky, nor mind though your brows are never crowned with the fading bays, if you win through faith in Jesus, the crown of eternal life.—Dr. Guthrie.

The Geneva Award.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is estimated that 20,000 cases are pending before the Alabama claims court, making an aggregate of nearly fourteen million dollars, without interest. If judgments were awarded for the amounts claimed the interest would probably run the aggregate up to $30,000,000. It will thus be seen that the court will have no difficulty in disposing of the undistributed remainder of the Geneva award, about $9,500,000. The court has under consideration two important questions:—First, whether in certain cases awards shall be made upon a gold or a currency basis, having reference to the war premiums on gold; and, second, what within the meaning of the Act creating the court is a "Confederate cruiser," and does a privateer without letters of marque from the Confederate Government come within the meaning of the Act.

Proposed Dress Reforms.

Some of the statements made at the recent meeting in London of the Rational Dress Society to consider reform in woman's dress are rather interesting, not because any one will be in the slightest degree influenced by them, but as showing what the results are when common sense is applied to the many absurdities in the present mode of dress. Mrs. McLaren said that the society had arrived at three conclusions:—First, that the tight bodice must be abolished; second, freedom of movement and necessary warmth without weight could not be attained without the adoption of some kind of divided skirt; and third, fluctuating fashion must be crystallized into some unchanging shape of dress. Dr. Richardson said that men would be suffering every day from colds and bronchial affections if they went as women went, with the upper part of their bodies unclothed, and it was his experience in the large majority of cases of people born with consumptive tendencies brought under his notice, that the cause of the mischief was exposure of the chest. Artists must be left to speak of the colour most serviceable in this temperate zone and colour which most accorded with all that related to health was the grey colour. For cleanliness, effect of light upon the body, and warmth, grey was the best colour, black the worst. Clothing should be as porous as possible, and he thought there was no substance for dress like light, loose woollen cloth. Shetland woollen cloth was the best. He agreed with the condemnation of ladies' veils as injurious to vision. The ladies of this society had made a real advance in deciding in favour of the divided skirt.

WORTH KNOWING.—A Fact Worth Knowing. The best household remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and all throat and chest troubles tending toward Pulmonary Consumption is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, to be procured of any druggist.

LITTLE BY LITTLE.—The constant dropping of water will wear away even the hardest stone. So the constant irritation of a cough will so wear upon the lungs as to induce incurable Consumption. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will cure the worst cough, speedily and effectually.

GOOD ADVICE.—If our readers will accept proffered advice, they will always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand for use in emergencies, such as Burns, Scalds, Wounds, Lameness, Croup, Chilblains, Rheumatism and all varieties of aches, pains and inflammations. It will ever be found reliable.

DECLINE OF MAN.—Impotency of mind, limb or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, and all diseases caused by indiscretions and abuse, are radically and promptly cured by the use of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which is for sale by all responsible druggists. See advertisement in another column. Guarantees issued only by Ormond & Walsh, Peterborough.

The best known remedy for all affections of the Chest, Lungs or Throat is Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. It is constantly used by thousands of persons suffering from the above diseases, and in nearly every instance it affords immediate relief. In cases of troublesome, tickling Cough, where the patient passes sleepless nights, one or two doses of the Syrup has such a quieting, soothing effect that rest ensues and the Cough speedily disappears. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Strange Disappearance.

About a month ago Alexander Wells, who had been in the employ of Messrs. Greey, Church street, left for Craig Lea, Muskoko, where he owned a farm, but he did not make his appearance there, and has not been heard of since. His friends are afraid that he has lost his way on the road to his farm and been frozen to death. Diligent search has been made, but if this sad surmise be true the body is likely buried beneath some snowdrift, and will not be discovered till the spring freshets set in.—Mail.

Oh, What A Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For sale by J D. Tully.

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't just know what is the matter, but they have a combination of aches and pains, and each month they grow worse.

FITS A Leading London Physician establishes an Office in New York for the cure of EPILEPTIC FITS.

From Am. Journal of Medicine. Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John St., New York.

THE

PACIFIC NORTHWEST!

Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred. Oregon wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California RR. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

Our Hotels.

The Commercial Traveller of Toronto thus speaks of two of our leading hotels:—

"The Oriental is surpassed by few hotels in the country."

"The Caisse House is highly spoken of by commercial travellers and is winning back some of its old time favors. Mr. Choate is a favorite host and does all he can to make his commercial guests comfortable."

Mission Work.

On the evening of Wednesday, the 14th of March, the Rev. J. M. Douglas, a retired missionary of the Presbyterian Church, will lecture in St. Paul's Church, under the auspices of the Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, on Mission Life in India, with illustrations of the life and religion of the people.

Skating Carnival.

A skating Carnival, the last of the season, will be held on the evening of Friday, the 16th of March. Complete arrangements are being made to make it a successful one. The prizes to be offered are valuable, and will doubtless draw some very fine costumes into the competion. The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance, and will furnish music. Mr. E. J. Hartley will give an exhibition of fancy skating, which will be an exhibition worth witnessing.

A Match.

A fifteen ball pool match will be played this evening at Faucher's Billard Room, between Mr. R. C. Gardner, of Syracuse, and Mr. A. D. Faucher, of Peterborough. The match is to consist of twenty-one games, the player who secures eleven out of the twenty-one to be the winner. The indications are that the match will be an exciting one, as Mr. Gardner is a crack player and Mr. Faucher's ability in handling the cue is well known.

THE RACES.

The Green Race Won by A. P. Morgan's Brown Jack.

On Wednesday afternoon the trotting races on the Little Lake course were to commence, the Green Race, County Race, and Farmer's Race being billed for that day. However, the storm of the previous night and the continued strong wind had made portions of the track very heavy, and the weather was exceedingly cold, which led the committee of management to talk of an adjournment. This delayed the commencement of the proceedings for some time.

Finally the Judges drove around the course, to inspect it, and although at one place the snow was about ten inches deep, they decided, as the horses were on hand, and as there was a number of people present, that one race, at any rate, should be gone on with. The was then called for. The Judges, Messrs. J. Simpson, James Campbell, C. Stapleton and J. Taylor, took up positions on the Judges' stand, and the following horses took their places upon the course to compete for the purse of $50, divided into three prizes:—Mr. A. P. Morgan's "Brown Jack," Mr. A. Sawers' "M.A.S.," Mr. J. Byrne's "Polly," and Mr. H. C. Winch's "Little Tommy."

The race required four heats around the mile course before it could be decided. The horses came in on the first heat in the following order: Brown Jack, 1st; M. A. S., 2nd, and Little Tommy, 3rd. Polly did not get a good start, and was not driven around the course, and, therefore, was 4th. The second heat was won as follows:—M.A.S., 1st; Little Tommy, 2nd, and Polly, 3rd. The driver of Brown Jack said he heard the Judges' bell calling them to return, and he turned back, thus ranking 4th in the heat. In the third heat the horses came in in the following order:—Brown Jack, 1st; Polly, 2nd; Little Tommy, 3rd, and M. A. S., 4th. Fourth heat:—Brown Jack, 1st; Polly, 2nd; Little Tommy, 3rd, and M. A. S., 4th.

This ended the Green Race, Brown Jack winning first prize, M. A. S. second prize, and Polly third prize.

The races were then adjourned until noon to-day.

This afternoon the track being in good order the races were continued, but were not concluded when we went to press.

The Named Race and the Dominion Race were postponed until one o'clock on Friday.

For the Central Prison.

Mr. J. English, Central Prison Bailiff, left on the ten o'clock train this morning with four prisoners for the Central Prison, Toronto. The prisoners were W. H. Meharry, John Stain, Wm. Taylor and E. Swanbruck.

St. Patrick's Eve.

The Rev. L. Keating will deliver an address in St. Peter's Cathedral on the evening of Friday, March 16th, under the patronage of His Lordship Bishop Jamot, for the benefit of the Emerald Club of Peterborough. The choir will render special selections during the evening. The address will commence at 7.30 o'clock, doors open at 7 o'clock. Admission 25 cents; reserved seats 50 cents.

The Weather Probabilities.

The strong winds of yesterday subsided last night, and to-day is clear and cold. To-morrow is the date on which Wiggins' great storm should come, but the probs. give us no hint as to whether we should expect it. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Winds shifting to the south-west and south-east; fair, milder weather.

To-Night.

The "French Spy" will by special request, be repeated in the Opera House this evening by the Battery boys. They have returned from their trip to Cobourg and Port Hope, and appeared to have been well pleased with it, having received flattering plaudits from the audiences in both towns. A gentleman in Port Hope offered them a guarantee of a large house if they would return and repeat the entertainment in that town. This evening they will play, in addition to the "French Spy," two farces entitled "The Rival Sergeants," and "The Midnight Intruder." The latter farce is said to be a very laughable one, and the entertainment will be very enjoyable. Let there be a full house.

Flemming to be Indicted in Chicago.

The Mail says that it was the expectation of many Chicago people that the firm of Flemming & Merriam, now so well known in Toronto, would have been indicted at the February term of the Chicago Criminal Court, as well as a large number of other parties engaged in a similar business. These expectations were, however, doomed to disappointment but it appears that a Chicago Herald reporter, who spoke with one of the grand jurors, elicited the information that the cause of their inaction in the matter was the fact that they had 204 cases before them, and only nine working days in which to consider them. They had however, left the matter in such a shape that the grand jury for the March term would assuredly deal with them, and there was every reason to believe that true bills would be presented. At the same time, the juror in question doubted the wisdom of having the matter dealt with by State courts, as he thought the United States officials would be better able to deal with the matter, it being an offence against the United States postal laws, and the postal authorities must have had full information about the matter or they would not have been in a position to refuse the delivery of the mail matter addressed to the firms in question.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN INEBRIETY.

Dr. C. S. Ellis, Wabash, Ind., says: "I prescribed it for a man who had used intoxicants to excess for fifteen years, but during the last two years has entirely abstainted. He thinks the Acid Phosphate is of much benefit to him."

Personal.

We are happy to hear that our old friend Mr. Robert Fair, of South Monaghan, has altered his mind with respect to emigrating to the North West, and has entered into business in Port Hope under the style of Fair & Van Every. We wish the new firm every success.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending March 8th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $4,397.53; freight, $10,779.38; total, $15,176.91, as compared with $13,517.28 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $1,659.63; and the aggregate traffic to date is $126,591.43, being an increase of $9,579.21 over 1882.

Enoch Arden Outdone.

In 1866 Frank Lee and Eliza Bussey were married in this city. Four years later he went to New York in search of employment. While there and under the influence of liquor he enlisted and was sent to Arizona. About two years later he was taken prisoner by the Indians. Mrs. Lee, who found employment in Ides' collar factory, one day received a letter saying that her husband had been killed. Soon afterwards she married Merrit Cody, of West Troy. When Lee regained his liberty he wrote to his mother, who did not deem it adviseable to tell Mrs. Cody that her first husband was alive. In another letter to his mother, Lee advised her to keep the fact of his being alive a secret. He then went to California, where he made money. Desiring to see his mother again he came East. Arriving here last week his mother told him that his wife had separated from her second husband on account of his ill-treatment, and was living with her daughter. Representing himself as a sewing-machine agent, Lee called on his daughter, and in course of conversation told her he had been well acquainted with her father. Next night he called again and made himself known to his wife. An affecting scene followed. Lee and his wife will go to California in a few days.

A Hapless Lover.

HAMILTON, March 6.—To-day a young man named Wellington Bingham, about 20 years of age, from Orillia, arrived in the city in search of a fair but frail damsel by the name of Etta Borland. Etta had come to the city some time ago, and evidently Wellington had decided that life was a blank without her. Arriving in the city he ascertained that she had from ill-health coming upon her taken up her quarters in the city hospital. Procuring a permit from the Chairman of the Hospital Committee, he was allowed to visit Etta, and while making the visit a sergeant and one of the police appeared and arrested young Bingham and took him away, notwithstanding his prayers and entreaties. He was arrested on a warrant on a charge of vagrancy at the instance of his father, who had followed in his wake. He was summarily tried on the charge, dismissed and allowed to go home with his father.

Escaped from the Central Prison.

About 5 o'clock on Tuesday morning two convicts named respectively Flight and Howell escaped from the Central Prison. Both were undergoing a twenty-months' sentence. They, in company with several other prisoners, were employed in the kitchen preparing breakfast, when they were sent to the storehouse for some meat. While there they by some means obtained a key, and unlocking a basement door leading to the ground in front, made their escape. A few minutes later they were missed, and a number of guards started in pursuit, but without success.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1883.

A Fortunate Young Lady.

Enquiry has been made in Kingston for an heiress to $50,000 annually. She is the daughter of a wealthy Englishman, who married obscurely and kept the marriage a secret. He seems to have died recently, and his solicitor now seeks his child, and cannot get intelligence of her. A gentleman writes from Denver, Col., that he adopted a girl some years ago, and believes she is the missing one. He gives evidence which seems to establish her identity.

The Maher Murderers.

SANDWICH, March 7.—Greenwood and Hardinge, the alleged Maher murderers, have been placed in separate wards at Sandwich gaol, and two extra guards are on duty to watch out for any possible attempts to escape. The prisoners when first taken to gaol were quite hilarious, sang snatches of popular airs, and appeared indifferent to the charges against them, but since Magistrate Bartlett decided that they must stand their trial they are more subdued in their actions.

England and America Insulted.

PANAMA, Feb. 26.—The United States consul at Aspinwall is investigating the detention of the American ship Mary Comery. It is believed the authorities exceeded their duty in taking charge of the vessel. United States naval officers have been granted permission to establish observatories at Panama and Buenaventura for the purpose of making a correct meridian. Seven Americans arrested on a charge of stealing $50,000 from the Panama Railroad are still in gaol, although their is no evidence against them. A lawyer has arrived from the United States to watch proceedings. Ecuador advices state that the Dictators' steamer Huacho took the sails, charts, chronometers, compasses, etc., from the English ship Mysterious Star, off San Lorenzo. An English war-ship has been sent for, and the matter threathens to become serious.

Another Prophet.

It has been said that an attempt to embark in the weather prophet business is the result of intellectual weakness; but in venturing a remark or two upon this subject we hope our readers will not bring the rod of censure down too severely upon us. We claim that more favorable indications than those which have come this month could not be given to satisfy any observer of the weather of an early spring. The spring of 1883 may be counted upon as coming early. Birds will come early, and early growth is sure to follow the break-up of winter. Rain storms will not be detrimental to agriculture, and no damage need be apprehended from summer frosts. The winds, our readers are requested to observe, will blow the greater part of the time from the south-east and south, veering lightly to the south-west. Farmers may rely upon it that a wet, backward spring will not be experienced this season.—Campbellford Herald.

It is said that brakesman Lester cannot live.

TWO MEN HANGED.

NEW YORK, March 9.—McGloin and Mayone were hung at 8.18 a. m. Both were pronounced dead at 8.22 a. m. Mayone killed his wife and mother-in-law, and McGloin murdered Louis Hamer. Mayone awoke about five this morning and dressed himself with care. McGloin had to be awakened half an hour later. Both said they felt well. They seemed anxious to devote every moment of the remaining hours to religious exercise with their spiritual advisers. Father Duranquet and Father Anacletus went to their cell and joined them in prayer. The men then went to the chapel of the prison to attend mass. They passed under the gallows. McGloin bore sight with firmness, but Mayone burst into tears and buried his face in his handkerchief. A number of boys and women, prisoners, gathered in the chapel. Both the condemned men attended to the devotion with the greatest apparent piety. Mayone acted as clerk to Father Duranquet. Both men partook of the Holy Sacrement. On their return from the chapel to the cells, both again passed beneath the gallows, but neither seemed to notice it. They spoke a few words to acquaintances and the keepers on the way to the cells. They appeared calm and collected. Shortly afterwards they partook of breakfast with apparent relish. McGloin conversed pleasantly with his counsel, thanked him and bade him farewell. The religious ministrations were resumed. The death warrant was then read. The prisoners bore the ordeal without flinching. Then the executioners fixed the noose about their necks and the black caps on their heads. Religious exhortations were again resumed. The procession, headed by the Sheriff, emerged from the prison into the yard at 8.09. Mayone walked first between two deputy Sheriffs and by his side was the priest holding the Crucifix before him. Mayone recited the litainy of the saints in a loud clear voice.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—Catharine Metzger this morning struck her employer, Mrs. May, while the latter was in bed, several blows on the head with a hatchet, and then fractured the skull of Mrs. May's child, aged 8 months, with a bottle. Mrs. May's cries brought a policeman. It is believed Mrs. May will recover. The child will die. The girl, who is aged 18, came from Germany three months ago, and has only been one week in the employ of the May family. She gives no reason for the assault, except that she was prompted several days to do it. She rose in the middle of the night and went to the cellar after the hatchet.

DECEASED WIVES' SISTERS.

DETROIT, March 8.—Governor Begole has just received a letter from Lord Dalhousie, an English peer, inquiring as to the effects of occasional marriages with the sisters of deceased wives permitted in this and other States of the Union. Lord Dalhousie intends to introduce a bill in the House of Lords to permit such marriages in the United Kingdom, and desires facts to support him in his plan. Secretary Stevenson is now engaged upon the draft of a letter in reply, assuring him of the propriety of said marriages, and denying certain reports as to their baneful influence.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—A special report to the Agricultural Department from an agent in Great Britain says that the spread of foot and mouth disease among cattle is creating great alarm. Theft of Municipal Papers.

KINGSTON, March 7.—A commotion has been caused in the township of Kingston by the theft of the collector's rolls from the Town Hall, while the Council was in session. The book was not missed until the Clerk required to make some reference to it, when the cover was found but the roll itself was gone. Diligent search, aided by the police, has since failed to get track of it.

Heavy Life Insurance.

The life insurance men are greatly exercised over the death of Mr. Freeman, the young Hamilton lawyer who was lately drowned in Burlington Bay. The young man was insured in several companies to the amount of $50,000. The insurance men have investigated the circumstance and the manner of finding his body, and, with perhaps one exception, they have decided to pay over his claims, as they say there is no evidence of suicide.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1883.

A BUNDLE OF BLUNDERS.

The Toronto World publishes editorially the following extraordinary and incomprehensible paragraph :—

"After the battle of Waterloo, King William presented to the duke of Wellington a splendid estate, surrounded with woods, situated in the neighborhood of the famous battle-field. According to the law of primogeniture in England, property descends from father to son; and the last of the great duke's male descendants has passed away. The property consequently reverts to Belgium. It is valued at eight million francs."

Such a collection of blunders could hardly be matched in the same number of lines. There is no law of primogeniture in England, but in some parts of the kingdom the old custom or usage of primogeniture prevails, by which, in case of intestacy, the eldest son succeeds to real estate. In other parts the custom of gavelkind is in force, and all the sons share. In still other parts borough-English is the usage, and the youngest son is the heir. If the possessor of real estate does not otherwise provide for the succession by will or settlement it is naturally assumed that it is because he is satisfied with the prevailing custom, and it takes effect. Nor is it the case that the custom of primogeniture necessitates the descent of property from father to son; it may go to a daughter, brother, nephew, cousin or other relation.

We fail to see also what English law or custom has to do with the descent of an estate in Belgium, where the law of the country would prevail. The English rule by which Queen Victoria succeeded to the throne, did not for instance give her the crown of Hanover, which descended according to the law in force there. Unless the King of the Netherlands limited his grant by conditions, we do not see why the Duke of Wellington or his heirs could not will the property at pleasure, give it away or sell it.

But the strangest blunder is the assumption that any difficulty of the kind has arisen. So far from the last male descendent of the great Duke of Wellington having passed away, there were still living a few hours ago at all events, a son, two grandsons and a great-grandson of the Iron Duke. We have not heard yet of the death of his eldest son, the present Duke, a Lieut.-General in the army, so well known for many years as the 'Marquess of Douro. He is married, (the Marchioness was a celebrated beauty), but is childless. The second son, Lord Charles Wellesley, who was long quartered with his regiment in Canada, and even in Toronto, has been long dead, but two of his sons are still living, officers in the Guards. The elder of these is heir presumptive to the family honors and estates. The younger has a son seven years old. Thus the probability of the male line of the hero of Waterloo becoming extinct is certainly very remote.

It is by no means essential that the World should be acquainted with these facts, but it need not pretend to teach others when so ignorant itself. Its readers may begin to doubt its accuracy in other matters upon which it discourses with all the airs of omniscience.

THE REAL GRIT.

We have been inclined to doubt the assertion of our Reform contemporaries that the recently formed administration in New Brunswick was Reform, knowing as we did that on both sides of the House there sat numbers of both parties. More recent information has however rather shaken our faith. It appears that the defeated Government elected their Speaker against the opposition candidate by a majority of four. A few days later the opposition moved an amendment to the address declaring want of confidence in the administration without giving any reason or any argument. This was carried by a bare majority, among whom were three of the members who had just voted with the Government on the speakership. One of these traitors as the price of his treachery has been taken into the new Cabinet, and another is reported to have urged his claims, though in vain, to a portfolio.

This certainly reminds us of the bygone history of Ontario Grits and Quebec Rouges. It will be remembered how Mr. Joly bought a Speaker elected as a Conservative, and ruled for a session by his casting vote. It will also be remembered how Mr. Blake conspired with and bought a Speaker and a ministerial colleague of Mr. J. Sandfield Macdonald and by their purchased aid in a House where many constituencies were unrepresented, overthrew the administration.

If the new ministry in New Brunswick is not "Reform," it has undoubtedly copied closely the corrupt and treacherous tactics of "Reformers."

The Daily Evening Review is delivered to subscribers at ten cents a week.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Some organs of Mr. Mowat are attacking the Montreal Gazette for its calculations that the recent election returns show a conservative majority of nearly two thousand. They take a few figures where the earlier returns were erroneous and claim that the figures are cooked. A casual observation shows that there are discrepancies on both sides, for instance the Reform candidate in West Peterborough is credited with 200 more than his real majority. We believe that it was premature to make these calculations before all the official returns were published, but we fancy they will be found rather to understate the case.

⁂

It is reported that Mr. Mowat has determined to appoint Mr. Gordon Brown registrar of the Surrogate Court.

ISLE OF SKYE.

Its Contribution to the Army and Navy of Great Britain.

Considerable attention has been drawn of late to the Isle of Skye, occasioned by the uprising of the crofters there. As a matter of justice to the patriotism of the inhabitants of the Isle, an extract is given below taken from a speech of the late Dr. Roderick McLeod, moderator of the Free Church of Scotland Assembly, delivered in 1863, who was excellent authority, being himself a native of Skye, and which will, no doubt, be read with interest:—"My own native Skye has been honoured to share in that work, which, under God, had brought Great Britain to sit now at the queen of nations, and long be her reign under our own Victoria and her illustrious race! During a period of not more than forty years towards the close of the last century and the commencement of this there were contributed to the armaments of Great Britian from the island of Skye ten thousand foot soldiers, twenty-one lieut.-generals or major-generals, one adjutant-general of the British forces, forty-eight lieut.-colonels, and six hundred majors, captains and subalterns, and for various departments of the civil service during the same period. Beside no insignificant numbers of men and officers in the British navy Skye supplied four Governors of British colonies, one acting Governor-General of India, one Lord Chief Baron of England, and one Judge of the Supreme Court of Scotland. We know not whether of any equal extent of territory and no larger population on any such statement could be made. The men of Skye were of some notice in those days. Times have changed; the cry is now—away with them—away with them! Sheep, it appears, are more worthy of keeping. But great as the glory of Skye may be in the particulars above-mentioned, I hope I shall not be considered as unduly magnifying my native island or the church of our fathers, when I say that in all those it has no glory at all in comparison to the greatest glory (keeping the individual entirely out of view) of giving a moderator to the Free Church of Scotland."

CAMPBELLFORD.

The Methodist Church.—The Herald says the Methodist congregation have decided to purchase an $800 organ for the new church. An order has been given the manufacturers for the same, and it will be used at the opening of the church. The Ladies' Aid Society have undertaken to pay for the organ as well as the work of furnishing and upholstering the pulpit and pews.

Sold for $100.—Mr. James Whyte, proprietor of the foundry, purchased the old Presbyterian Church, which was sold by auction, on Friday last. He paid $100 for it. The corner lot which was reserved as a site for a church, was put up also, but it did not change hands. A reserve bid of $200 was held, and the highest bidder reached only $175, so there was no buyer and no sale.

PORT HOPE.

Resigned.—The Guide says as will be seen by our Council report, Mr. Marshall has resigned his position of Chief Constable, and Mr. John Gamble has been appointed in his place pro tem. We understand that new arrangments are about being made in regard to the police force, which no doubt will meet the approval of the ratepayers generally.

BELLEVILLE.

Girl Missing.—A girl named Burley, aged 19, disappeared from her home in the small village of Stockdale, near Frankfort, on Saturday night. A vigorous search was made, but up to the present no traces of her have been found.

Too Cunning.

Mr. Mowat is quite too cunning. It is a well-known fact that Mr. Crooks may at any moment be compelled to leave his seat in the Cabinet, from the most regretable of causes, and there will be some difficulty in finding his successor. Mr. Gibson, of Hamilton, has long been looked upon as the coming man, but Mr. Gibson was elected on a fluke, and dare hardly face the music on a square party issue, with the workingmen annoyed at the trick played upon them. This leaves the door open for Mr. James Young, who has a safe constituency, but who is not popular outside of that constituency. Then a successor must be found for Mr. Wood. A shuffle may be effected by which Mr. Wood will be induced to remain in public life. This would be awkward, and even if effected would necessitate Mr. Wood's finding a seat. The Conservatives laugh at Mr. Mowat, and his friends growl at him. Thus does cunning overreach itself, and make trouble where candor wins.—Evening Canadian.

The election of officers for the R. W. Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East resulted in Bro. Wm. Johnson, of Belleville, deputy grand master, being unanimously elected grand master. The other officers elected are :—T. B. Collins, Millbrook, deputy grand master; J. H. Delamere, Minden, junior deputy grand master; Rev. W.T. On Monday, Feb. 19, 14,500 YARDS, comprising the finest variety of carefully selected, new and exquisite patterns, in Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, ever imported. This stock is of this season's production, of the best St. Gall (Switzerland) manufacture, and was contracted for nine months ago, which enables me to offer the entire lot at fully 25 per cent less than manufacturer's quotations today. I invite comparison and criticism of the stock with the fullest assurance that it will be pronounced superior and cheaper to any in the market.

The prices range from
3c. to $1.50 per yard.

I call special attention to a job lot of 100 pieces in short lengths and no two pieces alike.

This lot has been collected from different Swiss manufacturers, being odd strips remaining after orders had been filled for the different European, American and Canadian markets, and purchased for me at a great sacrifice.

Ladies will therefore be enabled to make a selection from a collection of Embroideries, I might state, from the combined tastes of every country in the world. This lot will be sold only by the piece and will be offered at fully 40 per cent below regular prices.

Dr. Ab. Meserole (late of London), who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing successfully cured by him. He has published a work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his wonderful cure free to any sufferer who may send their express and P. O. Address. THE
PACIFIC NORTHWEST!
Oregon, Washington, and Idaho

Offers the best field for emigrants—viz. a mild, equable, and healthy climate; cheap lands of great fertility, producing all varieties of Grain, Fruit, and Grasses in wonderful abundance; an inexhaustible supply of Timber; vast Coal Fields, and other mineral deposits; cheap and quick transportation by railroads and river navigation; direct commerce with all parts of the world, owing to its proximity to the Pacific Ocean.

NO DROUTHS, NO INSECT PESTS, NO HURRICANES, WHIRLWINDS, OR OTHER DESTRUCTIVE PHENOMENA.

The lands of the Pacific Northwest show an average yield of wheat per acre largely in excess of that of any other section of the United States.

No failure of crops has ever occurred.

Oregon Wheat commands a higher price than that of any other country in the Liverpool market.

An immense area of very fertile Railroad and Government Lands, within easy reach of the trunk lines of the Northern Pacific R.R., the Oregon Railway & Navigation, and the Oregon & California R.R. Co's and their numerous branches in the great Valleys of the Columbia and its tributaries, are now offered for sale at Low Prices, and on Easy Terms, or open to pre-emption and Homestead Entry.

The great movement of population to the Columbia region now in progress will be enormously increased by the completion of the Northern Pacific RR. and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co's systems. This renders certain a rapid increase in the value of Lands now open to purchase or to entry under the United States Land Laws.

THE NEW FOREST OF ENGLAND.

The London correspondent of the Detroit Free Press says:—The American reader will be somewhat surprised to learn that within a comparatively easy distance of London there is a forest extending over twenty-three miles of country in one direction and eighteen miles in another, and that 92,000 acres of it are the property of the British Crown.

Arrived at Ringwood the traveller will see much inferior soil, but the wild character of the country does not seem to reach its climax until after he enters the forest boundary, two miles beyond the above-named place, and then the wilderness begins to spread and expand on every side.

Sometimes no houses are seen for miles, save here and there a mud-wall cottage, and in the distance the cotter's pony and the cotter's cows wandering among the herbage and wearing each a collar with a bell. Here it may be incidently stated that the ancient forest rights which permits cattle and horses to run upon the common have made no provision for sheep, perhaps because it was a run for deer.

As the train whirls the traveller on he sees a troop of shaggy ponies wandering about in the vain hope, as it seems, of finding something to eat. Hundreds of ponies may there be found who have reached old age and never did any work except the dreadful drudgery of being compelled to move constantly about in the often vain hope of finding something which they could eat. In some parts there is nothing to prevent them from strolling many miles—and they do so wander frequently—their owners seldom looking after them in the summer months. In situations where the houses are so very poor there are no neat cattle. They cannot live upon such scanty fare.

The commons generally cannot be said to be wanting in fertility, but in the swamps rushes does not even grow to more than half the average height, while gorse and the native heather are short in stature and grass in many parts positively a scarce commodity. Some of the most elevated parts are wilderness of sand and gravel, discolored by scrubby herbage for which the average dairy farmer would be unable to find a name. But within this wide, outlying range of desert there are some lovely spots, and heightened by contrast, the really beautiful appears more beautiful still.

It is upon these oases the forest villages are built, and are generally neat and pretty, with good soil, good water, and good roads, and almost hidden with foliage and flowers. The 'Squires' country seats are found there, it being a favorite sporting district and celebrated for fox-hunting. Not many years since 10,000 head of deer, the property of the Crown, ran wild over the desert, and every person ate venison; but the deer are all destroyed now, principally to put an end to poaching and its attendant evils.

The forest at one period was much neglected; squatters settled on its borders and acquired possessions which they held almost as freeholds; and when timber was required timber was had. No care was taken, and much fine timber was lost to the nation. Now all is changed; hundreds of acres at a time are fenced in and planted, and much of the best land is bearing thriving plantations of oak and fir. In many parts the fir trees are exceedingly fine; seldom are they found elsewhere so tall, so straight, and so clean in the bark. Very valuable to the British nation will the timber-bearing portion of the forest ultimately be. Not many, if any, decaying trees are now there, and in the parts not recently planted are many fine ones which will grow and thrive for many years to come. A visit to such historic ground as the New Forest would well repay the traveller in quest of health and picturesque scenery.

The Scott Act.

An influential delegation of members of the Dominion Alliance, consisting of Senators Vidal and Girard, Messrs. Foster, Allison, Auger and Shakespeare, M. P.'s, waited upon Sir John Macdonald to-day. Mr. Vidal, President of the Alliance, acted as spokesman. He said they desired to bring before the notice of the First Minister certain amendments to the Scott Act suggested at a recent meeting of the Alliance in this city. He explained that the amendments required were mostly verbal, and in no way was it desired to introduce any new feature into the Act The members of the Alliance represented all the Provinces and the temperance people throughout the Dominion. He said they were commissioned to request that these amendments might be made, and the people would be greviously disappointed if they were not accepted. Sir John Macdonald received the deputation very cordially, and requested that he might be furnished with a memorandum of the amendments required, in order that he might consider them and decide whether he could introduce them as a Government measure. He said that so far from desiring to remove the present restrictions on the traffic that might exist in the different Provinces, his feelings were in an entirely different direction. The deputation thanked him for his courtesy and withdrew.—Mail.

A Card from Wiggins.

In reply to a telegram sent to Prof. Wiggins, the Ottawa prophet, forwarded to-day the following answer:—The storm of yesterday (sixth) was caused by one of the celestial warriors running to battle, in other words, by one of the planets crossing our earth's disc, while moving into position to join with the great storm. The bulk of its force struck across western Europe and the eastern half of the North American continent. Yesterday's storm, therefore, was merely an aim of the temperature. It was for fear of these precursory storms that I warned the Viceroy of India and the Lords of the Admiralty to order all ships under their command to safe harbor not later than the fifth of March. The great storm proper cannot begin till the time named, but as the forces have already begun to act in single file you will have howling winds for a week, and the cold will be severe. The approach of the storm is well indicated in the little verse,

"You'll know that soon I'll be in sight
By Cuba's tide and northern light."

I had made arrangements to leave for Halifax this morning, but the railways are blocked with snow.—E. STONE WIGGINS.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1883.

The Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer showed 12° below zero last night. The thermometer at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's registered as follows today:—At 8 a.m., 18° above zero, and at noon 37° above.

A Runaway.

Early this morning a horse, with a pair of shafts attached to it and harness on, was found standing at the door of Mr. G. W. Hall's stable. It was cut on one of its hind feet, but otherwise appeared to be uninjured. Evidently there had been a runaway, but where the horse ran from or by whom it was owned was not ascertained. Mr. Hall put the horse in the stable and cared for it.

The Weather Probabilities.

Last night was clear and cold. To-day is bright and warmer. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh to strong southerly to westerly winds; fair, considerably milder weather; followed by some snow or rain tonight or on Saturday.

Dramatic.

The "French Spy" was reproduced at Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday night by the members of the Battery and those assisting them. There was a fair sized audience present, but not as large a house as the entertainment deserved. The cast of characters was almost the same as the previous occasion when it was presented here, and several of the actors showed that they had, during the practice since then, carefully studied their parts and improved their acting. Frequent applause from the audience showed that thy were well pleased. The dancing and the athletic feats introduced were well received. The farce of the "Midnight Intruder" was not played on account of the indisposition of one of the members of the company, but the "Rival Sergeants" again created much mirth. We cannot close this reference to the amateur company without saying that Lieut. Sanderson, as general manager, Mr. Jas. Billington, as stage manager, deserve credit for the way in which they managed the performance of the company.

THE TROTTING RACES.

Fine Weather and Good Sport—The County. Farmers' and Colt Races.

On Thursday afternoon the weather was very fine, and at the time of commencing the sports the sun shone brightly and the air was sultry as if both were trying to make up for the inclement weather of the previous day. Before the afternoon was over, the temperature lowered, but not sufficiently to effect the sports. Mr. John Glendenning one of the judges, who had been unable to reach Peterborough on the first day on account of the snow blockade, took his place on the judges stand.

The first race called was the

COUNTY RACE,

open to horses owned in the five counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria and Hastings. The following horses started:—R. Lundy's, "Lundy Mare," R. Read's "Canadian Girl," and R. Croft's "Jim White." The first heat was won in the following order:—Jim White 1st, Canadian Girl 2nd and Lundy Mare 3rd. The course in places was very heavy, where the snow had drifted on it, despite the efforts that had been made to have it clear, yet the time made was 2.34. The second heat was won by Canadian Girl, Jim White being second and Lundy Mare third, time, 2.44. The third heat was won in the same order as the second, the Canadian Girl having passed Jim White when near the winning post. Time, 2.34. The fourth heat was again won by Canadian Girl, and the Lundy Mare came in second, having passed Jim White on the last quarter of a mile. Time, 2.35. The prizes in the County Race were thus won as follows:—Canadian Girl 1st, Jim White 2nd and Lundy Mare 3rd.

THE FARMERS RACE.

For the farmer's race there were four entries, but only three horses started. They were R. Montgomery's "Honest Annie," J. Montgomery's "Honest John," and W. Maher's "King." This race was open for the East and West Ridings of the County of Peterborough, for horses that never started for public money, and the horses were driven by their owners in their own cutters. The horses passed the winning post in the same order in the three heats, namely, King 1st, Honest John 2nd, and Honest Annie 3rd. The best time was made on the third heat, the heat in that round being 3.20.

THE COLT RACE,

open to three year old animals, followed the farmers race. The following were those that started:—J. D. Baptie's "Minnie Gray," John Irwin's "Unknown," and D. Tully's "Minnie S." The colts showed good metal and went around the course in fine style. The first heat was won by the Unknown, with Minnie Gray second and Minnie S. third. Minnie Gray won the second heat, with the Unknown second and Minnie S. third. The third heat was won in the same order as the second, and the prizes were awarded as follows:—Minnie Gray 1st, Unknown 2nd and Minnie S. 3rd.

The races were then adjourned until one o'clock this afternoon.

The Cells.

The police cells were occupied last night by one tramp. No arrests were made.

Curling.

The point game for the silver cup now held by Mr. W. G. Ferguson will be played for on Monday afternoon next at 3 o'clock. A good game is expected.

A Social Welcome.

A social entertainment was held in the Baptist Church on Thursday evening for the purpose of welcoming the new pastor, the Rev. J. H. Best. The tea was of superior excellence, and was, of course, enjoyed. Short addresses were delivered by the Rev. John Shaw, the Rev. E. F. Torrance, the Rev. W. Joliffe, and the Rev. J. W. Butcher. The Rev. Mr. Ratcliffe delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the congregation, and the Rev. Mr. Best replied in appropriate terms. Music was furnished by the choir of the church, and it was well rendered. There was a large attendance of the members of the congregation, and the social was a very successful one.

The Pool Match.

The fifteen ball pool match played at Faucher's Billiard Room on Thursday night, by Mr. R. C. Gardner, of Syracuse, and Mr. A. D. Faucher, of Peterborough, was won by Mr. Faucher. There was a large number present to witness the contest, which lasted for about an hour and twenty minutes. Mr. Gardner commenced the match and won the first two games. Mr. Faucher won the third, and for a time the playing was pretty even, but Mr. Faucher soon gained and won the match by a score of eleven to seven. Each game was closely contested, and the good shots made by each player were applauded by the onlookers, who thoroughly enjoyed the sport and were enthusiastic in their praise of the contestants. Mr. Faucher has added another wreath to his laurels as a good handler of the cue.

Alleged Forger.

On the second of March, Chief Paradis received a letter from the Chief of Police of Pomeroy, Ohio, stating that a man named James E. Grimes had, on the 21st of September last, forged the signature of one Walter Ames, of Meigs County, Ohio, to a promissory note for $350, and that the forger was then supposed to be in Montreal. The case was placed in the hands of Detectives Arcand and Richardson, who, after some trouble, succeeding in locating their man in lodgings at No. 4 McGill College avenue, where he had been living with his wife for the past month. The man was arrested yesterday morning, and a deposition was taken before Judge Ramsay, who remanded the prisoner to jail. Extradition formalities are being proceeded with before Judge Monk, the authorities in Pomeroy being meanwhile notified of his capture. The prisoner is a young man of respectable appearance and about 27 years of age. He told the detectives that he had only been married in September last, and that the name of the man whose signature he was supposed to have forged was his brother-in-law's. He declared that he was innocent of the crime and that he imputed his present position to the malevolence of a certain doctor who discounted the note. The young wife of the prisoner knew nothing of the crime charged to her husband, and the arrest was managed so quietly that it was not until yesterday afternoon, when her husband wrote her a letter before going to gaol, that she became aware of his arrest. She was, of course, plunged in the deepest distress, and told Detective Arcand that she was convinced of her husband's innocence. Mrs. Fraser, in whose house the young couple were boarding, says that she rented a room to Mr. and Mrs. Grimes about a month ago, and that she had found them very quiet people and prompt in payment. They did not board with her but cooked their own meals. She was quite surprised when she heard of the arrest.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.
